Preface

Ḥadīth is next only to Qur'ān as a source of Islamic laws and proofs. The term Ḥadīth applies to the words and acts of Allāh's Messenger ﷺ as well as his tacit approvals called Taqir. The latter refers to acts done in his presence but he did not disapprove of them, his silence indicating his approval. All these three categories of Aḥādīth are variously known as (1) Khabar, (2) Athar, (3) Ḥadīth and (4) Sunnah. (All these words have already been mentioned under the technical terms employed by Ḥadīth scholars).

In contradistinction with Khabar and Athar, the words Ḥadīth and Sunnah are widely popular, so much so, that a mere mention of any of these two words, inevitably brings to mind the words, acts and tacit approvals of Allāh's Messenger ﷺ. No other thought comes to our mind except the foregoing at the mention of the word Ḥadīth or Sunnah. Yes, of course, some people have made a distinction between Ḥadīth and Sunnah, advancing as argument the words of some scholars, but, in fact, this distinction is not right. The Ḥadīth scholars make no distinction between the two. According to them, Ḥadīth and Sunnah are synonymous terms. Similarly, taking Sunnah as referring to the Prophet's habits, modes of behavior and manners and thereby denying their legal authority is equally wrong. It is, in fact, a deception, a concealed escape route leading to the rejection of Aḥādīth. Again, in the same way, considering only the acts of the Prophet ﷺ that he did persistently and uninterruptedly as binding is, in fact, a rejection of a vast number of Aḥādīth. Those who say so have, in deed, allied themselves with the rejecters of Aḥādīth. Moreover, rejecting a Ḥadīth on the ground that it is in conflict with Qur'ān and entrapping people into believing so, is not the way befitting a Muslim. That is the way of the crooked, the sectarians and the dissenters who reject a lot of Aḥādīth on the seemingly attractive plea of being in disharmony with Qur'ān.

Two centuries after the advent of Islam, the Mutazilites (Mu'tazilah)^[1] rejected some Aḥādīth. Their purpose was to justify their wrong and misleading beliefs. Likewise, about a century and a half ago, the naturalists, too, criticized the canonical authority of Aḥādīth, their purpose being no more than to affirm naturalism and reinterpret Qur'ān according to their own desires and whims. It is the same group of naturalists who, impressed in our times by the 'rare research works' of the Orientalists and charmed by the wizards of the West and their civilization, are working in an organized way to alienate the Muslims from their own culture and Islamic values and traditions and are moulding them according to modern civilization.

Anyhow, the term Ḥadīth or Sunnah applies to whatever the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said, did, or gave his tacit consent to. This, like Qur'ān, is an independent, distinct and reliable source of faith and law (Shari'ah). To benefit by Ḥadīth and rely on it in giving legal rulings, we need to know the following:

Things worthy to note

1. The faith revealed by Allāh is Islam and only Islam. "Truly, the religion with Allāh (is) Islam."^[1] "And whoever seeks a religion other than Islam, it will never be accepted of him and he will be one of the losers in the Hereafter."^[2] Allāh commanded the believers to hold fast to the religion and forbade them to divide and fall apart: "And hold fast, all of you together, to the Rope of Allāh, and be not divided among yourselves."^[3] Allāh also warned us through His Messenger ﷺ: "And (He commands you, saying): This is My straight path, so follow it, and follow not (other) paths, for they will separate you away from His path."^[4]
2. Since Qur'ān has warned us, in several Verses, against separation and disunion, which means only dissenting and dividing up into sects, and since the Prophet ﷺ has commanded us to follow one course only and condemned other courses as wrong, it naturally follows, therefore, that the True Path can only be one, not many. How can many paths be true at one and the same time? It is not possible, neither by reason nor by tradition. Qur'ān declares: "After the Truth, what else can there be except error?"^[5]
3. What is this religion of Islam or the Straight Path? Where is it to be found? It consists of two things: Qur'ān and the Ḥadīth of the Prophet ﷺ. Allāh's Messenger ﷺ said: "I am leaving to you two things. You will not go astray as long as you cling to them: the Book of Allāh and the Sunnah of His Prophet."^[6]
4. This religion, unlike other religions, is not unguarded. It is secure from tampering. Since this religion is final and the only way of deliverance for mankind till the Judgment Day, Allāh has undertaken the responsibility of

[1] Āl 'Imrān 3:19.

[2] Āl 'Imrān 3:85.

[3] Āl 'Imrān 3:103.

[4] Al-An'ām 6:153.

[5] Yunus 10:32.

guarding it. He said: "Verily, We, it is We Who have sent down the Reminder and surely We will guard it."^[1] The intended meaning of the Reminder is Qur'an that is guarded and made secure. It remained unchanged and will remain ever so in future. Since it was impossible to understand it and act by it without Ahādīth, the safeguarding of it implies the safeguarding of Hadīth also. Therefore, in order to safeguard the Ahādīth, Allāh created a group of Hadīth scholars who took pains to safeguard the Ahādīth, separating the genuine from the spurious. Hence, Qur'an and Sunnah are the only two basic sources of religion. However, to understand them correctly, the way of the Prophet's Companions and the righteous predecessors is an indispensable aid.

5. None of the founders of the schools of Islamic jurisprudence ever claimed that their ruling was final. On the contrary, they acknowledged they may have erred and, hence, advised their followers to ignore their ruling in case a sound, authentic Hadīth is ever found contradicting their ruling. Moreover, they are known to have recanted some of their opinions. In case a Hadīth was found later on contradicting the ruling of some jurist, his students are reported to have declared that the Hadīth in question had remained unknown to their Imām (the jurist) and that he would have surely recanted his ruling if only he had known it. It should be noted that Ahādīth were collected, recorded and examined long after the founders of the schools had gone. For example, the Sound Six (Sihāh Sittah) and other books of Ahādīth were compiled later on. But, no doubt, those Imāms of jurisprudence were excusable for their errors. Hopefully, they may be rather rewarded because their intent was good. Anyhow, now that Ahādīth have been collected and recorded, insistence on a particular legal ruling and rejecting a Hadīth on different pleas is quite unjustified.
6. The students of the Imāms of Fiqh (Islamic jurisprudence) disagreed with their own teachers and mentors on some issues, but none blamed or rebuked them for having done so, but rather praised them for their truth and scholarly ability. So it is no error or sin if today someone disagrees with the learned Imāms of Islamic jurisprudence. He deserves praise, rather than condemnation.

Our Actions and Day of Accounting

We, too, are not exempt from what we have said earlier. Our instructions to others are equally binding on us as on them. We call Allāh as witness that we have been fair in our evaluation of Ahādīth. While deciding the soundness or weakness of a Hadīth, we never let ourselves be swayed by bias for any particular sect, party or denomination or mental reservations, or preconceived notions or circumstances. We have been completely fair, just and honest in our evaluation of Aḥādīth. We have tried to be completely neutral. We have kept our inquiries untainted with prejudice. Our research is purely scientific. We followed only the accepted principles of Ḥadīth evaluation. Only then did we decide a case or give a ruling as to which course is right or preferable. Twisting or distorting a Ḥadīth, or wriggling out of it, or stretching it in an attempt to arrive at far-fetched meanings, dubbing a Sound Ḥadīth as Weak or a Weak one as Sound, declaring without proof a Ḥadīth as abrogated or abrogating — all these things we believe to be fraud, deception, and concealment of truth. We seek Allāh's refuge from these trickeries. Of course, we may have erred in applying the principles of Ḥadīth evaluation, or we may have erred for lack of access to information, or we may have misunderstood something — and we will be grateful to those who point out our errors and we pledge to correct them forthwith — but, by grace of Allāh, we remained honest and fair throughout our research work, there being no taint of bias for or prejudice against any school of thought, or party, or sect, or denomination, nor self motive or desire for profit. Allāh is the Warden over what we say.

INTRODUCTION^[1]

By Abu Khaliyl

About the Author

He is Abū Dāwud, Sulaimān bin Al-Ash‘ath bin Ishāq, bin Bashīr bin Shaddād bin ‘Amr bin ‘Imrān Al-Azdī As-Sijistānī,^[2] he was born in the year 202 after Hijrah.^[3] The biographers agree that he died in the year 275.

As-Sijistānī is derived from Sīstān, a region which today stretches from south eastern Iran to south western Afghanistan.

The term As-Sijizī is also used as an ascription for Sīstān, hence sometimes Abū Dāwud was called: “Abū Dāwūd As-Sijzī.”^[4]

He began to travel seeking Aḥādīth at a young age, and made his way to Baghdād by the time he was eighteen years old. His journeys, seeking knowledge, took him through the lands of Khurāsān, Al-‘Irāq, ‘Arabia, Ash-Shām, and Egypt.

His most famous teachers include Aḥmad bin Ḥanbal, Ishāq bin Ibrāhīm, Yahyā bin Ma‘īn, Abū Bakr Ibn Abī Shaibah, his brother ‘Uthmān bin Abī Shaibah, ‘Alī bin Al-Madīnī, and ‘Abdullāh bin Maslamah Al-Qan‘abī, who was among those famous for reporting the Muw’atta’ of Imām Mālik.

His most famous students include his son, Abū Bakr ‘Abdullāh bin Abī Dāwud, At-Tirmidhī, An-Nasā‘ī, Abū Bakr Al-Khalāl, Ar-Ramahurmuzī, Ibn Abī Ad-Dunyā’, Ad-Duwlābī, as well as those who narrate the Sunan from him — a discussion of which follows.

Selected Statements About the Author and His Book^[5]

Al-Khattābī said: “The book of the Sunan, by Abū Dāwud, is a noble book, there has not been another book written in the knowledge of the religion that

And he said: “I heard Ibn Al-‘Arābī say — while we were listening to him (recite) this book; he pointed to the copy which was in front of him — ‘If a man does not have any knowledge with him, except that of the Muṣḥaf in which is Allāh’s Book, then this book, he would not have a need for any knowledge at all beyond the two of them.”

Al-Khaṭṭābī said: “Abū ‘Umar Muḥammad bin ‘Abdul-Wāḥid Az-Zāhid — the companion of Abū Al-‘Abbās Aḥmad bin Yaḥyā — informed me, he said: ‘Ibrāhīm Al-Ḥarbī said: “When Abū Dāwud wrote this book, Aḥādīth were made supple for him, just as iron was made supple for Dāwud.” Meaning the Prophet Dāwud, peace be upon him.”^[1]

Al-Ḥāfiẓ Adh-Dhahabī said: “Along with his Imāmat in Ḥadīth and its fields, Abū Dāwud was among the major Fuqahā’, for his book proves that. He was among the distinguished companions of Imām Aḥmad; he attended his lessons for a lengthy period of time, and he asked him about delicate issues, in both branches (Furū’) and fundamentals (Uṣūl), and he stayed upon the Madhhab of the Salaf, regarding following the Sunnah and submitting to it, and not delving into problematic Kalām.”^[2]

Those Who Narrate His Sunan

There are many who heard Abū Dāwud’s Sunan from him, those that are popular, or known to have reported it from him, are; Al-Lu’lu’ī (Muḥammad bin Aḥmad), Ibn Dāsah, (Abū Bakr Muḥammad bin Bakr bin Muḥammad), Ar-Ramlī (Abū ‘Eisā Ishāq bin Mūsā), and Ibn Al-A’rābī (Abū Sa‘eed Aḥmad bin Muḥammad).^[3]

His Books

Other than his Sunan, his letter to the people of Makkah, explaining the conditions he adhered to in compiling his Sunan, and his Masā’il of Imām Aḥmad, Abū Dāwud is known to have authored the following: At-Tafarrud, Al-Marāsīl, A’lām An-Nubuwwah, Az-Zuhd, and An-Nāsikh wal-Mansūkh. Abū ‘Ubaid Al-Ājurī compiled a book of questions that he asked Abū Dāwud,

[1] These narrations and statements of Al-Khaṭṭābī are taken from his introduction to Ma‘ālam As-Sunan. The narrators in the chain for the last statement were all graded trustworthy by Al-Baghdādī in Tārīkh Baghdād, and each of them are confirmed to have heard from the one he is reporting from. Abū ‘Umar Az-Zāhid was called “Tha’lab’s boy,” and Tha’lab is Aḥmad bin Yaḥyā — Ash-Shaibānī of Al-Kūfah — that Al-Khaṭṭābī mentioned.

[2] Siyar A’lām An-Nubalā’, and by Kalām he means the philosophical theological issues termed: ‘Ilm Al-Kalām.

[3] The versions narrated by Al-Lu’lu’ī and Ibn Dāsah are the most popular and most complete. Occasionally, the reader will notice a footnote in the translation indicating a variation based upon one of the versions, in addition, some comments of some of the other reporters of the Sunan appear between square brackets.

entitled: Suw'ālāt Abī 'Ubaid Al-Ājjurī 'an Abī Dāwud^[1]

Commentaries

The most famous of commentaries on the Sunan of Abū Dāwud is that of Al-Khaṭṭābī. He is Abū Sulaimān Ḥamd bin Muḥammad bin Ibrāhīm Al-Khaṭṭāb Al-Khaṭṭābī Al-Bustī. He heard from the previously mentioned Abū Sa'eed Ibn Al-A'rābī in Makkah, and Abū Bakr Ibn Dāsah in Al-Baṣrah, as well as other scholars.^[2] He died in the year 388 after Hijrah.

His commentary is on an abridged selection of chapters and narrations of the Sunan, and it is said that his commentary is the first commentary on a Ḥadīth book, hence its great rank and importance in the field of Ḥadīth commentary. The name of his commentary is Ma'ālam As-Sunan.

There are many other commentaries written for the Sunan, some of them published and others not yet published. Among them, that of Al-Mundhirī, who compiled an abridgement of Sunan Abī Dāwud with comments, Ibn Qayyim Al-Jawzī, who compiled comments on an abridgment of the Sunan, As-Suyūfī, Al-'Aīnī, and Abū Al-Ḥasan As-Sindī. An-Nawawī, also compiled a commentary which they say was not completed, and it is among those that are lost.

The most famously cited commentary today, is that of Al-'Allāmah Abū Ṭayyib Muḥammad Shams Al-Ḥaqq Al-'Azīmābādī, entitled; 'Awn Al-Ma'būd. This work contains comments taken from his larger collection, entitled: Ghāyat Al-Maqṣūd, some of the larger collection is published.

His Objectives and Criteria

Regarding the level of narrators he included in his Sunan, Abū Dāwūd said: "There are no abandoned (Matruk) Ḥadīth narrators in the book of As-Sunan which I wrote, and when there is a Munkar Ḥadīth I clarified that it is Munkar, and there is nothing other than it which is similar for that topic." And the meaning of Munkar is an odd narration, whose narrators are disparaged.

And, he mentioned about the weak Aḥādīth in his book: "Whatever Ḥadīth there is in my book that has a severe weakness, then I have clarified it, and whatever I did not mention anything about it, then it is Ṣāliḥ (good), and some of them are more correct than others."^[3]

It is clear from its context, that some of the Aḥādīth not clarified by him are [1] It is said that he authored other books as well. All of the above are mentioned by Al-Ḥāfiẓ Ibn Ḥajar, as books he heard with chains of narration to the author, in Al-Mu'jam Al-Mufahras also called: Tajrīd Asānīd Al-Kutub Al-Mashhūrah wal-Ajzā'al-Manthūr.

[2] Al-Ansāb.

[3] These two statements are taken from Abū Dāwūd's letter to the people of Makkah regarding his Sunan, and most of its contents have been narrated from him through various routes of transmission.

weak, while he did not consider them to be severely weak.

And he said: “I wrote, from Allāh’s Messenger ﷺ, five-hundred thousand Aḥādīth, selecting from them what I included in this book — meaning the book As-Sunan — so I collected four thousand Aḥādīth in it,^[1] mentioning what is Ṣaḥīḥ, and what resembles that, and what is close to that.”^[2]

Al-Hāfiẓ Ibn Mandah said: “Abū Dāwud narrated weak chains of narration when he did not find anything else for the topic, because that is stronger to him than a man’s opinion.”^[3]

[1] Our edition includes 5,274 narrations. It is possible that he made this statement at one time, and included many other narrations later, since it is known that the various editions narrated from him differ in the number of narrations, as well as the fact that some of them contain chapters and books that others do not. It is also possible that in this statement he means Aḥādīth with a complete chain of narration. In his letter to the people of Makkah, he said: “Perhaps the number of Aḥādīth in my book reach four thousand and eight hundred, and about six-hundred Aḥādīth that are Mursal.” And this number is closer to what is known of it.

[2] Tārikh Baghdād, with a chain of narration that was graded Ṣaḥīḥ by Shaikh Al-Albāni in his introduction to Ṣaḥīḥ Abī Dāwud.

[3] See Muqaddimah Ibn Aṣ-Ṣalāh, and the introduction to Ṣaḥīḥ Abī Dāwud. In his letter to the people of Makkah, Abū Dāwud also indicated that he cited Mursal narrations when there was nothing similar for the topic.

Publisher's Foreword

All praise is due to Allah, Who honored His worshipers with the revelation of His Mighty Book, which falsehood can not approach — neither in front of it, nor behind it — being revealed by the All-Wise, the All-Praised, and He honored them, by sending His Messenger, by whom success is granted to whomever heard him, and witnessed him. Through him, ﷺ, Allāh opened the eyes of the blind, and the ears of the deaf, and the hearts of the heedless, so that everyone that feared Allāh, and everyone that will achieve happiness in the Hereafter, would believe in Him.

O Allāh! Send Ṣalāh, grant peace, and bless Muḥammad, his family, and his Companions who carried the banner of the Book and the Sunnah, and spread Your mercy upon whomever follows them faithfully among your righteous worshipers.

Indeed the Book of the Sunan by the noble Imām Abū Dāwūd, Sulaimān bin Ash'ath bin Ishāq bin Bashīr bin Shaddād, Al-Azdī, As-Sijistānī, who died in the year 275H, is one of the Six Books, and the first of the Four Books, among the most important of those books in which Ḥadīths are compiled. There are many virtues and benefits to this book which resulted in the scholars of Ḥadīth occupying themselves with the knowledge of Ḥadīth since it first became popular, causing it to spread around the world.

Indeed, Allāh has honored Darussalam Publishers and Distributors in Riyadh with service in the Book and the Sunnah, and Allāh has honored us with the publication of the translations of Ṣaḥīḥ Al-Bukhārī, Ṣaḥīḥ Muslim, Jāmi' At-Tirmidhī, Sunan An-Nasā'ī, and Sunan Ibn Mājah, and today, by the grace of Allāh, we present the translation of the Book of the Sunan of Imām Abū Dāwūd, may Allāh have mercy upon him.

After our previous publication of the each of the Six Books in the Arabic language, we set out on the grand project of completing the translations of the Six Books into the English language.

It is no secret to the avid reader, that most of the scholars agree that Sunan Abū Dāwūd is the best of the Four Sunan Books, being ranked as third in importance behind Ṣaḥīḥ Al-Bukhārī and Ṣaḥīḥ Muslim. It is also well known that some of the scholars have said that if a person has the Book of Allāh, and this Sunan of Abū Dāwūd, then he has the fundamental texts of the religion.

Such statements are a testament to the veracity of Imām Abū Dāwūd, and his compilation.

The Arabic text of Sunan Abū Dāwūd has been widely published in the Islamic world, and a team of scholars has reviewed the famous publications and manuscripts in verification of the text for our publication of the Arabic text.

In verification of the Arabic text, we used the edition published along with the commentary 'Awn al-Ma'būd as the main source, while comparing it to that of Al-Khattābī in Ma'ālam As-Sunan, as well as a number of other valuable printed editions of Sunan Abū Dāwūd.

There are some discrepancies of variation in some of the manuscripts and reported versions, as well as published editions. Sometimes there is an additional word here or there, or one Ḥadīth or chapter is cited earlier or later in sequence.

In cases of additional words or phrases found in one or few of the manuscripts and editions, the addition has been marked by square brackets []. This method is visible in the English translation as well, and whenever it was deemed necessary to insert an explanatory term, then parenthesis () were used for that purpose.

For this English translation of Sunan Abū Dāwūd, translating was done by Yaser Qadhi (USA), and Nasiruddin al-Khattab (Canada) and editing by Huda Khattab (Canada), finally reviewed by Abu Khaliyl (USA).

This publication represents the completion of our journey, which lasted for a number of years, in the efforts to complete the translations of the Six Books, and Allāh praise is due to Allāh.

Lastly, all of the Ḥadīth in the text have been graded by the great research scholar Ḥāfiẓ Abū Tāhir Zubair 'Alī Za'ī.

We ask Allah to accept our good works in this endeavour, and to cause all of the readers to attain the best benefit from it.

تخريج: [إسناده ضعيف] وأخرجه ابن ماجه، الطهارة، باب التباعد للبراز في الفضاء، ح: ٣٣٥ من حديث إسماعيل بن عبد الملك بن جابر بن عبد الملك به وهو ضعيف، ضعفه أحمد وغيره لبعض الحديث شواهد كثيرة، منها الحديث السابق.

Comments:

1. In villages or open spaces, to relieve oneself, one should go far enough, out of the sight of people, to avoid being seen naked. In cities, however, where toilets are enclosed on all sides, there is no need to go far away.

- Such behavior on behalf of the Messenger of Allāh (ﷺ) has a two-fold advantage: It screens one's private area from being seen by others and, by going away from dwellings, it keeps the living environment free of filth.
- This and other similar Aḥādīth prove that the Messenger of Allāh (ﷺ) had many of the same needs as other human beings.

Chapter 2. Choosing An Appropriate Place To Urinate

3. Abū At-Tayyāh reported that a man informed him that when ‘Abdullāh bin ‘Abbās came to Al-Baṣrah, he would narrate (Aḥādīth) on the authority of Abū Mūsā. So once he wrote to Abū Mūsā, asking him about certain matters. Abū Mūsā replied: “One day I was with the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ, and he wished to urinate. So he went to a soft ground beneath a wall and urinated. He ﷺ then said: ‘If any of you needs to urinate, let him choose an appropriate place for his urine.’” (Da‘īf)

Comments:

- Extreme precaution should be taken in the matter of urine because it is impure, and it is often not visible to the naked eye. It is necessary to keep oneself away from it, and to wash it off on any contaminated garments in order to keep oneself pure. One should look for a proper place to urinate to prevent any of it splashing or returning upon oneself.
- One should search for a soft surface of the ground to urinate, if that is not available, one should look for sloping ground, for example, to prevent any of it returning upon oneself.

Chapter 3. What A Person Should Say When He Enters The Area Wherein He Relieves Himself

Comments:

1. We learn from this Hadith that, wherever the toilet is, in a house or in wilderness, one should say these words.
2. These words should be said prior to entering the toilet itself, because it is improper to utter Allāh’s Name while relieving oneself, as well as while on the toilet. In desolate places like a desert or forest, one should say these words before removing whatever clothing is required to relieve oneself.

[1] All of this indicating the differences reported in the beginning of the narration.

6. Zaid bin Arqam reported that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: “These Hushush^[1] are inhabited (by devils), so if one of you comes to the area in which he relieves himself, let him say: ‘A‘ūdhu billāhi min al-khubuthī wal-khabā‘ith (I seek refuge in Allāh from all devils, male and female.)” (Hasan)

Comments:

1. When a person, after relieving himself, uses three stones, or tissue paper or the like, he becomes (ritually) pure, even if he does not use water.
2. One should not use one's right hand to cleanse oneself after urinating or defecating.
3. Dung or other filthy things may not be used to clean oneself.
4. Since bones are the food of the Jinn, they should not be used for purification. Other food stuff should also not be used for that purpose.

9. A narration was reported from Abū Ayyūb which said: (The Prophet ﷺ said:) "When one of you comes to the Ghā'it, then let him not face the Qiblah while defecating or urinating, but rather let him turn east or west." - (Abū Ayyūb said): "So we arrived in Ash-Shām, and found that restrooms which were built facing towards the Qiblah. So we would turn ourselves in another direction, and seek Allah's forgiveness." (Ṣaḥīḥ)

٩ - حَدَّثَنَا مُسَدَّدُ بْنُ مَسْرُهَيْدٍ: حَدَّثَنَا سُفْيَانُ بْنُ الزُّهْرِيِّ، عَنْ عَطَاءِ بْنِ يَزِيدَ اللَّيْثِيِّ، عَنْ أَبِي أَيُّوبَ رَوَايَةً قَالَ: «إِذَا أَتَيْتُمُ الْغَائِطَ فَلَا تَسْتَقْبِلُوا الْقِبْلَةَ بِغَائِطٍ وَلَا بَوْلٍ، وَلَكِنْ شَرِّقُوا أَوْ غَرِّبُوا»، فَقَدِمْنَا الشَّامَ فَوَجَدْنَا مَرَاجِضَ قَدْ بُنِيَتْ قِبَلَ الْقِبْلَةِ، فَكُنَّا نَتَّحِرِفُ عَنْهَا وَنَسْتَغْفِرُ اللَّهَ.

Comments:

"So we arrived..." meaning; Abū Ayyūb, one of the narrators of the prohibition explained that the companions acted upon it, even in structures.

[1] Ghā'it refers to defecation, and the area in which one defecates.

10. Ma'qil bin Abī Ma'qil Al-Asādī said: "The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ prohibited us from facing the two Qiblah (i.e., Al-Masjid Al-Ḥarām and Bait Al-Maqdis) while urinating or defecating." (Da'if)

11. Marwān Al-Aṣfar narrated: "I saw Ibn 'Umar make his camel sit down facing the Qiblah, after which he sat (behind it) and urinated in its direction. So I said: 'O Abū 'Abdur-Raḥmān, has this (act) not been prohibited?' He replied: 'Yes, but it has been prohibited only in an open space. However, if there is something that is between you and the Qiblah, blocking you (from it), then there is no harm.'" (Da'if)

Chapter 5. Concession In This Regard

(المعجم ٥) - بَابُ الرُّخْصَةِ فِي ذَلِكَ (التحفة ٥)

12. 'Abdullāh bin 'Umar said: "I once climbed on top of the house, so I saw the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ sitting on two bricks, facing Bait Al-Maqdis, relieving himself." (Ṣaḥīḥ)

١٢ - حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ اللَّهِ بْنُ مَسْلَمَةَ عَنِ مَالِكِ، عَنْ يَحْيَى بْنِ سَعِيدٍ، عَنْ مُحَمَّدِ بْنِ يَحْيَى بْنِ حَبَّانَ، عَنْ عَمِّهِ وَاسِعِ بْنِ حَبَّانَ، عَنْ عَبْدِ اللَّهِ بْنِ عُمَرَ قَالَ: لَقَدْ ارْتَفَعْتُ عَلَى

ظَهَرَ النَّبِيُّ فَرَأَيْتُ رَسُولَ اللَّهِ ﷺ عَلَى لَيْتَيْنِ

13. Jābir bin ‘Abdullāh said: “The Prophet of Allāh ﷺ had prohibited us from facing the Qiblah while urinating. Then, I saw him facing it (while urinating, and this was) a year before he died.” (Hasan)

١٣ - حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ بَشَّارٍ قَالَ: حَدَّثَنَا وَهْبُ بْنُ جَرِيرٍ قَالَ: حَدَّثَنَا أَبِي قَالَ: سَمِعْتُ مُحَمَّدَ بْنَ إِسْحَاقَ يُحَدِّثُ عَنْ أَبَانَ بْنِ صَالِحٍ، عَنْ مُجَاهِدٍ، عَنْ جَابِرِ بْنِ عَبْدِ اللَّهِ قَالَ: نَهَى نَبِيُّ اللَّهِ ﷺ أَنْ نَسْتَقْبِلَ الْقِبْلَةَ بَيُولٍ، فَرَأَيْتُهُ قَبْلَ أَنْ يُبْضَخَ بِعَامٍ يَسْتَقْبِلُهَا .

Comments:

These Ahādīth are advanced as argument to prove that it is permissible to sit, facing the direction of the Qiblah, in constructed toilets.

Chapter 6. How Should One Undress When Relieving Oneself

14. Ibn ‘Umar reported that when the Prophet ﷺ wanted to relieve himself, he would not raise his garments until he came close to the ground. (Da‘if)

Abū Dāwud said: It was (also) reported by ‘Abdus-Salām bin Ḥarb, from Al-‘Amash, from Anas bin Mālik, and it is weak.

(المعجم ٦) بَابُ: كَيْفَ التَّكْشِيفُ عِنْدَ الْحَاجَةِ (التحفة ٦)

١٤ - حَدَّثَنَا زُهَيْرُ بْنُ حَرْبٍ قَالَ: حَدَّثَنَا وَكَيْعٌ عَنِ الْأَعْمَشِ، عَنْ رَجُلٍ، عَنْ ابْنِ عُمَرَ: أَنَّ النَّبِيَّ ﷺ كَانَ إِذَا أَرَادَ حَاجَةً لَا يَرُفَعُ ثَوْبَهُ حَتَّى يَدْنُو مِنَ الْأَرْضِ. قَالَ أَبُو دَاوُدَ: رَوَاهُ عَبْدُ السَّلَامِ بْنُ حَرْبٍ عَنِ الْأَعْمَشِ، عَنْ أَنَسِ بْنِ مَالِكٍ، وَهُوَ ضَعِيفٌ .

Comments:

One should be very careful while undressing, even if one is alone, because Allāh has a greater right to modesty.

Chapter 7. The Disliking Of Speech While Relieving Oneself

(المعجم ٧) - بَابُ كَرَاهِيَةِ الْكَلَامِ عِنْدَ الْخَلَاءِ (التحفة ٧)

15. Abū Sa'eed narrated that he heard the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ say: "Let not two people who go out to the toilet (Ghā'it) to relieve themselves (such that) their private parts are uncovered, talking to one another. Verily Allāh, the Mighty and Sublime, hates that." (Da'if)

Abū Dāwud said: This was not narrated except by 'Ikrimah bin Ammār.

Chapter 8. Returning Salām While Urinating?

(المعجم ٨) - بَابُ: فِي الرَّجُلِ يَرُدُّ السَّلَامَ وَهُوَ يَبُولُ (التحفة ٨)

16. Ibn 'Umar narrated that a man passed by the Prophet ﷺ while he was urinating, and greeted him with the Salām, but the Prophet ﷺ did not respond to him. (Sahih)

١٦ - حَدَّثَنَا عُثْمَانُ وَأَبُو بَكْرِ ابْنَا أَبِي شَيْبَةَ قَالَا: حَدَّثَنَا عُمَرُ بْنُ سَعْدٍ عَنْ سُفْيَانَ، عَنْ الصَّحَّالِكِ بْنِ عُثْمَانَ، عَنْ نَافِعٍ، عَنْ ابْنِ عُمَرَ قَالَ: مَرَّ رَجُلٌ عَلَى النَّبِيِّ ﷺ وَهُوَ يَبُولُ فَسَلَّمَ عَلَيْهِ فَلَمْ يَرُدِّ عَلَيْهِ. قَالَ أَبُو دَاوُدَ:

Abū Dāwud said: It has also been related from Ibn 'Umar and others, that the Prophet ﷺ performed Tayammum and then returned the Salām to the man.

وَرَوَى عَنْ ابْنِ عُمَرَ وَعَبِيهِ: أَنَّ النَّبِيَّ ﷺ تَيَمَّمَ ثُمَّ رَدَّ عَلَى الرَّجُلِ السَّلَامَ.

تخريج: أخرجه مسلم، الحوض، باب التيمم، ح: ٣٧٠ من حديث سفیان الثوري به ورواه الترمذي، ح: ٩٠ والنسائي، ح: ٣٧ وابن ماجه، ح: ٣٥٣ وهو في مصنف ابن أبي شيبة: ٤٣٥/٨.

17. Ḥuḍain bin Al-Mundhir said that Al-Muhājir bin Qunfudh came to the Prophet ﷺ while he was urinating, and he greeted him with the Salām, but he did not respond to his greeting until he performed Wuḍū. He then excused himself (for the delay) by saying: "I disliked that I mention Allāh — Exalted is His remembrance — except in a state of purity." (Da'if)

تخريج: [إسناده ضعيف] أخرجه النسائي، الطهارة، باب رد السلام بعد الوضوء، ح: ٣٨ وابن ماجه: ٣٥٠ من حديث سعيد بن أبي عروبة به وصححه ابن خزيمة، ح: ٢٠٦ وابن حبان (موارد) ح: ١٨٩ والحاكم: ١٦٧/١ و٤٧٩/٣ على شرط الشيخين ووافقه الذهبي * الحسن البصري مدلس وعنعن، وأصل الحديث شواهد دون قوله: "حتى توضع".

Comments:

This narration shows the reason for the delay in replying, and accordingly that it is disliked to mention Allāh in such circumstances, and it may be inferred that one should not greet a person who is relieving himself with the Salām.

Chapter 9. The Permissibility Of Remembering Allāh, The Most High, While Not In A State of Purity

18. 'Āishah narrated that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ would remember Allāh, the Mighty and Sublime, in all situations that he was in. (Sahih)

تخریج: أخرجه مسلم، الحيض، باب ذكر الله تعالى في حال الجنابة وغيرها، ح: ٣٧٣ عن محمد بن العلاء به ورواه الترمذي، ح: ٣٣٨٤ وابن ماجه، ح: ٣٠٢ وعلقه البخاري في صحيحه، الفتح: ٤٠٧/١ و ١١٤/٢ * زكريا بن أبي زائدة صرح بالسماع عند أحمد: ٢٧٨/٦.

Comments:

This narration is general, and supports the view that it is disliked, not absolutely prohibited, to mention Allāh while in a state of minor impurity.

Chapter 10. Entering The Area In Which One Relieves Oneself With A Ring Upon Which Allāh's Name Is Engraved

(المعجم ١٠) - بَابُ الْخَاتَمِ يَكُونُ فِيهِ
ذِكْرُ اللَّهِ تَعَالَى يَدْخُلُ بِهِ الْخَلَاءُ

(التحفة ١٠)

19. Hammām reported from Ibn Juraij that Anas said: "Whenever the Prophet ﷺ entered the area in which he would relieve himself, he would remove his ring." (Da'if)

Abū Dāwud said: This Hadīth is Munkar.^[1] It is only known from Ibn Juraij, from Ziyād bin Sa'd, from Az-Zuhri, from Anas, that the Prophet ﷺ took a ring made out of silver, and then threw it away. The mistake (in this Hadīth is from Hammām, and no one reported it (with this wording) except Hammām.

١٩ - حَدَّثَنَا نَصْرُ بْنُ عَلِيٍّ عَنْ أَبِي عَلِيٍّ
الْحَنْفِيِّ، عَنْ هَمَّامٍ، عَنْ ابْنِ جُرَيْجٍ، عَنْ
الزُّهْرِيِّ، عَنْ أَنَسٍ: كَانَ النَّبِيُّ ﷺ إِذَا دَخَلَ
الْخَلَاءَ وَضَعَ خَاتَمَهُ.

قال أبو داود: هذا حديثٌ مُنْكَرٌ، وَإِنَّمَا
يُعْرَفُ عَنْ ابْنِ جُرَيْجٍ، عَنْ زِيَادِ بْنِ سَعْدٍ،
عَنِ الزُّهْرِيِّ، عَنْ أَنَسٍ قَالَ: إِنَّ النَّبِيَّ ﷺ
اتَّخَذَ خَاتَمًا مِنْ وَرِقٍ ثُمَّ أَلْقَاهُ. وَالْوَهُمُ فِيهِ
مِنْ هَمَّامٍ، وَلَمْ يَرَوْهُ إِلَّا هَمَّامٌ.

Comments:

It is the view of most scholars, that one should not enter the area in which he intends to relieve himself while carrying something with Allāh's Name on it.

[1] His usage of the term Munkar here, as he explains, means that it is only reported through this route, and he mentioned what is correct after it. The term Munkar is often used to refer to a narration that is reported by a criticized narrator, which is contradicted by more reliable narrators, either in its wording, or in its meaning, or if the criticized narrator is the only one who reported it - as the author used it here.

Chapter 11. Avoiding (The Splatter) Of Urine

20. Ibn Abbās said: “The Prophet ﷺ passed by two graves, and said: ‘These two people are being punished, but they are not being punished for substantial matters. As for this person, he would not protect himself from his urine, and as for the other, he would carry Namīmah^[1] to others.’ Then, the Prophet ﷺ called for a green branch, and split them into two. He planted one on this grave, and one on that grave, and said: ‘Perhaps their punishment will be lightened from them until they become dry.’” (Ṣaḥīh)

They used to cut off any part (of a garment) which urine had splashed on. This person prohibited them from it, so he was punished in his grave.'" (Da'if)

Abū Dāwud said: Mansūr said: "From Abū Wā'il from Abū Mūsā, in this Hadīth: '...(they would cut off) their leather (meaning, clothes)'" and 'Āshim said: "From Abū Wā'il from Abū Mūsā from the Prophet ﷺ, who said: '...(if the urine touched) their bodies.'"

Comments:

1. Not purifying oneself after urinating or not protecting oneself from it incurs punishment in the grave.
2. Namimah or slanderous gossip is a major sin and, therefore, incurs punishment in the grave.
3. It is implied that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ placed the branches of the date-palm on the graves due to some Revelation. In a narration recorded by Muslim (no. 7518) — Jābir narrated about a similar incident — that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: "I passed by two graves (whose occupants) were being tormented, and I wanted to intercede so that the torment would be lessened for them, so long as these branches remain fresh."

Comments:

Squatting to relieve oneself is more commonly reported, this Hadīth proves that when there is a reason and genuine need, there is no harm in standing to relieve oneself, provided one does so in a way that they can protect themselves from any splashing of the urine.

Chapter 13. The Permissibility Of A Man Urinating In A Vessel During The Night, And Placing It Near Him

Comments:

In cases of need, like when one is sick, or if it is extremely cold, etc., one may urinate in a pot or bucket or the like, and dispose of it afterwards, or have it disposed of.

Chapter 14. The Places Where It Is Prohibited To Urinate

(المعجم ١٤) - بَابُ الْمَوَاضِعِ الَّتِي نُهِيَ
عَنِ الْبَوْلِ فِيهَا (التحفة ١٤)

25. Abū Hurairah said that the Prophet ﷺ said: “Avoid the two (places) which cause people to curse you.” They asked: “And what are these two (places) causing the curses, O Messenger of Allāh?” He said: “He who relieves himself in the pathways of the people, or in their shaded places (that they congregated in).” (Ṣaḥīḥ)

٢٥ - حَدَّثَنَا قُتَيْبَةُ بْنُ سَعِيدٍ: حَدَّثَنَا إِسْمَاعِيلُ بْنُ جَعْفَرٍ عَنِ الْعَلَاءِ بْنِ عَبْدِ الرَّحْمَنِ، عَنْ أَبِيهِ، عَنْ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ: أَنَّ النَّبِيَّ ﷺ قَالَ: «اتَّقُوا اللَّاعِنِينَ». قَالُوا: وَمَا اللَّاعِنَانِ يَا رَسُولَ اللَّهِ! قَالَ: «الَّذِي يَتَخَلَّى فِي طَرِيقِ النَّاسِ أَوْ ظِلِّهِمْ».

Comments:

Chapter 15. Urinating In Al-Mustaham (The Bathing Area)^[1]

(المعجم ١٥) بَابُ: فِي الْبَوْلِ فِي الْمُسْتَحَمِّ (التحفة ١٥)

27. ‘Abdullāh bin Al-Mughaffal reported that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: “Let none of you urinate in the area he bathes in, and then perform Ghusl in it.” (Da‘if)

Aḥmad said: “...then perform Wuḍū’ in it, for most of the whisperings of Shaiṭān are from it.”

28. Ḥumaid Al-Ḥimyarī — who is Ibn ‘Abdur-Raḥmān said: “I met a person who accompanied the Prophet ﷺ just like Abū Hurairah did. He said: ‘The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ forbade one of us from combing every day, or from urinating in his bath area.’” (Ṣaḥīḥ)

تخریج: [إسناده صحيح] أخرجه النسائي، الطهارة، باب ذكر النهي عن الاغتسال بفضل الجنب، ح: ٢٣٩ من حديث داود بن عبدالله به.

Comments:

1. The meaning of "bath area" is the actual location of performing Ghusl or the like, meaning a tub, or shower, or bath house.
2. The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ forbade combing hair daily, with the intention to discourage excessive attention to beautification and vanity. Some scholars indicated that while this — in its apparent wording — applies to women as well as men, it is more stressed in the case of men, since beautification is less restricted for women than men. Meaning, that it is more discouraged for men to comb their hair every day than women.

[1] Al-Mustaham is from Hamim which is hot water, and the meaning is the bath-house or the like, where hot water is used or produced for people to bathe in.

Chapter 16. The Prohibition Of Urinating In Burrows^[1]

29. It was narrated from Qatādah, from ‘Abdullāh bin Sarjas, that the Prophet ﷺ prohibited from urinating in burrows.

They said to Qatādah: “Why is it prohibited to urinate in burrows?” He replied: “It is said that these are the places that the jinn inhabit.” (Da‘īf)

Comments:

Holes and burrows are also the dwelling-places of harmful animals. Urinating into them may cause harm. Ignoring open spaces in favor of holes is unwise.

Chapter 17. What Should Be Said When A Person Exits The Toilet In Which He Relieved Himself

30. ‘Aishah narrated that when the Prophet ﷺ exited the toilet (Al-Ghā’it), he would say: “Ghufṛānak (I seek your forgiveness).” (Ṣaḥīḥ)

Chapter 18. Disapproval Of Touching One's Private Part With The Right Hand While Purifying

(المعجم ١٨) - بَابُ كَرَاهِيَةِ مَسِّ الذَّكَرِ
بِالْيَمِينِ فِي الْإِسْتِبْرَاءِ (التحفة ١٨)

31. 'Abdullāh bin Abī Qatādah reported from his father, who said that the Prophet ﷺ said: "If one of you urinates, then let him not touch his penis with his right hand, and if he goes to relieve himself, then let him not wipe himself with his right hand, and if he drinks, then let him not drink with one breath." (Sahih)

٣١ - حَدَّثَنَا مُسْلِمٌ بْنُ أَبِرَاهِيمَ وَمُوسَى بْنُ إِسْمَاعِيلَ قَالَا: حَدَّثَنَا أَبَانٌ: حَدَّثَنَا يَحْيَى عَنْ عَبْدِ اللَّهِ بْنِ أَبِي قَتَادَةَ، عَنْ أَبِيهِ قَالَ: قَالَ نَبِيُّ اللَّهِ ﷺ: «إِذَا بَالَ أَحَدُكُمْ فَلَا يَمَسُّ ذَكَرَهُ بِيَمِينِهِ، وَإِذَا أَتَى الْخَلَاءَ فَلَا يَتَمَسَّحُ بِيَمِينِهِ، وَإِذَا شَرِبَ فَلَا يَشْرَبُ نَفْسًا وَاحِدًا».

Comments:

1. It is forbidden to touch one's sexual organ (for males or females) with the right right hand while relieving oneself. It may be inferred from this, that one should also not touch that area with the right hand in general as well.
2. One should drink a beverage in three intervals, taking a breath in between. (That makes three breaths). That is the Islamic manner of drinking any beverage. 'Drink with one breath' means that one should breathe outside of the vessel when drinking rather than inside of it.

32. Ḥaḥṣah, the wife of the Prophet ﷺ, said that the Prophet ﷺ would use his right hand for eating, drinking, and (putting on) his clothes, and would use his left hand for other matters. (Hasan)

تخریج: [إسناده حسن] أخرجه الحاكم: ١٠٩/٤ من حديث ابن أبي زائدة به وقال: "هذا حديث صحيح".

Comments:

The Hadīth shows that the invocation by the Messenger of Allāh (ﷺ) was answered. Using the left hand to eat or drink is a major sin. The natural sense of purity and cleanness dictates one should use one's right hand to eat or drink. Using the left hand for this purpose is abominable because the left hand is used to remove impurities after relieving oneself. Children should be taught Islamic manners regarding cleanness and purity from an early age.

33. 'Āishah narrated: "The Prophet ﷺ would use his right hand for his purification (Wuḍū'), and his eating, and he would use his left hand for (cleaning after) relieving himself, and for whatever was harmful." (Da'īf)

‘Alqām. Ruwaifi’ said: ‘During the time of the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ, one of us would take his companion’s old camel (for Jihād), with the condition we would divide the spoils in half. And sometimes we would obtain an arrow (from the spoils), so one of us would get the (metal) arrow-head and the feathers, and the other would get its shaft.’ Then he said: ‘So the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ told me: “O Ruwaifi! 1. Dung may not be used to remove impurities when relieving oneself.
2. Partnership in such property is permissible.
3. Joint property, no matter how trivial, shall be distributed among its rightful owners provided it does not become useless after dividing it.
4. Tying one’s beard, itself, or by means of something, is unlawful.
5. The meaning of garlanding one’s animal with a bowstring, is that they would put such items around the neck of their camels or horses, with the belief that it will protect against the evil eye, or the like.

37. This Hadīth (similar to no. 36) has also been reported with a different chain from Abū Sālim Al-Jaishānī from ‘Abdullāh bin ‘Amr, mentioning that, and he (Abū Sālim) was with him guarding the frontier at a fortress at the gate of Alyūn. (Sahīh)

Abū Dāwud said: He (Shaibān) is Shaibān bin Umayyah, his Kunyah is Abū Hudhaifah.

38. Abū Az-Zubair reported that he heard Jābir bin ‘Abdullāh saying: “The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ prohibited us from wiping ourselves with bones or (animal) dung.” (Ṣaḥīh)

39. ‘Abdullāh bin Mas‘ūd reported that a delegation from the jinn came to the Prophet, and told him: “O Muḥammad! Prohibit your nation from cleansing themselves with bones, or animal dung, or burnt wood, for Allāh, the Mighty and Sublime, made sustenance for us in these things.” So the Prophet forbade them from these materials. Comments:

Three stones are enough, or their like of tissue paper, etc.

41. Khuzaimah bin Thābit reports that the Prophet ﷺ was asked about cleansing oneself (after relieving oneself). He replied: “(He should do so) with three stones, (making sure) that there is no animal dung among them.” (Ḍaʿīf)

42. Āishah reported that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ urinated, and 'Umar stood behind him with a container of water. تخريج: [إسناده ضعيف] أخرجه ابن ماجه، الطهارة، باب من بال ولم يمس ماء، ح: ٣٢٧ من حديث الترمذ به وهو ضعيف كما في التهذيب والتقريب وغيرهما.

Comments:

The Hadith has a weak chain of narration. Performing ablution and keeping oneself in a state of ritual purity all the time is recommended, but it is not obligatory.

Chapter 23. Cleansing With Water After Relieving Oneself

(المعجم ٢٣) بَابُ فِي الْإِسْتِنْبَاءِ

بِالْمَاءِ (التحفة ٢٣)

43. Anas bin Mālik narrated: “The Prophet ﷺ entered a garden, and he had with him a lad who was the youngest person amongst us. The lad had with him a container of water which he placed next to a lote tree. The Prophet ﷺ relieved himself, and came out to us after he had cleansed himself with the water.” (Sahih)

44. Abū Hurairah narrated that the Prophet ﷺ said: “The Verse: ‘In it are men that love to purify themselves...’^[1] was revealed concerning the people of Qubā’.” He (Abū Hurairah) said: “They used to purify themselves with water. So this Verse was revealed concerning them.” (Hasan)

Comments:

Using water to cleanse oneself of impurities after relieving oneself is recommended, while stones or the like will suffice.

Chapter 24. A Man Should Rub His Hands On The Ground After He Has Performed Istinjā'

(المعجم ٢٤) - بَابُ الرَّجُلِ يَدْلُكُ يَدَهُ بِالْأَرْضِ إِذَا اسْتَنْجَى (التحفة ٢٤)

45. Abū Hurairah narrated: "When the Prophet ﷺ would go to the area in which he would relieve himself, I would bring him water in a pot, or (sometimes) a leather container, for Istinjā' [Abū Dāwud said: In Wakī's narration:] Then he would wipe his hand on the ground. Then I would bring him another container for Wuḍū'." (Hasan)

Abū Dāwud said: The narration of Aswad bin Āmir is more complete.^[1]

٤٥ - حَدَّثَنَا إِبْرَاهِيمُ بْنُ خَالِدٍ: حَدَّثَنَا أَسْوَدُ بْنُ عَامِرٍ: حَدَّثَنَا شَرِيكٌ؛ ح: وحدثنا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ عَبْدِ اللَّهِ يَعْنِي الْمُخْرَمِيَّ: حدثنا وَكَيْعٌ عَنْ شَرِيكٍ، عَنْ إِبْرَاهِيمَ بْنِ جَرِيرٍ، عَنِ الْمُعِيرَةَ، عَنْ أَبِي زُرْعَةَ، عَنْ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ قَالَ: كَانَ النَّبِيُّ ﷺ إِذَا أَتَى الْخَلَاءَ أَتَيْتُهُ بِمَاءٍ فِي تَوْرٍ أَوْ رَكْوَةٍ فَاسْتَنْجَى [قال أبو داود: في حديث وكيع] ثُمَّ مَسَحَ يَدَهُ عَلَى الْأَرْضِ، ثُمَّ أَتَيْتُهُ بِأَنَاءٍ آخَرَ فَتَوَضَّأَ. قال أبو داود: وَحَدِيثُ الْأَسْوَدِ بْنِ عَامِرٍ أَتَمُّ.

Comments:

It is recommended to rub one's hand on earth after relieving oneself. This ensures greater purity and removes any bad odor. In places where clean earth is not available, as in cities, soap is a good substitute.

Chapter 25. The Siwāk

(المعجم ٢٥) - بَابُ السَّوَاكِ (التحفة ٢٥)

the Prophet ﷺ said): "Were it not for the fact that I did not wish to cause hardship to the believers, I would have commanded them to delay the 'Ishā' prayer, and to use the Siwāk for every prayer."

(Ṣaḥīh)

تخريج: أخرجه مسلم، الطهارة، باب السواك، ح: ٢٥٢ عن قتبية، والبخاري، الجمعة، باب السواك يوم الجمعة، ح: ٨٨٧، ٧٢٤٠ من حديث أبي الزناد به، ورواه النسائي، ح: ٧ وابن ماجه، ح: ٢٨٧.

Comments:

1. The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ did not order the use of Siwāk for every prayer out of kindness to his Ummah, fearing it might become burdensome. Had he done so, it would have been obligatory, since the commandments of Allāh's Messenger ﷺ are binding.
2. Though it is better to delay the 'Ishā' prayer, when it is difficult for the people to congregate later, then their congregating at its earlier time is better.

47. Abū Salamah bin 'Abdur-Raḥmān said that Zaid bin Khālīd Al-Juhānī said: "I heard the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ say: 'Were it not that I feared to make matters burdensome for my nation, I would have commanded them the use of Siwāk at (the time) of every prayer.'"

Then Abū Salamah said: "So I would see Zaid sit in the Masjid with his Siwāk (behind) his ear in the same place that a scribe places his pen. Every time he would stand up to pray, he would use the Siwāk." (Ḥasan)

٤٧ - حَدَّثَنَا إِبْرَاهِيمُ بْنُ مُوسَى: حَدَّثَنَا عِيسَى بْنُ يُونُسَ: حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ إِسْحَاقَ عَنْ مُحَمَّدِ بْنِ إِبْرَاهِيمَ التَّيْمِيِّ، عَنْ أَبِي سَلَمَةَ بْنِ عَبْدِ الرَّحْمَنِ، عَنْ زَيْدِ بْنِ خَالِدِ الْجُهَيْنِيِّ قَالَ: سَمِعْتُ رَسُولَ اللَّهِ ﷺ يَقُولُ: «لَوْلَا أَنْ أَشَقَّ عَلَيَّ أُمَّتِي لِأَمْرَتُهُمْ بِالسَّوَاكِ عِنْدَ كُلِّ صَلَاةٍ». قَالَ أَبُو سَلَمَةَ: فَرَأَيْتَ زَيْدًا يَجْلِسُ فِي الْمَسْجِدِ وَإِنَّ السَّوَاكَ مِنْ أَدْنِيهِ مَوْضِعَ الْقَلَمِ مِنْ أَدْنِ الْكَاتِبِ، فَكَلَّمَا قَامَ إِلَى الصَّلَاةِ اسْتَاكَ.

‘Abdullāh bin ‘Umar: “Can you inform me why (‘Abdullāh) Ibn ‘Umar used to perform Wuḍū’ for every single prayer, (regardless of) whether he was in a state of purity or not?” He replied: “Asmā’ bint Zaid bin Al-Khaṭṭāb narrated to me that ‘Abdullāh bin Ḥanzalah bin Abī ‘Āmir narrated to her, that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ was commanded to perform Wuḍū’ for every single prayer, regardless of whether he was in a state of purity or not. However, when that became difficult for him, he was (instead) commanded to use the Siwāk at every prayer. So Ibn ‘Umar used to believe that he had the energy (to perform Wuḍū’), therefore he would never leave performing Wuḍū’ before every prayer.” (Hasan)

Abū Dāwud said: Ibrāhīm bin Sa’d narrated it on the authority of Muḥammad bin Ishaq, from Ubaidullāh bin ‘Abdullāh (instead of ‘Abdullāh bin ‘Abdullāh).

تخريج: [إسناده حسن] أخرجه أحمد: ٢٢٥/٥ من حديث محمد بن إسحاق به وصححه ابن خزيمة، ح: ١٥ والحاكم على شرط مسلم: ١٥٦/١ ووافقه الذهبي * ابن إسحاق صرح بالسماع.

Comments:

Renewing Wuḍū’ for every prayer is recommended, but not required.

Chapter 26. How To Use The Siwāk

I saw him using the Siwāk upon his tongue.” Sulaimān (in his version) said: “I entered upon the Prophet ﷺ while he was using the Siwāk. He had placed the Siwāk upon the tip of his tongue, and he was saying: ‘Eh, Eh,’ making a gagging sound.” (Ṣaḥīh)
Abū Dāwud said: Musad-dad said: “This was a long Ḥadīth which was abridged.”

Chapter 27. On Using Another's Siwāk

(المعجم ٢٧) بَابُ فِي الرَّجْلِ يَسْتَاكُ بِسَوَاكٍ غَيْرِهِ (التحفة ٢٧)

50. ‘Āishah narrated that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ was using the Siwāk on his teeth, and there were two people sitting with him, one of whom was older than the other. So Revelation came to him regarding the virtue of the Siwāk, and to give it to the elder of the two of them. (Ṣaḥīh)

تخريج: [صحيح] وحسنه الحافظ في الفتح: ٢٤٦ وللحديث شواهد كثيرة عند أحمد: ٢/ ١٣٨ وغيره وبعضها علقه البخاري، في صحيحه: ٣٥٦/١.

Comments:

We learn from the Ḥadīth that, while distributing a thing among people, the one older in age is to be given precedence over the others provided they are not sitting in a specific order. If they are, preference shall be given to the one sitting on the right, even if he is the youngest of all.

Chapter 28. Washing The Siwāk

(المعجم ٢٨) - بَابُ غَسْلِ السَّوَاكِ

(التحفة ٢٨)

Comments:

‘Aishah’s purpose was to seek blessing from the saliva of the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ, an act already sanctioned by Allāh’s Messenger himself. Note that blessings should be sought from the Messenger of Allāh only. This quality is unique to him alone.

The foregoing acts are physical, that is, they are matters relating to the human body. That's why they are called Al-Fiṭrah (natural acts).

He then recited this Verse: ‘Verily, in the creation of the heavens and earth, and the altering of the night and day, there are signs for men of understanding...’, until he almost finished the Sūrah,^[1] or, he finished it. He then performed Wuḍū’, and went to his prayer place, and prayed two Rak‘ah. He then returned to his bed and slept for as long as Allāh willed, then he woke up again and repeated the same acts. Then he returned to his bed and slept, then he woke up again and repeated the same acts. Every time, he would use the Siwāk and pray two Rak‘ah. Then he prayed the Witr prayer.

Abū Dāwud said: Ibn Fuḍail reported it from Ḥuṣain, who said: “...he used the Siwāk, and performed the Wuḍū’ while reciting: ‘Verily, in the creation of the heavens and earth...’ until he finished the Sūrah.” (Ṣaḥīḥ)

Comments:

It is quite clear from this Hadīth that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ paid great importance to Siwāk since he used it each time he woke up.

(المعجم ٣١) - بَابُ فَرَضِ الْوُضُوءِ

(التحفة ٣١)

59. Abū Al-Maliḥ reported on the authority of his father who said that the Prophet ﷺ said: “Allāh does not accept charity from Ghulūl, nor does He accept prayer without purification.” (Ṣaḥīḥ)

٥٩ - حَدَّثَنَا مُسْلِمٌ بْنُ إِبْرَاهِيمَ قَالَ: حَدَّثَنَا شُعْبَةُ عَنْ قَتَادَةَ، عَنْ أَبِي الْمَلِيحِ، عَنْ أَبِيهِ عَنِ النَّبِيِّ ﷺ قَالَ: «لَا يَقْبَلُ اللَّهُ صَدَقَةً مِنْ غُلُولٍ، وَلَا صَلَاةَ بغيرِ طَهْوَرٍ».

Comments:

1. Charity given from unlawfully earned wealth; via cheating, theft, robbery, bribery, and extortion, etc., are not accepted by Allāh.
2. Purification is a condition for the acceptance of Ṣalāt. In case water cannot be used, Tayammum will substitute, as follows.
3. Ghulūl means that which is treacherously acquired; and specifically it means taking from the spoils of war before they are divided among the soldiers by the leader.

[1] Some of the manuscripts contain this narration, others do not. Some of them placed it after number 50, others placed it here. We numbered it in the translation as it appears in the edition published by Darussalam. It has been given the number 51 because some versions have it there, and has been placed here since other versions placed it here.

60. Abū Hurairah narrated that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: “Allāh — the Exalted, Majestic is His mention — does not accept the prayer of one of you, when he commits Hadath^[1] until he performs Wuḍū’.” (Ṣaḥīḥ)

61. ‘Alī bin Abī Ṭālib, may Allāh be pleased with him, narrated that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: “The key to prayer is purification, and its sacredness (begins) with the Takbīr, and its release is the Taslīm.” (Ḥasan)

٦١ - حَدَّثَنَا عُثْمَانُ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ قَالَ: حَدَّثَنَا وَكَيْعٌ عَنْ سُفْيَانَ، عَنْ ابْنِ عَقِيلٍ، عَنْ مُحَمَّدِ ابْنِ الْحَنَفِيَّةِ، عَنْ عَلِيِّ رَضِيَ اللَّهُ عَنْهُ قَالَ: قَالَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ ﷺ: «مِفْتَاحُ الصَّلَاةِ الطُّهُورُ، وَتَحْرِيمُهَا التَّكْبِيرُ، وَتَحْلِيلُهَا التَّسْلِيمُ».

65. Ibn 'Umar narrated that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: "If the water is two Qullah, then it will not become impure." (Ḥasan)

Abū Dāwud said: Ḥammād bin Zaid narrated this in a Mawqūf form from 'Āṣim.^[1]

٦٥ - حَدَّثَنَا مُوسَى بْنُ إِسْمَاعِيلَ قَالَ: حَدَّثَنَا حَمَادٌ قَالَ: أَخْبَرَنَا عَاصِمٌ بْنُ الْمُثَنَّى عَنْ عَبْدِ اللَّهِ بْنِ عَبْدِ اللَّهِ بْنِ عُمَرَ قَالَ: حَدَّثَنِي أَبِي أَنَّ رَسُولَ اللَّهِ ﷺ قَالَ: «إِذَا كَانَ الْمَاءُ فُلْتَيْنِ فَإِنَّهُ لَا يَنْجَسُ».

قال أبو داود: حَمَادٌ بْنُ زَيْدٍ وَقَفَّهُ عَنْ عَاصِمٍ.

تخريج: [إسناده حسن] أخرجه ابن ماجه، الطهارة، باب مقدار الماء الذي لا ينجس، ح: ٥١٨ من حديث حماد بن سلمة به مطولاً.

Comments:

1. A Qullah refers to a large container. It is said that two Qullahs is equal to about 210 liters of water.
2. "If the water is two Qullahs, then it will not become impure," means if filth falls into that much water, the water does not become impure provided its color, taste and smell have not been altered by the filth. If any filth is visible to the eye, it should be removed, and the water may be used.

[1] That is, as a statement of Ibn 'Umar, rather than the Prophet ﷺ, while this version is narrated by Ḥammad bin Salamah, and as a narration of Ibn 'Umar, attributed to the Prophet ﷺ.

Chapter 34. What Has Been Narrated Concerning The Well Of Buḍā'ah

66. Abū Sa'eed Al-Khudrī narrated that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ was asked: "Should we perform the Wuḍū' from the well of Buḍā'ah while it is a well that menstruation rags, and dog carcasses, and filth, are thrown in?"^[1] The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ replied: "Water is pure, and nothing impurifies it." Comments:

The Buḍā‘ah Well was located in a low-lying area. Strong winds and storm rainwater would sweep filthy things away or blow them over into the well. Filthy things were not deliberately cast into the well.

Chapter 35. Water Does Not Become Junub (Impure)

(المعجم ۳۵) بَابُ: الْمَاءُ لَا يَجْنُبُ

68. Ibn Abbās stated: “A wife of the Prophet ﷺ performed Ghusl using (water in) a bowl. The Prophet ﷺ came to perform Wuḍū’ from it, or, Ghusl. She said: ‘O Messenger of Allāh! I was Junub (sexually impure).’ The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ replied: ‘Water does not become Junub (sexually impure).’” (Da‘if)

Comments:

1. Unused water in a vessel used by a sexual impure person, to purify himself with, remains pure.
2. As for the Hadīth forbidding men to use water left over by women and vice versa, using such water is considered disliked. It may be said that it is better not to use such water. (See Hadīth no. 81)

Chapter 36. Urinating In Standing Water(المعجم ٣٦) - بَابُ الْبَوْلِ فِي الْمَاءِ الرَّائِدِ (التحفة ٣٦)

أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ عَنِ النَّبِيِّ ﷺ قَالَ: «طُهورُ إِنَاءٍ أَحَدِكُمْ إِذَا وَلَغَ فِيهِ الْكَلْبُ أَنْ يُغْسَلَ سَبْعَ مَرَّاتٍ، أَوْ لَاهُنَّ بِالتُّرَابِ».

قال أبو داود: وكذلك قال أيوب وحبيب بن الشهيد عن محمد.

Comments:

Most scholars consider such narrations to indicate that the dog’s saliva is impure.

72. In another version, some narrators reported a narration similar in meaning (to no. 71) from Abū Hurairah, without narrating it in a Marfū’ form^[1] with the addition: “...and if a cat licks (from a container), then it is washed only once.” (Ṣaḥīḥ)

The contents of a vessel licked by a dog shall be cast away, the vessel washed seven or eight times over, and scrubbed with soil once, in order to make it pure.

74. Ibn Mughfaffal narrated that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ had (initially) ordered that all dogs be killed, then he said: “What have they (the people) got to do with them (the dogs)?” So he granted them (permission to keep) hunting dogs, and sheep dogs. He also said: “If a dog licks from a container, then wash it seven times, then rub it with earth on the eighth.” (Saḥīḥ)

Chapter 38. The Water Left By A Cat

75. Ḥumaidah bint ‘Ubaid bin Rifā‘ah reported that Kabshah bint Ka‘b bin Mālik — who was the wife of Ibn Abī Qatādah — once poured water for Ibn Abī Qatādah for his ablution. A cat came and drank from it, so Ibn Abī Qatādah tilted the container for it (so that it could drink with ease). Kabshah

The father-in-law is a Maḥram. A woman needs not to observe Hijāb before him. He also has a right over her to be served.

Comments:

1. There is no legal restriction on husband and wife bathing together.
2. 'Āishah and the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ took water by turns, and since each of them were in a state of impurity until the completion of the Ghusl, then the water they were using was "used" and it was being used by one in a state of impurity. This shows that it is permissible to use the left-over water, regardless of whether it was used by a man or a woman.

٨٠ - حَدَّثَنَا مُسَدَّدٌ قَالَ: حَدَّثَنَا يَحْيَى عَنْ عُبَيْدِ اللَّهِ قَالَ: حَدَّثَنِي نَافِعٌ عَنْ عَبْدِ اللَّهِ بْنِ عُمَرَ قَالَ: كُنَّا نَتَوَضَّأُ نَحْنُ وَالنِّسَاءُ عَلَى عَهْدِ رَسُولِ اللَّهِ ﷺ مِنْ إِنَاءٍ وَاحِدٍ نُذَلِّي فِيهِ أَيْدِيَنَا.

Chapter 40. The Prohibition Of That

(المعجم ٤٠) - بَابُ النَّهْيِ عَنِ ذَلِكَ
(التحفة ٤٠)

81. Ḥumaid Al-Ḥimyarī said: “I met a person who had accompanied the Prophet ﷺ for four years, just like Abū Hurairah had accompanied him. He told me: ‘The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ prohibited a woman from performing Ghusl with (the water) left over by a man, or a man performing Ghusl from (the water) left over by a woman.’”

Musad-dad (one of the narrators) added: “...but they should scoop it out simultaneously.” (Ṣaḥīh)

82. Al-Ḥakam bin ‘Amr Al-Aqra’ reported that the Prophet ﷺ forbade a man from performing Wuḍū’ from (the water for) purification left over by a woman. (Ḥasan)

٨٢ - حَدَّثَنَا ابْنُ بَشَّارٍ قَالَ: حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو دَاوُدَ يَعْني الطَّبَالِسِيَّ، قَالَ: حَدَّثَنَا شُعْبَةُ عَنْ عَاصِمٍ، عَنْ أَبِي حَاجِبٍ، عَنْ الْحَكَمِ بْنِ عَمْرٍو، وَهُوَ الْأَفْرَعُ: أَنَّ النَّبِيَّ ﷺ نَهَى أَنْ يَتَوَضَّأَ الرَّجُلُ بِفَضْلِ طَهُورِ الْمَرْأَةِ.

Chapter 41. Wuḍū’ With Sea-Water

(المعجم ٤١) - بَابُ الْوُضُوءِ بِمَاءِ الْبَحْرِ (التحفة ٤١)

83. Abū Hurairah said: "A man asked the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ: 'O Messenger of Allāh! We ride the oceans, and carry with us a small amount of (fresh) water. If we were to perform Wuḍū’ with it, we will become thirsty. Can we perform Wuḍū’ with sea-water?' So the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ replied: 'Its water is pure, and its dead are lawful (as food).'" (Ṣaḥīḥ)

٨٣ - حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ اللَّهِ بْنُ مَسْلَمَةَ عَنْ مَالِكٍ، عَنْ صَفْوَانَ بْنِ سُلَيْمٍ، عَنْ سَعِيدِ بْنِ سَلَمَةَ مِنْ آلِ ابْنِ الْأَزْرَقِ قَالَ: إِنَّ الْمَغِيرَةَ بْنَ أَبِي بُرْدَةَ وَهُوَ مِنْ بَنِي عَبْدِ الدَّارِ، أَخْبَرَهُ أَنَّهُ سَمِعَ أَبَا هُرَيْرَةَ يَقُولُ: سَأَلَ رَجُلٌ رَسُولَ اللَّهِ ﷺ فَقَالَ: يَا رَسُولَ اللَّهِ! إِنَّا نَرَكَّبُ الْبَحْرَ وَنَحْمِلُ مَعَنَا الْقَلِيلَ مِنَ الْمَاءِ فَإِنْ تَوَضَّأْنَا بِهِ عَطِشْنَا، أَفَتَتَوَضَّأُ بِمَاءِ الْبَحْرِ؟ فَقَالَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ ﷺ: «هُوَ الطَّهُورُ مَاؤُهُ الْجَلُّ مَيْتُهُ».

Comments:

Ocean, sea, river, and stream water is pure as well as purifying. It is permissible to use it for drinking, bathing and washing. Any apparent filth found in it should be avoided.

Chapter 42. Wuḍū’ Using An-Nabīdh^[1]

(المعجم ٤٢) - بَابُ الْوُضُوءِ بِالنَّبِيدِ
(التحفة ٤٢)

84. It was narrated from Abū Zaid, from ‘Abdullāh bin Mas‘ūd that the Prophet ﷺ asked him on the ‘Night of the Jinn’: “What is inside your Idāwah?”^[2] He replied: “Nabīdh.” The Prophet ﷺ said, “Wholesome dates, and pure water.” (Da‘īf)

(One of the narrators) Sulaimān bin Dāwud said: “From Abū Zaid, or Zaid’ - this is how Sharīk said it.” And Hannād (another of those who narrated it) did not mention: “on the ‘Night of the Jinn’.” (Da‘īf)

تخریج: [إسناده ضعيف] أخرجه الترمذي، الطهارة، باب ما جاء في الوضوء بالنبيذ، ح: ٨٨ عن هناد بن السري به * وقال: "وأبو زيد رجل مجهول عند أهل الحديث" ورواه ابن ماجه، ح: ٣٨٤.

85. ‘Alqamah said: “I asked ‘Abdullāh bin Mas‘ūd: ‘Who among you was with the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ on the ‘Night of the Jinn’?’ He replied: ‘None of us were with him.’” (Sahīh) ٨٥ - حَدَّثَنَا مُوسَى بْنُ إِسْمَاعِيلَ قَالَ: حَدَّثَنَا وَهَيْبٌ عَنْ دَاوُدَ، عَنْ عَامِرٍ، عَنْ عَلْقَمَةَ قَالَ: قُلْتُ لِعَبْدِ اللَّهِ بْنِ مَسْعُودٍ: مَنْ كَانَ مِنْكُمْ مَعَ رَسُولِ اللَّهِ ﷺ لَيْلَةَ الْجِنِّ؟ فَقَالَ: مَا كَانَ مَعَهُ مِنْ أَحَدٍ.

86. Ibn Juraij reported that ‘Atā’ (bin Abī Rabāḥ) used to dislike performing Wuḍū’ with milk or Nabīdh, and he said, “Tayammum

[1] A type of drink made by soaking fruits — usually dates — in water. If the drink is left for long, it ferments and becomes wine, prior to that, it is not unlawful for consumption.

[2] A leather container, or water-skin.

(Ṣaḥīḥ)

بِاللَّيْنِ وَالنَّبِيدِ وَقَالَ: إِنَّ التَّيْمَمَ أَعْجَبُ إِلَيَّ مِنْهُ.

تخريج: [إسناده صحيح] أخرجه البيهقي: ٩/١ من حديث أبي داود به.

Comments:

In case water is mixed with another thing, it still remains pure, provided the mixture does not change into something other than water like soup, broth, drink mix or the like. If it does, it is no longer water and performing Wuḍū or Ghusl with it is not valid.

87. Abū Khaldah said: “I asked Abū Al-‘Āliyah about a person who became sexually impure: ‘If he had Nabīdh and did not have any water, should he perform Ghusl with it?’ He replied: ‘No.” (Ṣaḥīḥ) ٨٧ - حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ بَشَّارٍ قَالَ: حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ الرَّحْمَنِ قَالَ: حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو خَلْدَةَ قَالَ: سَأَلْتُ أَبَا الْعَالِيَةِ عَنْ رَجُلٍ أَصَابَتْهُ جَنَابَةٌ، وَلَيْسَ عِنْدَهُ مَاءٌ وَعِنْدَهُ نَبِيدٌ، أَيُغْتَسَلُ بِهِ؟ قَالَ: لَا.

Chapter 43. Should A Person Offer Ṣalāt When He Feels The Urge To Relieve Himself

88. ‘Abdullāh bin Arqam reported that he left for Hajj or ‘Umrah with a group of people whom he used to lead in prayer. One day, the Iqāmah for prayer was called — for the Ṣubḥ (Fajr) prayer — then he said: “One of you should lead,” and went to relieve himself, (saying): “I heard the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ say: ‘If one of you wants to relieve himself, and the Iqāmah is called for prayer, then let him first relieve himself.” (Ṣaḥīḥ)

Abū Dāwud said: (Some narrators narrated it with a different chain). And most of them who narrated from Ḥiṣhām said as the narration of Zuhair (no. 88).

(المعجم ٤٣) بَابُ: أَيُصَلِّي الرَّجُلُ وَهُوَ حَاقِنٌ؟ (التحفة ٤٣)

قال أبو داود: روى وهيب بن خالد وشعيب بن إسحاق وأبو ضمرة هذا الحديث عن هشام بن عروة، عن أبيه، عن رجل

حَدَّثَهُ عَنْ عَبْدِ اللَّهِ بْنِ أَرْقَمَ، وَالْأَكْثَرُ الَّذِينَ رَوَوْهُ عَنْ هِشَامٍ قَالُوا كَمَا قَالَ زُهَيْرٌ.

تخریج: [صحيح] أخرجه الترمذي، الطهارة، باب ما جاء إذا أقيمت الصلاة... إلخ، ح: ١٤٢ والنسائي، ح: ٨٥٣ وابن ماجه، ح: ٦١٦ من حديث هشام بن عروة به وقال الترمذي: "حسن صحيح" وصححه ابن خزيمة، ح: ٩٣٢، ١٦٥٢ وابن حبان (موارد)، ح: ١٩٤ والحاكم: ١٦٨/١ ووافقه الذهبي.

89. ‘Abdullāh bin Muḥammad bin Abī Bakr — the brother of ‘Āsim bin Muḥammad (meaning, grand-nephew of ‘Āishah) — said: “One day we were with ‘Āishah when her food was brought to her. ‘Āsim stood up to offer Ṣalāt, so she said: ‘I heard the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ say: “One should not offer Ṣalāt when the food has been served, nor while he is resisting one of the two filthy things.” (Ṣaḥīḥ)

تخریج: أخرجه مسلم، المساجد، باب كراهة الصلاة بحضرة الطعام الذي يريد أكله في الحال... إلخ ح: ٥٦٠ من حديث أبي حنزة القاص به وهو في المسند للإمام أحمد: ٤٣/٦، ٥٤.

Comments:

Humility and concentration are vital in order for Ṣalāt to be accepted by Allāh. Anything that distracts from one’s attention should be avoided. Hunger and the need to relieve oneself are often beyond human control. Therefore, one should first fulfill these needs before entering into Ṣalāt.

90. Thawbān narrated that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: “Three things are not permissible for anyone to do: No man should lead a people (in prayer), and then mention himself only during the supplication, for if he does so, then he has betrayed them. And no one should glance inside a house before he asks permission, for if he does so, then (it is as if) he has already entered. And no one should offer Ṣalāt while he is feeling discomfort until he lightens (i.e., relieves) himself.” (Hasan) تخریج: [حسن] أخرجه الترمذی، الصلاة، باب ما جاء في كراهية أن يخص الإمام نفسه بالدعاء، ح: ۳۵۷ من حديث إسماعيل بن عياش به وتابعه بقية عند ابن ماجه، ح: ۶۱۹، ۹۲۳.

91. Abū Hurairah narrated that the Prophet ﷺ said: “It is not permissible for a man who believes in Allāh and the Final Day that he offer Ṣalāt while he is in discomfort until he lightens himself...” he continued with a similar wording, and then said: “And it is not permissible for a man who believes in Allāh and the Final Day that he should lead a people (in prayer) except with their permission, or that he mention himself only during supplication, ignoring them, for if he does so then he has betrayed them.” (Hasan)

Abū Dāwud said: These are of the traditions of the people of Ash-Shām; no one else shared with them in (narrating) them.

قَبْلَ أَنْ يَسْتَأْذِنَ فَإِنْ فَعَلَ فَقَدْ دَخَلَ، وَلَا يُصَلِّي وَهُوَ حَقِنٌ حَتَّى يَتَخَفَّفَ».

تخریج: [حسن] أخرجه البيهقي: ۱۲۹/۳ من حديث ثور بن يزيد به.

Comments:

Narrations 90 and 91, are weak, according to Ibn Khuzaimah, Ibn Taimiyyah, Ibn Al-Qayyim, Shaikh Al-Albānī, and others. Not performing Ṣalāt while having the urge to relieve oneself, and not leading a group of people in prayer without their permission, are supported by other narrations, but the portion prohibiting the Imām from supplicating for himself only, is not supported by any authentic narrations, and there are many supplications reported from Allāh’s Messenger ﷺ in which he supplicated in the first person singular; see nos. 781 and 880. And he ﷺ also ordered that in some cases, see no. 983.

Chapter 44. The Amount Of Water That Is Acceptable For Performing Wuḍū'

92. 'Āishah narrated that the Prophet ﷺ would perform Ghusl with a Ṣā'^[1] (of water), and he would perform Wuḍū' with a Mudd.^[2] (Sahīh)

Abū Dāwud said: (It was also narrated with different wording in this chain.)

تخریج: [صحیح] أخرجه ابن ماجه، الطهارة، باب ما جاء في مقدار الماء للوضوء والغسل من الجنابة، ح: ٢٦٨ من حديث همام به، ورواه النسائي، ح: ٣٤٧ وحديث أبان بن يزيد العطار، أخرجه البيهقي: ١/١٩٥ وإسناده صحيح.

93. Jābir narrated that the Prophet ﷺ would take a bath with a Ṣā' (of water), and he would perform Wuḍū' with a Mudd. (Sahīh)

تخریج: [صحیح] أخرجه أحمد: ٣/٣٠٣ عن هشيم به وصححه ابن خزيمة، ح: ١١٧ * ورواه حصين عن سالم بن أبي الجعد عند البيهقي: ١/١٩٥ والحاكم: ١/١٦١ وللحديث شواهد كثيرة منها الحديث السابق.

94. Umm 'Umārah narrated that the Prophet ﷺ wanted to perform Wuḍū', so a container was brought to him which contained water equal to two-thirds of a Mudd. (Sahīh)

تخریج: [إسناده صحيح] أخرجه النسائي، الطهارة، باب القدر الذي يكتفي به الرجل من الماء للوضوء، ح: ٧٤ عن محمد بن بشار به مطولاً، وله طريق آخر عند البيهقي: ١/١٩٦.

٩٤ - حَدَّثَنَا ابْنُ بَشَّارٍ قَالَ: حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ ابْنُ جَعْفَرٍ قَالَ: حَدَّثَنَا شُعْبَةُ عَنْ حَبِيبِ الْأَنْصَارِيِّ قَالَ: سَمِعْتُ عَبَّادَ بْنَ تَمِيمٍ عَنْ جَدَّتِي وَهِيَ أُمُّ عَمَارَةَ أَنَّ النَّبِيَّ ﷺ تَوَضَّأَ فَأَتَيْتَنِي بِإِنَاءٍ فِيهِ مَاءٌ قَدْرُ ثُلثِي الْمُدِّ.

[1] Ṣā' is a measurement of volume. It is four scoops with the two hands held together.

[2] A Mudd is roughly one-fourth the size of a Ṣā'.

95. Anas reported that the Prophet ﷺ would perform Wuḍū' using a vessel large enough to hold two Raṭls,^[1] and he would perform Ghūsl a Ṣā'. (Ṣaḥīḥ)

Abū Dāwud said: Shu'bah reported it, he said: "‘Abdullāh bin ‘Abdullāh bin Jabar narrated to me, he said: ‘I heard Anas’" except that he said in it: "he (ﷺ) performed Wuḍū' with a Makūk'"^[2] and he did not mention two Raṭls.

Abū Dāwud said: And Yahyā bin Ādam reported it from Sharīk, he said: "From Ibn Jabr bin ‘Atik." He said: And Sufyān reported it from ‘Abdullāh bin ‘Eisā, he said: "Jabr bin ‘Abdullāh narrated to me...."

Abū Dāwud said: I heard Aḥmad bin Ḥanbal say that a Ṣā' is equivalent to five Raṭls.

Abū Dāwud said: And this is the Ṣā' of Ibn Abī Dhi'b,^[3] and it is the Ṣā' of the Prophet ﷺ.

٩٥ - حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ الصَّبَّاحِ الْبَرَّازُ
قال: حدثنا شريك عن عبد الله بن عيسى،
عن عبد الله بن جبر، عن أنس قال: كان
النبي ﷺ يتوضأ بإناء يسع رطلين ويعتسل
بالصاع.

قال أبو داود: ورواه شعبة قال: حدثني
عبد الله بن عبد الله بن جبر قال: سمعت
أنسا، إلا أنه قال: يتوضأ بمكوك، ولم
يذكر رطلين.

قال أبو داود: ورواه يحيى بن آدم عن
شريك قال: عن ابن جبر بن عتيك قال:
ورواه سفيان عن عبد الله بن عيسى قال:
حدثني جبر بن عبد الله.

قال أبو داود: سمعت أحمد بن حنبل
يقول: الصاع خمسة أرطال.
قال أبو داود: وهو صاع ابن أبي ذئب،
وهو صاع النبي ﷺ.

Comments:

The foregoing Aḥādīth should not be taken as laying down rules for fixed quantities of water. The purpose is to encourage and exhort, in that this is enough water, while more is used when needed. Water should be consumed as sparingly as possible. Undue use or waste is not permissible.

[1] See the explanation of Imām Aḥmad bin Ḥanbal cited in the text.

[2] It is also a measurement of volume, and its meaning is similar.

Chapter 45. Excessiveness In The Water For Ablution

96. Abū Na‘amah narrated that ‘Abdullāh bin Mughaffal overheard his son say: “O Allāh! I ask You to grant me the white palace on the right hand side of Paradise as soon as I enter it.” So he said: “My son, ask Allāh for Paradise, and seek His refuge from the Fire, for I heard the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ say: ‘There will be in this nation a group of people who will overstep the bounds in purification, and supplication.’” (Sahih)

Comments:

We learn from the foregoing Hadith that excessive use of water is not permissible to purify oneself. To avoid falling prey to recurring doubts, it is advisable to spray one’s garment, below the navel (around the area of the sexual organ), with water, after performing Wudu’. See no. 166.

Chapter 46. Regarding Isbāgh (To Complete) Al-Wuḍū’

97. ‘Abdullāh bin ‘Amr narrated that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ saw some people (performing Wudu’) whose heels were still (dry). He said: “Woe to the heels from the Fire; complete your Wuḍū’.” (Sahih)

Comments:

Extreme care should be taken while performing Wudu'. No spot should be left dry to escape the mentioned punishment. Wudu' performed hurriedly may leave some spots unwashed, especially the depressions behind ankles.

(المعجم ٤٧) - بَابُ الْوُضُوءِ فِي آنِيَةِ الصُّفْرِ (التحفة ٤٧)

Comments:

Shabah: refers to a metal like brass that resembles the color of gold. Similarly Sufr is used for such metals, and its name implies yellowish color than Shabah.

Chapter 48. Saying 'Bismillāh' While Starting Wudū'

101. Abū Hurairah reported that the Prophet ﷺ said: "There is no Ṣalāt for one who does not have Wudū', and there is no Wudū' for one who did not mention the Name of Allāh over it (while starting)." (Ḥasan)

102. Ibn Wahb narrated from Ad-Darāwardī, who mentioned that Rabī'ah explained the meaning of the Ḥadīth of the Prophet ﷺ: There is no Wudū' for one who did not mention the Name of Allāh over it, — "It is (about) the one who performs Wudū' or Ghusl but he does not have the intention to perform the Wudū' (performed) for Ṣalāt or the Ghusl (performed) for sexual impurity." Comments:

One should begin Wudū' with the statement 'Bismillāh' (In the Name of Allāh). It is Wājib (obligatory) according to an order of the Prophet ﷺ, see Sunan An-Nasā'ī, Ḥadīth no. 78.

Comments:

The word "night" occurs in the previous Aḥādīth. That's because one's hands are more likely to get polluted at nighttime rather than the day. However, the ruling applies to all times, night or day. If one sleeps during the daytime, one should still wash one's hands after awaking, prior to submerging them into the vessel holding water for purification.

Chapter 50. The Manner Of
The Prophet's ﷺ Wudū'

106. Abān, the freed slave of 'Uthmān bin 'Affān, narrated: "I saw 'Uthmān perform Wudū'. He poured water over his hands three times, and washed them. Then he performed Maḍmaḍah, and blew water from his nose, and washed his face three times. He washed his right hand up to the elbow three times, and then the left in the same manner. He then wiped his head. He then washed his right foot three times, and his left foot the same. Then he said: 'I saw the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ perform Wudū' just like this Wudū' of mine, and say: "Whoever performed Wudū' like this Wudū' of mine, then prayed two Rak'ahs, not whispering to himself^[1] (any matter of this world), Allāh will forgive all of his previous sins." He poured water from it onto his right hand, then inserted it into the container. He performed Maḍmaḍah and Istinshāq three times, and washed his face three times. Abū Dāwud said: All the correct Aḥadīth of 'Uthmān (performing Wudū') indicate that wiping the head is only once, for they mention that (during) the Wudū' (he washed) three times, and they said: "...and he

Comments:

Most narrations mention wiping the head once only, and that is enough, and it is also preferred by a number of scholars.

111. ‘Abd Khair narrated: “Once ‘Alī came to us after he had prayed, and asked for water for purification to be brought. We said (to ourselves): ‘Why does he wish to purify himself after he has prayed? (It appears that) he only wishes to teach us.’ So he was brought a container with water in it, and a basin. He poured water from the container onto his right hand, then washed his hands three times. He then performed Maḍmaḍah and Istinthār three times. He used the same handful to put water into his mouth and nose. He then washed his face three times, and washed his right hand three times, and his left hand three times. He then inserted his hand into the container, and wiped his head once. Then, he washed his right foot three times, and his left foot three times. He then said: ‘Whoever is pleased to know the Wuḍū’ of the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ then this is it.’” (Saḥīḥ)

Comments:

This Hadīth indicates that he took fresh water into his hands, to wipe his head, wetting them well, but not so much as to let water flow off his head. Taking more water upon the hands to wipe the head is allowed accordingly, but it is not required.

115. ‘Abdur-Raḥmān bin Abī Lailā said: “I saw ‘Alī perform the Wuḍū’, and he washed his face three times, and his forearms three times. He wiped his head once, and then said: ‘This was how the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ used to perform Wuḍū’.’” (Hasan)

Imām Aḥmad narrated it from the same route (1:109; no. 873), but with a shorter chain. His narration makes the meaning clear, solving the disagreements among the commentaries, and it has been translated accordingly.

117. ‘Ubaidullāh Al-Khawlānī narrated from Ibn ‘Abbās, who said: “Alī — meaning Ibn Abī Tālib — visited me after having urinated. He called for water in order to perform ablution, so a bowl with water was placed before him. He said: ‘O Ibn ‘Abbās. Should I not show you how the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ used to perform Wuḍū’?’ I said ‘Yes.’ So he poured water onto his hand and washed it, then inserted his right hand (inside the bowl), and poured water onto his other hand with it. He then washed his hands, and performed Maḍmaḍah and Istinḥār. He then inserted both hands into the container and took out a handful of water, and splashed it on his face. He then used his thumbs to wash the front part of his ears. He repeated this a second and a third time. He then used his right hand to scoop up some water, which he splashed on his forehead, and allowed the water to drip down his face. Then, he washed his forearms up to the elbows three times. He then wiped his head, and the back of his ears. He then put both his hands (in the container) and took out a handful of water, which he splashed onto his feet while he was wearing sandals.”

According to this Hadīth, 'Alī عليه السلام passed water over his face a fourth time, after he had already washed it three times over. Doing so is permissible but three times is better.

Comments:

1. It is permissible to wash some limbs three times, and some others two times.
2. Wiping forelocks or wiping some of the hair is not enough. The correct way is to join both hands together and pass them over the head, from the forehead to the nape of the neck at the back of the head, and then to bring them back to the forehead.

Sniffing water into, and then expelling it from the nose is obligatory during Wuḍū’, according to the order of Allāh’s Messenger (ﷺ).

And we were also given a Qinā' and Qutaibah (one of the narrators) did not say "Qinā'" — and a Qinā' is a plate of dates — "Then the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ came to us and said: 'Have you had anything (to eat),' or 'has anything been prepared for you?' We said: 'Yes, O Messenger of Allāh.' While we were sitting with him, a shepherd was driving the sheep^[2] to their pen, and he had with him a kid that was bleating. The Prophet ﷺ asked him: 'What was given birth to (by the sheep), O so-and-so?' He replied: 'A female.' So he said: 'Then slaughter in its place one sheep.'" He then said (to us): 'Don't presume that we are slaughtering it just for you; rather, we have a hundred sheep, and don't wish to increase (their number). Every time a sheep gives birth, we slaughter in its place another.' I said: 'O Messenger of Allāh! I have a wife in whose tongue there is something' — meaning that she speaks in a crude manner. He said: 'In that case, divorce her.' I said: 'O Messenger of Allāh! She has good companionship with me, and I have children from her.' He said: 'Then command her.' Meaning advise her.

Comments:

1. Bad behavior includes many things, accordingly, having a foul mouth is among those bad traits due to which one is justified for divorcing his wife.

[1] It is flour mixed with cooking fat.

2. In case of such bad behavior, one should advise her, but if she refuses to listen, and insists on behaving like a child, she may be disciplined, providing that such discipline is not severe or abusive.
3. Wuḍū' must be complete, making sure to rub between the fingers and the toes, and sniffing the water into the nose before expelling it, and sniffing it deep into the nose, except when fasting.

Chapter 56. Parting One's Fingers Through The Beard

145. Anas bin Mālik narrated that, when the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ performed the Wuḍū', he would take a handful of water, and splash it under his chin, and then pass his fingers through his beard (wetting it) with (the water). He said, "This is what my Lord, the Mighty and Sublime, commanded me (to do)." (Da'if)

Chapter 57. Wiping Over The 'Imamah (Turban)

146. Thawbān reported that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ sent out an expedition, and they were afflicted by cold (weather). When they returned to the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ, he ordered them to wipe over their head-cloths (Al-'Aṣā'ib) and foot-coverings.^[1] (Ṣaḥīḥ)

Wiping may be performed over an 'Imāmah; meaning a head wrap, Ghutrah, Khimār, turban, etc. This is an authentic tradition (Sunnah) of the Prophet ﷺ, as is evident from Hadīth no. 146 and also from Hadīth no. 150 which follows.

Chapter 59. Wiping Over The Khuffs

(المعجم ٦٠) - بَابُ الْمَسْحِ عَلَى
الْخُفَّيْنِ (التحفة ٥٩)

149. Al-Mughīrah bin Shu‘bah said: “While I was with the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ on the Expedition of Tabuk, he sidetracked (away from the main path) before the Fajr prayer, so I walked with him. He made his camel sit down and went to relieve himself. After he returned, I poured (water) from a container onto his hands. He washed his hands, and then his face. He tried to uncover his forearms (by raising his sleeves) but was not able to do so due to the tightness of his sleeves, so he put his arms inside (his garment) and then took them out from under the Jubba.^[1] He then washed them up to the elbows, and wiped his head. He then wiped over^[2] his Khuffs, and rode (the camel). We continued riding, and found that the people were already praying; they had put ‘Abdur-Raḥmān bin ‘Awf as their Imām. He had (started) the prayer with them as soon as the time for the prayer had begun. We came upon them after ‘Abdur-Raḥmān had already led one Rak‘ah of the Fajr prayer. Comments:

1. A person of higher rank or virtue may pray behind one of lower rank or virtue.
2. This narration indicates the virtue of 'Abdur-Rahmān bin 'Awf, in that the Companions chose him to lead them in prayer, and that the Messenger of Allāh (ﷺ) also prayed behind him.

150. Al-Mughīrah bin Shu'bah narrated that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ performed Wuḍū', and wiped over his forehead — and he mentioned — over the Imāmah.

(In one of the chains) he said: "The Prophet of Allāh ﷺ would perform Wuḍū' and wipe over his Khuffs, his forehead, and his Imāmah." (Ṣaḥīḥ)

Comments:

We know from several authentic narrations that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ used to wipe over his head or 'Imamah only, or his head and 'Imamah together. ('Awn Al-Ma'būd).

151. Al-Mughīrah bin Shu'bah narrated: "We were with the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ, in a caravan. I had a container (of water) with me. The Prophet ﷺ went to relieve himself, and when he returned I went to him with the container and poured water for him. He washed his hands and face, and then tried to take his forearms out, while he was wearing a woolen Jubbah (made in) Rome which had tight sleeves, so he took them out from under the Jubbah. I bent down to his Khuffs in order to take them off, but he said: 'Leave the Khuffs on, for I put my two feet in them while they were both pure,' and he wiped over them." (Sahih) ('Eisā bin Yūnus — one of the narrators) said: "My father said: 'Ash-Sha'bi said: 'Urwah testified before me (in narrating it) from his father, and his father testified about it from the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ.'"^[1]

١٥١ - حَدَّثَنَا مُسَدَّدٌ قَالَ: حَدَّثَنَا عَيْسَى
ابْنُ يُونُسَ قَالَ: حَدَّثَنِي أَبِي عَنِ الشَّعْبِيِّ
قَالَ: سَمِعْتُ عُرْوَةَ بْنَ الْمُغِيرَةَ بْنِ شُعْبَةَ يَذْكُرُ
عَنْ أَبِيهِ قَالَ: كُنَّا مَعَ رَسُولِ اللَّهِ ﷺ فِي رَكْبِهِ
وَمَعِيَ إِدَاوَةٌ، فَخَرَجَ لِحَاجَتِهِ ثُمَّ أَقْبَلَ فَتَلَقَيْتُهُ
بِالإِدَاوَةِ فَأَفْرَعْتُ عَلَيْهِ، فَغَسَلَ كَفَّيْهِ وَوَجْهَهُ
ثُمَّ أَرَادَ أَنْ يُخْرِجَ ذِرَاعَيْهِ وَعَلَيْهِ جُبَّةٌ مِنْ
صُوفٍ مِنْ جَبَابِ الرُّومِ ضَيْقَةُ الْكُمَيْنِ
فَضَاقَتْ فَادَّرَعَهُمَا ادَّرَاعًا، ثُمَّ أَهْوَيْتُ إِلَى
الْخُفَّيْنِ لِأَنْزَعَهُمَا، فَقَالَ لِي: «دَعِ الْخُفَّيْنِ
فَإِنِّي أَذْخَلْتُ الْقَدَمَيْنِ الْخُفَّيْنِ وَهُمَا
طَاهِرَتَانِ»، فَمَسَحَ عَلَيْهِمَا.
قال أبي: قال الشَّعْبِيُّ: شَهِدَ لِي عُرْوَةُ

1. It is permissible to wear clothing made by non-Muslims, provided that it does not violate any religious regulations, and it is not viewed as unique to a particular non-Muslim culture.
2. It is permissible to wipe over Khuffs provided one has already completed

[1] This is an endorsement for the chain, that came after the narration, since they are all the narrators of it; 'Urwah bin Al-Mughirah bin Shu'bah, who narrated it from his father Al-Mughīrah bin Shu'bah.

Wuḍū' or Ghusl prior to putting the two feet into them. The same applies to socks.

152. Al-Mughīrah bin Shu‘bah narrated: “The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ trailed behind (the caravan)...” and he mentioned this story, until he said: “When we returned to the people, ‘Abdur-Raḥmān bin ‘Awf was leading them in the morning (Fajr) prayer. When he saw the Prophet ﷺ, he started to retreat, but the Prophet ﷺ motioned to him to continue. He said: “So the Prophet ﷺ and I prayed one Rak’ah behind him. After he said the Taslim, the Prophet ﷺ stood up to complete the Rak’ah that he had missed, and he did not add anything to that.” (Da‘īf)

Abū Dāwud said: Abū Sa‘eed Al-Khudrī, Ibn Az-Zubair, and Ibn ‘Umar all say that whoever catches an odd number (of Rak’ahs) of the prayer, he should perform the prostration of forgetfulness.

١٥٢ - حَدَّثَنَا هُدْبَةُ بْنُ خَالِدٍ قَالَ: حَدَّثَنَا هَمَّامٌ عَنْ قَتَادَةَ، عَنْ الْحَسَنِ وَعَنْ زُرَّارَةَ بْنِ أَوْفَى أَنَّ الْمُغِيرَةَ بْنَ شُعْبَةَ قَالَ: تَخَلَّفَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ ﷺ، فَذَكَرَ هَذِهِ الْقِصَّةَ قَالَ: فَأَتَيْنَا النَّاسَ وَعَبْدُ الرَّحْمَنِ بْنُ عَوْفٍ يُصَلِّي بِهِمْ الصُّبْحَ، فَلَمَّا رَأَى النَّبِيَّ ﷺ أَرَادَ أَنْ يَتَأَخَّرَ فَأَوْمَأَ إِلَيْهِ أَنْ يَمْضِيَ. قَالَ: فَصَلَّيْتُ أَنَا وَالنَّبِيُّ ﷺ خَلْفَهُ رَكْعَةً، فَلَمَّا سَلَّمَ قَامَ النَّبِيُّ ﷺ فَصَلَّى الرَّكْعَةَ الَّتِي سَبَقَ بِهَا وَلَمْ يَزِدْ عَلَيْهَا شَيْئًا.

Comments:

Based upon this, and other Aḥādīth, the majority of the scholars hold the view that only the missed Rak’ah or Rak’at are to be performed, and that no prostration of forgetfulness is to be performed in this case. See nos. 1008-1039.

As for his saying: “Abū Sa‘eed Al-Khudrī, Ibn Az-Zubair, and Ibn ‘Umar all say that whoever catches an odd number (of Rak’ahs) of the prayer, he should perform the prostration of forgetfulness.” This was recorded by ‘Abdur-Razzāq in his Muṣanaf, and Al-Munḍhirī in Al-Awsaṭ from Ishāq bin Ibrāhīm from ‘Abdur-Razzāq, similarly, there are a number of routes of transmission from Ibn ‘Umar for that. In any case, the majority hold the view as stated previously.

153. It was reported from Shu'bah, from Abū Bakr, meaning Ibn Ḥaḥḥ Ibn 'Umar bin Sa'd, that Abū 'Abdullāh heard from Abū 'Abdur-Raḥmān: That he was present when 'Abdur-Raḥmān bin 'Awf asked Bilāl about the Prophet's ﷺ Wuḍū'. He said: "The Prophet ﷺ would relieve himself, then I would bring him some water and he would perform Wuḍū', and wipe over his 'Imāmāh and his Mūsqs."^[1] (Ṣaḥīḥ)

154. It was reported from Abū Zur'ah bin 'Amr bin Jarir that Jarir urinated, then performed Wuḍū' and wiped over his Khuffs. He said, "What prevents me from wiping (over them) while I have seen the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ wipe?" They said: "This was only (allowed) before the revelation of (Sūrat) Al-Mā'idah." He replied: "I did not accept Islam until after Al-Mā'idah was revealed." (Ṣaḥīḥ)

Comments:

This version, mentioning the command, is weak, while similar narrations, without mentioning the command, have been recorded from Al-Mughīrah by Al-Bukhārī, Muslim, and others, and some of them have preceded, and appear later.

Chapter 60. The Period (Allowed) For Wiping

157. Khuzaimah bin Thābit reported that the Prophet ﷺ said: “The wiping over Khuffs is allowed for the traveler; (for a period of) three days, and for the resident; a day and a night.” (Sahih)

(المعجم ٦١) - بَابُ التَّوْقِيتِ فِي الْمَسْحِ (التحفة ٦٠)

١٥٧ - حَدَّثَنَا حَفْصُ بْنُ غُمَرَ قَالَ: حَدَّثَنَا شُعْبَةُ عَنْ الْحَكَمِ وَحَمَّادٍ، عَنْ إِبْرَاهِيمَ، عَنْ أَبِي عَبْدِ اللَّهِ الْجَدَلِيِّ، عَنْ خُزَيْمَةَ بْنِ ثَابِتٍ عَنِ النَّبِيِّ ﷺ قَالَ: «الْمَسْحُ

Abū Dāwud said: Mansūr bin Al-Mu'tamir narrated it from Ibrāhīm At-Taimī with this chain, and said in it: "Had we asked him for a (concession of a) longer period, he would have increased (the period) for us."

158. Ubayy bin 'Imārah — and he was a Companion who had prayed with the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ facing both Qiblah — narrated that he said: "O Messenger of Allāh! Can I wipe over Khuffs?" He (the Prophet ﷺ) said: "Yes." I said: "One day?" He said: "One day." I said: "Two days?" He said: "Two days." I said: "Three?" He said: "Yes, and as (long) as you wish." (Da'if)

Abū Dāwud said it was reported (with a different chain) from Ubayy bin 'Imārah, and he said in it: "Until he reached seven days, after which the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: "Yes, and as (long) as you wish."

Abū Dāwud said: This has been narrated with contradictions in it, and its chain is not strong. Ibn Abū Mariam and Yaḥyā bin Ishāq [As-Sailahīnī] reported it from Yaḥyā bin Ayyūb, and his chain has been disagreed over.^[1]

١٥٨ - حَدَّثَنَا يَحْيَى بْنُ مَعِينٍ: حَدَّثَنَا

and, in the case of a traveler, for three days and three nights.

Chapter 61. Wiping Over The Socks

(المعجم ٦٢) - بَابُ الْمَسْحِ عَلَى

الْجُورَبَيْنِ (التحفة ٦١)

159. Al-Mughīrah bin Shu‘bah narrated that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ performed Wudu’ and wiped over the socks (Jawrabain) and the sandals. (Da‘if)^[1]

Abū Dāwud said: ‘Abdur-Raḥmān bin Mahdī would not narrate this Hadith, since what is well-known from Al-Mughīrah bin Shu‘bah is that the Prophet ﷺ wiped over the Khuffs.

Abū Dāwud said: And this has also been related from Abū Mūsā Al-Ashā‘rī from the Prophet ﷺ; that he would wipe over the socks (Jawrabain). However, this narration is not continuous (in its chain), nor strong.

١٥٩ - حَدَّثَنَا عُثْمَانُ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ عَنْ

قال أبو داود: كَانَ عَبْدُ الرَّحْمَنِ بْنُ

قال أبو داود: وَرَوَى هَذَا أَيْضًا عَنْ أَبِي
مُوسَى الْأَشْعَرِيِّ عَنِ النَّبِيِّ ﷺ أَنَّهُ مَسَحَ عَلَى
الْجُورَبَيْنِ وَلَيْسَ بِالْمُتَّصِلِ وَلَا بِالْقَوِيِّ.

and his name, they also call him: As-Sailaḥūnī, or As-Sāliḥīnī, all of which are ascriptions to “As-Sailaḥīn” which is an area near Baghdād.

[1] Meaning; the chain is weak while the meaning is supported by other than it, including that a number of scholars stated that there is an Ijmā’ for its meaning.

Abū Dāwud said: ‘Alī bin Abī Ṭālib, Ibn Mas‘ūd, Al-Barā bin ‘Āzib, Anas bin Mālik, Abū Umāmah, Sahl bin Sa‘d, and ‘Amr bin Huraith would all wipe over the socks (Jawrabain). And this has been related from ‘Umar bin Al-Khaṭṭab and Ibn ‘Abbās as well.

قال أبو داود: وَمَسَحَ عَلَى الْجَوْرَبَيْنِ عَلِيُّ ابْنِ أَبِي طَالِبٍ وَابْنُ مَسْعُودٍ وَالْبِرَاءُ بْنُ عَازِبٍ وَأَنَسُ بْنُ مَالِكٍ وَأَبُو أُمَامَةَ وَسَهْلُ بْنُ سَعْدٍ وَعَمْرُو بْنُ حُرَيْثٍ. وَرَوَى ذَلِكَ عَنْ عُمَرَ بْنِ الْخَطَّابِ وَابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ.

It is permissible to wipe over footwear, old or torn, or with holes, provided one does not break convention or feel shameful when wearing them.

Chapter 62. (Another Proof For Wiping)

160. It has been narrated from Aws bin Abī Aws Ath-Thaqafī, that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ performed Wuḍū’, and wiped over his sandals and feet. And (one of the narrators) ‘Abbād said:^[1] “I saw the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ come to a Kizānah^[2] of a people... - meaning Al-Miḍa’ah (a basin).”^[3] Musad-dad did not mention Al-Miḍa’ah and Kizānah; then they were in accord:^[4] “...and he performed Wuḍū’ and wiped over his sandals and his feet.” (Da‘if)

١٦٠ - حَدَّثَنَا مُسَدَّدٌ وَعَبَّادُ بْنُ مُوسَى قَالَا: حَدَّثَنَا هُشَيْمٌ عَنْ يَعْلَى بْنِ عَطَاءٍ، عَنْ أَبِيهِ قَالَ: عَبَّادُ قَالَ: أَخْبَرَنِي أَوْسُ بْنُ أَبِي أَوْسٍ التَّقْفِيُّ: أَنَّ رَسُولَ اللَّهِ ﷺ تَوَضَّأَ وَمَسَحَ عَلَى نَعْلَيْهِ وَقَدَمَيْهِ. وَقَالَ عَبَّادُ: رَأَيْتُ رَسُولَ اللَّهِ ﷺ أَتَى عَلَى كِطَامَةِ قَوْمٍ - يَعْنِي الْمِيضَاءَ - وَلَمْ يَذْكُرْ مُسَدَّدٌ الْمِيضَاءَ وَالْكِطَامَةَ، ثُمَّ اتَّفَقَا: فَتَوَضَّأَ وَمَسَحَ عَلَى نَعْلَيْهِ وَقَدَمَيْهِ.

[1] Meaning, in his version of the Hadīth of Aws. Abū Dāwud heard this narration from both ‘Abbād bin Mūsā and Musad-dad. Here he describes the different wordings they reported to him for the narration of Aws.

[2] It is a trough, perhaps long, which is dug out of the ground, wherein water is contained in a portion, and then it flows away.

[3] This is a description from one of the narrators.

Comments:

The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ wiped over the socks and sandals. A number of scholars restricted the meaning of “wiped over his sandals and his feet,” to indicate that he was wearing socks or Khuffs at the time, while that has not been stated in the narration.

Chapter 63. How Should One Wipe

[1] Meaning other than Muḥammad bin Aṣ-Ṣabbāḥ from whom Abū Dāwud heard this version.

164.^[1] This Hadīth (has also been reported) from Al-A'mash; he said: "Were this religion based upon intellect, the lower part of the feet would have more right to be wiped than the top part, and [yet] the Prophet ﷺ wiped over [the top of] his Khuff." (Da'if)

١٦٤ - حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ الْعَلَاءِ: حَدَّثَنَا حَفْصُ بْنُ غِيَاثٍ عَنِ الْأَعْمَشِ بِهَذَا الْحَدِيثِ قَالَ: لَوْ كَانَ الدِّينُ بِالرَّأْيِ لَكَانَ بَاطِنُ الْقَدَمَيْنِ أَحَقَّ بِالْمَسْحِ مِنْ ظَاهِرِهِمَا، وَقَدْ مَسَحَ النَّبِيُّ ﷺ عَلَى [ظَهْر] حُفَّتَيْهِ.

163. (There is another version) from Al-A'mash with this chain for this Hadīth; he said: "I did not think except that the lower sides of the feet had more right to be washed (than the upper side), until I saw the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ wipe over the top of his Khuffs."

١٦٣ - حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ رَافِعٍ قَالَ: حَدَّثَنَا يَحْيَى بْنُ آدَمَ قَالَ: حَدَّثَنَا يَزِيدُ بْنُ عَبْدِ الْعَزِيزِ عَنِ الْأَعْمَشِ بِإِسْنَادِهِ بِهَذَا الْحَدِيثِ قَالَ: مَا كُنْتُ أَرَى بَاطِنَ الْقَدَمَيْنِ إِلَّا أَحَقَّ بِالغُسْلِ حَتَّى رَأَيْتُ رَسُولَ اللَّهِ ﷺ يَمْسَحُ عَلَى ظَهْرِ حُفَّتَيْهِ. وَرَوَاهُ وَكِيعٌ عَنِ الْأَعْمَشِ بِإِسْنَادِهِ قَالَ: كُنْتُ أَرَى أَنَّ بَاطِنَ الْقَدَمَيْنِ أَحَقُّ بِالْمَسْحِ مِنْ ظَاهِرِهِمَا حَتَّى رَأَيْتُ رَسُولَ اللَّهِ ﷺ يَمْسَحُ ظَاهِرَهُمَا قَالَ وَكِيعٌ: بِعَنِي الحُقَيْنِ. وَرَوَاهُ عَيْسَى بْنُ يُونُسَ عَنِ الْأَعْمَشِ. كَمَا رَوَاهُ وَكِيعٌ. وَرَوَاهُ أَبُو السَّوْدَاءِ عَنِ ابْنِ عَبْدِ خَيْرٍ عَنِ أَبِيهِ قَالَ: رَأَيْتُ عَلِيًّا تَوَضَّأَ فَعَسَلَ ظَاهِرَ قَدَمَيْهِ وَقَالَ: لَوْلَا أَنِّي رَأَيْتُ رَسُولَ اللَّهِ ﷺ يَفْعَلُهُ وَسَأَقَ الْحَدِيثَ.

Wakī' reported it from Al-A'mash with his chain, and he said (in it): "I used to think that the bottom of the feet had more right to be wiped than the top part, until I saw the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ wipe over the top of them." Wakī' said: "Meaning the Khuffs." 'Eīsā bin Yūnus reported from Al-A'mash, just as Wakī' reported it. Abū As-Sawdā' reported it from Ibn 'Abd Khair from his father, he said: "I saw 'Alī perform Wudū', and he washed the top of his feet. He then said: 'Had I not seen the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ do this (I would not have done it)...'" and he completed the Hadīth. (Da'if)

165. Al-Mughīrah bin Shu'bah said: "I poured water for the Prophet ﷺ to perform Wuḍū' with during the Expedition of Tabūk. He wiped over [the top portion of] his Khuffs, and the bottom portion." (Da'īf)

Abū Dāwud said: It has been conveyed to me that Thawr (one of the narrators) did not hear this Hadīth from Rajā' (another narrator).

Comments:

According to authentic Ahādīth, wiping over the upper portion of the footwear is sufficient.

Chapter 64. Splashing Water (On the Private Parts)

166. It was reported from Sufyān, from Manşūr, from Mujāhid, from Sufyān bin Al-Ḥakam Ath-Thaqafi, or (some said that his name was) Al-Ḥakam bin Sufyān Ath-Thaqafi, who said: "The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ, after he urinated, would perform Wuḍū' and splash water (on his private part)." (Ḥasan)

Abū Dāwud said: A group (of narrators) were in accord with Sufyān for this chain, some of them said: "Al-Ḥakam, or Ibn Al-Ḥakam."

Comments:

It is also recommended to sprinkle water on one's garments (around the area of genitals). In addition to the reward for following the Sunnah, there is the added advantage of driving away devilish insinuations arising from constant fear of urine dripping out due to a weak bladder.

Chapter 65. What Should One Say After Finishing Wudu'

169. 'Uqbah bin 'Āmir said: "We used to be with the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ, each one serving himself, and we used to take turns taking care of the camels. (One day) it was my turn to take care of the camels, so I took them to their watering place until the evening. (After returning) I found the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ while he was giving the people a sermon. I heard him say: 'There is not a

I said: 'Bakhin, Bakhin, how great this is!' A person sitting in front of me said: 'And what has preceded it O 'Uqbah, is even better than this!' I looked (to see who he was), and it turned out to be 'Umar bin Al-Khaṭṭāb. So I said: 'And what was that (which was said before I came), O Abū Ḥaṣṣ?' He said: 'He (the Prophet ﷺ) said before you came: "There is none of you who performs the Wuḍū' and performs it well, and then says after he completes it: 'I testify that there is none worthy of worship except Allāh alone, having no partners, and I testify that Muḥammad is His servant and Messenger,' except that all eight doors of Paradise will be opened for him; he can enter it through whichever one he pleases.'" He did not mention that he took care of the camels, and he also added after saying: "...Perform the Wuḍū' and perform it well..."; "...and then raises his eyes to the sky." The remainder of the Ḥadīth was similar in meaning to the Ḥadīth of Mu'āwiyah (no. 169). (Da'if)

Chapter 66. Separating The Actions Of Wuḍū'

173. It was narrated from Jarīr bin Ḥāzīm that he heard Qatādah bin Di‘āmah say: “Anas narrated to us that a person came to the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ after having performed Wuḍū'. He had left a fingernail’s width (of dry skin) on his foot. So the Prophet ﷺ told him: ‘Go back and perform your Wuḍū' well.’” (Ṣaḥīḥ)

Abū Dāwud said: This Ḥadīth is not known to be from Jarīr bin Ḥāzīm, and no one narrated it in a Marfū' form (attributing it to the Prophet ﷺ) except from Ibn Wahb. It has also been related from Ma‘qil bin ‘Ubaidullāh Al-Jazarī, from Abū Az-Zubair, from Jābir, from ‘Umar, from the Prophet ﷺ, similarly. He said: “Go back and perform your Wuḍū' well.”

Comments:

1. Continuity during Wuḍū' is essential.
2. In case of a break long enough that the washed parts of body become dry, one should start Wuḍū' from the beginning and repeat the entire process.

When one is not sure that he has broken Wuḍū', he is not to give credence to any doubt, and assume he has not broken it, until he is certain.

Chapter 68. Wuḍū' From Kissing

178. Ibrāhīm At-Taimī said that 'Āishah said that the Prophet ﷺ kissed her and did not perform Wuḍū'. (Hasan)

Abū Dāwud said: This Hadīth is Mursal, since Ibrāhīm At-Taimī did not hear anything from 'Āishah.^[1]

Abū Dāwud said: And Al-Firyābī^[2] also narrated it in this fashion, as did others.

Abū Dāwud said: Ibrāhīm At-Taimī died before the age of forty, and his Kunya was Abū Asmā'.

179. It was reported from Al-A'mash, from Ḥabīb, from 'Urwah, from 'Āishah: "The Prophet ﷺ kissed one of his wives, then went out to pray and did not perform Wuḍū'." 'Urwah said to her: "And who else can it be except you?" At which she laughed. (Hasan)

Abū Dāwud said: This is also how it was reported by Zā'idah, and

[1] There are two popular ways that the term Mursal is used; first, one of the Tabi'in narrates the report from the Prophet ﷺ without mentioning any Companion in the chain. The second, and it is the meaning the author intends here, is that there is a narrator missing in some portion of the chain, whether it is early or later in the chain. Some scholars will prefer to use the term Munqat'a for the second meaning.

180. (There is another chain) in which Al-A‘mash was reported to have said: “Companions of ours narrated to us from ‘Urwah Al-Muzanī from ‘Āishah...” with this Ḥadīth. (Ḥasan)

Abū Dāwud said: Yahyā bin Sa‘eed Al-Qaṭṭān said to a man: “Narrate from me that these two” — meaning this Ḥadīth of Al-A‘mash from Ḥabīb, and his Ḥadīth with this chain regarding Al-Mustahaḍah^[1] — that she performs Wuḍū’ for each prayer. Yahyā said: “Narrate from me that they both resemble nothing.”

Abū Dāwud said: It has been related from Ath-Thawrī who said: “Ḥabīb did not narrate anything to us except from ‘Urwah Al-Muzanī”^[2] — meaning he did not narrate anything to them from ‘Urwah bin Az-Zubair.

Abū Dāwud said: And Ḥamzah Az-Zayyāt has reported a Ṣaḥīḥ Ḥadīth from Ḥabīb, from ‘Urwah bin Az-Zubair, from ‘Āishah.^[3]

قال أبو داود: وروى عن الثوري قال: ما حدثنا حبيب إلا عن عروة المزني - يعني لم يحدثهم عن عروة بن الزبير بشيء. قال أبو داود: وقد روى حمزة الزيات، عن حبيب، عن عروة بن الزبير، عن عائشة حديثاً صحيحاً.

Kissing does not — by itself — invalidate Wuḍū’.

Chapter 69. Wudū' From Touching The Penis

181. 'Urwah said: "I entered in upon Marwān bin Al-Ḥakam, and we were discussing the factors that necessitate Wudū'. Marwān said: '(Of these factors) is touching the penis.' I replied: 'I did not know this.' So Marwān said: 'Busrah bint Ṣafwān narrated to me that she heard the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ say: "Whoever touches his penis, then let him perform Wudū'.'" Comments:

The Ahādīth listed below (no. 182, 183) appear to be at variance with each other. The order to perform Wudū' for touching the genitals applies to males and females, since some versions of it specify that. Many scholars reconciled between the order, and the apparent allowance, saying that the allowance is for the case when there is a barrier between the hand and the private parts, as would occur during prayer or the like. But when there is no barrier, and one touches it with the hand, then the order is to perform Wudū' prior to praying.

Chapter 70. Concession In This Regard

182. It was narrated from Qais bin Ṭalq, from his father (Ṭalq bin 'Alī) who said: "We went to the Prophet ﷺ (as a delegation). A person who seemed to be a Bedouin came to him, and said: 'O Prophet of Allāh! What is your verdict for the one who touches his penis after performing Wudū'?' He ﷺ responded: 'Is it not a part of

184. Al-Barā' bin Azib said: "The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ was asked about performing Wuḍū' after eating camel meat. He replied: 'Perform Wuḍū' from it.' He was then asked about goat meat, and he replied, 'Do not perform Wuḍū' from it.' He was asked about praying in camel pens, so he replied: 'Do not pray in camel pens, since they are from the Shayātīn.' He was then asked about praying in goat pens, to which he replied: 'Pray in them, for they are blessed.'" (Ṣaḥīḥ)

Comments:

The meat of a camel is lawful. Yet the Messenger of Allāh (ﷺ) has ordered the one who eats it to perform Wuḍū'. As for the wisdom behind this, Allāh knows best, see the brief discussion of Ibn Taymiyyah regarding the topic in the English translation of the book: "The Nature of Fasting," published by Darussalam.

Chapter 72. Wuḍū' From Touching And Washing Raw Meat

185. Abū Sa'eed Al-Khudrī narrated that the Prophet ﷺ passed by a young man who was skinning a sheep. The Prophet ﷺ told him: "Come back (away from it), and let me show you (how to do it properly)." So he put his hands in between the skin and flesh, then inserted it until it disappeared up to his arm-pit. He then proceeded onwards, and lead the people in prayer without performing Wuḍū'. (Ṣaḥīḥ)

'Amr (one of the narrators) added in his narration: "Meaning he did not touch any water."

Abū Dāwud said: It was reported by 'Abdul-Wāḥid bin Ziyād and Abū Mu'āwiyah from Hilāl, from 'Aṭā', from the Prophet ﷺ, in a Mursal form, and he did not mention Abū Sa'eed in it.

Comments:

1. The Messenger of Allāh (ﷺ) was a teacher. Among the many things he taught was how to do a thing well.
2. Touching fat, meat, blood, or the skin of a lawful animal does not invalidate Wuḍū'.

Chapter 73. Not Performing Wudū' From Touching A Carcass

(المعجم ٧٣) - بَابُ تَرْكِ الْوُضُوءِ مِنْ
مَسِّ الْمَيْتَةِ (التحفة ٧٤)

186. Jābir narrated that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ passed through the market (after coming from) a high area of Al-Madīnah. People were on both sides of him. He passed by a carcass of a baby goat whose ears were deformed. He picked it up by its ears, and said: "Who amongst you would like to have this..." and he narrated the remainder of the Hadīth. (Ṣaḥīḥ)

١٨٦ - حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ اللَّهِ بْنُ مَسْلَمَةَ قَالَ:

Comments:

1. This Hadīth was recorded with the same chain of narration by Muslim (no. 7418), and the remainder includes: "By Allāh, this world is more insignificant to Allāh than this is to you." In order to stress the point, the Messenger of Allāh (ﷺ) occasionally gave examples during real life situations. This Hadīth vividly and graphically depicts the worthlessness of this temporal life.
2. Touching a dead animal does not invalidate Wudū'.

Comments:

In the early days of Islam, if one ate food cooked on a fire, it was required to perform Wudū' prior to Salāt (see no. 194). Later, this ruling was abrogated (see no. 192), but it is possible that some of the Companions were not aware of that, hence, they kept following the earlier ruling.

188. Al-Mughīrah bin Shu'bah said: "One night I was a guest of the Prophet ﷺ. He ordered the side of a goat (to be cooked for me), so it was roasted. He then took a knife, and started cutting bits (of the meat) from it for me. Bilāl came, and informed him of the prayer (that its time had come). So he put the knife aside, and remarked: 'What is the matter with him, may his hands be dusted!' Then he stood up to pray."

Al-Anbārī (one of the narrators) added: "My moustache was very long, so he trimmed it upon a

Dhat Ar-Riqā' — a person among us killed the wife of an idolater, so he (the idolater) swore that he would not rest until he had spilled some blood of the Companions of Muḥammad ﷺ. He followed the tracks of the Prophet ﷺ (tracking the caravan) until the Prophet ﷺ encamped at a certain location. He (the Prophet ﷺ) asked: 'Who will stand guard for us (for the night)?' A person from among the Muhājirīn and a person among the Anṣār both volunteered. The Prophet ﷺ told them: 'Stand (guard) at the entrance of the valley.' When the two men reached the entrance, the Muhājir laid down on his side, and the Anṣārī stood up in prayer. The man (i.e., the idolater) came and saw his figure (from afar), and realized that he was the lookout of the people. So he shot him with an arrow and hit him. He (the Anṣārī) pulled it out (and this happened) until he shot him with three arrows. The Anṣārī went into Rukū' (the bowing position) and Sujūd (the prostration position), until his companion (the Muhājir) noticed what had occurred. When the idolater realized that they had discovered him, he fled. The Muhājir, seeing the bleeding that had occurred to the Anṣārī, asked him: 'Subhān Allāh! Why did you not inform me the first time he shot (the arrow)?' He replied: 'I was reading a Sūrah, and did not wish to interrupt (its recitation).' (Ḥasan)

Comments:

1. A bleeding wound does not invalidate Ṣalāt, nor Wuḍū'.
2. The Companions loved to spend their time in profitable pursuits, like the Anṣārī, who prayed and recited Qur'ān while on guard duty.

Chapter 79. Wuḍū' From Sleeping

199. 'Abdullāh bin 'Umar narrated that one night the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ was delayed (in performing the 'Ishā' prayer) due to some matter (that he was attending to). Comments:

1. The author stated: “It was reported by Ibn Abī ‘Arūbah from Qatādah with another wording.” That is narrated by the author, from Aḥmad, in his Masā’il from him. And its wording contains: “Among them were those who performed Wudū’ and among them were those that did not perform Wudū’.” It was also recorded by Al-Bazzār and Abū Ya‘la, and its meaning is similar to number 201, which is also recorded by Muslim (no. 836). That is: some of them slept, so some of them performed Wudū’, and some of them did not sleep, so they did not perform Wudū’.
2. The ‘Ishā’ prayer is a distinguishing mark of the Muslim Ummah. Unlike other prayers, it is recommended (Mustahāb) to perform it later during the night, provided it is not difficult on those attending that congregation.
3. There is no harm if there is an interval of time between the Iqāmah and the opening Takbīr when there is a need for it, and there is no need to call the Iqāmah again in such case.

202. It was narrated from Abū Khālid Ad-Dālānī, from Qatādah, from Abū Al-‘Āliyah, from Ibn ‘Abbās, that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ would prostrate and sleep and snore, then stand up to pray without performing Wudū’. I asked Abū Dāwud said: The phrase: "Wuḍū' is only necessary for the one who slept while lying down" is a Munkar Hadīth.^[1] It was only narrated by Yazīd Abū Khālid Ad-Dālānī, from Qatādah. A group of narrators narrated the first portion (of this incident) from Ibn 'Abbās, and did not mention any of this (meaning, Ibn 'Abbās asking the Prophet ﷺ and his reply).

He said: "The Prophet ﷺ was protected."^[2] And 'Āishah said that the Prophet ﷺ said: "My eyes sleep but my heart does not." And Shu'bah said: "Qatādah heard only four Hadīths from Abū Al-'Āliyah: The Hadīth of Yūnus bin Matta,^[3] and the Hadīth of Ibn 'Umar regarding the prayer, and the Hadīth: 'There are three types of judges,'^[4] and the Hadīth of Ibn 'Abbās: 'A number of trustworthy people narrated to me. The most pleasing to me among them is 'Umar...'"^[5]

204. 'Abdullāh bin Mas'ūd reported: "We would not perform Wuḍū' from (anything we) stepped on, and neither would we grasp (our) hair or garments (to prevent them from touching the ground)." (Da'if)

٢٠٤ - حَدَّثَنَا هَنَادُ بْنُ السَّرِيِّ وَإِبْرَاهِيمُ ابْنُ أَبِي مُعَاوِيَةَ عَنْ أَبِي مُعَاوِيَةَ؛ ح: وَحَدَّثَنَا عُثْمَانُ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ: أَخْبَرَنَا شَرِيكٌ وَجَرِيرٌ وَابْنُ إِدْرِيسَ عَنِ الْأَعْمَشِ، عَنْ شَقِيقٍ قَالَ: قَالَ عَبْدُ اللَّهِ: كُنَّا لَا نَتَوَضَّأُ مِنْ مَوْطِئِهِ، وَلَا نَكْفُ شَعْرًا وَلَا نُؤْبَأُ.

Comments:

1. This narration is authentic, according to Shaikh Al-Albānī, and he said: "Its chain is Ṣaḥīḥ according to the their criteria" meaning the criteria of Al-Bukhārī and Muslim, it was also graded Ṣaḥīḥ by Al-Hākim and Adh-Dhahabī was silent about it.
2. The contents of the Ḥadīth are supported by other Aḥādīth. If a man walks over dirt and filth but, later, walks on dry earth until the filth wears off, his body and garments will become pure.
3. It is not permissible to gather one's hair or garments while praying. They should be left as they are. Their shape or form should not be changed/alterd for the prayer.

Chapter 81. The One Who Breaks His Wuḍū' During Prayer

205. 'Alī bin Ṭalq reported that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: "If one of you silently passes wind in the prayer, let him leave, perform the Wuḍū', and repeat the prayer." (Ḥasan)

(المعجم ٨١) بَابُ: فِيمَنْ يُحَدِّثُ فِي الصَّلَاةِ (التحفة ٨٢)

٢٠٥ - حَدَّثَنَا عُثْمَانُ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ قَالَ: حَدَّثَنَا جَرِيرٌ بْنُ عَبْدِ الْحَمِيدِ عَنْ عَاصِمِ الْأَحْوَلِ، عَنْ عَيْسَى بْنِ حِطَّانٍ، عَنْ مُسْلِمِ بْنِ سَلَامٍ، عَنْ عَلِيِّ بْنِ طَلْقٍ قَالَ: قَالَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ ﷺ: «إِذَا فَسَأَ أَحَدُكُمْ فِي الصَّلَاةِ فَلْيَتَوَضَّأْ وَلْيُعِدِّ الصَّلَاةَ».

Comments:

Manī; (sperm or semen) is the liquid that gushes forth. Madhī is pre-seminal fluid. Ghusl is required for the occurrence of Manī, not for Madhī, while it does require washing the area and performing Wudu' as the following Hadīth shows.

207. Al-Miqdād bin Aswad said that 'Alī told him to ask the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ about a man who approached his wife and discharged pre-seminal fluid, what should he do? ('Alī said): "I have his daughter (as my wife), and therefore I am embarrassed to ask him." So Al-Miqdād said: "I asked the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ about it, and he replied: 'If one of you finds that (he has emitted it), then let him splash water on his private area, and perform the Wudu' of prayer.'" (Sahīh)

Abū Dāwud said: Al-Mufaddal bin Faḍālah, Ath-Thawrī, and Ibn 'Uyaynah reported it from Hishām, from his father, from 'Alī. And Ibn Ishāq reported it from Hishām bin 'Urwah from his father, from Al-Miqdād, from the Prophet ﷺ, and he did not mention (washing) the testicles.

210. Sahl bin Hunaif reported: "I used to suffer severely from pre-seminal fluid, and I used to perform Ghusl frequently because of it. So I asked the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ about that, and he said: 'It is sufficient for you to perform Wudu'.' I said: 'O Messenger of Allāh! How about what touches my clothes of it?' 211. It was narrated from Harām bin Ḥakīm, from his paternal uncle, ‘Abdullāh bin Sa’d Al-Anṣari who said: “I asked the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ about (the factors) that necessitate Ghusl, and about the fluid that is continually emitted. Comments:

Sexual intercourse with a woman during her menstruating cycle is prohibited. However, sitting with, lying down with, eating and drinking together with menstruating women are allowed.

213. Mu'ādh bin Jabal said: "I asked the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ about what is permissible for a man of his wife while she is menstruating. He said: 'The area above the waist-wrap, and to abstain from that is better.'" (Da'if)

Abū Dāwud said: And this (Hadīth) is not strong.

Comments:

During the early days of Islam, couples were not obliged to perform Ghusl if copulation did not end in ejaculation. "Water is only (necessary) for water" expressed this ruling, meaning the water for Ghusl is only required for the water of ejaculation. This ruling was abrogated by Ahādīth that say: "When the circumcised part touches the circumcised part, Ghusl has become obligatory."

216. Abū Hurairah narrated that the Prophet ﷺ said: "If he (the man) settles between her four limbs, and the circumcised part touches the circumcised part, Ghusl has become obligatory." (Ṣaḥīḥ)

٢١٦ - حَدَّثَنَا مُسْلِمٌ بْنُ إِبْرَاهِيمَ الْفَرَّاهِيدِيُّ قَالَ: حَدَّثَنَا هِشَامٌ وَشُعْبَةُ عَنْ قَتَادَةَ، عَنْ الْحَسَنِ، عَنْ أَبِي رَافِعٍ، عَنْ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ عَنِ النَّبِيِّ ﷺ قَالَ: «إِذَا قَعَدَ بَيْنَ شُعْبَيْهَا الْأَرْبَعِ وَالرَّقِّ الْخِتَانَ بِالْخِتَانِ فَقَدْ وَجَبَ الْغُسْلُ» .

Comments:

This is the view of the majority of the scholars, notwithstanding what is reported by some, that the ruling in the Hadīth: “Water is only (necessary) for water” was later abrogated by narrations similar to this.

217. It was reported from Abū Salamah bin ‘Abdur-Raḥmān, from Abū Sa‘eed Al-Khudrī, that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: “Water is only (necessary) for water.” And Abū Salamah would act upon this (Hadīth). (Ṣaḥīḥ) ٢١٧ - حَدَّثَنَا أَحْمَدُ بْنُ صَالِحٍ قَالَ: حَدَّثَنَا ابْنُ وَهْبٍ قَالَ: أَخْبَرَنِي عَمْرُو بْنُ ابْنِ شِهَابٍ، عَنْ أَبِي سَلَمَةَ بْنِ عَبْدِ الرَّحْمَنِ، عَنْ أَبِي سَعِيدِ الْخُدْرِيِّ أَنَّ رَسُولَ اللَّهِ ﷺ قَالَ: «الْمَاءُ مِنَ الْمَاءِ» وَكَانَ أَبُو سَلَمَةَ يَفْعَلُ ذَلِكَ.

(المعجم ٨٤) بَابُ: فِي الْجُنْبِ يَعُودُ
(التحفة ٨٥)

218. It was reported from Ḥumaid Aṭ-Ṭawīl, from Anas, that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ went around to all his wives one day, performing only one Ghusl. (Ṣaḥīḥ) Abū Dāwud said: This is how it was reported by Hishām bin Zaid from Anas; and by Ma‘mar, from Qatādah, from Anas; and by Ṣāliḥ bin Abī Al-Akḥḍar from Az-Zuhrī; all of them from Anas, from the Prophet ﷺ.

٢١٨ - حَدَّثَنَا مُسَدَّدٌ قَالَ: حَدَّثَنَا إِسْمَاعِيلُ قَالَ: حَدَّثَنَا حُمَيْدُ الطَّوِيلُ عَنْ أَنَسٍ أَنَّ رَسُولَ اللَّهِ ﷺ طَافَ ذَاتَ يَوْمٍ عَلَى نِسَائِهِ فِي غُسْلٍ وَاحِدٍ.

Chapter 85. Performing Wudū’ For One Who Wishes To Repeat (The Act)

(المعجم ٨٥) بَابُ: فِي الْوُضُوءِ لِمَنْ أَرَادَ أَنْ يَعُودَ (التحفة ٨٦)

219. Abū Rāfi‘ reported that the Prophet ﷺ went around to all his wives one day, performing Ghusl at each one's (house). I asked him: "O Messenger of Allāh! Why do you not perform one Ghusl?" He said: "This is purer, and better, and cleaner." (Hasan)

Abū Dāwud said: The Hadīth of Anas is more correct than this one.

عن عَمَّتِهِ سَلْمَى، عن أَبِي رَافِعٍ: أَنَّ النَّبِيَّ ﷺ طَافَ ذَاتَ يَوْمٍ عَلَى نِسَائِهِ يَغْتَسِلُ عِنْدَ هَذِهِ وَعِنْدَ هَذِهِ. قَالَ: فَقُلْتُ لَهُ: يَا رَسُولَ اللَّهِ! أَلَا تَجْعَلُهُ غُسْلًا وَاحِدًا؟ قَالَ: «هَذَا أَزْكَى وَأَطْيَبُ وَأَطْهَرُ».

قال أبو داود: حَدِيثُ أَنَسٍ أَصَحُّ مِنْ هَذَا.

تخریج: [حسن] أخرجه ابن ماجه، الطهارة، باب: فيمن يغتسل عند كل واحدة غسلًا، ح: ٥٩٠ من حديث حماد بن سلمة به * سلمى، صحح لها الحاكم والذهبي: ٣١١/٢.

220. Abū Sa'eed Al-Khudrī narrated that the Prophet ﷺ said: "If one of you comes to his wife (performs the act), then wishes to return (meaning repeat), then let him perform Wuḍū' between the two (acts)." (Sahīh)

تخریج: أخرجه مسلم، الحيض، باب جواز نوم الجنب واستحباب الوضوء له ... إلخ، ح: ٣٠٨ من حديث حفص بن غياث به وصححه الترمذي، ح: ١٤١.

Comments:

1. Hadīths number 218, 219 are not in conflict with each other. In fact, they express two different situations.
2. According to most scholars, Wuḍū' is recommended when one desires to copulate a second time.

Chapter 86. The Sexually Impure Person Sleeping

(المعجم ٨٦) - بَابُ الْجُنُبِ يَنَامُ
(التحفة ٨٧)

221. 'Abdullāh bin 'Umar reported that 'Umar bin Al-Khaṭṭāb mentioned to the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ that he sometimes becomes sexually impure at night (so what should he do?) The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: "Perform Wuḍū', wash your private part, and then go to sleep." (Sahīh)

تخریج: أخرجه البخاري، الغسل، باب الجنب يتوضأ ثم ينام، ح: ٢٩٠، ومسلم، الحيض، باب جواز نوم الجنب واستحباب الوضوء له... إلخ، ح: ٣٠٦ من حديث مالك به وهو في الموطأ (يحيى): ٤٧/١ (ورواية القعني، ص: ٥٨، ٥٩).

Comments:

“Perform Wuḍū’, wash your private part,” does not indicate a sequence of actions. One should rather wash one’s genitals first and then perform Wuḍū’.

Chapter 87. The Sexually Impure Person Eating

(المعجم ٨٧) - بَابُ الْجُنْبِ يَأْكُلُ
(التحفة ٨٨)

222. It was narrated from Sufyān, from Az-Zuhri, from Abū Salamah, from ‘Āishah who said that when the Prophet ﷺ wished to sleep while he was sexually impure, he would perform the Wuḍū’ as for the prayer. (Ṣaḥīḥ)

٢٢٢ - حَدَّثَنَا مُسَدَّدٌ وَقُتَيْبَةُ بْنُ سَعِيدٍ قَالَا: حَدَّثَنَا سُفْيَانُ عَنِ الزُّهْرِيِّ، عَنْ أَبِي سَلَمَةَ، عَنْ عَائِشَةَ قَالَتْ: إِنَّ النَّبِيَّ ﷺ كَانَ إِذَا أَرَادَ أَنْ يَنَامَ وَهُوَ جُنْبٌ تَوَضَّأَ وَضُوءَهُ لِلصَّلَاةِ.

تخریج: أخرجه مسلم، الحيض، باب جواز نوم الجنب واستحباب الوضوء له... إلخ، ح: ٣٠٥ عن قتيبة به وزاد النسائي، ح: ٢٥٨ "وإذا أراد أن يأكل أو يشرب، قالت: غسل يديه، ثم يأكل ويشرب".

Comments:

It is best that one perform Wuḍū’ at least, if not Ghusl, prior to sleeping when in a state of sexual impurity.

223. (There is another narration) from Ibn Al-Mubārah, from Yunūs, from Az-Zuhri (similar to no. 222), with his chain and meaning, but he added: "...and if he wished to eat while he was sexually impure, he would wash his hands." (Ṣaḥīḥ)

Abū Dāwud said: Ibn Wahb reported it from Yunūs, mentioning only the part of ‘Āishah’s saying about eating.

قال أبو داود: وَرَوَاهُ ابْنُ وَهْبٍ عَنِ يُونُسَ فَجَعَلَ قِصَّةَ الْأَكْلِ قَوْلَ عَائِشَةَ مَقْضُورًا. وَرَوَاهُ صَالِحُ بْنُ أَبِي الْأَخْضَرِ عَنِ الزُّهْرِيِّ كَمَا قَالَ ابْنُ الْمُبَارَكِ، إِلَّا أَنَّهُ قَالَ: عَنْ عُرْوَةَ أَوْ أَبِي سَلَمَةَ. وَرَوَاهُ الْأَوْزَاعِيُّ عَنِ يُونُسَ، عَنِ الزُّهْرِيِّ عَنِ النَّبِيِّ ﷺ كَمَا قَالَ ابْنُ الْمُبَارَكِ.

Ṣāliḥ bin Abī Al-Akḥḍar reported it from Az-Zuhri just as Ibn Al-Mubārah said it, except that he said: “From ‘Urwah, or Abū Salamah.” Al-Awzā‘ī reported it from Yunūs, from Az-Zuhrī, from the Prophet ﷺ, just as Ibn Al-Mubārak said.

تخريج: [صحيح] انظر الحديث السابق * صرح الزهري بالسمع عند البغوي في شرح السنة: ٣٤/٢.

Comments:

In another version (An-Nasā'ī no. 258), its wording is: "...and if he wished to eat or drink..."

Chapter 88. Those Who Said That The Sexually Impure Person Should Perform Wuḍū'

(المعجم ٨٨) - بَابُ مَنْ قَالَ: الْجُنُبُ يَتَوَضَّأُ (التحفة ٨٩)

224. It was reported from Al-Aswad, from 'Aishah, that when the Prophet ﷺ wanted to eat or sleep, he would perform Wuḍū' - meaning while he was sexually impure. (Ṣaḥīḥ)

تخريج: أخرجه مسلم، الحيض، باب جواز نوم الجنب واستحباب الوضوء له... إلخ، ح: ٣٠٥ من حديث شعبة وفي رواية عمرو بن علي الفلاس، عند النسائي، ح: ٢٥٦: "توضأ وضوءه للصلاة".

225. It was reported from Yahyā bin Ya'mur, from 'Ammār bin Yāsir that the Prophet ﷺ allowed the sexually impure person, if he ate, drank or slept, to (merely) perform Wuḍū'. (Da'īf)

٢٢٥ - حَدَّثَنَا مُوسَى يَعْنِي ابْنَ إِسْمَاعِيلَ قَالَ: حَدَّثَنَا حَمَّادٌ قَالَ: أَخْبَرَنَا عَطَاءُ الْخُرَّاسَانِيُّ عَنْ يَحْيَى بْنِ يَعْمَرَ، عَنْ عَمَّارِ بْنِ يَاسِرٍ: أَنَّ النَّبِيَّ ﷺ رَخَّصَ لِلْجُنُبِ إِذَا أَكَلَ أَوْ شَرِبَ أَوْ نَامَ أَنْ يَتَوَضَّأَ.

Abū Dāwud said: There is a man (unmentioned) between Yahyā bin Ya'mur and 'Ammār bin Yāsir in this Hadīth.^[1] قال أبو داود: بَيْنَ يَحْيَى بْنِ يَعْمَرَ وَعَمَّارِ بْنِ يَاسِرٍ فِي هَذَا الْحَدِيثِ رَجُلٌ. وَقَالَ عَلِيُّ بْنُ أَبِي طَالِبٍ وَابْنُ عَمْرٍو وَعَبْدُ اللَّهِ بْنُ عَمْرٍو: الْجُنُبُ إِذَا أَرَادَ أَنْ يَأْكُلَ تَوَضَّأَ.

And 'Alī bin Abī Ṭālib, Ibn 'Umar, and 'Abdullāh bin 'Amr all said that the sexually impure person, if he desires to eat, should perform Wuḍū'.

[1] Meaning that there should be another narrator, because Yahyā did not hear from 'Ammār.

Chapter 90. The Sexually Impure Person Delaying Ghusl

(المعجم ٨٩) - بَابُ الْجَنْبِ يُؤَخِّرُ
الغُسْلَ (التحفة ٩٠)

226. Ghudaif bin Al-Hārith said that he asked ‘Āishah: “Would the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ perform Ghusl when he was sexually impure at the beginning of the night, or at the end?” She replied: “He would sometimes perform Ghusl at the beginning of the night, and sometimes at the end.” I said: “Allāhu Akbar! All Praise be to Allāh who made the matter accommodating.” I then asked: “Would the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ pray the Witr prayer at the beginning of the night, or at the end?” She replied: “Sometimes he would pray Witr at the beginning of the night, and sometimes at the end.” I said: “Allāhu Akbar! All Praise be to Allāh who made the matter accommodating.” I then asked: “Would the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ recite the Qur’ān loudly, or would he recite it silently?”^[1] She replied: “He (ﷺ) would sometimes recite it loudly, and sometimes quietly.” I said: “Allāhu Akbar! All Praise be to Allāh who made the matter accommodating.” (Hasan)

When he returned, he called for some water, took a handful, and washed himself with it.^[1] He then started reciting the Qur’ān, but they (meaning, the people around him) disliked it. He said: ‘The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ would exit from the area in which he relieved himself, and he would recite the Qur’ān to us, and eat meat with us. And there was nothing that would prevent him, or come between him and the Qur’ān, except (the state of) sexual impurity.’” (Hasan) تخریج: [حسن] أخرجه النسائي، الطهارة، باب حجب الجنب من قراءة القرآن، ح: ٢٦٦ وابن ماجه، ح: ٥٩٤ من حديث شعبة به وقال الترمذي، ح: ١٤٦: "حسن صحيح" وصححه ابن خزيمة، ح: ٢٠٨ وابن حبان، ح: ١٩٢، ١٩٣ وابن الجارود، ح: ٩٤ والحاكم: ١٠٧/٤ ووافقه الذهبي، وللحديث شواهد وقال الحافظ: "والحق أنه من قبيل الحسن يصلح للحجة" (فتح الباري: ١/٤٠٨، ح: ٣٠٥).

Comments:

Based upon other similar narrations, we learn that it is disliked for a person in a state of major impurity to recite the Qur’ān.

Chapter 91. The Sexually Impure Person Shaking Hands

He replied: 'Subhān Allāh! The Muslim does not become impure.'" (Sahih)

Comments:

1. There is no harm in shaking the hand of a person in a state of major impurity.
2. The sweat and saliva of a person in a state of major impurity are not impure.

Chapter 93. The Sexually Impure Person Entering The Masjid

232. It was reported from Aflat bin Khalifah who said: "Jasrah bint Dijajah narrated to me, she said: 'I heard 'Aishah saying: "The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ once came and saw that the doors of his Companions houses were exiting out into the Masjid. He said: 'Turn these (doors of) the houses away from the Masjid.' Then the Prophet ﷺ entered (one of his houses), but the people did not do anything, hoping that a concession might be revealed for them. He (ﷺ) then exited later on and said: 'Turn these (doors of the) houses away from the Masjid, for I do not permit the Masjid for a menstruating woman or a sexually impure person.'" (Hasan)

Abū Dāwud said: He (the narrator) is Fulait Al-Āmirī.

تخريج: [إسناده حسن] أخرجه البيهقي: ٤٤٢/٢، ٤٤٣ من حديث أبي داود به وصححه ابن خزيمة، ح: ١٣٢٧ وللحديث شواهد كثيرة.

Comments:

According to Qur'an, a sexually impure person may pass through the Masjid but they should not stay in it. The same rule applies to a woman menstruating or in post partum bleeding.

Chapter 94. The Sexually Impure Person Leading The Prayer in a State of Forgetfulness

233. It was reported from Ḥammād, from Ziyād Al-A'lam, from Al-Ḥasan, from Abū Bakrah, that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ once started the Fajr prayer, then motioned with his hand (for us) to remain in our positions, then he returned while his head was dripping (with water), and led them in prayer. he said at the end of it: "So when he finished the prayer, he said: "I am only a human, and I was in a state of sexual impurity." (Hasan)

Abū Dāwud said: Az-Zuhrī reported it from Abū Salamah, from Abū Hurairah, he said: "So when he (ﷺ) stood in his prayer place, and we were waiting for him to say the Takbīr, he turned around and said: 'Stay as you are.'"

Ayyūb, Ibn 'Awn, and Hishām reported it from Muḥammad [meaning Ibn Sīrīn in a Mursal form] from the Prophet (ﷺ), he said: "So he (ﷺ) said the Takbīr, then motioned with his hand for us to sit down, then went and performed Ghusl."

That is how it was reported by Mālik from Ismā'il bin Abī Ḥakīm, from 'Aṭā' bin Yasār, he said: "The Messenger of Allāh (ﷺ) said the Takbīr for the prayer..."

Abū Dāwud said: (Another chain) from Ar-Rabī' bin Muḥammad, from the Prophet (ﷺ), that he (ﷺ) said the Takbīr.

Comments:

If one remembers he is in a state of major impurity, or such occurs to him while in the Masjid, (as, for example, due to a nocturnal emission), one should leave and perform Ghusl. It is not required for him to perform Tayammum, as is erroneously believed by some.

(المعجم ٩٤) بَابُ فِي الرَّجُلِ يَجِدُ

236. ‘Aishah said that the Prophet ﷺ was asked about a person who finds some wetness (on his clothes), but does not remember having a wet-dream (what should he do)? (The Prophet ﷺ) said: “He should perform Ghusl.” And (he was also asked about) a person who remembered having a wet-dream but did not find any wetness. He said: “Ghusl is not obligatory for him.” Umm Sulaim said:., “If a woman sees that (sort of dream), must she perform Ghusl?” He replied: “Yes. Women are indeed

Comments:

If a person wakes up and finds some wetness, he or she is to perform Ghusl, whether they remember a sexual dream or not, provided they do not know that it is only urine. If this is the case, it is not obligatory to perform Ghusl.

Chapter 95. A Woman Has Dreams Like A Man Has Dreams

(المعجم ٩٥) - بَابُ الْمَرْأَةِ تَرَى مَا يَرَى الرَّجُلُ (التحفة ٩٦)

237. It was reported from Yūnus, from Ibn Shihāb (Az-Zuhrī), he said: “‘Urwah (reported) from ‘Āishah, that Umm Sulaim Al-Anṣariyyah, the mother of Anas bin Mālik, asked: ‘O Messenger of Allāh! Indeed Allāh is not shy of the truth. Tell me, if a woman sees in her sleep what a man sees, should she perform Ghusl or not?’ The Prophet ﷺ said: ‘Yes, she must perform Ghusl if she found (traces of) wetness.’” ‘Āishah said: “I turned to her and said: ‘Uff to you! And does a woman see such a matter?’ So the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ turned to me and said: ‘May your right hand be covered with dust, O ‘Āishah. And from where do you think the likeness (of the off-spring) comes from?’” (Ṣaḥīḥ)
Abū Dāwud said: This is how it was reported by Az-Zubaidī, Mālik, and the paternal nephew of Az-Zuhrī from Az-Zuhrī; as well as Ibn Abī Al-Wazīr, from Mālik, from Az-Zuhrī. Musāfi‘ Al-Ḥajabī was in accord with Az-Zuhrī, he said:

٢٣٧ - حَدَّثَنَا أَحْمَدُ بْنُ صَالِحٍ قَالَ: حَدَّثَنَا عَبْسَةُ: حَدَّثَنَا يُونُسُ عَنْ ابْنِ شِهَابٍ قَالَ: قَالَ عُرْوَةُ عَنْ عَائِشَةَ أَنَّ أُمَّ سُلَيْمِ الْأَنْصَارِيَّةِ - وَهِيَ أُمُّ أَنَسِ بْنِ مَالِكٍ - قَالَتْ: يَا رَسُولَ اللَّهِ! إِنَّ اللَّهَ لَا يَسْتَحْيِي مِنَ الْحَقِّ، أَرَأَيْتَ الْمَرْأَةَ إِذَا رَأَتْ فِي النَّوْمِ مَا يَرَى الرَّجُلُ، أَتَغْتَسِلُ أَمْ لَا؟ قَالَتْ عَائِشَةُ: فَقَالَ النَّبِيُّ ﷺ: «نَعَمْ، فَلْتَتَغَسَّلْ إِذَا وَجَدَتْ الْمَاءَ». قَالَتْ عَائِشَةُ: فَأَقْبَلْتُ عَلَيْهَا فَقُلْتُ: أَفْ لَكَ، وَهَلْ تَرَى ذَلِكَ الْمَرْأَةَ؟ فَأَقْبَلَ عَلَيَّ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ ﷺ فَقَالَ: «تَرَبَّتْ يَمِينُكَ يَا عَائِشَةُ! وَمِنْ [أَيْنَ] يَكُونُ الشَّبَهُ؟!».

قال أبو داود: وكذا روى الزُّبَيْدِيُّ وَعَقِيلٌ وَيُونُسُ وَابْنُ أُخِي الرَّهْرِيّ عَنِ الرَّهْرِيّ وَابْنُ أَبِي الْوَزِيرِ، عَنِ مَالِكِ، عَنِ الرَّهْرِيّ، وَوَأَفَقَ الرَّهْرِيّ مُسَافِعَ الْحَجَبِيِّ قَالَ: عَنِ عُرْوَةَ عَنِ عَائِشَةَ، وَأَمَّا هِشَامُ بْنُ عُرْوَةَ فَقَالَ: عَنِ عُرْوَةَ، عَنِ زَيْنَبِ بِنْتِ أَبِي سَلَمَةَ، عَنِ أُمَّ

Comments:

Umm Salamah’s statement "Indeed Allāh is not shy of the truth" demonstrates her decency and good manners. She wanted to seek information about a thing vital to ritual purity.

Chapter 96. The Amount Of Water With Which Ghusl Can Be Performed

238. It was reported from Mālik, from Ibn Shihāb (Az-Zuhrī), from ‘Urwah, from ‘Āishah; that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ would perform Ghusl for Janābah from a container which contained a Faraq of water. (Ṣaḥīḥ)

Abū Dāwud said: Ma‘mar said in this Hadīth (which he reported) from Az-Zuhrī: “She said: ‘I would perform Ghusl with the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ from a container which contained a Faraq of water.’”

Abū Dāwud said: I heard Aḥmad bin Ḥanbal say that a Faraq is sixteen Raṭls.^[1] And I heard him say that the Ṣā^[2] of Ibn Abī Dhi‘b was five and one third Raṭls. So I asked him (his opinion about) those who say it is eight Raṭls, and he replied: “This has not been قال أبو داود: وروى ابن عيينة نحوه حديث مالك.

قال أبو داود: سمعت أحمد بن حنبل يقول: الفرق ستة عشر رطلا، وسمعتُه يقول: صاع ابن أبي ذئب خمسة أرطال وتلث. قال: فمن قال ثمانية أرطال؟ قال: ليس ذلك بمحفوظ. قال: وسمعت أحمد

Comments:

This quantity of water, according to some Aḥādīth, was used by the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ and, according to other Aḥādīth, used by both the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ, and 'Āishah, and, according to still others, the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ used to perform Ghusl with one Ṣā' or one and a quarter Ṣā' of water. These different Aḥādīth are easy to reconcile since they refer to different situations.

Chapter 97. Regarding The Ghusl For Janābah

239. Jubair bin Muṭ'im narrated that they mentioned the Ghusl for Janābah in the presence of the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ. So the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: “As for me, I pour water on my head three times,” and he motioned with both his hands. (Ṣaḥīh)

[2] Aṣ-Ṣaiḥānī is a type of higher quality dates which are popular in Al-Madīnah.

240. 'Āishah narrated that when the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ performed Ghusl for Janābah, he would ask similar to a Hilāb,^[1] then he would take (water) with both his hands. He would start with the right side of his head, then (move on) to the left. Then, he would take both hands full of water and pour (it) over his head. (Sahīh)

Comments:

This is a weak narration. The following Hadīth, no. 241, makes it clear that a woman also pours water over her head three times, just as a man does.

Then he would put both his hands in the container, and pass them through his hair, until, when he presumed that he had made the skin wet or cleaned it, he would pour (water) thrice over his head. Comments:

No matter what type of Ghusl it was, the method of the Prophet (ﷺ) was the same as described in the foregoing Ahādīth: The private area is washed first, followed by Wudū'. Then water is be poured over the entire body.

246. Shu'bah said that Ibn 'Abbās would perform Ghusl from Janābah by pouring water from his right hand onto his left hand seven times, then he would wash his private part. Once, he asked me: "How many times have I poured?" So I said: "I don't know." He said: "May you have no mother, and what prevents you from knowing?" Then he would perform the Wudū' of the prayer, then pour water over his entire body. He then said: "This was how the Prophet ﷺ would perform his purification." (Da'if)

To fulfill the requirements of Ghusl, it is obligatory to pour water over the entire body once. Similarly, clothing is washed once to remove urine.

Chapter 102. Eating With A Menstruating Woman And Being Around Her

258. Anas bin Mālik reported that the Jews would expel a menstruating woman from the house, and would not eat with her, drink with her, or stay with her in the house. So the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ was asked about that, upon which Allāh the Exalted revealed: They ask you concerning menstruation, say: "That is an Adha (a harmful thing), therefore keep away from women during menses,"^[1] until the end of the Verse. So the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: "Intermingle with them in your houses, and do everything (that you normally do) except intercourse." The Jews said (upon hearing this verdict): "This man does not intend to leave anything of our affairs except that he opposes us concerning it." So Usaid bin Ḥuḍair and 'Abbād bin Bishr came to the Prophet ﷺ and said: "O Messenger of Allāh! The Jews are saying such and such, should we not (therefore) have intercourse with them during their menses?" Upon hearing this, the face of the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ changed (in color), until we thought that he was angry at them. So they left, but as they were leaving, someone sent some milk to the Prophet ﷺ as a gift. So he sent someone to call them back, and then gave them (some of the milk) to drink. We therefore realized that he was not angry at them.

The purpose of Allāh's Messenger ﷺ, was not simply to oppose unbelievers, innovators and atheists, but to oppose them by following the Qur'ān, that is, by keeping within the confines laid down in the Shari'ah.

Chapter 107. Concerning The Woman Who Has Istihādah, And (Those Scholars) Who Stated That She Should Leave The Prayer For The Number Of Days Which She Used To Menstruate^[1]

Umm Salamah, the wife of the Prophet ﷺ, said: “There was a woman during the time of the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ who would bleed profusely.” Umm Salamah sought a verdict for her from the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ. He said: “Let her wait the same number of nights and days of the month that she used to experience her menses before she was afflicted with this. Let her leave the prayer for that

[1] The blood flow of an adult woman during her menstrual cycle is called menses, indicative of absence of a pregnancy. Excessive, abnormal flow of blood is called Istihādah (menorrhagia, commonly known as "bleeding"). The color of this blood is different from that of normal menstrual blood. Blood following childbirth is called Nifās. The days of menstruation (Haid) and post-partum bleeding (Nifās) are counted as days of impurity. But the days of excessive, abnormal bleeding (Istihādah) are days of purity because that is an ailment.

Comments:

A woman shall reckon her days of Istihādah by referring to when and how long she has normal menses. The dates and the number of days of her previous normal cycle help her to determine the days of Istihādah and act accordingly.

275. (There is another chain) from Umm Salamah who said that a woman used to bleed profusely — he (the narrator) mentioned the Hadith in it (as no. 274) meaning — and he said: "...so when that time is over, and the time for prayer comes, let her perform Ghusl..." and he quoted the rest of it in meaning. It is not obligatory on a woman to perform Ghusl immediately after the cessation of her menses. It is obligatory that it be done prior to, or for Ṣalāt.

278. (There is another chain) from Sulaimān bin Yasār from Umm Salamah (as no. 274) with this story. He (ﷺ) said in it: “She should leave the prayer, and perform Ghusl beyond that (meaning, perform Ghusl after those days are over), tie a cloth around her private area, and then pray.” (Ṣaḥīḥ)

A woman should determine her period of menses by referring to the number of days and the dates of her normal previous menses, that is, when she had her menstrual period and for how many days. If she does not know that, she may determine it by the color of the blood.

Abū Dāwud said: This was also reported by Qatādah, from ‘Urwah bin Az-Zubair, from Zainab bint Umm Salamah; that Umm Ḥabībah bint Jaḥsh had Istihādah, so the Prophet ﷺ commanded her to leave the prayer during the days of her (regular) period. She should then perform Ghusl and pray.

Abū Dāwud said: Qatādah did not hear any narration from ‘Urwah. And Ibn ‘Uyaynah added in the Hadīth of Az-Zuhri: “From ‘Amrah, from ‘Āishah, that she said: ‘Umm Ḥabībah used to have Istihādah, so she asked the Prophet ﷺ about that. He commanded her to leave the prayer during the days of her (regular) period.”

Abū Dāwud said: This is a mistake on the part of Ibn ‘Uyaynah. This is not in the narrations of the Huffāz from Az-Zuhri, only what was narrated by Suhail bin Šāliḥ.^[1]

Abū Dāwud said: Al-Ḥumaidī reported this Hadīth from Ibn ‘Uyaynah, and he did not mention in it: “leave the prayer during the days of her (regular) period.” Qamīr bint ‘Amr, the wife of Masrūq reported from ‘Āishah that she said: “The woman suffering from Istihādah should leave praying ‘Abdur-Rahmān bin Al-Qāsim (in his report of it) said, from his father, that the Prophet ﷺ commanded her (i.e., Fāṭimah bint Abī Ḥubaish) to leave the prayer the length of her (regular) period. Abū Bishr Ja‘far bin Abī Waḥshīyah reported (a version) from ‘Ikrimah, from the Prophet ﷺ. He said: “Umm Ḥabībah bint Jaḥsh suffered from Istihādah...” and he mentioned similarly.

Sharik reported from Abū Al-Yaqzān, from ‘Adī bin Thābit, from his father, from his grandfather from the Prophet ﷺ: “The woman who suffers from Istihādah should leave the prayers during the days of her (regular) period, then perform Ghusl and pray.”

Al-‘Alā’ bin Al-Musayyab reported from Al-Ḥakam, from Abū Ja‘far who said: “Sawdah had Istihādah, so the Prophet ﷺ commanded her, when her days (of regular period) were over, to perform Ghusl and pray.”

And Sa‘eed bin Jubair reported from both ‘Alī, and Ibn ‘Abbās, that the woman with Istihādah should sit (without praying) during the days of (her regular) period. Chapter 109. When The Menstruation Starts She Should Leave The Prayer

(المعجم ١٠٩) بَابُ: إِذَا أَقْبَلَتْ
الْحَيْضَةَ تَدْعُ الصَّلَاةَ (التحفة ١١٠)

284. It was reported from Buhayyah who said: "I heard a woman asking 'Āishah about a woman whose menstruation had become disturbed and continuously bled. So the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ told me to command her to wait the number (of days) that she used to menstruate in every month while her menstruation had been regular. She should take into account those number of days, and leave the prayer during them, or during (a similar) number of them, then she should perform Ghusl, tie a garment around her private area, and pray." (Da'if)

٢٨٤ - حَدَّثَنَا مُوسَى بْنُ إِسْمَاعِيلَ: حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو عَقِيلٍ عَنْ بُهَيَّةَ قَالَتْ: سَمِعْتُ امْرَأَةً تَسْأَلُ عَائِشَةَ عَنْ امْرَأَةٍ فَسَدَّ حَيْضُهَا وَأَهْرَيْبَتْ دَمًا، فَأَمَرَنِي رَسُولُ اللَّهِ ﷺ أَنْ أَمْرَهَا فَلْتَنْتَظُرَ قَدْرَ مَا كَانَتْ تَحِيضُ فِي كُلِّ شَهْرٍ وَحَيْضُهَا مُسْتَقِيمٌ فَلْتَعْتَدَ بِقَدْرِ ذَلِكَ مِنَ الْأَيَّامِ ثُمَّ لْتَدْعِ الصَّلَاةَ فِيهِنَّ أَوْ بِقَدْرِهِنَّ ثُمَّ لْتَعْتَسِلَ ثُمَّ لْتَسْتَذْفِرَ بِثَوْبٍ ثُمَّ تَصَلِّيَ.

Comments:

The Hadīth has a weak chain of narration but the ruling is correct.

285. It was reported from Ibn Shihāb (Az-Zuhri), from 'Urwah bin Az-Zubair, and 'Amrah, from 'Āishah, who said that Umm Habībah bint Jaḥsh — the sister-in-law of the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ, and wife of 'Abdur-Raḥmān bin 'Awf — suffered from Istihāḍah for seven years, so she asked the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ about it. The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ replied:

٢٨٥ - حَدَّثَنَا ابْنُ أَبِي عَقِيلٍ وَمُحَمَّدُ بْنُ سَلَمَةَ الْمِصْرِيُّانِ قَالَا: أَخْبَرَنَا ابْنُ وَهْبٍ عَنْ عَمْرِو بْنِ الْحَارِثِ، عَنْ ابْنِ شِهَابٍ، عَنْ عُرْوَةَ بْنِ الزُّبَيْرِ وَعَمْرَةَ، عَنْ عَائِشَةَ قَالَتْ: إِنَّ أُمَّ حَبِيبَةَ بِنْتَ جَحْشٍ حَتَنَتْ رَسُولَ اللَّهِ ﷺ وَتَحَتَّ عَبْدُ الرَّحْمَنِ بْنِ عَوْفٍ اسْتُحِيضَتْ سَعَ سِنِينَ، فَاسْتَفْتَتْ رَسُولَ اللَّهِ ﷺ، فَقَالَ

“This (blood) is not menstruation, but (rather) comes from a vein, so perform Ghusl and pray.” (Ṣaḥīḥ) Abū Dāwud said: Al-Awzā‘ī added in his report of the Ḥadīth of Az-Zuhrī, from ‘Urwah and ‘Amrah, from ‘Āishah, that she said: “Umm Ḥabībah bint Jaḥsh suffered from Istiḥādah — and she was the wife of ‘Abdur-Raḥmān bin ‘Awf — for seven years. So the Prophet ﷺ commanded her: ‘When the menstruation comes, leave the prayer, and when it leaves, perform Ghusl and pray.’”

Abū Dāwud said: None of the companions of Az-Zuhrī mentioned this statement except Al-Awzā‘ī, while it has been reported from Az-Zuhrī by ‘Amr bin Al-Ḥārith, Al-Laith, Yūnus, Ibn Abī Dhī‘b, Ma‘mar, Ibrāhīm bin Sa‘d, Sulaimān bin Kathīr, Ibn Ishāq, and Sufyān bin ‘Uyaynah, and they did not mention this statement.

Abū Dāwud said: This wording is only (in reality) found in the narration of Hishām bin ‘Urwah, from his father from ‘Āishah.

Abū Dāwud said: Ibn ‘Uyaynah also added in it: “He ordered her to leave the prayer for the days of her (normal) period,” but it is a mistake from Ibn ‘Uyaynah. And the narration of Muḥammad bin ‘Amr from Az-Zuhrī (the following narration no.286) — there is something in it (of mistake as well), and it is close to what Al-Awzā‘ī added in his narration.

رسول الله ﷺ: «إِنَّ هَذِهِ لَيْسَتْ بِالْحَيْضَةِ وَلَكِنْ هَذَا عِرْقٌ فَاعْتَسِلِي وَصَلِّي.»

قال أبو داود: وَإِنَّمَا هَذَا لَفْظُ حَدِيثِ هِشَامِ بْنِ عُرْوَةَ، عَنْ أَبِيهِ، عَنْ عَائِشَةَ.

قال أبو داود: وَزَادَ ابْنُ عُيَيْنَةَ فِيهِ أَيْضًا، أَمَرَهَا أَنْ تَدَعَ الصَّلَاةَ أَيَّامَ أَقْرَائِهَا وَهُوَ وَهُمْ مِنْ ابْنِ عُيَيْنَةَ. وَحَدِيثُ مُحَمَّدِ بْنِ عَمْرٍو عَنِ الزُّهْرِيِّ فِيهِ شَيْءٌ وَيَقْرُبُ مِنَ الَّذِي زَادَ الْأَوْزَاعِيُّ فِي حَدِيثِهِ.

286. It was reported from Muḥammad, meaning Ibn ‘Amr who said: “Ibn Shihāb narrated to me from ‘Urwah bin Az-Zubair, from Fāṭimah bint Abī Ḥubaiṣh. He said that she used to have Istihādah, so the Prophet ﷺ told her: ‘If it is menstrual blood, then it is blood that is black (in color) and well-known. So if that is the case, then stop the prayer, and if it is other than that, then perform the Wudu’ and pray, for that is only from a vein.’” (Da’if)

Abū Dāwud said: Ibn Al-Muthanna said: “Ibn ‘Adī^[1] narrated it to us from his book like this, then he narrated to us after memorizing it. He said: ‘Muḥammad bin ‘Amr narrated to us from Az-Zuhri, from ‘Urwah, from ‘Āishah who said: ‘Fāṭimah suffered from Istihādah.’” So he mentioned the narration in its meaning.

Abū Dāwud said: Anas bin Sīrīn reported from Ibn ‘Abbās concerning the woman who suffers from Istihādah: “If she sees dark-colored blood that is pouring (out of her), then she should not pray. And if she becomes pure, even if only for an hour, then let her perform Ghusl and pray.”

And Makhūl said: “Women know

قال أبو داود: قال ابن المثنى: حدثنا به ابن أبي عدي من كتابه هكذا ثم حدثنا به بعد حفظاً. قال: حدثنا محمد بن عمرو عن الزهري، عن عروة، عن عائشة قالت: إن فاطمة كانت تستحاض. فذكر معناه.

قال أبو داود: وروى حماد بن زيد عن يحيى بن سعيد، عن القعقاع بن حكيم،

the menstruation; its blood is black and thick. So when these characteristics are gone, and it becomes pale and light, then she is suffering from Istihādah, so let her perform Ghushl [and pray].”

Abū Dāwud said: Ḥammad bin Zaid reported from Yaḥyā bin Sa‘eed, from Al-Qā‘qā’ bin Ḥakīm, from Sa‘eed bin Al-Musayyab concerning the woman who suffers from Istihādah: “When she starts her menses, she should leave the prayer, and when it finishes, she should perform Ghushl and pray.”

Sumayyī and others reported from Sa‘eed bin Al-Musayyab: “She should sit (without prayer) the days of her period.”

Abū Dāwud said: And that is how it was reported by Ḥammad bin Salamah, from Yaḥyā bin Sa‘eed, from Sa‘eed bin Al-Musayyab.

Abū Dāwud said: Yūnus reported from Al-Ḥasan: “If a menstruating woman continues to bleed after her menses for a day or two, then she is suffering from Istihādah.” And At-Taimī said that Qatādah said: “If she bleeds for five days more than her (regular) menses, [she should pray].” At-Taimī said: “So I began to decrease the number of days,^[1] until I reached two days, upon which he said: ‘If it is only two days (extra), then this is considered part of her menses.’”

And Ibn Sīrīn was asked about this, and he said: “Women are more knowledgeable concerning it.”

عن سَعِيدِ بْنِ الْمُسَيَّبِ فِي الْمُسْتَحَاضَةِ: إِذَا أَقْبَلَتِ الْحَيْضَةَ تَرَكَتِ الصَّلَاةَ، وَإِذَا أُدْبِرَتْ اغْتَسَلَتْ وَصَلَّتْ.

وَرَوَى سَمِيُّ وَعَبْرُهُ عَنْ سَعِيدِ بْنِ الْمُسَيَّبِ: تَجْلِسُ أَيَّامَ أَقْرَائِهَا.

وَكَذَلِكَ رَوَاهُ حَمَادُ بْنُ سَلَمَةَ عَنْ يَحْيَى ابْنِ سَعِيدٍ، عَنْ سَعِيدِ بْنِ الْمُسَيَّبِ.

قال أبو داود: وَرَوَى يُونُسُ عَنِ الْحَسَنِ: الْحَائِضُ إِذَا مَدَّ بِهَا الدَّمَ تُمَسِّكُ بَعْدَ حَيْضَتِهَا يَوْمًا أَوْ يَوْمَيْنِ فَهِيَ مُسْتَحَاضَةٌ.

وقال التَّيْمِيُّ عَنِ قَتَادَةَ: إِذَا زَادَ عَلَى أَيَّامِ حَيْضَتِهَا خَمْسَةَ أَيَّامٍ [فَلْتُصَلِّ]. قال التَّيْمِيُّ: فَجَعَلْتُ أَنْقُصُ حَتَّى بَلَغْتُ يَوْمَيْنِ، فَقَالَ: إِذَا كَانَ يَوْمَيْنِ فَهُوَ مِنْ حَيْضَتِهَا. وَسُئِلَ ابْنُ سِيرِينَ عَنْهُ فَقَالَ: النِّسَاءُ أَعْلَمُ بِذَلِكَ.

[1] Meaning, he asked Qatādah about fewer number of days.

287. 'Imrān bin Ṭalḥah narrated from his mother, Ḥammah bint Jaḥsh, that she said: "I used to suffer from severe and acute Istiḥādah, so I came to the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ seeking his verdict and informing him (about my situation). I found him in the house of my sister Zainab bint Jaḥsh. I said: 'O Messenger of Allāh! I am a woman who suffers from severe and acute Istiḥādah, so what do you advise me concerning it, for it has prevented me from fasting and praying.' He said, 'I will describe to you the cloth (to wear), for it will stop the blood.' I said: 'It is more than that!' He said: 'Then wear a garment (around your private area).' I said: 'It is even more than that. It flows out with force.' So the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: 'I will command you with two things, whichever of the two you do, it will be sufficient for you from the other one,^[1] and if you can do both of them, then you know best (if you are capable of that).' He told her: 'This is a stroke from the strokes of Shaiṭān. So your menstruation is six or seven days according to the knowledge of Allāh, exalted is His remembrance. Then (after it finishes) perform Ghusl until you think that you have become pure and clean, and pray twenty three nights, or twenty four (nights) along with their days, and fast (as well), for that will be sufficient for you. And do the same every month, like other women menstruate and become pure according to their times. Now, if you are capable of delaying Zuhr and advancing 'Asr, then perform Ghusl, and combine between the two prayers, Zuhr and 'Asr. Likewise, delay Maghrib and advance 'Ishā', then perform Ghusl and combine between the two prayers if you can. And perform Ghusl at Fajr if you can, and fast if you are able to.' The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said, 'This is the more pleasing of the two matter to me.'”

(Da'if)

Abū Dāwud said: 'Amr bin Thābit narrated from Ibn 'Aqīl, so he said: "Ḥamnah said: 'This is the more pleasing of the two matter to me,'" not attributing it to a saying of the Prophet ﷺ, but as a saying of Ḥamnah.

Abū Dāwud said: 'Amr bin Thābit was a Rāfiḍī, as was mentioned from Yaḥyā bin Ma'īn [but he was truthful in narrations].

Abū Dāwud said: I heard Aḥmad bin Ḥanbal say: "I feel uncomfortable about the Ḥadīth of Ibn 'Aqīl."

Chapter 110. The Narrations That State The Woman With Istihādah Should Perform Ghusl For Every Prayer

288. ‘Amr bin Al-Hārith reported from Ibn Shihāb, from ‘Urwah bin Az-Zubair and ‘Amrah bint ‘Abdur-Raḥmān, from ‘Āishah the wife of the Prophet ﷺ, who said: “Umm Ḥabībah — the sister-in-law of the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ and wife of ‘Abdur-Raḥmān bin ‘Awf — suffered from Istihādah for seven years. She asked the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ about that, so he replied: ‘This is not menstruation, rather it is (from) a vein, so perform Ghusl and pray.’” ‘Āishah said: “So she would perform Ghusl in a tub, in the room of her sister Zainab bint Jaḥsh, until the redness of the blood would discolor the water.” (Ṣaḥīḥ)

289. It was reported from Yūnus, from Ibn Shihāb who said: “‘Amrah bint ‘Abdur-Raḥmān informed me from Umm Ḥabībah (a narration similar to no. 288),” with this Hadīth: ‘Āishah said: “So she would perform Ghusl for every prayer.” (Ṣaḥīḥ)

290. It was reported from Al-Laiṭh bin Sa’d, from Ibn Shihāb, from ‘Urwah, from ‘Āishah, with this Hadīth, he said in it: “So she would perform Ghusl for every prayer (a

Abū Dāwud said: Al-Qāsim bin Mabṛūr said, “From Yūnus, from Ibn Shihāb, from ‘Amrah, from ‘Āishah, from Umm Ḥabībah bint Jaḥsh.”

And this is how it was reported from Ma‘mar, from Az-Zuhrī, from ‘Amrah, from ‘Āishah — and sometimes Ma‘mar said: “From ‘Amrah, from Umm Ḥabībah” reporting its meaning, — and it was reported similarly, from Ibrāhīm bin Sa‘d, and Ibn ‘Uyaynah, from Az-Zuhrī, from ‘Amrah, from ‘Āishah. In his narration, Ibn ‘Uyaynah said: “He (Az-Zuhrī) did not say: ‘The Prophet ﷺ ordered her to perform Ghusl.’” عَائِشَةَ بِهَذَا الْحَدِيثِ قَالَ فِيهِ: فَكَانَتْ تَغْتَسِلُ لِكُلِّ صَلَاةٍ.

291. Ibn Abī Dhi‘b reported from Ibn Shihāb, from ‘Urwah and ‘Amrah bint ‘Abdur-Rahmān, from ‘Āishah, who said: “Umm Ḥabībah suffered from Istihādah for seven years, so the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ commanded her to perform Ghusl. So she would perform Ghusl for every single prayer.”

And this is how Al-Awzā‘ī reported it as well, with ‘Āishah saying: “So she would perform Ghusl for every single prayer.” (Ṣaḥīḥ)

٢٩١ - حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ إِسْحَاقَ الْمُسَيَّبِيُّ: حَدَّثَنِي أَبِي عَنْ ابْنِ أَبِي ذَيْبٍ، عَنْ ابْنِ شِهَابٍ، عَنْ عَمْرَةَ وَوَعَمْرَةَ بِنْتِ عَبْدِ الرَّحْمَنِ، عَنْ عَائِشَةَ قَالَتْ: إِنَّ أُمَّ حَبِيبَةَ اسْتُحِضَّتْ سَبْعَ سِنِينَ فَأَمَرَهَا رَسُولُ اللَّهِ ﷺ أَنْ تَغْتَسِلَ، فَكَانَتْ تَغْتَسِلُ لِكُلِّ صَلَاةٍ. وَكَذَلِكَ رَوَاهُ الْأَوْزَاعِيُّ أَيْضًا. قَالَتْ عَائِشَةُ: فَكَانَتْ تَغْتَسِلُ لِكُلِّ صَلَاةٍ.

292. It was reported from Ibn Ishāq, from Az-Zuhrī, from ‘Urwah, from ‘Āishah, that she said: “Umm Ḥabībah bint Jaḥsh suffered from Istihādah during the lifetime of the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ. So he commanded her to perform Ghusl for every prayer.” and he quoted the rest of the Hadīth (as no. 291). (Da’īf)

Abū Dāwud said: Abū Al-Walīd Aṭ-Tayālīsī narrated this Hadīth — and I did not actually hear it from him — from Sulaimān bin Kathīr, from Az-Zuhrī, from ‘Urwah, from ‘Āishah, that she said: “Zainab bint Jaḥsh suffered from Istihādah, so the Prophet ﷺ commanded her: ‘Perform Ghusl for every prayer.’” And he quoted the Hadīth.

Abū Dāwud said: ‘Abduṣ-Ṣamad reported it from Sulaimān bin Kathīr, he said: “perform Wuḍū’ for every prayer.”

Abū Dāwud said: And this is a mistake from ‘Abduṣ-Ṣamad, and the saying (that is correct) in it is the saying of Abū Al-Walīd.

Abū Dāwūd said: In the narration of Ibn 'Aqīl, both commands are given, and it states: “If you are strong enough, then perform Ghusl for every prayer, otherwise combine (the two prayers).” As was said by Al-Qāsim in his narration. And this saying has been related from Sa'eed bin Jubair, from 'Alī and Ibn 'Abbās.

Chapter 112. Those Who State: She Should Combine Between Two Prayers, And Perform One Ghusl Before Both Of Them

294. It was reported from Shu'bah, from 'Abdur-Raḥmān bin Al-Qāsim, from his father, from 'Āishah who said: “A woman suffered from Istihādah during the life-time of the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ. So she was commanded to advance the ʿAṣr prayer, and delay Zuhr, and perform Ghusl for both of them, and to delay Maghrib and advance Ishā', and perform Ghusl for both of them, and to perform Ghusl for the Ṣubḥ prayer.”

وَأَخْبَرَنِي أَنَّ أُمَّ بَكْرٍ أَخْبَرَتْهُ أَنَّ عَائِشَةَ قَالَتْ: إِنَّ رَسُولَ اللَّهِ ﷺ قَالَ فِي الْمَرْأَةِ تَرَى مَا يَرِيهَا بَعْدَ الطُّهْرِ: «إِنَّمَا هِيَ» أَوْ قَالَ: «إِنَّمَا هُوَ عِرْقٌ» أَوْ قَالَ: «عُرُوقٌ».

قال أبو داود: في حديث ابن عقيل الأمران جميعاً. قال: «إِنَّ قَوِيَّتِ فَأَغْتَسِلِي لِكُلِّ صَلَاةٍ وَإِلَّا فَاجْمَعِي» كما قال القاسم في حديثه. وقد روي هذا القول عن سعيد ابن جبير عن عليّ وابن عباس.

Comments:

The woman mentioned in the narration is Sahlah bint Suhail as stated in the next narration. This Ghusl is recommended, but performing Ghusl once is enough, as it has been mentioned in the narration of the next chapter. This narration also shows that if the person is ill or suffering from some ailment, then it is allowed to join two prayers together. Two prayers like Zuhr and 'Ashr can be offered together, and similarly Maghrib and 'Ishā' can be offered together.

295. It was reported from Muḥammad bin Ishāq, from 'Abdur-Rahmān bin Al-Qāsim, from his father, from 'Āishah, who said: "Sahlah bint Suhail suffered from Istihādah, so she came to the Prophet ﷺ, and he commanded her to perform Ghusl for every prayer. When that became difficult for her, he commanded her to combine between Zuhr and 'Ashr (prayers) with one Ghusl, and between Maghrib and 'Ishā' with one Ghusl, and to perform Ghusl for Ṣubḥ." (Da'if)

Abū Dāwud said: Ibn 'Uyaynah reported it from 'Abdur-Rahmān bin Al-Qāsim, from his father, he said: "A woman suffered from Istihādah so she asked the Prophet ﷺ, then he ordered her," narrating the Hadīth in its meaning.

٢٩٥ - حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ الْعَزِيزِ بْنُ يَحْيَى: حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدٌ يَعْنِي ابْنَ سَلَمَةَ، عَنْ مُحَمَّدِ بْنِ إِسْحَاقَ، عَنْ عَبْدِ الرَّحْمَنِ بْنِ الْقَاسِمِ، عَنْ أَبِيهِ، عَنْ عَائِشَةَ قَالَتْ: إِنَّ سَهْلَةَ بِنْتَ سُهَيْلٍ اسْتَحْيَضَتْ، فَأَتَتِ النَّبِيَّ ﷺ، فَأَمَرَهَا أَنْ تَغْتَسِلَ عِنْدَ كُلِّ صَلَاةٍ، فَلَمَّا جَهَدَهَا ذَلِكَ أَمَرَهَا أَنْ تَجْمَعَ بَيْنَ الظُّهْرِ وَالْعَصْرِ بِغُسْلٍ وَالْمَغْرِبِ وَالْعِشَاءِ بِغُسْلٍ وَتَغْتَسِلَ لِلصُّبْحِ. قَالَ أَبُو دَاوُدَ: وَرَوَاهُ ابْنُ عُيَيْنَةَ عَنْ عَبْدِ الرَّحْمَنِ بْنِ الْقَاسِمِ، عَنْ أَبِيهِ قَالَ: إِنَّ امْرَأَةً اسْتَحْيَضَتْ فَسَأَلَتِ النَّبِيَّ ﷺ فَأَمَرَهَا بِمَعْنَاهُ.

So the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: 'Subhān Allāh! This (Istihādah) is from Shaitān. She should sit in a tub, until she sees the yellow (discharge) above the water. Then she should perform one Ghusl for Zuhr and ʿAsr, and one Ghusl for Maghrib and Ishā', and perform one Ghusl for Fajr. And she should perform Wudū' in between these (two prayers).'" (Daʿif)

Abū Dāwud said: Mujāhid reported it from Ibn 'Abbās that when performing Ghusl becomes difficult for her, he commanded her to combine between the two prayers.^[1]

Abū Dāwud said: Ibrāhīm reported it from Ibn 'Abbās, and it is the saying of Ibrāhīm An-Nakha'ī, and 'Abdullāh bin Shaddād.

٢٩٦ - حَدَّثَنَا وَهْبُ بْنُ بَقِيَّةَ: أَخْبَرَنَا خَالِدٌ عَنْ سَهْلِ بْنِ يَعْنَى بْنِ أَبِي صَالِحٍ، عَنِ الزُّهْرِيِّ، عَنْ عُرْوَةَ بْنِ الزُّبَيْرِ، عَنْ أَسْمَاءِ بِنْتِ عُمَيْسٍ قَالَتْ: قُلْتُ: يَا رَسُولَ اللَّهِ! إِنَّ فَاطِمَةَ بِنْتَ أَبِي حُبَيْسٍ اسْتَحْيَضَتْ مُنْذُ كَذَا وَكَذَا فَلَمْ تَصَلِّ. فَقَالَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ ﷺ: «سُبْحَانَ اللَّهِ! إِنَّ هَذَا مِنَ الشَّيْطَانِ، لِيَجْلِسْ فِي مِرْكَبٍ، فَإِذَا رَأَتْ صُفْرَةً فَوْقَ الْمَاءِ فَلْتَتَسَلَّلْ لِلظُّهْرِ وَالْعَصْرِ غُسْلًا وَاحِدًا، وَتَتَسَلَّلْ لِلْمَغْرِبِ وَالْعِشَاءِ غُسْلًا وَاحِدًا، وَتَتَسَلَّلْ لِلْفَجْرِ غُسْلًا وَاحِدًا، وَتَوَضَّأُ فِيمَا بَيْنَ ذَلِكَ».

Comments:

This is the popular view; performing Ghusl for every two prayers is commendable, otherwise performing Ghusl at the end of menstruation is enough, and performing Wudū' for each prayer when suffering from Istihādah.

Chapter 112. Those Who Said: She Should Perform Ghusl From One Purity To The Other

297. ‘Adī bin Thābit reported from his father, from his grandfather, that the Prophet ﷺ said concerning the woman with Istihādah: “She should leave the prayer during the days of her (regular) period, then perform Ghusl, and perform Wudū’ for every prayer.” (Da‘īf)

300. It was reported from Ayyūb Abū Al-‘Alā’, from Abū Shubrumah, from Masrūq’s wife, that ‘Āishah narrated similarly (as no. 299) from the Prophet ﷺ. (Ṣaḥīh)

٣٠٠ - حَدَّثَنَا أَحْمَدُ بْنُ سِنَانَ الْوَاسِطِيُّ: حَدَّثَنَا يَزِيدُ عَنْ أَيُّوبَ أَبِي الْعَلَاءِ، عَنْ ابْنِ شُبْرُمَةَ، عَنْ امْرَأَةِ مَسْرُوقٍ، عَنْ عَائِشَةَ عَنِ النَّبِيِّ ﷺ مِثْلَهُ.

Abū Dāwud said: The Ḥadīth of ‘Adī bin Thābit, Al-A‘mash from Ḥabīb, and Ayyūb Abū Al-‘Alā’, all of them are weak, they are not correct. What proves the weakness of this narration of Al-A‘mash from Ḥabīb is that Ḥafṣ bin Ghiyāth narrated it from Al-A‘mash in a Mawqūf form, and Ḥafṣ bin Ghiyāth rejected the idea that the narration of Ḥabīb was Marfū’. Asbāṭ also reported it from Al-A‘mash in Mawqūf form from ‘Āishah.

قال أبو داود: وَحَدِيثُ عَدِيِّ بْنِ ثَابِتٍ وَالْأَعْمَشِ عَنْ حَبِيبٍ وَأَيُّوبَ أَبِي الْعَلَاءِ كُلِّهَا ضَعِيفَةٌ لَا تَصُحُّ. وَدَلَّ عَلَى ضَعْفِ حَدِيثِ الْأَعْمَشِ عَنْ حَبِيبٍ هَذَا الْحَدِيثُ أَوْفَقَهُ حَفْصُ بْنُ غِيَاثٍ عَنِ الْأَعْمَشِ. وَأَنْكَرَ حَفْصُ بْنُ غِيَاثٍ أَنْ يَكُونَ حَدِيثُ حَبِيبٍ مَرْفُوعًا. وَأَوْفَقَهُ أَيْضًا أَشْبَاطُ عَنِ الْأَعْمَشِ مَوْفُوفٌ عَنِ عَائِشَةَ.

Abū Dāwud said: Ibn Dāwud reported it from Al-A‘mash, in a Marfū’ form in the beginning of it, and he rejected that it contained the mention of Wuḍū' for every prayer.

قال أبو داود: وَرَوَاهُ ابْنُ دَاوُدَ عَنِ الْأَعْمَشِ مَرْفُوعًا أَوْلُهُ وَأَنْكَرَ أَنْ يَكُونَ فِيهِ الْوُضُوءُ عِنْدَ كُلِّ صَلَاةٍ. وَدَلَّ عَلَى ضَعْفِ حَدِيثِ حَبِيبٍ هَذَا أَنْ رِوَايَةَ الزُّهْرِيِّ عَنِ عُرْوَةَ، عَنْ عَائِشَةَ قَالَتْ: فَكَانَتْ تَغْتَسِلُ لِكُلِّ صَلَاةٍ فِي حَدِيثِ الْمُسْتَحَاضَةِ.

What proves the weakness of this narration of Ḥabīb is the report of Az-Zuhrī from ‘Urwah from ‘Āishah, that she said: “So she would perform Ghusl for every prayer” in the Ḥadīth about the one who suffers from Istihāḍah.

Abū Al-Yaqzān reported from ‘Adī bin Thābit, from his father, from

‘Alī; and ‘Ammār the freed slave of Banū Hashim reported from Ibn ‘Abbās; and ‘Abdul-Mālik bin Maisarah, Bayān, Mughīrah, Firās, Mujālid — all reported from Ash-Sha‘bī, from the narration of Qamīr, from ‘Āishah: “Perform Wuḍū’ for every prayer.”

And the narration of Dāwud and ‘Āshim from Ash-Sha‘bī, from Qamīr, from ‘Āishah says that she performs Ghusl every day, once. And Hishām bin ‘Urwah reported from his father that the woman who suffers from Istihāḍah performs Wuḍū’ for every prayer.

All of these Aḥādīth are weak except the narration of Qamīr, the narration of ‘Ammār the freed slave of Banū Hāshim, and the narration of Hishām bin ‘Urwah from his father. And what is popular from Ibn ‘Abbās is the Ghusl.

Chapter (...) Those Who Said: She Should Perform Ghusl From One Zuhr (Prayer) to The Next Zuhr (Prayer)

301. Sumayyī, the freed-slave of Abū Bakr, was sent by Al-Qa‘aqā‘ and Zaid bin Aslam to Sa‘eed bin Al-Musayyab in order to ask him about the Ghusl that a woman with Istihāḍah performs. He (Sa‘eed) replied: “She should perform Ghusl from Zuhr to Zuhr, and perform Wuḍū’ for every prayer (in

 Abū Dāwud said: It has been related from Ibn ‘Umar and Anas bin Mālik that they said: “She should perform Ghusl from Zuhr to Zuhr”. And similar has been reported from Dāwud and ‘Āsim from Ash-Sha‘bī, from a wife of his, from Qamīr, from ‘Āishah, except that Dāwud said: “Every day,” while in the narration of ‘Āsim it was: “At Zuhr.” And this is the saying of Sālim bin ‘Abdullāh, Al-Ḥasan and ‘Aṭā’.

Abū Dāwud said: Mālik (bin Anas) said: “I think that the narration of Ibn Al-Musayyab: ‘...From purity (Ṭuhr) to purity (Ṭuhr),’ has been changed by some narrators to: ‘...Zuhr to Zuhr,’ so they made a mistake in (narrating) it.”

Miswar bin ‘Abdul-Mālik bin Sa‘eed bin ‘Abdur-Raḥmān bin Yarbū’ said in it: ‘From Ṭuhr to Ṭuhr,’ but the narrators changed it to: “From Zuhr to Zuhr.”

Comments:

Nifās refers to the bleeding that occurs after giving birth to a child. It is not required upon the woman to make up any of the prayers missed during Nifās and menstruation.

312. It was reported from Mussah that she said: “I went for Hajj, so I visited Umm Salamah. I asked her: ‘O Mother of the Believers! Samurah bin Jundab commands women to make up the prayers that they missed during their menses.’^[1] She said: ‘She should not make them up. The women of the Prophet ﷺ would sit during their post-partum bleeding for forty nights, and the Prophet ﷺ did not command the woman with post-partum bleeding to make up her prayers.’” (Hasan)

Chapter 120. Performing Ghusl After Menses

(المعجم ١٢٠) - بَابُ الْإِغْتِسَالِ مِنَ الْحَيْضِ (التحفة ١٢٢)

Unexpectedly (I saw) my blood (on it), and that was the first menses that I had. So I secured myself on the camel, and was embarrassed (to get down). When the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ saw my state, and the blood, he said: 'What is the matter with you? Perhaps you have had your menses?' I said: 'Yes.' He said: 'Then take care of yourself, then take a container with water, and throw some salt in it and wash the area of the saddle that has been touched by the blood. Then return to your riding place (on the saddle).'" She said: "So when the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ captured Khaibar, he distributed some of the spoils of war to us." Chapter 121. The Tayammum

(المعجم ١٢١) - بَابُ التَّيْمُمِ

(التحفة ١٢٣)

317. ‘Āishah narrated: “The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ sent Usaid bin Ḥudair and other people with him to find a necklace that ‘Āishah had lost. The time for prayer came (and they did not had any water), so they offered prayers without Wudū’. They came back to the Prophet ﷺ and informed him about it, after which the Verse of Tayammum was revealed.”

Ibn Nufail (one of the narrators) added: Usaid said to her (‘Āishah): “May Allāh have mercy on you! There is no matter which you dislike that occurs to you except

320. Ibn ‘Abbās narrated from ‘Ammār bin Yāsir that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ spent the night at (a place called) Uwlāt Al-Jaish, and ‘Āishah was with him. An onyx necklace of hers from (the city) of Zifār broke (and was lost), so the people were held back searching for that necklace of hers. (The time for) Fajr came upon the people, and they did not had any water with them. At this, Abū Bakr, may Allāh be pleased with him, became angry at her, and said: "You have held the people back, and they do not have any water!" So Allāh, the Most High in His remembrance, revealed to the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ the concession of purifying themselves with pure earth. The Muslims stood up with the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ, and struck the ground with their hands. They then lifted up their hands without taking any sand in it, and wiped their faces and hands until their shoulders, and (wiped) with the inside of their hands until the armpits.

٣٢٠ - حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ أَحْمَدَ بْنِ أَبِي حَلَفٍ وَمُحَمَّدُ بْنُ يَحْيَى النَّيْسَابُورِيُّ فِي آخِرِينَ قَالُوا: حَدَّثَنَا يَعْقُوبُ: حَدَّثَنَا أَبِي عَنْ صَالِحٍ، عَنْ ابْنِ شَهَابٍ: حَدَّثَنِي عُبَيْدُ اللَّهِ بْنُ

In his narration, Ibn Yaḥyā (one of the narrators) said: "In his narration, Ibn Shihāb said: 'People do not take this (Hadīth).'" (Saḥīḥ) Abū Dāwud said: Similar was reported from Ibn Ishāq, he said in it: "From Ibn 'Abbās." And he mentioned (striking the ground) two times just as was mentioned by Yūnus. Ma'mar reported it from Az-Zuhrī: "Two times." And Mālik said: "From Az-Zuhrī, from 'Ubaidullāh bin 'Abdullāh, from his father, from 'Ammār."

And Abū Uwais said similarly: "From 'Ubaidullāh, from his father, or, from 'Ubaidullāh, from Ibn 'Abbās" — one time he said: "From his father" and one time he said: "From Ibn 'Abbās." Ibn

Comments:

1. This is among the proofs that demonstrate that there may be cases where a Muslim has to excersise his or her own judgment until verifying what is appropriate.
2. Based upon what is authentic of the narrations regarding Tayammum, one pats the two hands on clean earth, and rubs the dust on their face and hands. Tayammum suffices whenever one cannot find water for major and minor purification.

321. Shaqīq narrated: "I was sitting with 'Abdullāh (bin Mas'ūd) and Abū Mūsā (Al-Ash'ari). Abū Mūsā said: 'O Abū 'Abdur-Rahmān! Tell me, if a person became sexually impure, and did not find water for an (entire) month, would he not perform the Tayammum?' He said: 'No, even if he did not find any water for an (entire) month!' Abū Mūsā said: 'Then what will you do with this Verse in Sūrat Al-Mā'idah: Then if you do not find water, perform Tayammum with pure earth.'^[2] 'Abdullāh replied: 'If this concession were to be given to them, it is possible that if the water became cold, they would perform Tayammum with sand!' So Abū

He ﷺ said: “It is sufficient for you...” and then the Prophet ﷺ hit his hand on the ground, blew on it, and wiped his face and hands. Salamah (one of the narrators) was in doubt, did he say: “...up to the elbows,” or, “...up to the hands.” (Ṣaḥīḥ)

It was reported from ‘Abdur-Rahmān bin Hurmuz, from ‘Umair, the freed slave Ibn ‘Abbās — he heard him saying: “I went with ‘Abdullāh bin Yasār, the freed-slave of Maimunah, the wife of the Prophet ﷺ, to Abū Al-Juhaim bin Al-Hārith bin Aṣ-Ṣimmah Al-Anṣārī. Chapter 123. The Sexually Impure Person Performing Tayammum

332. Abū Dharr narrated: "Once, the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ collected a few goats. He said (to me): 'O Abū Dharr! Go take them to the pasture.' So I took them to the pasture at Ar-Rabadhah. Sometimes I would become sexually impure, so I would wait five or six (days, without purifying myself). I returned to the Prophet ﷺ, and he said: 'Abū Dharr?' I remained quiet, and he said: 'May your mother lose you O Abū Dharr, may your mother grieve!' So he called a black slave-girl for me, and she came with a large container filled with water. She covered me (from view) with a cloth, and I covered myself (also) with a saddle, and performed Ghusl. I felt as if I had unloaded a mountain off my back! He (the Prophet ﷺ) said: 'Pure earth is the Wudū' of a Muslim, even (if this lasts) up to ten years! But when you find water, then let it touch your skin, for that is better.'" Musad-dad (one of the narrators) said: "...goats from charity..." And the narration of 'Amr (quoted here) is more complete. (Hasan)

When I would become sexually impure, I would pray without purification. So I came to the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ during mid-day, and he was with a group of his Companions, in the shade of the Masjid. The Prophet ﷺ said: “Abū Dharr?” I said: “Yes. I have been destroyed, O Messenger of Allāh.’ He said: “And what has destroyed you?” I said: “I was far away from water, and with my family. So when I would become sexually impure, I would pray without purifying myself!” The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ then commanded water (to be bought), and a black slave-girl bought it in a large container. It (the water) was splashing in it, for it was not full. I covered myself close to a camel, then performed Ghusl and came (to him). The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: “O Abū Dharr! I felt that if I performed Ghusl I might kill (myself), so I performed Tayammum, and led my companions in Ṣubḥ (Fajr prayer). Comments:

In this Ḥadīth is proof that the person who fears for himself, due to the extreme cold, that using water will be dangerous for him, then he is allowed to perform Tayammum. Similarly, it proves that the one who has performed Tayammum may lead those who performed Wuḍū’ in prayer.

335. It was reported from ‘Abdur-Raḥmān bin Jubair, from Abū Qais, the freed-slave of ‘Amr bin Al-‘Āṣ, “That ‘Amr bin Al-‘Āṣ was the leader of a military expedition...” and he mentioned the remaining incident (as in no. 334), and said, “So he washed his private areas, and performed the Wuḍū’ of prayer. He then led them in prayer...” and the rest of the narration is the same. And he did not mention the Tayammum. (Ṣaḥīḥ)

Abū Dāwud said: This story was reported from Al-Awzā’ī, from Ḥassān bin ‘Aṭīyah, he said in it: “He performed Tayammum.”

Chapter 125. The Wounded Person Performing Tayammum

336. Jābir narrated: “We were on a journey. A person with us was hit by a rock, so his head was (inflicted with a) wound. He then had a wet-dream. He asked his companions: ‘Do you think that I have a concession to perform Tayammum?’ They said: ‘We don’t think that you are allowed this concession while you are capable of using water.’ So he performed Ghusl, and (due to it) died. When we returned to the Prophet ﷺ, he was informed of what occurred. He said: ‘They killed him, may Allāh kill them! Why did they not ask if they did not know? Verily, the cure to ignorance is asking! It would have been sufficient for him to perform Tayammum, and to drop (some water on his head), or to tie a bandage over his wound — Mūsā (one of the narrators) was not sure which wording was correct — then to wipe over it, and wash the rest of his body.’” (Da'if)

Comments:

“The wounded person...” In our edition, the term is: “Al-Majdūr” and it means afflicted with small pox. Ad-Dāraqūṭnī, Al-Bazzār, Ibn Khuzaimah, Al-Hākim, and Al-Baihaqī recorded a narration from Ibn ‘Abbās, in which he commented on Allāh’s saying: “But if you are ill or on a journey” (Al-Mā’idah 5:6) — saying: “When a man has wounds suffered in the cause of Allāh, or ulcerated lesions, or small pox, and he becomes sexually impure, and he fears death if he performs Ghusl, then he may perform Tayammum.” The chain of narration is weak, see number 272 of Ṣaḥīḥ Ibn Khuzaimah. Perhaps the author intended to infer what is mentioned in that narration of Ibn ‘Abbās, since he narrated a different version from him in this chapter. In some other editions, the chapter is entitled as "Al-Majrūh," meaning "wounded" as we have translated it here, and most of the Sunan books have a chapter with Majrūh rather than Majdūr.

337. ‘Abdullāh bin ‘Abbās said: “A person was wounded during the time of the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ. He then had a wet-dream. He was commanded to perform Ghusl. So he performed Ghusl, and (because of it) died. This news reached the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ, who said: ‘They killed him, may Allāh kill them! Is not the cure to ignorance asking?’” (Sahih)

٣٣٧ - حَدَّثَنَا نَضْرُ بْنُ عَاصِمٍ الْأَنْطَاكِيُّ: حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ شُعَيْبٍ: أَخْبَرَنِي الْأَوْزَاعِيُّ أَنَّهُ بَلَغَهُ عَنْ عَطَاءِ بْنِ أَبِي رَبَاحٍ أَنَّهُ سَمِعَ عَبْدَ اللَّهِ بْنَ عَبَّاسٍ قَالَ: أَصَابَ رَجُلًا جُرْحٌ فِي عَهْدِ رَسُولِ اللَّهِ ﷺ ثُمَّ احْتَلَمَ، فَأَمَرَ بِالْأَغْتِسَالِ، فَأَغْتَسَلَ فَمَاتَ، فَبَلَغَ ذَلِكَ رَسُولَ اللَّهِ ﷺ، فَقَالَ: «قَتَلُوهُ قَتَلَهُمُ اللَّهُ، أَلَمْ يَكُنْ شِفَاءَ الْعِيِّ السُّؤَالَ».

338. It was reported from ‘Atā’ bin Yasār from Abū Sa‘eed Al-Khudrī, that he said: “Two people left on a journey. The time for prayer came, and they did not had any water. They performed Tayammum with pure earth, and prayed. They then found water within the time (for the prayer), so one of them repeated the prayer after performing Wudu’, whereas the other did not. They then came to the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ, and mentioned this to him. He said to the one who did not repeat (the prayer): ‘You have correctly performed the Sunnah, and your prayer is sufficient for you.’ And he said to the one who performed Wuḍū’ and repeated (the prayer): ‘You get the reward twice.’” (Hasan)

Abū Dāwud said: Others besides Ibn Nāfi’ (one of the narrators) reported this from Al-Laiṭh, from ‘Umair bin Abī Nājiyah, from Bakr bin Sawādah, from ‘Aṭā’ bin Yasār, from the Prophet ﷺ.

Abū Dāwud said: The mention of Abū Sa’eed in this Hadīth has not been preserved, and it is Mursal.

قال أبو داود: وَعَبْرُ ابْنِ نَافِعٍ يَرْوِيهِ عَنِ اللَّيْثِ، عَنِ عَمِيرَةَ بْنِ أَبِي نَاجِيَةَ، عَنِ بَكْرِ بْنِ سَوَادَةَ، عَنِ عَطَاءِ بْنِ يَسَارٍ عَنِ النَّبِيِّ ﷺ.

قال أبو داود: ذَكَرُ أَبِي سَعِيدٍ فِي هَذَا الْحَدِيثِ لَيْسَ بِمَحْفُوظٍ هُوَ مُرْسَلٌ.

Comments:

It is better to perform Ṣalāt in its earlier time. If one perform’s Ṣalāt with Tayammum and afterwards, water becomes available for Wuḍū’ during the time for that same Ṣalāt, there is no need to repeat that Ṣalāt. If one does repeat that Ṣalāt with Wuḍū’ then they gain a double reward.

Chapter 127. Performing Ghusl For The Friday Prayer

(المعجم ١٢٧) بَابُ: فِي الْغُسْلِ
لِلْجُمُعَةِ (التحفة ١٢٩)

340. Abū Hurairah narrated that once ‘Umar bin Al-Khaṭṭāb was giving the Friday sermon when a man entered (the Masjid). ‘Umar said: “Are you delayed in coming to the prayer?” The man responded: “As soon as I heard the call to prayer (Adhān), I performed the Wuḍū’ (and came).” ‘Umar said: “And Wuḍū’ as well? Did you not hear the saying of the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ: ‘When one of you comes to the Friday prayer, let him perform Ghusl?’” (Ṣaḥīḥ)

٣٤٠ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو تَوْبَةَ الرَّبِيعُ بْنُ نَافِعٍ: حَدَّثَنَا مُعَاوِيَةُ عَنْ يَحْيَى: أَخْبَرَنِي أَبُو سَلَمَةَ ابْنُ عَبْدِ الرَّحْمَنِ أَنَّ أَبَا هُرَيْرَةَ أَخْبَرَهُ: أَنَّ عُمَرَ بْنَ الْخَطَّابِ بَيْنَا هُوَ يَخْطُبُ يَوْمَ الْجُمُعَةِ إِذْ دَخَلَ رَجُلٌ، فَقَالَ عُمَرُ: أَتَحْتَسِبُونَ عَنِ الصَّلَاةِ؟ فَقَالَ الرَّجُلُ: مَا هُوَ إِلَّا أَنْ سَمِعْتُ النَّدَاءَ فَتَوَضَّأْتُ. قَالَ عُمَرُ: الْوُضُوءُ أَيْضًا! أَوْ لَمْ تَسْمَعُوا رَسُولَ اللَّهِ ﷺ يَقُولُ: «إِذَا أَتَى أَحَدَكُمْ الْجُمُعَةَ فَلْيَغْتَسِلْ!»

Comments:

The man who came late during the Khuṭbah was ‘Uthmān. This is among the texts used as proof that Ghusl on Friday is obligatory, as well as an attendee to the Friday Khuṭbah replying to the Khaṭīb when requested by him during the Khuṭbah.

341. Abū Sa‘eed Al-Khudrī reported that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: “The Ghusl on Friday is required for every male of age.”^[1] (Ṣaḥīḥ)

٣٤١ - حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ اللَّهِ بْنُ مَسْلَمَةَ بْنِ مَعْمَرٍ عَنْ مَالِكٍ، عَنْ صَفْوَانَ بْنِ سُلَيْمٍ، عَنْ عَطَاءِ بْنِ يَسَارٍ، عَنْ أَبِي سَعِيدٍ الْخُدْرِيِّ: أَنَّ رَسُولَ اللَّهِ ﷺ قَالَ: «غُسْلُ يَوْمِ الْجُمُعَةِ وَاجِبٌ عَلَى كُلِّ مُحْتَلِمٍ».

342. Ibn ‘Umar reported from Ḥafṣah, that the Prophet ﷺ said:

٣٤٢ - حَدَّثَنَا يَزِيدُ بْنُ خَالِدِ الرَّثَمَلِيِّ: حَدَّثَنَا الْمُفَضَّلُ يَعْنِي ابْنَ فَضَالَةَ، عَنْ عِيَّاشِ

“It is required for every male of age to go to the Friday prayer, and it is required upon the one who goes to the Friday prayer to perform Ghusl.” (Sahih)

Abū Dāwud said: If a man performs Ghusl after Fajr time has begun, then this is sufficient for the Friday Ghusl, even if he were sexually impure.

تخريج: [إسناده صحيح] أخرجه النسائي، الجمعة، باب التشديد في التخلف عن الجمعة، ح: ١٣٧٢ من حديث المفضل بن فضالة به وصححه ابن خزيمة، ح: ١٧٢١ وابن حبان (الإحسان)، ح: ١٢١٧.

343. Abū Sa‘eed Al-Khudrī and Abū Hurairah both narrated from the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ that he said: “Whoever performs Ghusl on Friday, and wears some of his best clothes, and applies some perfume if he has it, then comes to the Friday prayer, and does not step over people’s necks, and prays what Allāh has written for him (to pray), and listens quietly when his Imām comes out (for the sermon) until he completes the prayer, then this will (serve as an) expiation for whatever (sins) occurred between it and the Friday prayer before it.” He said:^[1] “And Abū Hurairah would say: ‘...and three days in excess to this.’” And he would say: “Every good deed is (rewarded) ten times its due.” (Hasan)

Abū Dāwud said: The narration of Muḥammad bin Salamah (one of the narrators) is more complete;

ابن عَبَّاسٍ، عن بُكَيْرٍ، عن نَافِعٍ، عن ابنِ عُمَرَ، عن حَفْصَةَ عن النَّبِيِّ ﷺ قال: «عَلَى كُلِّ مُحْتَلِمٍ رَوَاحُ الْجُمُعَةِ، وَعَلَى كُلِّ مَنْ رَاحَ الْجُمُعَةَ الْغُسْلُ».

There is a difference of opinion about the precise interpretation of this sentence. See nos. 349 and 350. It has been translated according to one of the more general interpretations, and Allāh knows best. After no. 496, At-Tirmidhī said: "Regarding this Ḥadīth, Maḥmūd (one of the narrators) said: Wakī' said: "Whoever performs Ghusl" refers to him; "and bathes completely" refers to his wife.' It has been reported that [‘Abdullāh] bin Al-Mubārak said about this Ḥadīth: "Whoever bathes completely" and "Whoever performs Ghusl" means washes his head and performs Ghusl. Ibn Al-Mubārak is one of the narrators in no, 1087 of Ibn Mājah, as well as this narration (345) of Abū Dāwūd, while it is Wakī' in no. 496 of At-Tirmidhī. These two views reported by At-Tirmidhī are the most popular. In Tuḥfat Al-Aḥwadhī, Al-Mubārakpūrī preferred the second view, that of Ibn Al-Mubārak, while in his notes on Ibn Mājah, As-Sindī quoted As-Suyūṭī's view, which elaborated on the first view, that of Wakī'. Most of them say that "Goes early, arriving early" means at the early time for the prayer, and early for the Khuṭbah.

346. (There is another chain) From Aws Ath-Thaqafī, from the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ that he said: "Whoever washes (Ghassala) his head and Ightasal (performs Ghusl) on Friday..." and the rest is the same (as no. 345). (Ṣaḥīh)

Comments:

They interpreted it this way, and some of them explained it: "Because the 'Arabs used to have long hair."

351. Abū Hurairah reported that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: "Whoever performs Ghusl on Friday, the Ghusl of sexual impurity, then goes (to the Masjid), it is as if he has offered (as sacrifice) a camel. And whoever goes during the second hour, it is as if he has offered (as sacrifice) a cow. And whoever goes during the third hour, it is as if he has offered (as sacrifice) a horned sheep. And whoever goes during the fourth hour, it is as if he has offered (as sacrifice) a hen. And whoever goes during the fifth hour, it is as if he has offered (as sacrifice) an egg. And when the Imām comes out, the angels come in order to listen to the remembrance." (Ṣaḥīḥ)

Comments:

Even though it is correct that they attended the Friday prayer, those who come after the Khaṭīb begins the Khuṭbah will have less of a reward. According to similar and more detailed versions of this Ḥadīth, the Angels close their records after the Imām appears to start the Khuṭbah (see. No. 1986 of Ṣaḥīḥ Muslim). It should be noted that the example of an egg is given here only to explain the reward that one gets for offering a camel, a cow, etc. It does not mean that an egg can be offered as a sacrifice.

Chapter 128. The Permissibility Of Not Performing Ghusl On Friday

352. 'Aishah said: "People used to work for themselves, and would come back to the Friday prayers in the same state (as they would be in their work). So it was said to them: 'If only you were to perform Ghusl.'" (Sahih)

353. 'Ikrimah reported that a group of people came to Ibn 'Abbās from Al-'Irāq. They said: "O Ibn 'Abbās, do you think that Ghusl on Friday is obligatory?" He replied: "No, but it is purer and better for the one who performs Ghusl. And whoever does not perform Ghusl, then it is not obligatory for him. And I will inform you how (this) Ghusl started. People used to work hard; they would wear wool garments, and work with their backs (meaning, manual labor). And their Masjid was small, with a low roof, made out of palm-leaves. One day, the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ came out on a hot day, and people were sweating in their wool garments, until the stench from them harmed (disturbed and distracted) others. When the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ smelt this odor, he said: 'O people! When this day arrives, then perform Ghusl, and let everyone of you apply the best oil and

Comments:

These narrations are proof for the majority, those who say that Ghusl for the Friday prayer is recommended, and more virtuous, but not absolutely obligatory. In the explanation of Ibn ‘Abbās, the causes of the order to perform Ghusl are explained in detail, making it the most complete and comprehensive means of Fiqh (understanding) of this topic, and harmonizing all of the narrations related to it. Since he said: "I will inform you how (this) Ghusl started..." and, that on this occasion, Allāh’s Messenger ﷺ said: "O people! When this day arrives, then perform Ghusl..." So Ibn ‘Abbās is one of those who reported the order to perform Ghusl on Friday. Scholars consider the explanation of the circumstances surrounding a Hadīth, as they consider the explanation of the circumstances of the revelation of a Verse of the Qur’ān — as well as the interpretation of a Companion who narrated the Hadīth — among the safest means of attaining Fiqh from the text.

354. Samurah reported that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: “Whoever performs Wuḍū’ on Friday, then that is sufficient and acceptable, and whoever performs Ghusl then that is more virtuous.” (Hasan)

356. It was reported from Ibn Juraij who said: “I was informed from ‘Uthaim bin Kulaib, from his father, from his grandfather, that he came to the Prophet ﷺ and said: “I have accepted Islam.” So the Prophet ﷺ told him: “Remove from yourself the hair of disbelief,” it was said: (meaning) shave it off. He said:^[1] “Another one informed me that the Prophet ﷺ said to another one with him: ‘Remove from yourself the hair of disbelief, and (get yourself) circumcised.’”^[2] (Da‘if)

[1] According to the author of ‘Awn Al-Ma‘būd the speaker here is the father of ‘Uthaim, but it is also possible it was Ibn Juraij, since he did not name the person he heard it from, saying only: “I was informed from ‘Uthaim” meaning: “Someone told me, reporting it from ‘Uthaim.” And it is said by some of the Huffāz that the person Ibn Juraij heard this from was Ibrāhīm bin Muhammad bin Abī Yahyā.

[2] They say the meaning of “the hair of disbelief,” is a specific area of their hair which their people wore as a trait to distinguish them, never cutting it, and that the order was to shave that off, or to shave all of the hair because of that.

Comments:

A person who accepts Islam should perform Ghushl. After accepting Islam, dress and hair style which resembles the disbelievers should be removed. It is not allowed to imitate the dress and hair style of the disbelievers. The scholars have explained that the meaning of "the hair of disbelief" refers to a hair style indicative of a disbeliever. Circumcision is one of the signs of Islam and the Prophet ﷺ ordered circumcision. Circumcision is an obligation upon males after accepting Islam.

Chapter 130. A Woman Washes Her Garment That She Wears During Her Menses [To Pray In]

357. Mu'adhah said: "I asked 'Āishah about the menstruating woman whose garment was touched by blood. She said: 'She should wash it, then if its traces are still left, let her change it (the spot) with (something) yellowish in color. And I used to menstruate during the time of the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ three times without washing my garment.'" (Hasan)

Comments:

She did not always have to wash the garment because it did not have menstrual blood on it in every case. This is a proof that if the blood does not touch the clothes, there is no need to wash them. Similarly the sweat and saliva of a menstruating woman is not impure.

358. 'Āishah said: "We would only have one garment, in which we would menstruate. If some blood fell on it, we would moisten (the area) with our saliva, then we would scratch it off with our nails while it was wet with saliva." (Sahih)

Comments:

Considering all of the narrations from ‘Aishah, and the wording of this narration, it is apparent that she would do this to the garment during menstruation, and also wash it later, meaning, after her menses had ended, this is explained by Al-Hāfiz Ibn Hajar in his comments on this Hadīth in Ṣaḥīḥ Al-Bukhārī no. 312.

359. Bakkār bin Yaḥyā narrated from his grandmother, that she said: “I visited Umm Salamah, and a woman from the Quraish asked her about praying in the garment that she had her menses in. Umm Salamah said: ‘We would be in our menses during the time of the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ, so we would wait during the days of our menses (i.e., would not offer prayers), then become pure. We would then look at the garment we had menstruated in. If there was any blood on it, we would wash it and pray in it. And if nothing had affected it, we would leave it, and the fact (that we had our menses in it) would not prevent us from praying in it. As for the woman who has her hair done — and some of us would have our hair done^[1]

— then while performing Ghusl, she would not undo that. Instead, she would pour over her head three fistfuls (of water), until, when she thought that the water had reached the roots of the hair, she would rub it. Then she would pour water over the entire body.’”

تخريج: أخرجه مسلم، الصلاة، باب الاعتراض بين يدي المصلي، ح: ٥١٤ من حديث وكيع به.

Comments:

1. There is no contradiction between the narrations of this chapter and those of the previous chapter. The Prophet (ﷺ) usually did not pray in the garments of his wives, but when he was sure that the garments are clean and pure he prayed in them.
2. If a woman is sitting, lying or even sleeping near or in front of where one is praying, there is no harm in it.
3. In the early years of Islam the Muslims were not very well off, and usually a husband and wife had only one blanket for their use. See also number 631.

Comments:

If some part of the ground is defiled with urine, it should be cleaned by pouring water upon it. There is no need to excavate any of the area; pouring water upon it is enough. People should be dealt with politely, and with wisdom, and they should be educated, especially in the basic knowledge of faith and religion.

If the foot, shoe or part of the garment gets defiled with some impure dirt etc., it can be cleaned and purified by rubbing on the clean ground. If the substance is in liquid form, like urine or anything else like it, the garment, foot or shoe must be washed with water. (See the following chapter.)

2. THE BOOK OF AṢ-ṢALĀT (THE PRAYER)

(المعجم ٢) - أَوَّلُ كِتَابِ الصَّلَاةِ
(التحفة ٢)

Performing the five daily prayers, or Salāt, is the most important obligatory deed after uttering the two testimonies of faith, and abandoning Salāt is a form of disbelief.

Chapter 1. The Obligation To Perform The Ṣalāt (Prayers)

(المعجم ١) - [بَابُ فَرَضِ الصَّلَاةِ]
(التحفة ١)

391. It was reported from Abū Suhail bin Mālik from his father, that he heard Ṭalḥah bin 'Ubaidullāh saying: "A person from the people of Najd came to the Messenger Allāh ﷺ whose hair was dishevelled, and the sound of his voice could be heard, but (we) could not understand what he was saying until he came close (to the Prophet ﷺ). Then he began to ask about Islam. The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: 'There are five prayers in a day and night.' He said: 'Is there any that are obligatory upon me besides these?' He said: 'No, unless you wish to do so voluntarily.' And the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ mentioned the fast of Ramaḍān to him, so he asked: 'Is there any that is obligatory upon me besides it?' He said: 'No, unless you wish to do so voluntarily.' And the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ also mentioned the charity to him.^[1]

٣٩١ - حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ اللَّهِ بْنُ مَسْلَمَةَ عَنْ مَالِكٍ، عَنْ عَمِّهِ أَبِي سُهَيْلٍ بْنِ مَالِكٍ، عَنْ أَبِيهِ أَنَّهُ سَمِعَ طَلْحَةَ بْنَ عُبَيْدِ اللَّهِ يَقُولُ: جَاءَ رَجُلٌ إِلَى رَسُولِ اللَّهِ ﷺ مِنْ أَهْلِ نَجْدٍ نَائِرَ الرَّأْسِ يُسْمَعُ دَوِيُّ صَوْتِهِ وَلَا يُفْقَهُ مَا يَقُولُ، فَحَتَّى دَنَا فَإِذَا هُوَ يَسْأَلُ عَنِ الْإِسْلَامِ، فَقَالَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ ﷺ: «خَمْسُ صَلَوَاتٍ فِي الْيَوْمِ وَاللَّيْلَةِ». قَالَ: هَلْ عَلَيَّ غَيْرُهُنَّ؟ قَالَ: «لَا، إِلَّا أَنْ تَطَوَّعَ». - قَالَ: - وَذَكَرَ لَهُ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ ﷺ صِيَامَ شَهْرِ رَمَضَانَ. قَالَ: هَلْ عَلَيَّ غَيْرُهُ؟ قَالَ: «لَا، إِلَّا أَنْ تَطَوَّعَ». قَالَ: - وَذَكَرَ لَهُ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ ﷺ الصَّدَقَةَ. قَالَ: فَهَلْ عَلَيَّ غَيْرُهَا؟ قَالَ: «لَا، إِلَّا أَنْ تَطَوَّعَ». فَأَدْبَرَ الرَّجُلُ وَهُوَ يَقُولُ: وَاللَّهِ! لَا أَزِيدُ عَلَى هَذَا وَلَا أَنْقُصُ. فَقَالَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ ﷺ: «أَفْلَحَ إِنْ صَدَّقَ».

[1] Meaning, the obligatory Zakāt.

He said: 'Is there any that is obligatory upon me besides this?'

He said: 'No, unless you wish to do so voluntarily.' So the man turned away (to leave) and said: 'I swear by Allāh I will not do more than this, nor less!' The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ then said: 'He has succeeded, if he is truthful.'

392. (There is another chain) from Abū Suhail Nāfi' Ibn Mālik bin Abī 'Āmir, with his chain of narrators for this Hadīth (no. 391). He (ﷺ) said: "He has succeeded — by his father — if he is truthful, and he has entered Paradise — by his father — if he is truthful."^[1]

٣٩٢ - حَدَّثَنَا سُلَيْمَانُ بْنُ دَاوُدَ: حَدَّثَنَا إِسْمَاعِيلُ بْنُ جَعْفَرِ الْمَدَنِيِّ عَنْ أَبِي سُهَيْلٍ نَافِعِ بْنِ مَالِكِ بْنِ أَبِي عَامِرٍ بِإِسْنَادِهِ بِهَذَا الْحَدِيثِ قَالَ: «أَفْلَحَ وَأَبِيهِ إِنْ صَدَقَ، وَدَخَلَ الْجَنَّةَ وَأَبِيهِ إِنْ صَدَقَ».

[1] The phrase: "by his father," is a form of an oath that was common among the Arabs. Scholars differ in explanation of it here, since the Prophet ﷺ himself prohibited swearing or giving an oath by other than Allāh. Others stated that the Prophet ﷺ said so before the prohibition to swear by other than Allāh was revealed. Another interpretation is that this phrase might outwardly appear to be an oath, but is not actually considered one due to its frequent use by the Arabs (in other words, the custom of the Arabs was not to use this phrase as an oath, even though linguistically it appears to be an oath), or that its meaning is: "by the Lord of his father" and this was to be understood, but later it was prohibited. A few scholars were reported to have said that this phrase was added by one of the narrators. Whatever the correct interpretation is of this phrase, scholars agree that it is not permissible to give an oath or swear by any of the creatures.

Chapter 2. The Times Of Aṣ-Ṣalāt

(المعجم ٢) بَابُ: فِي الْمَوَاقِيْتِ (التحفة ٢)

393. Ibn ‘Abbās reported that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: “Jibrīl — peace be upon him — led me in prayer at the House^[1] twice. So he prayed Zuhr with me when the sun had passed its zenith and (the shadow) was the length of a sandal strap.^[2] And he prayed ‘Aṣr with me when the shadow was equivalent in length (to an object). And he prayed — meaning Maghrib — with me at the time that a person breaks his fast. And he prayed ‘Ishā’ with me when the redness of the sky disappeared. And he prayed Fajr with me at the time that eating and drinking become prohibited on a fasting person. On the next day, he prayed Zuhr with me when the shadow was equivalent in length (to an object). And he prayed ‘Aṣr with me when the shadow (of an object) was equivalent to twice its length. And he prayed Maghrib with me when the fasting person breaks his fast. And he prayed ‘Ishā’ with me after a third of the night (had passed). And he prayed Fajr with me, and the light was apparent (around us). Then he turned to face me, and said: ‘O Muḥammad! These are the times (of prayers) of the Prophets before you, and the time is

[1] Meaning, at the Ka‘bah in Makkah.

[2] “The length of a sandal strap” describes the shadow’s appearance in Makkah once it was noticeable that the sun had passed the zenith. It is not necessarily the same in every location on the earth.

Comments:

This, and the following narrations show the beginning and end of the time for obligatory Salāt, and that the Salāt is valid any time between the beginning and the end. Other narrations prove that performing Salāt during the earlier portion of its valid time is recommended, with the exception of 'Ishā' wherein it may be better to delay it to a later time within its valid time, see Aḥādith nos. 397, 398 and 420.

394. It was reported from Usāmah bin Zaid Al-Laiḥī that Ibn Shihāb narrated that ‘Umar bin ‘Abdul-‘Azīz was sitting on the Minbar, and he delayed ‘Aṣr slightly. ‘Urwah bin Az-Zubair said to him: “Verily, Jibrīl — peace be upon him — has informed Muḥammad ﷺ of the times of the prayers.” ‘Umar said: “Be careful of what you say!”

‘Urwah said: “I heard Bashīr bin Abī Mas‘ūd say, that he heard Abū Mas‘ūd Al-Anṣarī narrate, that he heard the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ say: ‘Jibrīl came down and informed me of the times of the prayers. So I prayed with him, then I prayed with him, then I prayed with him, then I prayed with him, then I prayed with him, then I prayed with him — and he (meaning the Prophet ﷺ) counted with his fingers five prayers.’ So I (meaning, Abū Mas‘ūd) saw the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ pray Zuhr when the sun started its descent (after the zenith), and he sometimes delayed it if it were hot. And I saw him praying ‘Aṣr while the sun was high and bright, before it became yellowish. A person would leave (after) the (ʿAsr) prayer and (still manage to) arrive at Dhul-Hulaifah before sunset. And he (ﷺ) would pray Maghrib when the sun set. And he would pray 'Ishā' when the skies would become dark, and sometimes he would delay it until the people congregated. And he prayed Subh (Fajr) once while it was (still) dark, and another time he prayed it while it was bright. Then after that he would pray it while it was dark, and he did this until he died, never returning (to the time) of brightness." (Ḥasan)

Abū Dāwūd said: This Ḥadīth was reported from Az-Zuhri by Ma'mar, Mālik, Ibn 'Uyaynah, Shu'aib bin Abī Ḥamzah, Al-Laith bin Sa'd, and others, and they did not mention the time he prayed in it, nor its explanation.

It was reported like that by Hishām bin 'Urwah and Ḥabīb bin Abī Marzūq, from 'Urwah similar to the narration of Ma'mar and his companions, except that Ḥabīb did not mention Bashīr in it.

Wahb bin Kaisān reported from Jābir, from the Prophet (ﷺ) regarding the time of Maghrib: "He said: 'Then he came for Maghrib when the sun disappeared,' meaning the second day — 'at the same time.'"^[1]

Abū Dāwūd said: And that is how it was related from Abū Hurairah, from the Prophet ﷺ, that he said: "Then he prayed Maghrib with me — meaning the next day — at the same time."

And this is how it has also been related from 'Abdullāh bin 'Amr bin Al-'Āṣ, through the narration of Hassān bin 'Aṭṭiyah, from 'Amr bin Shu'aib, from his father, from his grandfather, from the Prophet ﷺ.^[1]

395. Abū Mūsā narrated that a person asked the Prophet ﷺ [about the prayer times], but he did not respond to him until he ordered Bilāl to call for Fajr at the break of dawn, and he prayed while a person could not recognize the face of his companion, or when a person could not recognize who was next to him. Then he ordered Bilāl to call for Zuhr when the sun was at its zenith — when a person would say: 'Is it the middle of the day?' and he would know. Then he commanded Bilāl to call for Asr while the sun was bright and high (in the sky). Then he commanded Bilāl to call for Maghrib when the sun disappeared. And he commanded Bilāl to call for 'Ishā' when the twilight disappeared. On the next day, he prayed Fajr and (when) he left we asked: 'Has Abū Dāwud said: Sulaimān bin Mūsā reported similar to this regarding Maghrib from ‘Ātā’ from Jābir, from the Prophet ﷺ. He said: “Then he prayed ‘Ishā.” Some of them said: “After a third of the night” and others said: “...after half of it.” And it was reported like that from Ibn Buraidah, from his father, from the Prophet ﷺ.

Chapter 3. The Times Of The Prophet's ﷺ Prayers And How He Used To Pray Them

(المعجم ٣) - بَابُ وَقْتِ صَلَاةِ النَّبِيِّ ﷺ وَكَيْفَ كَانَ يُصَلِّيهَا (التحفة ٣)

397. Muḥammad bin ‘Amr — the son of Al-Ḥasan bin ‘Alī bin Abī Ṭālib — said: “We asked Jābir about the times of the prayers of the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ. He said: ‘He use to pray Zuhr when it was hot; and ‘Aṣr when the sun was still bright (Ḥayyah);^[1] and Maghrib when the sun set; and ‘Ishā’, if the people were plenty, he would pray it early, and if they were few, he would delay it; and Subḥ (Fajr) when it was still dark.” (Saḥīḥ)

Comments:

That ‘Salāt Al-Wustā’ refers to the ‘‘Asr’ prayer is the majority view. It is also

[1] Al-Baqarah 2:238.

[2] Meaning that it was recited this way, and others reported similarly. In a narration recorded by Muslim (1427) it is clear that this wording was abrogated by what is recited today.

reported from some of the Companions that it refers to other prayers, as demonstrated in these two narrations. See also no. 949.

412. Abū Hurairah narrated that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: “Whoever catches one Rak’ah of ‘Asr before the sun sets, he has caught (the whole prayer), and whoever catches one Rak’ah of Fajr before the sun rises, he has caught (the whole prayer).” (Ṣaḥīḥ)

تخریج: أخرجه مسلم، المساجد، باب من أدرك ركعة من الصلاة فقد أدرك تلك الصلاة، ح: ٦٠٨ (١٦٥) عن الحسن بن الربيع به.

Comments:

Meaning, that the prayer is valid until its time ends, and whoever performed one Rak’ah before its time ends, he has caught its time. But it does not condone delay, as is clear from the following narration.

413. Al-‘Alā’ bin ‘Abdur-Raḥmān said: “We visited Anas bin Mālik after Zuhr, so he stood up to pray ‘Asr. After he finished his prayer, we mentioned the praying early, or he mentioned it. So he said: ‘I heard the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ say: That is the prayer of the hypocrites, that is the prayer of the hypocrites, that is the prayer of the hypocrites. One of them will sit until, when the sun becomes dull yellow, and is between the two horns of a Shaitān or upon the two horns of Shaitān, he stands up and pecks out four Rak’ahs, not remembering Allāh in them except a little.” (Ṣaḥīḥ)

تخریج: أخرجه مسلم، المساجد، باب استحباب التكبير بالعصر، ح: ٦٢٢ من حديث العلاء ابن عبد الرحمن به.

Comments:

This Ḥadīth warns of the danger of delaying Ṣalāt, comparing purposeful delay of the prayer to the hypocrite. In a Hadīth of ‘Amr bin ‘Abasah, recorded by Muslim (no. 1930), it is mentioned that the time of the rising and setting of the sun is when the disbelievers prostrate to the sun.

414. It was reported from Nāfi‘, from Ibn ‘Umar, that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: “The one who misses the ‘‘Asr’ prayer, — it is as if his family and money have been taken away (Wutira).” (Ṣaḥīḥ) Abū Dāwūd said: ‘Uбайдullah bin ‘Umar said: “‘Utira” and there is disagreement in the reports from Ayyūb for that. Az-Zurhī said: “From Sālim, from his father, from the Prophet ﷺ” — who said: “‘Wutira.”

قال أبو داود: وقال عبيد الله بن عمر: «أُتِرَ» واختلف على أيوب فيه، وقال الزهري: عن سالم، عن أبيه عن النبي ﷺ قال: «وُتِرَ».

Chapter 6. The Time For Maghrib

(المعجم ٦) - بَابُ وَقْتِ الْمَغْرِبِ (التحفة ٦)

416. Anas bin Mālik narrated: “We would pray Maghrib with the Prophet ﷺ, then shoot (arrows) and we would be able to see the place the arrow (landed).” (Ṣaḥīḥ)

٤١٦ - حَدَّثَنَا دَاوُدُ بْنُ شَيْبٍ: حَدَّثَنَا حَمَادٌ عَنْ ثَابِتِ الْبُنَانِيِّ، عَنْ أَنَسِ بْنِ مَالِكٍ قَالَ: كُنَّا نَصَلِّي الْمَغْرِبَ مَعَ النَّبِيِّ ﷺ، ثُمَّ نَرْمِي فَيَرَى أَحَدُنَا مَوْضِعَ نَبْلِهِ.

Comments:

Once the top edge of the sun has disappeared, the sun has set. There is no need to wait further.

418. It was reported that Marthad bin 'Abdullāh said: "Abū Ayyūb came to us (during one of the battles) as a fighter. 'Uqbah bin 'Āmir, at that time, was (the governor) in charge of Egypt, and he delayed Maghrib. Abū Ayyūb stood up and said: 'What prayer is this, O 'Uqbah?' So he said: 'We were kept busy (by some matter).' He said: 'Did you not hear the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ say: "My nation will remain in good" or he said: "...upon the Fitrah."^[1] as long as they do not delay Maghrib until the stars appear." Chapter 7. The Time For The Later 'Ishā'^[1]

419. An-Nu'mān bin Bashīr said: "I am the most knowledgeable person regarding the time of this prayer — the later 'Ishā' prayer. The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ would pray it when the moon disappeared on the third night (of the lunar month)."^[2] (Ṣaḥīh)

420. 'Abdullāh bin 'Umar narrated: "One night, we waited for the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ to come out for the 'Ishā' prayer. He came out after a third of the night had passed, or after that. We did not know whether this (delay) was due to a matter that had kept him busy, or other than that. He said when he came out: 'Are you waiting for the prayer? Were it not for the fact that it would be a burden on my nation, I would have led them in prayer at this time.' Then he ordered the Mu'adhhdhin to call the Iqamah for the prayer." (Ṣaḥīh)

[1] Meaning, the later night prayer as it is sometimes referred to in the Hadūth literature.

[2] Meaning, according to his observations, while the amount of time it takes for the moon to set on the third will differ from place to place, and it also differs month to month in the same location, as clearly explained by Shaikh Aḥmad Shākir in his commentary on Sunan At-Tirmidhī.

422. Abū Sa‘eed Al-Khudrī narrated: “We (were waiting to) pray ‘Ishā’ with the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ, but he did not come out until around half the night had passed. He said: ‘Take your places,’ so we took our places. Then he said: ‘The people have already prayed and gone to bed, but you will continue (to be counted) as being in the state of prayer as long as you are waiting for the prayer. Were it not for the weakness of the weak, and the sickness of the sick, I would have delayed this prayer until half the night.’” (Ṣaḥīḥ)

Comments:

Based upon these, and similar narrations, it is considered recommended by most of the scholars that the 'Ishā' prayer be offered at a later time within its valid time, provided that it is not a burden upon the people, as indicated in number 422. The congregational 'Ishā' prayer should be held at a time that is suitable for the majority of the attendees to come, and it should not be regularly delayed if doing so will make it difficult upon the people, as also explained in these narrations.

Chapter 8. The Time For The Ṣubḥ (Fajr The Morning Prayer)

(المعجم ٨) - بَابُ وَقْتِ الصُّبْحِ
(التحفة ٨)

423. ‘Āishah said: “The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ would pray Ṣubḥ, and the women would leave wrapped in their cloaks; they would not be recognized due to the darkness of the early morning.” (Ṣaḥīḥ)

٤٢٣ - حَدَّثَنَا الْقَعْنَبِيُّ عَنْ مَالِكٍ، عَنْ يَحْيَى بْنِ سَعِيدٍ، عَنْ عَمْرَةَ بِنْتِ عَبْدِ الرَّحْمَنِ، عَنْ عَائِشَةَ؛ أَنَّهَا قَالَتْ: إِنْ كَانَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ ﷺ لَيُصَلِّي الصُّبْحَ فَيَنْصَرِفُ النِّسَاءُ مُتَلَفِّعَاتٍ بِمِرْوَطِهِنَّ مَا يُعْرَفْنَ مِنَ الْغُلَسِ.

Comments:

This narration proves praying Fajr at its earliest valid time.

424. Rāfi‘ bin Khadij narrated that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: “Pray Ṣubḥ in the Ṣubḥ,^[1] for it is greater for your rewards,” or he said: “... greater in reward.” (Ṣaḥīḥ)

٤٢٤ - حَدَّثَنَا إِسْحَاقُ بْنُ إِسْمَاعِيلَ: حَدَّثَنَا سُفْيَانُ عَنْ ابْنِ عَجَلَانَ، عَنْ عَاصِمِ بْنِ عُمَرَ بْنِ قَتَادَةَ بْنِ التُّعْمَانِ، عَنْ مَحْمُودِ بْنِ لَبِيدٍ، عَنْ رَافِعِ بْنِ خَدِيجٍ قَالَ: قَالَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ ﷺ: «أَصْبِحُوا بِالصُّبْحِ فَإِنَّهُ أَعْظَمُ لِأَجْرِكُمْ أَوْ أَعْظَمُ لِلْأَجْرِ».

Comments:

This version of the narration has the word Aṣbiḥū, while other versions (see no. 154 of At-Tirmidhī, and numbers 549 and 550 of An-Nasā’ī) have it: “Asfirū”. At-Tirmidhī mentioned the different interpretations. He ended with: “Ash-Shāfi’ī, Aḥmad, and Ishāq said: “The meaning of Al-Isfār is that Fajr becomes illuminated such that there is no doubt in it.' They did not hold the view that the meaning of Al-Isfār is to delay the prayer." Meaning, the majority of the scholars consider it to mean to pray the prayer when it is clear that it is Subh or the dawn of morning, that is, not too early.

Chapter 9. Preserving The Prayer Times

425. It was reported from 'Abdullāh bin Aṣ-Sunābiḥī that he said: "Abū Muḥammad presumes that the Witr is obligatory." So 'Ubādah bin Aṣ-Ṣāmit responded: "Abū Muḥammad is mistaken. I testify that I heard the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ say: 'Five prayers, Allāh, the Exalted and Sublime, has made obligatory; whoever performs their Wuḍū' well, and prays them well at their proper times, and completes their Rukū' and their humility, he has a promise with Allāh that he be forgiven. And whoever does not do so, has no promise with Allāh. If He wants, He will forgive him, and if He wants, He will punish him." (Ṣaḥīḥ)

٤٢٥ - حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ حَرْبٍ الْوَاسِطِيُّ: حَدَّثَنَا يَزِيدُ بْنُ يَعْنِي ابْنَ هَارُونَ: أَخْبَرَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ مَطْرَفٍ عَنْ زَيْدِ بْنِ أَسْلَمَ، عَنْ عَطَاءِ بْنِ يَسَارٍ، عَنْ عَبْدِ اللَّهِ بْنِ الصَّنَابِيحِيِّ قَالَ: رَزَمَ أَبُو مُحَمَّدٍ أَنَّ الْوَيْتَرَ وَاجِبٌ، فَقَالَ عُبَادَةُ بْنُ الصَّامِتِ: كَذَبَ أَبُو مُحَمَّدٍ، أَشْهَدُ أَنِّي سَمِعْتُ رَسُولَ اللَّهِ ﷺ يَقُولُ: «خَمْسُ صَلَوَاتٍ افْتَرَضَهُنَّ اللَّهُ عَزَّوَجَلَّ، مَنْ أَحْسَنَ وَضَوَّاهُنَّ وَصَلَّاهُنَّ لَوْفِيهِنَّ وَأَتَمَّ رُكُوعَهُنَّ وَخُشُوعَهُنَّ، كَانَ لَهُ عَلَى اللَّهِ عَهْدٌ أَنْ يَغْفِرَ لَهُ، وَمَنْ لَمْ يَفْعَلْ فَلَيْسَ لَهُ عَلَى اللَّهِ عَهْدٌ، إِنْ شَاءَ غَفَرَ لَهُ، وَإِنْ شَاءَ عَذَّبَهُ».

Comments:

The 'Abū Muḥammad' mentioned in this narration was a Companion of the Prophet ﷺ among the Anṣār; scholars have differed regarding his name. It is said his name was Mas'ūd bin Aws bin Yazid, and it is said it is Mas'ūd bin Zaid, and other than that. Al-Khaṭṭābī said: "'Ubādah was only rejecting the idea that Witr was obligatory like the Fard obligation, like the five prayers, he was not rejecting that it was an obligatory Sunnah." Meaning, Allāh's Messenger ﷺ performed Witr regularly, even in travel, and he ordered performing it.

426. It was reported from Al-Qāsim bin Ghannām, from some of his elder women-folk, from Umm Farwah, who said: “The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ was asked: ‘Which actions are the best?’ He said: ‘Prayer at its earliest time.’” (Ṣaḥīḥ)

Abū Dāwud said: In his narration, Al-Khuzā‘ī (one of the narrators) said: “From a paternal aunt of his who was called Umm Farwah, who had given her oath of allegiance to the Prophet ﷺ - that the Prophet ﷺ was asked....”

قال الخُزَاعِيُّ فِي حَدِيثِهِ: عَنْ عَمَّةٍ لَهُ يُقَالُ لَهَا أُمُّ فَرْوَةَ فَدُ بَايَعَتِ النَّبِيَّ ﷺ؛ أَنَّ النَّبِيَّ ﷺ سُئِلَ.

428.^[1] ‘Abdullāh bin Faḍālah narrated from his father who said: “The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ taught me (certain matters), and of the matters that he taught me was: ‘And guard the five prayers.’ I said (to him): ‘These are times that I have work to do, so command me with a comprehensive command which, if I do it, will be sufficient for me.’ So he said: ‘Guard the two ‘Aṣr prayers,’ and this was a word that was not in our speech, so I said: ‘And what are the two ‘Aṣr?’ He said: ‘A prayer before sunrise, and a prayer before sunset.’”^[2] (Ṣaḥīḥ)

[1] Some of the versions of the text cite this narration after the following.

[2] Meaning to maintain them in their early times.

تخريج: [إسناده صحيح] وصححه ابن حبان، ح: ٢٨٢ والحاكم: ٢٠/١ و ٦٢٨/٣ ووافقه الذهبي، والحديث محمول على الجماعة يعني أنه رخص له في ترك حضور بعض الصلوات في الجماعة لا على تركها أصلاً فافهمه فإنه مهم وللحديث لون آخر عند أحمد: ٣٤٤/٤ وهذا لا يضر والحمد لله.

Comments:

This narration stresses performing Subḥ (Fajr) and ʿAṣr at the appropriate time. And its meaning is, that if it is difficult for you to pray at the early time for each prayer, then at least these two prayers must be performed at their early times.

427. It was reported from Abū Bakr bin ‘Umārah bin Ruwaibah, from his father, that a person from Al-Baṣrah asked him to narrate to him something that he had heard from the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ. So he said: “I heard the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ say: ‘A person who prays before the sun rises and before it sets will not enter the Fire.’ He^[1] asked him: ‘Did you really hear this from him ﷺ?’ (He asked him this question) three times, each time he (‘Umārah) responded: ‘Yes! My ears heard it, and my heart memorized it.’ So the man said: ‘And I too heard him ﷺ say this.’” (Ṣaḥīḥ)

Comments:

This Hadīth stresses the gravity of negligence with the five daily prayers. This narration, and the following, are among the additional narrations of Abū Sa‘eed Ibn Al-‘Arābī.

429. Abū Ad-Dardā’, may Allāh be pleased with him, narrated that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: “There are five (matters) — whoever comes with them, while having faith, will enter Paradise: Whoever protects the five prayers — with their Wuḍū’, Rukū’, prostration and times; and fasts Ramadān; and performs Hajj to the House (of Allāh) if he was able to bear the journey; and gives Zakāt while his soul was content; and fulfills trusts.” They asked: “O Abū Ad-Dardā’! What does it mean to fulfill trusts?” He replied: “Taking a bath after sexual impurity.” (Da‘īf)

Chapter 10. (What Should Be Done) If The Imām Delays The Prayer

431. Abū Dharr said: “The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said to me: ‘O Abū Dharr! What will you do when you will have leaders who will destroy the prayers,’ or perhaps he said, ‘...delay it?’ So I said: ‘O Messenger of Allāh! What do you command me to do?’ He replied: ‘Offer the prayer at its proper time, then, if you catch it with them, [pray it with them], for it will be counted as a voluntary (prayer) for you.’” (Ṣaḥīḥ)

Comments:

The meaning of "destroy" the prayers is to delay them. In this case, a person should perform the prayer in its proper time, and when attending the later congregation, that later prayer will be considered a voluntary prayer in reward, and this is applicable to all of the obligatory prayers.

432. ‘Amr bin Maimūn Al-Awdi said: “Mu‘ādh bin Jabal came to us in Yemen; as the emissary of the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ to us. So I heard him say the Takbīr during Fajr. He was a man with a very deep voice, and (immediately) love for him was placed in me (by Allāh). So I did not leave him until I buried him in Ash-Shām (after his) death. Chapter 11. Whoever Sleeps Through The Prayer (Time) Or Forgets [To Pray]

(المعجم ١١) بَابُ: فِيمَنْ نَامَ عَنِ صَلَاةٍ أَوْ نَسِيَهَا (التحفة ١١)

435. It was reported from Yūnus, from Ibn Shihāb, from Ibn Al-Musayyab, from Abū Hurairah: "The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ returned from the Battle of Khaibar at night until, when we became sleepy, he camped (for the night). He told Bilāl: 'Guard the night for us.'^[1] But Bilāl was overcome with sleep while he was resting his back upon his mount. Neither the Prophet ﷺ, nor Bilāl nor any of his Companions awoke until the sun's rays hit them. The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ was the first of them to awaken, so he stood up anxiously and said: 'O Bilāl!?' He replied: 'The same One Who took your soul also took mine, O Messenger of Allāh! May my mother and father be your ransom.'

[1] Meaning, wake us up before dawn.

So they proceeded on with their camels for a distance, then the Prophet ﷺ performed Wudu', and commanded Bilāl to call the Iqamah, and he then led them in Subh (Fajr prayer), and, after finishing it, said: 'Whoever forgets the prayer, let him pray it when he remembers, because Allāh says: Establish the prayer for the remembrance (Lildh-dhikrā).'"

Yūnus said: "Ibn Shihāb would recite it like that." (Sahīh)

Aḥmad (one of the narrators) said: "Anbasah said — meaning the wording of Yūnus — in this Hadīth: 'For My remembrance (lidhikrī).'"^[1]

Comments:

In this, and the following narrations, the chapter title becomes clear, if a person sleeps or forgets a prayer, they pray it when they awaken or realize they have not performed it. As for: "So they proceeded on with their camels for a distance" see the following narration.

436. (There is another chain for no. 435) from Abān, from Ma'mar, from Az-Zuhri, from Sa'eed bin Al-Musayyab, from Abū Hurairah, in this narration, he said: "...So the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: 'Move to another location from this place of yours where obliviousness overtook you.' He then ordered Bilāl to say the Adhān and Iqamah, and then prayed." (Sahīh)

Abū Dāwud said: It was reported by Mālik, Sufyān bin 'Uyaynah, Al-

قال يونس: وكان ابن شهاب يقرأها كذلك. قال أحمد: قال عتبسه - يعني عن يونس - في هذا الحديث: «لذكري». قال أحمد: الكرى: التماس.

Awzā'ī, and 'Abdur-Razzāq from Ma'mar, and (also) Ibn Ishāq, and none of them mentioned the Adhān in this Hadīth of Az-Zuhrī, and no one narrated it with a connected chain except for Al-Awzā'ī, and Abān Al-'Aṭṭār from Ma'mar.

Comments:

This narration makes it clear that the Adhān was called as well as the Iqāmah. Al-Khaṭṭābī said: "This Hadīth was reported by Hishām, from Al-Ḥasan, from 'Imrān bin Ḥuṣain, and he mentioned the Adhān in it. And it was reported by Abū Qatādah Al-Anṣārī from the Prophet ﷺ, and he mentioned the Adhān and the Iqāmah, and the additions (in narrations) when correct, are acceptable, and acting upon them is Wajib." (Ma'ālam As-Sunan) Additionally, this narration contains: "Move to another location from this place of yours where obliviousness overtook you," meaning "heedlessness," explaining the cause for moving from that location.

437. Abū Qatādah narrated: "The Prophet ﷺ was once on a journey, and he sidetracked (from the path), so I went with him. He said: 'Look!' I responded: 'There is a rider; these are two riders; these are three riders...' until we became seven. He said, 'Guard our prayer for us,' meaning the Fajr prayer. But they fell into a deep sleep, and they were only awakened by the heat of the sun. So they stood up and continued for a short while, then camped and performed Wuḍū'. Bilāl called the Adhān, and they prayed two Rak'ahs (Sunnah) of Fajr, then prayed Fajr and continued to ride (onwards). They said to one another: 'We have been careless in (performing) our prayers.' The Prophet ﷺ said: 'There is no carelessness in sleep,

Comments:

This narration mentions performing the Sunnah of the Fajr prayer before the obligatory prayer when praying that prayer late, and that the one who is asleep is not accountable.

438. Khālid bin Sumair said: “Abdullāh bin Rabāḥ Al-Anṣārī came to us from Al-Madīnah. The Anṣār used to consider him to be a knowledgeable person. He narrated to us that Abū Qatādah Al-Anṣārī, the rider^[2] of the Prophet ﷺ, said: ‘The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ sent (the expedition) of Al-‘Umarā’...,” — and he narrated the same incident (as in no. 437), and said: “...So we were only awoken by the high sun (above us). We stood up immediately for the prayer, but the Prophet ﷺ said: ‘Gently, gently.’” When the sun had risen a distance, he said: “Whoever among you prays the two Rak’ahs (Sunnah) of Fajr, let him do so.’ So those who used to pray them, and those who did not use to pray them, (also) stood up and prayed them. Messenger of Allāh ﷺ commanded that the call to prayer be given, so it was given. The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ stood up and led us in prayer. When he turned around, he said: 'Indeed, we thank Allāh that we were not busy in some worldly affairs that caused us to (forget) our prayer, but (rather) our souls were in the Hands of Allāh, and He sent them (back to us) when He wished. So whoever among you caught the morning prayer the next day at its proper (time), then let him make up one more (prayer) like it.'" (Ṣaḥīḥ)

Comments:

In his commentary on Ṣaḥīḥ Al-Bukhārī, Ibn Baṭṭāl explained that this narration, and others, "prove that the Sunnah in constructing Masājīd is moderation, and avoiding exaggeration in their structure, fearing Fitnah and competition in their construction..." and he mentioned the additions made by ‘Umar and ‘Uthmān, and he said: "So he and ‘Umar, did not restrict themselves from exaggeration in raising it to the utmost possibilities, except because of the knowledge they had from the Messenger (of Allāh ﷺ) for the dislike of that..."

452. It was reported from Ibn ‘Umar, who said: “The pillars of the Prophet’s ﷺ Masjid were made of palm trunks during his time. Its roof was covered with the branches of palm trees. It then decayed during the Khilāfah of Abū Bakr, so he rebuilt it with the trunks and branches of palm trees. It then decayed during the time of ‘Uthmān, so he rebuilt it with (stone) bricks, and it has remained stable until this time.” (Da‘īf)

Such announcement can be made outside the main gate of the Masjid. Announcements regarding lost items or animals are not allowed. Scholars differed on the announcement of lost children. Some of the scholars approve such announcement and others disagree, and say even this kind of announcement should not be made.

481. Abū Sahlah As-Sā'ib bin Khallād — Aḥmad (one of the narrators said) — one of the Companions of the Prophet ﷺ — said that once a person led a group of people in prayer, and (while in prayer he) spat in the direction of the Qiblah while the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ was looking (at him). When he completed (the prayer), the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: “He should not lead you in prayer.” So he wished after that to lead them in prayer, but they prevented him, and informed him of the statement of the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ. The man mentioned this to the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ, so he said: “Yes...” and I think he also said: “...you have offended Allāh and His Messenger.” (Ḥasan)

482. It was reported from Abū Al-'Alā', from Muṭṭarīf from his father^[1] that he said: “I came to the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ while he was praying, and he spat under his left foot.” (Ṣaḥīḥ)

٤٨٢ - حَدَّثَنَا مُوسَى بْنُ إِسْمَاعِيلَ: حَدَّثَنَا حَمَّادٌ: أَخْبَرَنَا سَعِيدُ الْجُرَيْرِيُّ عَنْ أَبِي الْعَلَاءِ، عَنْ مُطَرِّفٍ، عَنْ أَبِيهِ قَالَ: أَتَيْتُ رَسُولَ اللَّهِ ﷺ وَهُوَ يُصَلِّي، فَبَزَقَ تَحْتَ قَدَمِهِ الْبُيُورَى.

484. Abū Sa‘eed said: “I saw Wāḥilah bin Al-Asqa‘ spit upon a straw mat in the Masjid of Damascus, then rub it with his foot. He was asked: ‘Why did you do this?’ He replied: ‘Because I saw the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ do it.’” (Da‘īf)

تخریج: [إسناده ضعيف] أخرجه أحمد: ٤٩٠/٣ من حديث الفرغ بن فضالة به وهو ضعيف (تقريب) ضعفه الجمهور، وشيخه المجهول.

Comments:

The narrations of this chapter stress the sanctity of the Masjid, and that one is not to spit in the Masjid, and that if one does that it must be removed, and that if the Masjid has a soft floor or the like, then it may be buried, and if it must be done during the Ṣalāt then it should be done under the left foot.

Chapter 22. An Idolater Entering The Masjid

(المعجم ٢٣) - بَابُ مَا جَاءَ فِي الْمَشْرِكِ يَدْخُلُ الْمَسْجِدَ (التحفة ٢٣)

486. Anas bin Mālik narrated: “A man entered (the Masjid) upon a camel. He sat it down and tied it in the Masjid, then said: ‘Who among you is Muḥammad?’ And the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ was reclining among them. We told him: ‘This white (person) who is reclining.’ The man said to him: ‘O

487. Ibn ‘Abbās said: “The tribe of Banu Sa’d bin Bakr sent Ḍimām bin Tha’labah to the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ, so he came to him and sat his camel down at the door of the Masjid and tied it. He then entered the Masjid...” and he mentioned similarly (as no. 486), except that he said that Ḍimām said: “Who among you is the son of Abdul-Muṭṭalib?” The Prophet ﷺ said, “I am the son of ‘Abdul-Muṭṭalib.” So he said: “O son of ‘Abdul-Muṭṭalib...” and he narrated the remainder of the Hadīth. Comments:

For the details of the remainder of this narration, see number 63 of Ṣaḥīh Al-Bukhārī. This and the following narrations, prove that there is no harm in allowing a disbeliever to enter a Masjid, if there is a need or benefit to that.

488. Abū Hurairah said that the Jews came to the Prophet ﷺ while he was sitting in the Masjid among his Companions. They said: “O Abul-Qāsim! (What is the verdict) concerning a man and woman who have fornicated with each other?” (Da‘īf)

Chapter 24. The Places In Which Prayer Is Not Allowed

(المعجم ٢٤) بَابُ: فِي الْمَوَاضِعِ الَّتِي
لَا تَجُوزُ فِيهَا الصَّلَاةُ. (التحفة ٢٤)

489. Abū Dharr narrated that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: “The earth has been made (a means of) purification for me, and a place of prostration (for prayer).” (Sahih)

٤٨٩ - حَدَّثَنَا عُمَانُ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ:
حَدَّثَنَا جَرِيرٌ عَنِ الْأَعْمَشِ، عَنِ مُجَاهِدٍ، عَنِ
عُبَيْدِ بْنِ عَمِيرٍ، عَنِ أَبِي ذَرٍّ قَالَ: قَالَ رَسُولُ
اللَّهِ ﷺ: «جُعِلَتْ لِي الْأَرْضُ طَهْرًا
وَمَسْجِدًا».

تخريج: [صحيح] أخرجه أحمد: ١٤٥/٥ من حديث الأعمش به مطولاً وصححه ابن حبان،
ح: ٢٠٠ وله شواهد عند البخاري: ٤٣٦/١ ومسلم، ح: ٥٢١ وغيرهما.

490. Abū Ṣāliḥ Al-Ghifārī narrated that ‘Alī once passed through (the city of) Babylon in one of his travels. The Mu’adh-dhin (caller to prayer) came to him and called the Adhān for ‘Aṣr. When he had emerged (from the city), he commanded the Mu’adh-dhin to call the Iqāmah. After completing (the prayer), he said: “My beloved, peace be upon him (meaning, the Prophet ﷺ) prohibited me from praying in a graveyard, and he prohibited me from praying in Babylon, for it is a cursed (land).” (Da’if)

٤٩٠ - حَدَّثَنَا سُلَيْمَانُ بْنُ دَاوُدَ: أَخْبَرَنَا
ابْنُ وَهْبٍ قَالَ: حَدَّثَنِي ابْنُ لَهَيْعَةَ وَيَحْيَى بْنُ
أَزْهَرَ عَنِ عَمَارِ بْنِ سَعْدِ الْمُرَادِيِّ، عَنِ أَبِي
صَالِحِ الْغِفَارِيِّ: أَنَّ عَلِيًّا مَرَّ بِبَابِلَ وَهُوَ
يَسِيرُ، فَجَاءَهُ الْمُؤَذِّنُ يُؤَذِّنُهُ بِصَلَاةِ الْعَصْرِ،
فَلَمَّا بَرَزَ مِنْهَا أَمَرَ الْمُؤَذِّنَ فَأَقَامَ الصَّلَاةَ،
فَلَمَّا فَرَغَ قَالَ: إِنَّ جَبِّي عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ نَهَانِي
أَنْ أُصَلِّيَ فِي الْمَقْبَرَةِ، وَنَهَانِي أَنْ أُصَلِّيَ
فِي أَرْضِ بَابِلَ فَإِنَّهَا مَلْعُونَةٌ.

Comments:

This is a distinctive characteristic of the Muslim Ummah, that the whole earth is made pure for them, and they are allowed to prostrate anywhere on it, and that pure earth is a means of purification according to other narrations. Muslims have been granted the ease of offering the prayer wherever they might be on the earth, except for a few places which have been mentioned in various narrations.

491. (There is another chain) from ‘Alī with the meaning of the report of Sulaimān bin Dāwud (no. 490). He said: “When he had left” in place of: “When he had emerged.” (Da‘īf)

تخريج: [إسناده ضعيف] أخرجه البيهقي: ٤٥١/٢ من حديث أبي داود به وانظر الحديث السابق.

Comments:

In his Ṣaḥīḥ, Al-Bukhārī (see before number 433) mentioned — without a chain of narration, “It has been mentioned that ‘Alī disliked performing Ṣalāt in the lands of Babylon which had collapsed.” He also narrated a chain for that in his Tārīkh Al-Kabīr, as did Ibn Abī Shaibah and ‘Abdur-Razzāq. See Taḡhliq At-Ta‘liq by Al-Ḥāfiẓ Ibn Ḥajar. Those narrations are not attributed to the Prophet ﷺ as in the case of this one. In the same chapter of his Ṣaḥīḥ, Al-Bukhārī narrated the Ḥadīth from Allāh’s Messenger ﷺ saying: “Do not enter (the places) of those people where Allāh’s punishment had fallen unless you do so weeping. If you do not weep, do not enter (the places of these people) because Allāh’s curse and punishment which fell upon them may fall upon you.” — indicating support for the meaning of this narration.

492. It was narrated from Abū Sa‘eed that he said: “The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said;” — in his narration, Mūsā (one of the narrators) said: “‘Amr (one of the narrators) thought it was: “Indeed the Prophet ﷺ said: ‘All of the earth is a place of prostration, except a Ḥammām,^[1] and a graveyard.” (Ṣaḥīḥ)

Chapter 24. Praying In Camel Resting Areas^[1]

493. Al-Barā' bin 'Āzib narrated that a man asked the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ about praying in camel pens. He replied: "Do not pray in the camel resting areas, since they are from Shaiṭān." He was then asked about praying in goat pens,^[2] to which he replied: "Pray in them, for they are blessed." (Ṣaḥīḥ)

(المعجم ٢٥) - بَابُ النَّهْيِ عَنِ الصَّلَاةِ فِي مَبَارِكِ الْإِبِلِ (التحفة ٢٥)

Chapter 25. When Should A Boy Be Ordered To Offer Aṣ-Ṣalāt ?

494. 'Abdul-Mālik bin Ar-Rabī' bin Sabrah reported from his father, from his grandfather, that the Prophet ﷺ said: "Command a boy to offer Aṣ-Ṣalāt when he reaches the age of seven. And when he reaches the age of ten, then (if he does not offer Aṣ-Ṣalāt) discipline him for it." (Ḥasan)

(المعجم ٢٦) بَابُ: مَتَى يُؤْمَرُ الْغُلَامُ بِالصَّلَاةِ (التحفة ٢٦)

[1] Mabāarak are the places where the camels are kept. Other versions of this narration say camel pens, or camel resting or watering areas. This wording gives the most general meaning, referring to any area where the camels rest at, and the reason is explained.

[2] This narration preceded with more complete wording under number 184. The word Ghanam, translated here as goat, applies to both sheep and goats.

تخريج: [إسناده حسن] أخرجه الترمذي، الصلاة، باب ما جاء متى يؤمر الصبي بالصلاة، ح: ٤٠٧ من حديث عبد الملك بن الربيع به وقال: "حسن صحيح" وصححه ابن خزيمة، ح: ١٠٠٢ والحاكم على شرط مسلم: ٢٠١/١ ووافقه الذهبي.

Comments:

1. This order is both for male and female children. When they reach the age of understanding the issues, or they are old enough to understand good and bad, they should be ordered to pray so that they may learn the prayer.
2. The child should be put into the routine of praying five times a day once he or she reaches the age of seven. However, at this age, they need not be forced or physically disciplined. Once they reach the age of ten, however, they should be made to pray all five prayers.

495. It was reported from Ismā'īl, from Sawwār Abū Ḥamzah — Abū Dāwud said: He is Sawwār bin Dāwud Abū Ḥamzah Al-Muzanī Aṣ-Ṣayrafī — from 'Amr bin Shu'aib who reported from his father, from his grandfather that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: "Command your children to pray when they reach the age of seven, and discipline them for it when they reach the age of ten, and (at that age) separate between them in their beds." (Ṣaḥīḥ)

496. It was reported from Wakī' that Dāwud bin Sawwār Al-Muzanī narrated with his chain and its meaning (a narration similar to no. 496), and he added: "And if one of you marries off his (female) servant to his slave or servant, then let him not look at (the portion of the body) which is below the navel and above the knees." Chapter 28. How The Adhān Began

(المعجم ٢٧) - بَابُ بَدْءِ الْأَذَانِ

(التحفة ٢٧)

498. Abū ‘Umair bin Anas narrated from one of his uncles from the Anṣār that he said: “The Prophet ﷺ was concerned about finding an appropriate method for congregating the people for the prayer. Someone suggested, ‘Raise a horn when the time for prayer comes. When they see it, they will inform one another (and come to the Masjid),’ But he did not like this (idea). So (someone) mentioned (using) a horn” — meaning a Shabūr — and Ziyād (the narrators) said: “The Ṣabūr (horn of the Jews),” — “but he did not like that either, and he said: ‘This is of the custom of the Jews.’ Then (someone) mentioned

(using) a bell,^[1] but he said: ‘This is of the custom of the Christians.’ ‘Abdullāh bin Zaid bin ‘Abd Rabbih returned (to his home) troubled, due to the concern of the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ. He was shown the Adhān in his dream, so he set forth to the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ and informed him: ‘O Messenger of Allāh! I was in a state between sleep and wakefulness, when a person came to me and showed me (how to perform) the Adhān.’ And ‘Umar bin Al-Khattāb had seen it before that, but he did not inform (anyone) about it for twenty days, then he informed the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ. He asked him: ‘What prevented you from informing us?’ He replied: “Abdullāh bin Zaid preceded me, so I was shy (to inform you).’ The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ then said: ‘O Bilāl! Stand up and see what ‘Abdullāh bin Zaid commands you to do, then do it.’ So Bilāl called the Adhān.”

Abū Bishir (one of the narrators) said: “Abū ‘Umair informed me that the Anṣār think that, were it not for the fact that ‘Abdullāh bin Zaid was sick at the time (of the dream), the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ would have made him the Mu’adh-dhin.” (Ṣaḥīḥ)

Chapter 28. How The Adhān Is Performed

(المعجم ٢٨) بَابُ: كَيْفَ الْأَذَانُ

(التحفة ٢٨)

The word Adhān means to pronounce and inform, and here, it refers to the particular words by which the people are informed about the entry of the time of one of the obligatory prayers (Salāt). The words of the Adhān are pronounced with a loud voice, so that the people could hear the call. The statements in the Adhān are a specific trait of the Muslim Ummah.

499. ‘Abdullāh bin Zaid narrated: “When the Prophet ﷺ ordered that a bell be rung so that people congregate for the prayer, I saw in my dream a person coming to me with a bell in his hand. So I said: ‘O servant of Allāh! Will you sell (me) the bell?’ He said: ‘What will you do with it?’ I said, ‘We will call people with it to the prayer.’ So he said: ‘Should I not inform you of something which will be better than this?’ I said: ‘Yes, of course!’ So he said: ‘Say: “*Allāhu Akbaru Allāhu akbaru, Allāhu Akbaru Allāhu akbaru. Ashhadu anlā ilāha illallāh, Ashhadu anlā ilāha illallāh. Ashhadu anna Muḥammadan Rasūlullāh, Ashhadu anna Muḥammadan Rasūlullāh. Ḥayya ‘alaṣ-ṣalāh, Ḥayya ‘alaṣ-ṣalāt. Then (the person) moved a small distance away and said: "Then you should say, when you wish to start the prayer: "*Allāhu Akbaru Allāhu akbaru, Ashhadu anlā ilāha illallāh, Ashhadu anna Muḥammadan Rasūlullāh. The next morning, I came to the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ and informed him of my dream. He said: 'This is a true dream (from Allāh), Allāh willing. Stand up with Bilāl and tell him (the words) that you saw in your dream, for he has a louder voice than you.' So I stood with Bilāl and started reciting to him (the words), and he would call them out (loudly). 'Umar bin Al-Khaṭṭāb heard this while he was in his house, so he left (his house)

قال أبو داود: هكذا رواية الزُّهري عن سعيد بن المسيب، عن عبد الله بن زيد، وقال فيه ابن إسحاق عن الزُّهري: اللهُ أَكْبَرُ، اللهُ أَكْبَرُ، اللهُ أَكْبَرُ، اللهُ أَكْبَرُ. وقال معمر ويونس عن الزُّهري فيه: اللهُ أَكْبَرُ اللهُ أَكْبَرُ لَمْ يُتَيَّنَا.

Abū Dāwud said: This is (also) how the narration of Az-Zuhrī is from Sa’eed bin al-Musayyab, from ‘Abdullāh bin Zaid. And Ibn Ishāq (also reported it) from Az-Zuhrī, he said in it: “Allāhu Akbaru Allāhu Akbaru, Allāhu Akbaru Allāhu Akbaru. While in their narration from Az-Zuhrī, Ma’mar and Yūnus said: “Allāhu Akbaru Allāhu Akbaru,” they did not say it twice.

Abū Maḥdūrāh was the second Mu'adh-dhin of the Prophet ﷺ, after Bilāl. This event occurred on return from the Battle of Ḥunain. When the two testimonies are repeated, as indicated in this narration, it is called Tarjī', and it is an affirmed Sunnah. Regarding the additional wording for the Ṣubḥ or Abū Dāwud said: The (previous) narration of Musad-dad is more detailed, for he said in it: “...and he taught me the Iqāmah, (that I should say each of the phrases) twice: ‘*Allāhu Akbaru Allāhu Akbaru, Ashhadu anlā ilāha illallāh, Ashhadu anna Muḥammadan Rasūlullāh, Ashhadu anna Muḥammadan Rasūlullāh. Naṣr mentioned the name of the person who saw the dream, and said: "So 'Abdullāh bin Zaid, one of the men of the Anṣār, came."

And he also said in it: "(The man in the dream) faced the Qiblah, and said: *Allāhu Akbaru Allāhu Akbaru. Ashhadu anlā ilāha illallāh, Ashhadu anlā ilāha illallāh. Ashhadu anna Muḥammadan Rasūlullāh, Ashhadu anna Muḥammadan Rasūlullāh. Then he remained (quiet) for a while, then said the Iqāmah in a similar fashion, except that he said,

So the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: ‘Reiterate it to Bilāl,’ and Bilāl then said the Adhān with it.”

And he (the narrator) said with regards to the fasting: “The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ would fast three days of every month, and he would fast the Day of ‘Āshūrā’. So Allāh revealed: Fasting has been prescribed for you as it was prescribed for those before you, so that you may achieve Taqwā. A fixed number of days, but if any of you are ill, or on a journey, the same number (should be made up) from other days. And for whoever is able, let him pay a ransom — the feeding of a poor person.^[1] So whoever wished to fast would fast, and whoever wished not to fast, and instead feed a poor person, was permitted to do so. This was one stage, then Allāh revealed: The month of Ramaḍan is the month in which the Qur’ān was revealed — a guidance for mankind, and a clear proof for guidance and the Criterion. So whoever sights (the crescent moon of) the month, let him fast it. And whoever is ill or on a journey, then (he must fast) the same number from other days.^[2] After this, fasting was obligated on the one who witnessed the month,

510. Ibn ‘Umar narrated: “The (phrases of the) Adhān during the time of the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ were repeated twice, and the Iqāmah only once, except that he would say: ‘Qad qāmatiṣ-ṣalāt, qad qāmatiṣ-ṣalāt’ (the prayer is about to begin, the prayer is about to begin). So when we would hear the Iqāmah, we would perform Wuḍū’ and leave (our houses) for the prayer.” (Ṣaḥīh)

Another Calling The *Iqāmah

(المعجم ٣٠) - بَابُ الرَّجُلِ يُؤَدِّنُ وَيُتِمُّ

512. Muḥammad bin ‘Abdullāh narrated from his paternal uncle ‘Abdullāh bin Zaid that he said: “The Prophet ﷺ wanted to announce (the times of the prayer) by various methods, but he did not implement any of these (options).” He (Muḥammad) said: “So ‘Abdullāh bin Zaid was shown the Adhān in a dream, and he came to the Prophet ﷺ to inform him. He said: ‘Teach it to Bilāl,’ so he taught him, and Bilāl called the Adhān. ‘Abdullāh said: ‘I was the one who saw it (in the dream), and I wanted to do it myself!’ So he (ﷺ) said: ‘Then you call the Iqāmah.’” (Da‘īf)

514. Ziyād bin Al-Ḥarith Aṣ-Ṣudā‘ī - حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ اللَّهِ بْنُ مُسْلِمَةَ قَالَ:

narrated: “(Once) he ordered me — meaning the Prophet ﷺ — to call the first Adhān of Subh (Fajr), so I called it. Then I kept on asking him: ‘Should I say the Iqāmah, O Messenger of Allāh?’ He would look at the east, towards the dawn, and say: ‘No,’ until, when dawn broke, he descended (from his mount), performed Wudū’, and turned towards me. The (other) Companions had gathered around him as well. Bilāl desired to call the Iqāmah, but Allāh’s Prophet ﷺ told him: ‘The Ṣudā’ī brother was the one who called the Adhān, and whoever calls the Adhān, then he is the one who should call the Iqāmah.’ So I was the one who called the Iqāmah.” (Da’if)

There is no harm if someone other than the Mu’adhhdhin says the Iqāmah.

Chapter 31. Proclaiming The Adhān In A Loud Voice

(المعجم ٣١) - بَابُ رَفْعِ الصَّوْتِ

بِالْأَذَانِ (التحفة ٣١)

515. Abū Hurairah narrated that the Prophet ﷺ said: “The Mu’adhhdhin will be forgiven to the extent of his voice, and every (object), wet or dry, will testify on his behalf. And the one who attends the prayer will be rewarded (as if he had prayed) twenty-five prayers, and he will be forgiven (all sins) that occurred between them.” (Hasan)

٥١٥ - حَدَّثَنَا حَنْصُ بْنُ عُمَرَ النَّمْرِيُّ: حَدَّثَنَا شُعْبَةُ عَنْ مُوسَى بْنِ أَبِي عُثْمَانَ، عَنْ أَبِي يَحْيَى، عَنْ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ عَنِ النَّبِيِّ ﷺ قَالَ: «الْمُؤَدِّدُ يُغْفَرُ لَهُ مَدَى صَوْتِهِ، وَيَشْهَدُ لَهُ كُلُّ رَطْبٍ وَيَابِسٍ، وَشَاهِدُ الصَّلَاةِ يُكْتَبُ لَهُ خَمْسٌ وَعِشْرُونَ صَلَاةً، وَيُكْفَرُ عَنْهُ مَا بَيْنَهُمَا».

516. Abū Hurairah narrated that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: “When the call for prayer is given, the Shaitān turns around and passes wind loudly so that he cannot hear the Adhān. When the call is over, he returns (and remains) until the prayer has been proclaimed (meaning, the Iqāmah), upon which he turns around (once again), until it is over. Then, he returns and whispers to a person and says: ‘Remember this, remember that’ — matters which otherwise he would not think of, until a person does not even know how many (Rak’ahs) he has prayed.” (Sahih)

٥١٦ - حَدَّثَنَا الْقُعَيْبِيُّ عَنْ مَالِكٍ، عَنْ أَبِي الزِّنَادِ، عَنِ الْأَعْرَجِ، عَنْ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ أَنَّ رَسُولَ اللَّهِ ﷺ قَالَ: «إِذَا نُودِيَ بِالصَّلَاةِ أَذْبَرَ الشَّيْطَانُ وَهُوَ ضَرَّاطٌ حَتَّى لَا يَسْمَعَ التَّأَذِينَ، فَإِذَا قُضِيَ التَّدَاءُ أَقْبَلَ، حَتَّى إِذَا نُوبَ بِالصَّلَاةِ أَذْبَرَ، حَتَّى إِذَا قُضِيَ التَّثْوِيبُ أَقْبَلَ، حَتَّى يَخْطُرَ بَيْنَ الْمَرْءِ وَنَفْسِهِ وَيَقُولُ: اذْكُرْ كَذَا، اذْكُرْ كَذَا، لِمَا لَمْ يَكُنْ يَذْكُرُ، حَتَّى يَظَلَّ الرَّجُلُ إِنْ يَدْرِي كَمْ صَلَّى».

Chapter 32. What Is Required Of The Mu’adh-dhin Regarding Keeping Track Of Time

517. It was reported from Al-A’mash, from a man, from Abū Şālih, from Abū Hurairah, who said that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: “The Imām is the liable one, and the Mu’adh-dhin is the entrusted one. O Allāh! Guide the Imāms, and forgive the Mu’adh-dhins!” (Hasan)

(المعجم ٣٢) - بَابُ مَا يَجِبُ عَلَى الْمُؤَدِّنِ مِنْ تَعَاهِدِ الْوَقْتِ (التحفة ٣٢)

"The liable one" meaning, the Imām is appointed to be followed, and if he is in error on some matter during the prayer, the followers will not be considered in error. See number 580. "The entrusted one" meaning the duty of determining if it is time or not, is entrusted to him.

Chapter 33. Calling The Adhān From Atop A Minaret

(المعجم ٣٣) - بَابُ الْأَدَّانِ فَوْقَ الْمِنَارَةِ (التحفة ٣٣)

519. 'Urwah bin Az-Zubair narrated from a woman of the tribe of Banū An-Najjār that she said: "My house was one of the tallest houses around the Masjid, so Bilāl would call the Fajr Adhān from on top of it. He would come in the late night, before dawn broke, and would sit on the house, watching for dawn (to appear). When he would see it, he would stretch (his body) and say: 'O Allāh! I thank you, and seek Your help for the Quraish, that they may establish Your religion.' Then he would proclaim the Adhān." She said: "By Allāh! I don't remember that he left these phrases even one night!" (Hasan) ٥١٩ - حَدَّثَنَا أَحْمَدُ بْنُ مُحَمَّدٍ بْنِ أَيُّوبَ: حَدَّثَنَا إِبْرَاهِيمُ بْنُ سَعْدٍ عَنْ مُحَمَّدِ بْنِ إِسْحَاقَ، عَنْ مُحَمَّدِ بْنِ جَعْفَرِ بْنِ الزُّبَيْرِ، عَنْ عُرْوَةَ بْنِ الزُّبَيْرِ، عَنْ امْرَأَةٍ مِنْ بَنِي النَّجَّارِ قَالَتْ: كَانَ يَنْتَبِي مِنْ أَطْوَلِ بَيْتِ حَوْلَ الْمَسْجِدِ، فَكَانَ بِلَالٌ يُؤَدِّنُ عَلَيْهِ الْفَجْرَ، فَيَأْتِي بِسَحَرٍ فَيَجْلِسُ عَلَى الْبَيْتِ يَنْظُرُ إِلَى الْفَجْرِ، فَإِذَا رَأَهُ تَمَطَّى ثُمَّ قَالَ: اللَّهُمَّ! إِنِّي أَحْمَدُكَ. أَسْتَعِينُكَ عَلَى قُرَيْشٍ أَنْ يَقِيمُوا دِينَكَ. قَالَتْ: ثُمَّ يُؤَدِّنُ. قَالَتْ: وَاللَّهِ مَا عَلِمْتُهُ كَانَ تَرَكَهَا لَيْلَةً وَاحِدَةً هَذِهِ الْكَلِمَاتِ.

Comments:

Calling the Adhān from a high place and with a loud voice is desirable.

Chapter 34. The Mu'adh-dhin Should Turn Around While Calling The Adhān

(المعجم ٣٤) - بَابُ الْمُؤَذِّنِ يَسْتَدِيرُ فِي
أَذَانِهِ (التحفة ٣٤)

520. ‘Awn bin Abī Juḥaifah narrated from his father: “I came to the Prophet ﷺ while he was in Makkah, and he was in a red tent made out of leather. Bilāl came out and called the Adhān, so I would follow his face (as he turned it) from here and there (one direction to another). Then the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ came out, and he was wearing a red Yemeni Burūd [Qitrī] Hullah.”^[1] (Saḥīḥ)

Mūsā (one of the narrators) said: “I saw Bilāl go out to (the valley of) Abṭāḥ to call the Adhān. When he reached (the phrase): ‘Hayya ‘alaṣ-ṣalāt, Hayya ‘alāl-falāḥ’ (come to prayer, come to prosperity) — he turned his neck right (and then) left, but he did not rotate (his entire body). Then he entered (into the tent), and brought out the ‘Anazah...’^[2] and he narrated the remainder of the Hadīth.

تخريج: أخرجه مسلم، الصلاة، باب ستره المصلي والندب إلى الصلاة إلى ستره... إلخ، ح: ٥٠٣ من حديث وكيع به.

Comments:

It is preferable and desirable to face the Ka'bah while calling the Adhān. Abṭā refers to an area outside Makkah in the direction of Minā.

[1] Hullah is a term used when one is wearing an upper and lower wrap made from the same material. Burūd is the plural for Burd or Burdah and it is a type of Yemeni cloth, normally worn as a Ridā' or upper wrap, or other than that. As for Qitrī see number 147.

[2] A type of spear that is shorter than a lance.

Chapter 35. Regarding The Supplication Between The Adhān And The Iqāmah

521. Anas bin Mālik reported that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: "The supplication between the Adhān and the Iqāmah is not rejected." (Ṣaḥīḥ)

(المعجم ٣٥) بَابُ: فِي الدُّعَاءِ بَيْنَ
الْأَذَانِ وَالْإِقَامَةِ (التحفة ٣٥)

٥٢١ - حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ كَثِيرٍ: حَدَّثَنَا
سُفْيَانُ عَنْ زَيْدِ الْعَمِّيِّ، عَنْ أَبِي إِيَّاسٍ، عَنْ
أَنَسِ بْنِ مَالِكٍ قَالَ: قَالَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ ﷺ: «لَا
يُرَدُّ الدُّعَاءُ بَيْنَ الْأَذَانِ وَالْإِقَامَةِ».

تخریج: [صحيح] أخرجه الترمذي، الصلاة، باب ما جاء في أن الدعاء لا يرد بين الأذان والإقامة، ح: ٢١٢ من حديث سفیان الثوري به وقال: "حسن صحيح" وسنده ضعيف وله شواهد عند أحمد: ٢٢٥/٣ وغيره وصححه ابن خزيمة، ح: ٤٢٦، ٤٢٧ وابن حبان، ح: ٢٩٦.

Comments:

The time between the Adhān and the Iqāmah is a very precious time in which worshippers should devote themselves in supplication if possible.

Chapter 36. What Should Be Said When One Hears The Mu'adh-dhin

522. Abū Sa'eed Al-Khudrī reported that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: "When you hear the call (for prayer), then say as the Mu'adh-dhin says." (Ṣaḥīḥ)

(المعجم ٣٦) - بَابُ مَا يَقُولُ إِذَا سَمِعَ

523. It was reported from 'Abdur-Raḥmān bin Jubair, from 'Abdullāh bin 'Amr bin Al-'Ās, that he heard the Prophet ﷺ say: "When you hear the Mu'adh-dhin, then say just as he says, and send your salutations upon me, for he who sends one salutation upon me, Allāh will send ten upon him because of it. Then, ask Allāh to grant me the Wasīlah, for it is a station in Paradise which will not be conferred except upon one of Allāh's worshipers, and I hope that I am that one. Whoever asks Allāh to (grant) me the Wasīlah, he will attain (my) intercession (on the Day of Judgment).” (Sahīh)

524. It was reported from Abū ‘Abdur-Rahmān, meaning Al-Hubulī, from ‘Abdullāh bin ‘Amr, that a man said: “O Messenger of Allāh! The Mu’adhdhins have been favored over us!” So the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: “Say as they say, then, when you finish, ask (what you wish), and you will be given it.” (Hasan)

It was reported from ‘Umar bin Al-Khattāb, that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: “When the Mu’adh-dhin says: ‘Allāhu Akbaru Allāhu Akbar’ (Allāh is the Most Great, Allāh is the Most Great). — and then one of you responds: ‘Allāhu Akbaru Allāhu Akbar’ (Allāh is the Most Great, Allāh is the Most Great); then when he says: ‘Ashhadu an lā ilāha illallāh’ (I testify that none has the right to be worshiped but Allāh) and one of you respond: ‘Ashhadu an lā ilāha illallāh’, then when he says: ‘Ashhadu anna Muḥammadan Rasūlullāh’ (I testify that Muḥammad is the Messenger of Allāh); one of you responds: ‘Ashhadu anna Muḥammadan Rasūlullāh’ (I testify that Muḥammad is the Messenger of Allāh); then when he says: ‘Hayya ‘alaṣ-ṣalāt’ (come to the prayer);

Comments:

This narration proves the excellence and superiority of repeating the Adhān. By saying Lā ḥawla wa lā quwwata illā billāh, the worshiper petitions Allāh for His help and the power to achieve success.

(المعجم ٣٩) - بَابُ أَخْذِ الْأَجْرِ عَلَى التَّأْذِينِ (التحفة ٤٠)

531. Muṭarrif bin ‘Abdullāh reported that ‘Uthmān bin Al-‘Āṣ said: “O Messenger of Allāh! Make me the Imām of my people (in prayer).” So he said: “You are their Imām. And follow the weakest among them,^[1] and take a Mu’adh-dhin who does not take a stipend for his Adhān.” (Ṣaḥīh)

Chapter 40. Calling The Adhān Before Its Time

(المعجم ٤٠) بَابُ: فِي الْأَدَّانِ قَبْلَ
دُخُولِ الْوَقْتِ (الصفحة ٤١)

532. It was reported from Ḥammād from Ayyūb, from Nāfi‘, from Ibn ‘Umar: “Bilāl called the Adhān before dawn broke, so the Prophet ﷺ commanded him to return and proclaim: ‘Verily, the servant has slept, Verily, the servant has slept.’” Mūsā (one of the narrators) added: “So he returned and proclaimed: ‘Verily, the servant has slept.’”^[1] (Ḥasan)

Abū Dāwud said: This Ḥadīth has not been reported from Ayyūb except by Ḥammād.

تخریج: [حسن] أخرجه عبد بن حميد، ح: ٧٨٢ وغيره من حديث حماد بن سلمة به وعلقه الترمذي، ح: ٢٠٣ وللحديث شواهد عند البيهقي: ٣٨٣/١ وغيره كما حققته في "أنوار السنن في تحقيق آثار السنن"، ح: ٢٦١.

533. It was reported from ‘Abdul-‘Azīz bin Abī Rawwād: “Nāfi‘ informed us that there was a Mu’adh-dhīn that ‘Umar had by the name of Masrūḥ. Once, he proclaimed the Adhān before Ṣubḥ (Fajr), so ‘Umar commanded i‘m...” and he mentioned similarly (ص. 532). (Ḥasan)

Abū Dāwud said: Ḥammād bin Zayd reported from ‘Ubaidullāh bin

قال أبو داود: وَقَدْ رَوَاهُ حَمَّادٌ بْنُ زَيْدٍ عَنْ عُبَيْدِ اللَّهِ بْنِ عُمَرَ، عَنْ نَافِعٍ أَوْ غَيْرِهِ؛ أَنَّ

^[1] Meaning either that he announced that he was heedless of the time, or that he was returning to sleep since some of the night yet remained, letting the people know that so they would not rush from sleep out of their homes. This narration appears to have occurred early after the Hijrah, since it is confirmed later in the life of the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ that Bilāl would call the Adhān during the night, and then Ibn Umm Maktūm would call the Adhān after him with the onset of Fajr. This is supported by the narration recorded by Al-Bukhārī, Muslim, and others, wherein the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: “Indeed Bilāl calls the Adhān during the night, so eat and drink until Ibn Umm Maktūm calls the Adhān.” See Ma‘ālam As-Sunan by Al-Khattābī and ‘Awn Al-Ma’būd.

‘Umar, from Nāfi‘ or other than him, that the name of ‘Umar’s Mu‘adh-dhīn was Masrūḥ [or other than that].

Abū Dāwud said: Ad-Darāwardī reported from ‘Ubaidullāh, from Nāfi‘, from Ibn ‘Umar who said: “‘Umar had a Mu‘adh-dhīn named Mas‘ūd, and he mentioned similarly, and this is more correct than that (the previous version).

مُوَدَّنًا لِعُمَرَ يُقَالُ لَهُ: مَسْرُوْحٌ [أَوْ غَيْرُهُ].

تخريج: [حسن] أخرجه ابن أبي شيبة: ٢٢٢/١ من حديث عبدالعزیز بن أبي رواد به وعلقه الترمذي: ٢٠٣ وقال: " هذا لا يصح ... الخ، وللحديث شواهد.

534. Shaddād, the freed-slave of ‘Iyād bin ‘Amir, reported from Bilāl, that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: “Do not proclaim the Adhān until the dawn becomes apparent to you in this fashion,” and he stretched forth his hands in front of him. (Ḍa‘īf)

Abū Dāwud said: Shaddād, the freed-slave of ‘Iyād, did not meet Bilāl.

قال أبو داود: شداد مؤلى عياض لم يُدرِكْ بلالاً.

(المعجم ٤١) - بَابُ الْأَذَانِ لِلْأَعْمَى
(التحفة ٤٢)

535. ‘Āishah narrated that Ibn Umm Maktūm was (one of the) Mu‘adh-dhīns of the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ, and he was blind. (Saḥīḥ)

Chapter 42. Leaving The Masjid After The Adhān

(المعجم ٤٢) - بَابُ الْخُرُوجِ مِنَ الْمَسْجِدِ بَعْدَ الْأَذَانِ (التحفة ٤٣)

536. Abū Ash-Sha‘tha’ narrated: “We were with Abū Hurairah in the Masjid when a person exited from it after the Mu‘adh-dhin had called the ‘Aṣr Adhān. Abū Hurairah then said: ‘As for this person, he has disobeyed Abul-Qāsim رضي الله عنه.’”^[1] (Sahih)

تخریج: أخرجه مسلم، المساجد، باب النهي عن الخروج من المسجد إذا أذن المؤذن، ح: ٦٥٥ من حديث إبراهيم بن المهاجر به.

Comments:

This narration indicates that Allāh’s Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم has forbidden leaving the Masjid after the Adhān without a valid reason. See the report from Ibn ‘Umar in number 538.

Chapter 43. The Mu‘adh-dhin Should Wait For The Imām

(المعجم ٤٣) بَابُ: فِي الْمُوَذِّنِ يَنْتَظِرُ الْإِمَامَ (التحفة ٤٤)

537. Jābir bin Samurah said: “Bilāl used to call the Adhān, then wait. So when he saw that the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم had exited (his house), he would proclaim the Iqāmah for the prayer.” (Sahih)

٥٣٧ - حَدَّثَنَا عُثْمَانُ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ: حَدَّثَنَا شَبَابَةُ عَنْ إِسْرَائِيلَ، عَنْ سِمَالِ، عَنْ جَابِرِ بْنِ سَمُرَةَ قَالَ: كَانَ بِلَالٌ يُؤَذِّنُ ثُمَّ يُمَهِّلُ، فَإِذَا رَأَى النَّبِيَّ صلى الله عليه وسلم قَدْ خَرَجَ أَقَامَ الصَّلَاةَ.

[1] Meaning, the Messenger of Allāh صلى الله عليه وسلم.

Chapter 44. The Tathwīb^[1]

(المعجم ٤٤) بَابُ: فِي التَّثْوِيبِ
(التحفة ٤٥)

538. Mujāhid narrated: “I was once with Ibn ‘Umar, and a person (the Mu‘adh-dhīn) performed the Tathwīb for Zuhr, or for ‘Asr. He said: ‘Let us leave (this place), for this is an innovation.’” (Hasan)

تخريج: [حسن] أخرجه البيهقي: ٤٢٤/١ من حديث أبي داود به وعلقه الترمذي، ح: ١٩٨ وللحديث طريق آخر عند عبدالرزاق، ح: ١٨٣٢ وغيره.

Comments:

Tathwīb is considered by most scholars to refer to the phrase which is uttered twice during the Adhān, or first Adhān, of Fajr; "As-Salātu khayrun-min-annawm" (prayer is better than sleep). In this narration, Tathwīb refers to adding other phrases or words in the Adhān. By the time of this event, Ibn ‘Umar had gone blind, that is why he asked his guide to take him away. In this chapter, and the chapter about leaving the Masjid after the Adhān are two strong and firm statements from Companions regarding the Adhān according to the Sunnah. In the earlier chapter, Abū Hurairah stated about the one who left the Masjid after the Adhān — meaning an Adhān according to the Sunnah — then he is disobedient, and in this chapter Ibn ‘Umar left the Masjid after the Adhān, and it is an Adhān that was contrary to the Sunnah.

Chapter 45. People Sitting After The Iqāmah While Waiting For The Imām If He Has Not Come

(المعجم ٤٥) بَابُ: فِي الصَّلَاةِ تَقَامُ وَلَمْ يَأْتِ الْإِمَامُ يَنْتَظِرُونَهُ فَعُودًا (التحفة ٤٦)

539. It was reported from Abān from Yahyā, from ‘Abdullāh bin

٥٣٩ - حَدَّثَنَا مُسْلِمُ بْنُ إِبْرَاهِيمَ وَمُوسَى ابْنُ إِسْمَاعِيلَ قَالَا: حَدَّثَنَا أَبَانٌ عَنْ يَحْيَى،

[1] There are three meanings for Tathwīb in relation to the Adhān, two of them preceded and they are from the Sunnah: When the Mu‘adh-dhīn reaches either phrase including: “I testify that” then he repeats it aloud after saying it silently to himself. See no. 500 and those after it. The second is when the Mu‘adh-dhīn says: “Prayer is better than sleep” during the Adhān for Fajr, see also no. 500. The third — and it is thought to be the type referred to here — is what At-Tirmidhī cited in his Sunan (after no. 198) from Ishāq bin Ibrāhīm: “It was something innovated by the people after the Prophet ﷺ. It is when the Mu‘adh-dhīn calls the Adhān and the people are slow in coming, so between the Adhān and the Iqāmah he says: “Qad qāmatiṣ-ṣalāt (prayer has been established) Hayya ‘alaṣ-ṣalāt (come to prayer) Hayya ‘alal-falāh (come to success).”

Abī Qatādah, from his father, that the Prophet ﷺ said: “If the Iqāmah is called for the prayer, do not stand up until you see me.” (Ṣaḥīḥ)

Abū Dāwud said: This is how it was reported by Ayyūb and Ḥajjāj Aṣ-Ṣawwāf from Yāhyā. Ḥishām Ad-Dastawā’ī said: “Yaḥyā wrote to me (narrating it).” Mu’āwiyah bin Sallām, ‘Alī bin Al-Mubāarak reported it from Yaḥyā, but they said in it: “until you see me, and do so calmly.”

تخريج: أخرجه البخاري، الأذان، باب: متى يقوم الناس إذا رأوا الإمام عند الإقامة؟، ح: ٦٣٧، ومسلم، المساجد، باب: متى يقوم الناس للصلاة؟، ح: ٦٠٤ من حديث يحيى بن أبي كثير به.

540. (There is another chain) from Ma’mar, from Yaḥyā with his chain, similarly (as no. 539). He said: “Until you see me exit (my house).” (Ṣaḥīḥ)

Abū Dāwud said: “Until you see me exit (my house)” was not mentioned except by Ma’mar, and Ibn ‘Uyaynah reported from Ma’mar, but he did not say in it: “Until you see me exit (my house).”

541. Abū Hurairah said: “During the time of the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ, the Iqāmah for the prayer would be called and the people would take their places before the Prophet ﷺ would take his.” (Ṣaḥīḥ)

٥٤٠ - حَدَّثَنَا إِبْرَاهِيمُ بْنُ مُوسَى: أَخْبَرَنَا عَيْسَى عَنْ مَعْمَرٍ، عَنْ يَحْيَى بِإِسْنَادِهِ، مِثْلَهُ قَالَ: «حَتَّى تَرُونِي قَدْ خَرَجْتُ».

قال أبو داود: لَمْ يَذْكُرْ «قَدْ خَرَجْتُ» إِلَّا مَعْمَرٌ. وَرَوَاهُ ابْنُ عُيَيْنَةَ عَنْ مَعْمَرٍ، لَمْ يَقُلْ فِيهِ: «قَدْ خَرَجْتُ».

٥٤١ - حَدَّثَنَا مَحْمُودُ بْنُ خَالِدٍ: حَدَّثَنَا الْوَلِيدُ قَالَ: قَالَ أَبُو عَمْرٍو؛ ح: وَحَدَّثَنَا دَاوُدُ بْنُ رُشَيْدٍ: حَدَّثَنَا الْوَلِيدُ - وَهَذَا لَفْظُهُ - عَنْ الْأَوْزَاعِيِّ، عَنْ الرَّهْرِيِّ، عَنْ أَبِي سَلَمَةَ، عَنْ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ: أَنَّ الصَّلَاةَ كَانَتْ تَقَامُ لِرَسُولِ اللَّهِ ﷺ، فَيَأْخُذُ النَّاسُ مَقَامَهُمْ قَبْلَ أَنْ يَأْخُذَ النَّبِيُّ ﷺ.

542. It was reported from Humaid, who said: "I asked Thābit Al-Bunānī about a man talking after the Iqāmah has been called for the prayer, so he responded that Anas bin Mālik narrated to him: 'The Iqāmah was called for the prayer, and a man came and presented himself to the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ (in order to ask him something), so he prevented him (from starting the prayer) after the Iqāmah for the prayer was called.'" (Ṣaḥīḥ)

تخريج: أخرجه البخاري، الأذان، باب الكلام إذا أقيمت الصلاة، ح: ٦٤٣ من حديث عبد الأعلى به وانظر، ح: ٥٤٤.

Comments:

This narration proves the permissibility of speaking after the Iqāmah and before the commencement of the Salāt if need be.

543. It was reported from Kahmas, who said: "We stood up to pray while we were at Minā, but the Imām did not come out. Some of us then sat down. An old man from Al-Kūfah said to me: 'Why have you sat down?' I responded: 'Ibn Buraidah (told me to do so).' He said: 'This is laziness!' Then he said: 'Abdur-Raḥmān bin Awsajah narrated to me that Al-Barā' bin 'Āzib said: "We would stand up in (our) rows for long periods of time during the lifetime of the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ, before he would say the Takbīr.. Comments:

It is proved from this narration, that if the Imām becomes busy in some important matter after the Iqāmah, then the congregation is to wait for him.

545. Sālim Abū Ān-Naḍr (bin Abi Umayyah) narrated: “When the Iqāmah would be called, the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ would see (the number of people); so if he saw that they were few in number, he would sit and not pray (until they came) then he would pray, and if he saw they were a group (many), he would pray.” (Ṣaḥīḥ)

Chapter 46. The Severity Of Not Attending The Congregational Prayer

(المعجم ٤٦) - بَابُ التَّشْدِيدِ فِي تَرْكِ
الْجَمَاعَةِ (التحفة ٤٧)

547. Abū Ad-Dardā' narrated that he heard the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ say: "Never do three people in a village or desert leave establishing the (congregational) prayer among themselves except that Shaitān overpowers them. So I command you to stick with the group (Al-Jamā'ah), for indeed the wolf only eats (attacks) the solitary sheep." (Ṣaḥīḥ)

(One of the narrators) Zā'idah said: "As-Sā'ib said: 'The meaning of "the group (Al-Jamā'ah)" is the prayer in congregation.'"

548. It was reported from Abū Ṣāliḥ, from Abū Hurairah who said that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: "I thought about ordering that the Iqāmah for the prayer be called, then I would command a person to lead the people in prayer (in my place), so that I may go with a group of people with fire-wood to (the houses) of those who do not attend the prayer, so that I may burn their houses down with fire." 549. It was reported from Yazīd bin Yazīd, from Yazīd bin Al-Aṣamm who said: “I heard Abū Hurairah saying: ‘The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: “I thought about ordering my young servants to gather fire-wood, then go to (the houses) of people who pray in their houses while having no excuse (to stay away from the Masjid), so that I may burn it down.”

I (Yazīd bin Yazīd) said to Yazīd bin Al-Aṣamm: “O Abū ‘Awf, did he mean the Friday prayer, or other prayers?” So he replied: ‘May I never hear anything (after this) if I did not hear Abū Hurairah narrate from the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ (this Hadīth); he did not specify the Friday prayer, or other than it.” (Ṣaḥīh)

Most of these narrations, and narrations that are similar to them, are proof that prayer in congregation is an obligation upon adult men.

550. It was reported from ‘Abdullāh bin Mas‘ūd, that he said: “Guard these five prayers wherever they are called, for they are from the paths of guidance. And Allāh, the Mighty and Sublime, has legislated for His Prophet ﷺ the paths of guidance. And we (the Companions) have witnessed a time when no one would stay

And there is no one among you except that he has a prayer place in his house, but if you pray in your houses, and leave your Masājid, you would abandon the Sunnah of your Prophet ﷺ, and were you to abandon the Sunnah of your Prophet ﷺ you would disbelieve.” (Ṣaḥīḥ)

Chapter 47. The Virtue Of Praying In Congregation

(المعجم ٤٧) بَابُ: فِي فَضْلِ صَلَاةِ الْجَمَاعَةِ (التحفة ٤٨)

554. Ubayy bin Ka‘b narrated: “One day, the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ led us in the Ṣubḥ prayer, then asked: ‘Is so-and-so present?’ They replied: ‘No.’ He then asked: ‘Is so-and-so present?’ They replied: ‘No.’ Then he said: ‘These two

And the first row is similar to the row of angels, and if you only knew its blessings you would race one another to it. A person praying with another person is purer than praying alone, and praying with two people is purer than praying with one person, and the more (the people), the more beloved it is to Allāh.”

Chapter 48. What Has Been Narrated Regarding The Rewards of Walking To The Prayer

556. Abū Hurairah reported that

The more efforts undertaken, the more reward.

557. Ubayy bin Ka'b said: “There was a person who used to pray (with us) whose house was so far that no one knew of any person who used to pray towards the Qiblah from among the people of Al-Madīnah whose house was farther than his. And he never used to miss any prayer in the Masjid. (Once) I said to him: ‘Why don’t you buy a donkey-so that you can ride it over the hot ground, and during the dark?’ He said: ‘I would not like that my house be next to the Masjid!’ His response was conveyed to the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ, so he asked him (what he intended) with it. He replied: ‘I intended, O Messenger of Allāh, that my coming to the Masjid and returning to my family should be written for me (as a reward).’ So he said: ‘Allāh has given you all of that; Allāh has granted you all what you intended in full.’” (Ṣaḥīh)

٥٥٧ - حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ اللَّهِ بْنُ مُحَمَّدٍ
الْقُتَيْبِيُّ: حَدَّثَنَا زُهَيْرٌ: حَدَّثَنَا سُلَيْمَانُ
التَّيْمِيُّ: أَنَّ أَبَا عُمَانَ رَضِيَ اللَّهُ عَنْهُ حَدَّثَهُ
عَنْ أَبِي بِنِ كَعْبٍ قَالَ: كَانَ رَجُلٌ لَا أَعْلَمُ
أَحَدًا مِنَ النَّاسِ مِمَّنْ يُصَلِّي الْقِبْلَةَ مِنْ أَهْلِ
الْمَدِينَةِ أَبْعَدَ مَنْزِلًا مِنَ الْمَسْجِدِ مِنْ ذَلِكَ
الرَّجُلِ، وَكَانَ لَا تُحْطُهُ صَلَاةٌ فِي
الْمَسْجِدِ، فَقُلْتُ: لَوْ اشْتَرَيْتَ جِمَارًا تَرْكَبُهُ
فِي الرَّمْضَاءِ وَالظُّلْمَةِ، فَقَالَ: مَا أَحْبَبُّ أَنْ
مَنْزِلِي إِلَى جَنْبِ الْمَسْجِدِ، فَنَمِيَ الْحَدِيثُ
إِلَى رَسُولِ اللَّهِ ﷺ، فَسَأَلَهُ عَنْ ذَلِكَ، فَقَالَ:
أَرَدْتُ يَا رَسُولَ اللَّهِ! أَنْ يُكْتَبَ لِي إِقْبَالِي إِلَى
الْمَسْجِدِ وَرُجُوعِي إِلَى أَهْلِي إِذَا رَجَعْتُ.

558. Abū Umāmah reported that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: “Whoever leaves his house to go to an obligatory prayer after having purified himself, his reward will be like the reward of one who performs Hajj in the state of Ihrām. And whoever leaves to perform the voluntary Duḥa prayer — nothing causes him to exert himself except it — then his reward is like one performing Umrah. And one prayer after another prayer, in which there is no vain talk between the two, is written in the ‘Illiyin.’” (Hasan)

Comments:

Performing voluntary prayer at home is superior and preferred, while it is also allowed to do so in the Masjid. ‘Illiyin’ is where the names and virtuous deeds of the pious are recorded. See also the Tafsir of Ibn Kathīr; Al-Muṭaffifin 83:18.

559. Abū Hurairah narrated that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: “The prayer of a man in congregation is twenty-five levels (more blessed) than the prayer that he prays in his house or in his shop. This is due to the fact that one of you, when he performs Wuḍū’ and does it well, and comes to the Masjid only desiring the prayer, nothing drives him — meaning, except the prayer — then he does not take a step except that he is raised one level, and one sin is removed from him, until he enters the Masjid. Then, when he enters the Masjid, he will (be counted as) being in the prayer, as long as it is the prayer which detains him. And the angels pray upon one of you as long as he

See Allāh's saying in Sūrat At-Tahrīm (66:8), describing the light of the faithful on the Day of Judgment: Their light will run forward before them, and in their right hands. They will say: "Our Lord! Keep perfect our light for us."

So let one of you come closer (to the Masjid) or go farther. Then, when he comes to the Masjid and prays in the congregation, he will be forgiven. And if he comes to the Masjid, and they have prayed a portion (of the prayer), and a portion is left, let him pray what he catches, and then complete the rest, it will also be the same (he too will be forgiven). By Allāh, we will not allow them.” At this (Ibn ‘Umar) verbally insulted him, and became angry, and said: “I say to (you) that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ says: ‘Grant them permission,’ and you say (in reply): ‘We will not grant them permission?’” (Sahīh)

570. 'Abdullāh (bin Mas'ūd) narrated that the Prophet ﷺ said: "The prayer of a woman in (a middle room of) her house is better than her prayer in her outer-room, and her prayer in her inner-room is better than her prayer in (a middle room of) her house." (Da'if)

Nāfi' said: "So Ibn 'Umar did not enter from that door until he died." (Ṣaḥīh)

Abū Dāwud said: Ismā'il bin Ibrāhīm reported it from Ayyūb from Nāfi', he said: "Umar said" — and that is more correct.

Comments:

This narration preceded, see no. 462. Based upon these two chapters, it is clear that women should not be prohibited from attending the congregational prayers in the Masjid, provided they observe Hijāb, do not perfume themselves, and the like.

Chapter 54. Rushing To The Prayer

572. It was reported from Yūnus, from Ibn Shihāb who said: “Sa‘eed bin Al-Musayyab and Abū Salamah bin ‘Abdur-Raḥmān informed me, that Abū Hurairah said: ‘I heard the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ say: “When the Iqāmah for prayer has been called, do not come to it hastily; instead, come to it walking, and with tranquility. Whatever you catch (of the prayer), pray it, and whatever has missed you, complete it.” (Ṣaḥīḥ)

Abū Dāwud said: This is what was said by Az-Zubaidī, Ibn Abī Dhī‘b, Ibrāhīm bin Sa‘d, Ma‘mar, and Shu‘aib bin Abī Ḥamzah, (all) from Az-Zuhrī: “And whatever has missed you, complete it.” Ibn ‘Uyaynah reported it from Az-Zuhrī, saying: “Fulfill it.” Muḥammad bin ‘Amr reported it from Abū Salamah, from Abū Hurairah; and Ja‘far bin Rabī‘ah (reported it) from Al-A‘raj, from Abū Hurairah: “Complete it.” And (it was also reported by) Ibn Mas‘ūd from the Prophet ﷺ, as well as Abū Qatādah, and Anas from the Prophet ﷺ, all of them said: “Complete it.”

Abū Hurairah from the Prophet ﷺ, who said: 'When you come to the prayer, (come to it) with tranquility. So whatever you catch (with the Imām), pray, and fulfill what has preceded you (that you missed of it).'" (Ṣaḥīḥ)

Abū Dāwud said: This is what Ibn Sirīn narrated from Abū Hurairah: "Let him fulfill it." And similarly said Abū Rāfi' from Abū Hurairah. It was related from Abū Dharr: "Complete it." And: "Fulfill it." And they (who reported it from him) differed in it. (Ṣaḥīḥ) سَمِعْتُ أَبَا سَلَمَةَ عَنْ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ عَنِ النَّبِيِّ ﷺ قَالَ: «اِثْنَا الصَّلَاةَ وَعَلَيْكُمْ السَّكِينَةُ، فَصَلُّوا مَا أَدْرَكْتُمْ وَأَقْضُوا مَا سَبَقَكُمْ».

قال أبو داود وكذا قال ابن سيرين: عن أبي هُرَيْرَةَ «وَلْيُقْضِ»، وكذا قال أبو رافع: عن أبي هُرَيْرَةَ. وأبو ذرُّ روي عنه «فَأَتِمُّوا» «وَأَقْضُوا» واختلف فيه.

Comments:

The narrations in this chapter demonstrate the proper manners of going to the Salāt; in that one should not rush, and whatever they miss of that prayer, they may complete it.

(المعجم ٥٥) باب: في الجَمْعِ فِي الْمَسْجِدِ مَرَّتَيْنِ (التحفة ٥٦)

574. Abū Sa'eed Al-Khudrī said that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ saw a person praying by himself (alone), so he said: "Is there not a person who will give him charity by praying with him?" (Ṣaḥīḥ)

٥٧٤ - حَدَّثَنَا مُوسَى بْنُ إِسْمَاعِيلَ: حَدَّثَنَا وَهَيْبٌ عَنْ سُلَيْمَانَ الْأَسْوَدِ، عَنْ أَبِي الْمُتَوَكَّلِ، عَنْ أَبِي سَعِيدِ الْخُدْرِيِّ: أَنَّ رَسُولَ اللَّهِ ﷺ أَبْصَرَ رَجُلًا يُصَلِّي وَحْدَهُ، فَقَالَ: «أَلَا رَجُلٌ يَتَصَدَّقُ عَلَيَّ هَذَا فَيُصَلِّي مَعَهُ».

Chapter 56. The One Who Prays In His House, Then Catches The Congregation, He Should Pray With Them

575. It was reported from Jābir bin Yazīd bin Al-Aswad, from his father, that he prayed with the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ when he was a young man. After he prayed, (they saw) two people in one corner of the Masjid who had not prayed. He called for them, so they were brought while their bodies were trembling (with fear). He said: "What has prevented you from praying with us?" They said: "We have already prayed at our camps." So he replied: "Do not do so. If one of you prays in his home, then catches the Imām and he has not prayed, let him pray with him (the Imām), for it will be counted as a voluntary (prayer) for him." (Ṣaḥīḥ)

Comments:

This means that one should not repeat the same obligatory prayer without any genuine reason, and among the reasons is that which preceded in the previous chapter. It may be that Ibn 'Umar was not aware of that until later, since there are authentic narrations from him, recorded by Mālik, At-Taḥāwī, and others, that Ibn 'Umar himself allowed a person to pray the prayer again when coming upon a congregation in a Masjid.

When they would return, they would pass by us (again). They would inform us that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ had said such and such, and I was a young boy who would memorize (quickly). Because of this, I memorized a lot of Qur’ān. Once, my father went to the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ as part of a delegation of his people, so he (the Prophet ﷺ) taught them the prayer, and said to them: ‘Let the one who recites the most (Qur’ān) lead you.’ Since I had memorized so much, I was the one who recited the most (Qur’ān), so they told me to lead them. I would lead them wearing a small yellow Burdah, but when I would prostrate, it would raise up, exposing me. One of the women said: ‘Hide from us the ‘Awrah of your reciter!’ Consequently they purchased for me an Omani Qamiṣ — nothing caused me more happiness, after accepting Islam, than my happiness at (acquiring) it! So I continued to lead them in prayer, and I was a boy of seven or eight years.” (Ṣaḥīḥ)

588. Ibn 'Umar narrated: "When the first of the Muhājirūn (emigrants) came (to Al-Madīnah), they stayed at Al-'Aṣbah before the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ. Sālim, the freed-slave of Abū Hudhaifah, used to lead them (in prayer), and he was the person who recited the most Qur'an among them."

Al-Haitham (one of the narrators) added: "And among them were 'Umar bin Al-Khaṭṭāb, and Abū Salamah bin 'Abdul-Asad." (Ṣaḥīḥ)

Comments:

It is lawful for a slave to lead free people in the prayer.

589. It was reported from Khālid, from Abū Qilābah, from Mālik bin Al-Huwairith who said that the Prophet ﷺ said to him, or to a companion of his: "When the time for prayer comes, call the Adhān, then the Iqāmah. Then let the elder of you two lead (the prayer)." (Ṣaḥīḥ)

In the narration of (one of the narrators) Maslamah, he said: "And at that time, both of us were similar in knowledge."

And in the narration of (another narrator) Ismā'il: "Khālid said: 'I said to Abū Qilābah: "So what about (the condition of memorizing more) Qur'an?" He replied: "They were both similar in that."

Chapter 61. On Women Acting As Imām

(المعجم ٦١) - بَابُ إِيمَانَةِ النِّسَاءِ (التحفة ٦٢)

591. It was reported from Al-Walīd bin ‘Abdullāh bin Jumaiḥ: “My grandmother and ‘Abdur-Raḥmān bin Khallād Al-Anṣārī narrated to me from Umm Waraqah bint Nawfal, that when the Prophet ﷺ desired to (depart for the battle of) Badr, she said: “O Messenger of Allāh, allow me to go fighting with you — I will nurse the sick, and perhaps Allāh will grant me martyrdom.” He replied: “Stay in your house, for Allāh, the Mighty and Sublime, will grant you martyrdom.” So she used to be known (among the Companions) as ‘Ash-Shahīdah’ (the female martyr). And she had memorized the Qur’ān, so she asked permission from the Prophet ﷺ to place a Mu’adh-dhin in her house, which he allowed her. She had a male and a female slave, whom she had willed that they

And the first (narration, no. 591) is more complete. He said: “And Allāh’s Messenger ﷺ would visit her in her house, and he appointed for her a Mu’adh-dhin that would call to the prayer for her. Comments:

This narration states that if a woman has the ability, she can lead other women in prayer.

Chapter 62. A Person Who Is The Imām Of A Group That Dislikes Him

593. It was reported from ‘Abdur-Raḥmān bin Ziyād, from ‘Imrān bin ‘Abd Al-Ma‘āfirī, from ‘Abdullāh bin ‘Amr, that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ would say: “Allāh does not accept the prayer of three people: One who leads others (in prayer) while they do not like him, and one who comes to the prayer late” — and the one who is late is the one who comes after it is finished — “and one who enslaves a freed slave.” (Da‘īf)

تخریج: [إسناده ضعيف] أخرجه ابن ماجه، إقامة الصلوات، باب من أم قومًا وهم له كارهون، ح: ٩٧٠ من حديث عبدالرحمن بن زياد الإفريقي به * الإفريقي ضعيف تقدم: ٦٢، ٥١٤ وعمران المعافري ضعيف كما في التقريب وغيره.

Comments:

Disliking the Imām means when there is a lawful reason, it does not mean those who dislike him because he follows the Sunnah or the like. The sin of delaying prayer is established by other narrations, as well as enslaving a free person, while the mention of Salāt not being accepted for these two is not authentic.

Chapter 63. Pious And Wicked People As Imām

594. Abū Hurairah narrated that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: “The obligatory prayer is binding behind every Muslim, regardless of whether he is pious or wicked, even if he commits the major sins.” (ḍīf)

Comments:

While this is not an authentic Hadīth, it is one of the principles of creed of Ahl As-Sunnah wal-Jamā'ah, that the Muslims pray behind the Imām even if he is a sinner.

Chapter 64. A Blind Man Being Imām

(المعجم ٦٤) - بَابُ إِمَامَةِ الْأَعْمَى
(التحفة ٦٥)

595. Anas bin Mālik narrated that the Prophet ﷺ left Ibn Umm Maktūm behind to lead the people in prayer, and he was a blind man.^[1] (Ṣaḥīḥ)

٥٩٥ - حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ عَبْدِ الرَّحْمَنِ الْعُبَيْرِيُّ أَبُو عَبْدِ اللَّهِ: حَدَّثَنَا ابْنُ مَهْدِيٍّ: حَدَّثَنَا عِمْرَانُ الْقَطَّانُ عَنْ قَتَادَةَ، عَنْ أَنَسٍ: أَنَّ النَّبِيَّ ﷺ اسْتَخْلَفَ ابْنَ أُمِّ مَكْتُومٍ يَوْمَ النَّاسِ وَهُوَ أَعْمَى.

Comments:

This proves that it is permissible for a blind man to lead the prayer, provided that all other necessary qualifications are met.

Chapter 65. A Visitor Being Imām

(المعجم ٦٥) - بَابُ إِمَامَةِ الزَّائِرِ
(التحفة ٦٦)

596. It was reported from Abān, from Budail who said: “Abū Aṭīyah, a freed-slave of ours, narrated to me, he said: ‘Mālik bin Ḥuwairith used to come to this prayer place of ours. Once, the Iqāmah was called, so we asked him to lead us in prayer. He replied: ‘Let a person among you lead you in prayer, and I will inform you why I do not wish to lead you. Similar to this was mentioned in number 582, but with the addition: "Except with his permission," meaning that if he permits it, a visitor may lead the prayer there.

Chapter 66. On The Imām Standing In A Location Above The Level Of The Congregation

(المعجم ٦٦) - بَابُ الْإِمَامِ يَقُومُ مَكَانًا أَرْفَعَ مِنْ مَكَانِ الْقَوْمِ (التحفة ٦٧)

597. Hammām narrated that Ḥudhaifah led the people in prayer in (the city) of Al-Madā'in on a terrace. However, Abū Mas'ūd grabbed his Qamīṣ and pulled him (down). Comments:

The Imām and the followers behind him should be on the same level. Once the Prophet (ﷺ) led the prayer while standing on the Minbar in order to teach the procedure of the prayer to the Muslims. It would be allowed to do the same. See Al-Bukhārī no. 377.

Chapter 67. On Someone Having Prayed And Then Leading Others For That Prayer

599. It was reported from 'Ubadullāh bin Miqsam, that Jābir bin 'Abdullāh narrated that Mu'ādh bin Jabal would pray 'Ishā'' with the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ and then return to his people and lead them in that prayer. (Hasan)

Comments:

See number 574; there is no harm in a person who has prayed the obligatory prayer, leading others in the same, and there is no harm if the Imām has a different intention for the prayer than the follower.

Chapter 68. About The Imām Praying While Sitting Down

(المعجم ٦٨) - بَابُ الْإِمَامِ يُصَلِّي مِنْ قُعُودٍ (الْحَفْةُ ٦٩)

601. Anas bin Mālik said: “The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ (once) rode a horse from which he fell down. His right side (of the body) was wounded, so he prayed one of the prayers sitting down, and we too prayed sitting down behind him. When he finished, he said: ‘The Imām has been placed in order that he be followed (by those behind him). So if he prays standing up, then you too should pray standing up. And when he performs Rukū‘, then perform Rukū‘, and when he stands up, then stand up, and when he says: ‘Sami‘ Allāhu liman hamidah (Allāh hears one who praises Him),’ then say: ‘Rabbanā wa lakal-ḥamd (Our Lord! And to you belongs the praise.)’ And if he prays sitting down, then all of you should pray sitting down.’” (Saḥīḥ)

When he finished the prayer, he said: 'If the Imām prays sitting down, then all of you should pray sitting down, and if the Imām prays standing up, then pray standing up. Therefore, when he says the Takbīr, you should say the Takbīr, and do not say it until he says it. Comments:

Some scholars consider the order to offer prayers sitting, if the Imām offers the Ṣalāt sitting to be abrogated, as for the other matters related to Ṣalāt, the followers must do every action of prayer after the Imām completes the action. For example, the followers should say the Takbīr after the Imām says it, and the followers should bow down after the Imām when he bows down completely, and similarly in the other positions of the Ṣalāt. See no.619 and the narrations and chapters that follow it.

604. It was reported from Abū Khālid, from Ibn ‘Ajlān, from Zaid bin Aslam, from Abū Hurairah, from the Prophet ﷺ, that he said: “The Imām has been placed in order that he be followed...” (a narration similar to no. 603) and he added in this narration: “...and when he recites, then remain quiet.” (Ṣaḥīḥ)

Abū Dāwud said: This addition: “...and when he recites, then remain quiet,” is not preserved. We believe that the mistake is from Abū Khālid.

Comments:

The narrations of this chapter demonstrate that it is permissible to pray voluntary prayers in congregation. If there are two men in a congregation, the follower will stand on the right side of the Imām, and when there is a women, or woman, they form a separate line behind the men.

Chapter 70. How Should Three People Stand (In Prayer)

612. Anas bin Mālik reported that his grandmother, Mulaikah, once invited the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ to some food which she had prepared. He ate, then said, “Stand up, for I will lead you in prayer.” Anas said: “So I took a mat that we had — it had become black due to its prolonged use. I splashed some water on it, and the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ stood on it. The orphan boy and I stood behind him, and the old woman behind us. He prayed two Rak’at, and then left.” (Ṣaḥīḥ)

Comments:

If there are three men, the Imām stands in front of the two men, and they stand together forming a line behind him. A woman makes a separate line behind the men. Men and women do not stand in the same row for prayer.

613. ‘Abdur-Raḥmān bin Al-Aswad reported from his father that he said, “Alqmah and I asked permission (to come inside the house) of ‘Abdullāh bin Mas’ūd — and we had sat a long time waiting at his door. Chapter 75. The Severity Of One Who Raises Or Descends Before The Imām

(المعجم ٧٥) - بَابُ التَّشْدِيدِ فِي مَنْ يَرْفَعُ قَبْلَ الْإِمَامِ أَوْ يَضَعُ قَبْلَهُ (التحفة ٧٦)

623. Abū Hurairah narrated that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: “Is not one of you afraid that if he raises his head while the Imām is still prostrating that Allāh might transform his head into the head of a donkey, or his figure into the figure of a donkey?” (Ṣaḥīḥ)

تخریج: أخرجه مسلم، الصلاة، باب تحريم سبق الإمام بركوع أو سجود ونحوهما، ح: ٤٢٧ من حديث شعبة به .

Comments:

There is a severe warning in this narration against preceding the Imām in actions during Salāt, particularly in raising one's head from the prostration before him.

Chapter 76. About Turning Around To Leave Before The Imām

624. Anas narrated that the Prophet ﷺ would exhort them concerning the prayer, and he forbade them from turning around to leave before he turned to leave from the prayer. (Ṣaḥīḥ)

(المعجم ٧٦) بَابُ: فِيمَنْ يَنْصَرِفُ قَبْلَ

حَنْصُ بْنُ بُعَيْلِ الدُّهْنِيُّ: حَدَّثَنَا زَائِدَةُ عَنْ
المُحْتَارِ بْنِ فُلْفُلٍ، عَنْ أَنَسٍ: أَنَّ النَّبِيَّ ﷺ
حَضَّهُمْ عَلَى الصَّلَاةِ وَنَهَاهُمْ أَنْ يَنْصَرِفُوا قَبْلَ
انْصِرَافِهِ مِنَ الصَّلَاةِ.

Comments:

In some narrations, the Messenger of Allāh (ﷺ) explained that the men should wait so that the women, behind them, had time to leave first.

Chapter 77. The Types Of Clothes In Which It Is Permissible To Pray

625. Abū Hurairah narrated that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ was asked about praying in one garment, so he replied: “Does every one of you own two garments?” (Ṣaḥīḥ)

(المعجم ٧٧) - بَابُ جُمَاعِ أَثْوَابِ مَا

ابنِ شَهَابٍ، عَنْ سَعِيدِ بْنِ الْمُسَيَّبِ، عَنْ أَبِي
هُرَيْرَةَ: أَنَّ رَسُولَ اللَّهِ ﷺ سُئِلَ عَنِ الصَّلَاةِ
فِي ثَوْبٍ وَاحِدٍ، فَقَالَ النَّبِيُّ ﷺ: «أَوْلَيْكُمْ

Comments:

When two garments are not available for a man, it is permissible for him to perform Salāt in one garment, see the following narration.

626. Abū Hurairah narrated that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said:

٦٢٦ - حَدَّثَنَا مُسَدَّدٌ: حَدَّثَنَا سُفْيَانُ عَنْ
أبي الزناد، عن الأعرج، عن أبي هريرة قال:

“Let none of you pray in one garment if no part of it is on his two shoulders.” (Sahih)

قال رسول الله ﷺ: «لا يُصَلُّ أَحَدُكُمْ فِي الثَّوْبِ الْوَاحِدِ لَيْسَ عَلَى مَنْكِبَيْهِ مِنْهُ شَيْءٌ».

تخریج: أخرجه مسلم، الصلاة، باب الصلاة في ثوب واحد وصفة لبسه، ح: ٥١٦ من حديث سفيان بن عيينة به.

Comments:

If someone has only one sheet of cloth, then he should wrap it around his waist, taking one end of it to cover his right shoulder with it, and the other end of it, to cover his left shoulder.

627. Abū Hurairah narrated that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: “If one of you prays in a (single) garment, let him cross the two sides (of it) around his shoulders.” (Sahih)

تخریج: أخرجه البخاري، الصلاة، باب: إذا صلى في الثوب الواحد فليجعل على عاتقيه، ح: ٣٦٠ من حديث يحيى بن أبي كثير به.

628. ‘Umar bin Abī Salamah said: “I saw the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ pray in one garment while he had wrapped it around him — (he had) crossed each end of it over his two shoulders.” (Sahih)

تخریج: أخرجه مسلم، الصلاة، باب الصلاة في ثوب واحد وصفة لبسه، ح: ٥١٧ عن قتيبة به.

629. Qais bin Ṭalq narrated from his father that he said: “We visited the Prophet ﷺ, and a person came and asked him: ‘O Messenger of Allāh, what do you think about praying in one garment?’ So the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ untied his Iẓar (waist wrap), wrapping it around his Ridā’ (upper-wrap), and then wrapped himself with the two

أَنْ قَضَى الصَّلَاةَ قَالَ: «أَوْكُلُّكُمْ يَجِدُ ثَوْبَيْنِ».

Comments: [إسناده حسن] أخرجه أحمد: ٢٢/٤ من حديث ملازم بن عمرو به.

These narrations prove that if two garments are not available for the prayer it is permissible to pray in one garment provided that it covers the shoulders. See Ahādīth 634-636 regarding prayer in a tight garment.

Chapter 78. About A Man Tying His Garment Around The Nape Of His Neck To Pray

(المعجم ٧٨) - بَابُ الرَّجُلِ يَعْقِدُ الثَّوْبَ فِي قَفَاهُ ثُمَّ يُصَلِّي (التحفة ٧٩)

630. Sahl bin Sa'd said: "I would see people praying behind the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ who would tie their Izār around their necks due to the constraint of the garment — like children do. So one person said: 'O you womenfolk, do not raise your heads until the men stand up.'" (Ṣaḥīḥ)

تخریج: أخرجه مسلم، الصلاة، باب أمر النساء المصليات وراء الرجال، ح: ٤٤١ من حديث وكيع والبخاري، الصلاة، باب: إذا كان الثوب ضيقًا، ح: ٣٦٢ من حديث سفیان الثوري به.

Comments:

This narration shows that covering from naval to knees, and at least one shoulder, is essential for men, and it also shows that in the early days of Islam, many of the Muslims were extremely poor.

Chapter 79. A Man Praying In A Garment Part Of Which Is On Another Person

(المعجم ٧٩) - بَابُ الرَّجُلِ يُصَلِّي فِي ثَوْبٍ بَعْضُهُ عَلَى غَيْرِهِ (التحفة ٨٠)

631. 'Āishah narrated: "The Prophet ﷺ prayed in a garment while a part of it was on me."^[1] (Ṣaḥīḥ)

Chapter 80. A Man Praying In A Qamīṣ Only

(المعجم ٨٠) - بَابُ الرَّجُلِ يُصَلِّي فِي

قَمِيصٍ وَاحِدٍ (التحفة ٨١)

632. Salamah bin Al-Akwa' said: "I said: 'O Messenger of Allāh! I am a man that hunts game, can I pray in one Qamīṣ?' He said: 'Yes, but tie it up, even if it is (fastened) with a thorn.'" [1] (Hasan)

تخريج: [إسناده حسن] أخرجه النسائي، القبلة، باب الصلاة في قميص واحد، ح: ٧٦٦ من حديث موسى بن إبراهيم به وصرح بالسماع عند أحمد: ٤٩/٤ وصححه ابن خزيمة، ح: ٧٧٧، ٧٧٨ وابن حبان (الإحسان): ٢٢٩١ والحاكم: ٢٥٠/١ ووافقه الذهبي، وأعله البخاري في صحيحه، فتح: ٤٦٥/١.

Comments:

The meaning of "Qamīṣ," is a long robe (like what is called "Thawb" today). This narration proves the permissibility of praying in a long shirt, even if there is no lower garment, or garment under it. If there is the possibility of such a garment becoming loose, then it should be tied or fastened.

633. It was reported from Muḥammad bin 'Abdur-Raḥmān bin Abī Bakr from his father, who said: "Jābir bin 'Abdullāh led us in prayer in a Qamīṣ, without wearing a Ridā' (upper-wrap). When he finished, he said: "I saw the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ pray in a Qamīṣ." (Da'īf)

تخريج: [إسناده ضعيف] أخرجه البيهقي: ٢٣٩/٢ من حديث أبي داود به * العامري لا يعرف ومحمد بن عبدالرحمن بن أبي بكر وأبوه ضعيفان: ضعفهما الجمهور.

[1] His statement (Aṣīd) has been explained with two possible meanings, this meaning, as translated is in accordance with the wording recorded by Aḥmad (4:49) and others, removing any confusion about it.

Chapter 81. If The Qamīs Is Tight, He Should Wrap It Around His Lower Body

634. ‘Ubādah bin Al-Walīd bin ‘Ubādah bin Aṣ-Ṣāmit said: “We visited Jābir — meaning Ibn ‘Abdullāh — and he said: ‘I once went with the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ on a military expedition, and he stood up to pray. I was wearing a Burdah, so I tried to cross its two ends over my body, but it did not reach me (it was not that long). And it had tassels, so I turned it around, then crossed it around me. I then held on to it with my neck, pressing down on it so that it would not fall (by holding the cloak between the chin and chest). I then came and stood on the left side of the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ, but he held on to my hand and turned me around until I stood on his right side. Ibn Ṣakhr came and stood on his left side, but he held on to both our hands and made us stand behind him. The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ began to stare at me, but I did not realize it. When I noticed his (stare), he motioned to me that I should wrap it (the Burdah) around my waist. So he stood behind him and started undoing it, while he (‘Abdullāh bin Al-Hārith) allowed him to do so. When he finished (the prayer), he turned around to Ibn ‘Abbās and said: “Why are you concerned about my head?” He replied: “I heard the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ say: ‘The example of the one who does this is like the one who prays while he is bound with his hands tied behind him.’” (Sahih)

650. Abū Sa'eed Al-Khudri narrated: "Once, the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ was leading his Companions in the prayer when he took off his sandals and placed them on his left side. Seeing this, the people all took off their sandals. When the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ completed the prayer, he asked: 'Why did you take your sandals off?' They said: 'We saw you take off your sandals, so we took ours off.' So the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: 'Jibril, peace be upon him, came to me and informed me that there was some uncleanliness — or some impurity — on them,^[2] and he said: 'When one of you comes to the Masjid, then let him see (his sandals); if he sees any uncleanliness — or impurity — on them, let him wipe

Comments:

1. Praying in shoes or sandals, as well as not praying with them, is Sunnah. If someone is praying while wearing shoes, he should ensure that his shoes are clean, if there is some impurity on them, he should clean them by rubbing them on the earth.
2. If someone is praying alone and wishes to place his shoes near him, he should place them on his left side, and if he is praying with the congregation he should place them in between his feet.
3. If unknowingly, a prayer is offered in unclean and impure clothes there is no need to repeat it.

651. Bakr bin ‘Abdullāh reported a similar narration (as no. 650), except that in this version the Prophet ﷺ said: “There is some filth on them.” He said in both locations: “Filth.”^[1] (Sahīh)

[1] In the first narration it is Qadha or Adha (some uncleanness - or some impurity), and it is mentioned in two locations of the narration, in this narration it is Khubth and the narrator used the same term in both locations of the narration.

653. ‘Amr bin Shu‘aib reported from his father, from his grandfather, that he said: “I saw the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ pray barefooted, and (also saw him praying) while wearing sandals.” (Hasan)

THE CHAPTERS RELATED TO THE ROWS DURING THE PRAYER

Chapter 93. Straightening The Rows

661. Jābir bin Samurah narrated that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: “Do you not (wish to) line up just like the Angels line up in front of their Lord?” We asked: “And how do the Angels line up in front of their Lord?” He said: “They complete (and fill up) the first row, and they line up closely in the rows.” (Ṣaḥīḥ)

(المعجم ٩٢) - بَابُ الرَّجُلِ يَسْجُدُ عَلَى ثَوْبِهِ (التحفة ٩٤)

تَصْرِيفُ أَبْوَابِ الصُّفُوفِ

(المعجم ٩٣) - بَابُ تَسْوِيَةِ الصُّفُوفِ (التحفة ٩٥)

٦٦١ - حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ اللَّهِ بْنُ مُحَمَّدٍ النُّفَيْلِيُّ: حَدَّثَنَا زُهَيْرٌ قَالَ: سَأَلْتُ سُلَيْمَانَ الْأَعْمَشَ، عَنْ حَدِيثِ جَابِرِ بْنِ سَمُرَةَ فِي الصُّفُوفِ الْمُقَدَّمَةِ، فَحَدَّثَنَا عَنِ الْمُسَيَّبِ بْنِ رَافِعٍ، عَنِ تَمِيمِ بْنِ طَرْفَةَ، عَنْ جَابِرِ بْنِ سَمُرَةَ قَالَ: قَالَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ ﷺ: «أَلَا تَصُفُّونَ كَمَا تَصُفُّ الْمَلَائِكَةُ عِنْدَ رَبِّهِمْ؟ قُلْنَا: وَكَيْفَ تَصُفُّ الْمَلَائِكَةُ عِنْدَ رَبِّهِمْ؟ قَالَ: «يُتِمُّونَ الصُّفُوفَ الْمُقَدَّمَةَ وَيَتَرَاصُونَ فِي الصَّفِّ».

Comments:

This narration demonstrates that the first row should be consolidated before the following, and that this is the manner of the Angels.

662. An-Nu'mān bin Bashīr said: "The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ turned around to face the people and said: 'Establish the rows,' (repeating this) three times — 'I swear by Allāh! You will of a surety establish the rows or else Allāh will cause differences among your hearts.' So I saw a person attach his shoulder to the shoulder of his companion, and his knees with his companion's knee, and his ankle with his companion's ankle." (Sahīh)

٦٦٢ - حَدَّثَنَا عُثْمَانُ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ: حَدَّثَنَا وَكَيْعٌ عَنْ زَكَرِيَّا بْنِ أَبِي زَائِدَةَ، عَنْ أَبِي الْقَاسِمِ الْجَدَلِيِّ قَالَ: سَمِعْتُ النَّعْمَانَ بْنَ بَشِيرٍ يَقُولُ: أَقْبَلَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ ﷺ عَلَى النَّاسِ بِوَجْهِهِ فَقَالَ: «أَقِيمُوا صُفُوفَكُمْ» ثَلَاثًا «وَاللَّهِ! لَتَقِيمَنَّ صُفُوفَكُمْ أَوْ لَيَخَالِفَنَّ اللَّهُ بَيْنَ قُلُوبِكُمْ». قَالَ: فَرَأَيْتُ الرَّجُلَ يُلْزِقُ مَنْكِبَهُ بِمَنْكِبِ صَاحِبِهِ وَرُكْبَتَهُ بِرُكْبَتِهِ صَاحِبِهِ وَكَعْبَهُ بِكَعْبِهِ.

Comments:

This is similar to what follows in number 667, for which reasons the followers of Allāh's Messenger (ﷺ) would stand in the rows quite close to each other, leaving no gaps between them. If the outward condition and apparent actions are correct and in accord, it indicates that the hearts are also in accord, and vice versa. It is Sunnah for the Imām to tell the people to straighten the rows before starting the Ṣalāt.

663. An-Nu'mān bin Bashīr said: "The Prophet ﷺ would line up our rows just as an arrow is aligned. When he thought that we had learnt this from him, and understood it (he stopped doing it) until one day, he turned around to face us, and saw a man whose chest was sticking out (of the row). So he said: 'You will of a surety establish your rows, or else Allāh will disfigure your faces.'" (Sahīh)

٦٦٣ - حَدَّثَنَا مُوسَى بْنُ إِسْمَاعِيلَ: حَدَّثَنَا حَمَادٌ عَنْ سِمَاكِ بْنِ حَرْبٍ قَالَ: سَمِعْتُ النَّعْمَانَ بْنَ بَشِيرٍ يَقُولُ: كَانَ النَّبِيُّ ﷺ يُسَوِّنَا فِي الصُّفُوفِ كَمَا يُقَوِّمُ الْقِدْحَ حَتَّى إِذَا ظَنَّ أَنْ قَدْ أَخَذَنَا ذَلِكَ عَنْهُ وَقَفَّهْنَا أَقْبَلَ ذَاتَ يَوْمٍ بِوَجْهِهِ إِذَا رَجُلٌ مُتَبَدِّ بِصَدْرِهِ فَقَالَ: «لَتَسَوَّنَّ صُفُوفَكُمْ أَوْ لَيَخَالِفَنَّ اللَّهُ بَيْنَ وُجُوهِكُمْ».

664. Al-Barā' bin 'Azīb reported: "The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ would enter between the rows from one side to the other.^[1] He would touch our chests and shoulders and say: 'Do not differ, else your hearts will differ.' And he would also say: 'Allāh and His Angels send their Salāt (blessings) on the front rows.'" (Sahīh)

665. An-Nu'mān bin Bashīr said: "The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ would straighten our rows when we stood up to pray. Once we had straightened them, he (ﷺ) would say the Takbīr." (Sahīh)

666. 'Abdullāh bin 'Umar reported that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: "Perfect (straighten) the rows, and stand shoulder to shoulder, and leave no gaps, and be gentle with the hands of your brothers, and do not leave gaps for Shaitān. whoever severs a row, Allāh will sever (His Mercy) from him.”

(Hasan)

Abū Dāwud said: Abū Shajarah (one of the narrators) is Kathīr bin Murrah.

Abū Dāwud said: And the meaning of “Be gentle with the hands of your brothers,” is that if a person comes to a row and wishes to enter it, then every person should ease (space) for him so that he can stand in the row.

قال أبو داود: أبو شجرة كثير بن مرة.

قال أبو داود: ومعنى ولينوا بأيدي إخوانكم: إذا جاء رجل إلى الصف فذهب يدخل فيه فيبغى أن يلين له كل رجل مكبيه حتى يدخل في الصف.

Comments:

"Whoever connects a row" means who comes to fill the gap in the row and complete it. "Be gentle with the hands of your brothers" means if a person comes to a row and wishes to enter it, then every person should ease (space) for him with his shoulders so that he could stand in the row. It also means, if there is no space in the row then one should not try to enter it by force and create an uneasy situation for his brothers already standing in the row.

667. Anas bin Mālik related that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: “Line yourselves up tightly, and be close together, and make (your) necks straight (in one line). For I swear by Him in Whose Hands is my soul, I see Shaitān enter between the gaps in the rows as if he is a small black goat.” (Ṣaḥīḥ)

٦٦٧ - حَدَّثَنَا مُسْلِمٌ بْنُ إِبْرَاهِيمَ: حَدَّثَنَا عَنْ أَبِي بَانٍ عَنْ قَتَادَةَ، عَنْ أَنَسِ بْنِ مَالِكٍ عَنْ رَسُولِ اللَّهِ ﷺ قَالَ: «رُضُوا صُفُوفَكُمْ وَقَارِبُوا بَيْنَهَا وَحَادُوا بِالْأَعْنَاقِ، فَوَالَّذِي نَفْسِي بِيَدِهِ إِنِّي لَأَرَى الشَّيْطَانَ يَدْخُلُ مِنْ حَلَلِ الصَّفِّ كَأَنَّهَا الْحَذَفُ».

Comments:

“Line yourselves up tightly” Al-Khattābī said: “Its meaning is to bring part of it together with another part, and close in between them. And from it is the compressed building; Allāh said: “...as if they were a solid structure...” [45-Saff 61:4] And it is further explained by the second half; that is, if they are not together, Shaitān will come between them, and this gap through which he enters, destroys the ranks, like a gap between mortars of a structure, which erode it, bringing about its downfall.

668. Anas narrated that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: “Straighten the rows, for straightening the rows is part of the perfection of the prayer.” (Sahih)

٦٦٨ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو الْوَلِيدِ الطَّبَالِيُّ
وَسَلِيمَانُ بْنُ حَرْبٍ قَالَا: حَدَّثَنَا شُعْبَةُ عَنْ
قَتَادَةَ، عَنْ أَنَسٍ قَالَ: قَالَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ ﷺ:
«سَوُّوا صُفُوفَكُمْ فَإِنَّ تَسْوِيَةَ الصَّفِّ مِنْ تَمَامِ

Comments:

This narration makes it clear that the prayer of those who do not make the rows straight and do not fill the gaps remains incomplete and imperfect.

669. Muḥammad bin Muslim bin As-Sā'ib said: “I prayed next to Anas bin Mālik one day, and he asked me: ‘Do you know why this stick has been made?’ I said: ‘No, by Allāh!’ He said: ‘The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ would place his hand on it and say: Straighten (your rows); line up your rows.’” (Da'if)

672. Ibn 'Abbās narrated that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: "The best of you are those who have the most compliant shoulders in the prayer." (Hasan)

Comments:

Meaning, they comply when they are asked by others to move forward or backward to straighten the row, and they give space to others who try to fit in their row. So by cooperating and being gentle with their brothers, they are counted among the best people.

Chapter 94. Rows Between The Pillars

(المعجم ٩٤) - بَابُ الصُّفُوفِ بَيْنَ
السَّوَارِي (التحفة ٩٦)

673. Abdul-Ḥamīd bin Maḥmūd said: "I prayed the Friday prayer with Anas bin Mālik, and we were pushed to (the rows between) the pillars, so we went forward and backward. Anas said: 'We used to avoid this during the time of the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ.'" (Ṣaḥīḥ)

Comments:

Since the pillars sever the row, it is not encouraged to form rows between them. It should not be done unless there is no space due to overcrowding.

(التحفة ٩٧)

674. It was narrated from Abū Ma'mar, from Abū Mas'ūd, that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: "Let those among you who are most wise and possessing intellect pray behind me, then those following them, then those following them." (Ṣaḥīḥ)

٦٧٥ - حَدَّثَنَا مُسَدَّدٌ: حَدَّثَنَا يَزِيدُ بْنُ زُرَيْعٍ: حَدَّثَنَا خَالِدٌ عَنْ أَبِي مَعْشَرٍ، عَنْ إِبْرَاهِيمَ، عَنْ عَلْقَمَةَ، عَنْ عَبْدِ اللَّهِ عَنِ النَّبِيِّ ﷺ مِثْلَهُ وَزَادَ: «وَلَا تَخْتَلِفُوا فَتَخْتَلِفَ قُلُوبُكُمْ وَيَأْيَاكُمْ وَهَيْشَاتِ الْأَسْوَاقِ».

تخريج: أخرجه مسلم من حديث يزيد بن زريع به، وانظر الحديث السابق وهذا جزء منه.

Comments:

The reason for the more knowledgeable being close to the Imām is that they can take his place, or correct him, etc., if need be, and in this narration we are warned of commotion and racket, and even more so, bringing such commotion into the Masjid.

676. ‘Aishah narrated that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: “Allāh and His Angels send Ṣalāt (blessings) upon the right side of the rows.” (Hasan)

Comments:

See no. 664. Most of those who reported this Hadīth narrated it with the wording: “Allāh and His Angels send Ṣalāt upon those who pray in the rows.” So it does not mean, “and not the left side of the row.”

Chapter 96. The Place Of Children In The Rows

(المعجم ٩٦) - بَابُ مَقَامِ الصِّبْيَانِ مِنَ الصَّفِّ (التحفة ٩٨)

677. It was reported from ‘Abdur-Rahmān bin Ghanm, who said that Abū Mālik Al-Ash‘arī said: “Should I not inform you of the prayer of the Prophet ﷺ?” So he said the Iqāmah, and caused the men to stand in rows, then caused the children to stand النَّبِيِّ ﷺ قَالَ: فَأَقَامَ الصَّلَاةَ، فَصَفَّ الرَّجَالَ وَصَفَّ الْجُلَمَانَ خَلْفَهُمْ ثُمَّ صَلَّى بِهِمْ، فَذَكَرَ صَلَاتَهُ، ثُمَّ قَالَ: هَكَذَا صَلَاةٌ - قَالَ عَبْدُ الْأَعْلَى: لَا أَحْسِبُهُ إِلَّا قَالَ - أُمَّتِي.

Comments:

It is recommended that the older and more knowledgeable stand directly behind the Imām as preceded, see number 675. But there is no prohibition against the boy who has not reached the age of maturity from standing in the first row, as Ibn 'Abbās did during the Farewell Pilgrimage, and he said: "No one objected to it." See no. 1857 of Ṣaḥīḥ Al-Bukhārī.

(المعجم ٩٧) - بَابُ صَفِّ النِّسَاءِ
وَالتَّأخُّرِ عَنِ الصَّفِّ الْأَوَّلِ (التحفة ٩٩)

678. Abū Hurairah narrated that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: "The best rows for men are the front ones, and the worst are the last ones. And the best rows for women are the last ones, and the worst are the front ones." (Ṣaḥīḥ)

٦٧٨ - حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ الصَّبَّاحِ الْبَرَّازُ: حَدَّثَنَا خَالِدٌ وَإِسْمَاعِيلُ بْنُ زَكَرِيَّا عَنْ سَهِيلِ بْنِ أَبِي صَالِحٍ، عَنْ أَبِيهِ، عَنْ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ قَالَ: قَالَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ ﷺ: «خَيْرُ صُفُوفِ الرَّجَالِ أَوْلَاهَا وَشَرُّهَا آخِرُهَا، وَخَيْرُ صُفُوفِ النِّسَاءِ آخِرُهَا وَشَرُّهَا أَوْلَاهَا».

Comments:

An-Nawawī said: "As for the men's rows, then it is according to the generality; so the best of them is always the first of them, and the worst of them is always the last of them. As for the rows of the women, then the objective of the Ḥadīth is that of the rows that the women pray in with the men, as for when they pray separately, not with the men, then just like in the case of the men, the best of their rows are the first of them, and the worst of them are the last of them. And the meaning of the worst of the rows in the case of the women and the men, is the least of them in reward and virtue. And the last of the rows of the women when attending with the men, are only more virtuous, because of their distancing themselves from mixing with the men and their sight, and the heart being attached to them when seeing their movements and hearing their speech, and similar to that, and the first of their rows has been censured because of the opposite of that. And Allāh knows best...." See no. 851 for a related topic.

679. ‘Āishah narrated that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: “There will remain a group of people who will continually try to distance themselves from the first row until Allāh distances them in the Fire of Hell.” (Da‘īf)

٦٧٩ - حَدَّثَنَا يَحْيَى بْنُ مَعِينٍ: حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ الرَّزَّاقِ عَنْ عِكْرِمَةَ بْنِ عَمَّارٍ، عَنْ يَحْيَى ابْنِ أَبِي كَثِيرٍ، عَنْ أَبِي سَلَمَةَ، عَنْ عَائِشَةَ قَالَتْ: قَالَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ ﷺ: «لَا يَزَالُ قَوْمٌ يَتَأَخَّرُونَ عَنِ الصَّفِّ الْأَوَّلِ حَتَّى يُؤَخَّرَهُمُ اللَّهُ فِي النَّارِ».

Comments:

The wording in the next narration is more popularly reported.

680. Abū Sa‘eed Al-Khudri narrated that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ saw that the Companions were distancing themselves (from the first rows). So he said: “Come forward so that you may follow me, and those behind you may follow the Mighty and Sublime, you. And there will be a group of people who will continue to distance themselves until Allāh, the Mighty and Sublime, distances them.” (Sahīh)

٦٨٠ - حَدَّثَنَا مُوسَى بْنُ إِسْمَاعِيلَ وَمُحَمَّدُ بْنُ عَبْدِ اللَّهِ الْخُرَاعِيُّ قَالَا: حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو الْأَشْهَبِ عَنْ أَبِي نَضْرَةَ، عَنْ أَبِي سَعِيدٍ الْخُدْرِيِّ: أَنَّ رَسُولَ اللَّهِ ﷺ رَأَى فِي أَصْحَابِهِ تَأَخَّرًا، فَقَالَ لَهُمْ: «تَقَدَّمُوا فَاتَّبِعُوا بِي، وَلْيَأْتَمَّ بِكُمْ مَنْ بَعْدَكُمْ، وَلَا يَزَالُ قَوْمٌ يَتَأَخَّرُونَ حَتَّى يُؤَخَّرَهُمُ اللَّهُ عَزَّوَجَلَّ».

Chapter 98. The Position That The Imām Should Have In Relation To The Rows

(المعجم ٩٨) - بَابُ مَقَامِ الْإِمَامِ مِنَ الصَّفِّ (التحفة ١٠٠)

681. Abū Hurairah narrated that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: “Stand so that the Imām is in the middle, and fill in the gaps (in the rows).” (Da‘īf)

الْقُرْطُبِيُّ فَسَمِعْتُهُ يَقُولُ: حَدَّثَنِي أَبُو هُرَيْرَةَ قَالَ: قَالَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ ﷺ: «وَسَطُوا الْإِمَامَ وَسُدُّوا الْخَلَلَ».

Chapter 99. A Man Prays By Himself Behind The Row

(المعجم ۹۹) - بَابُ الرَّجُلِ يُصَلِّي وَحْدَهُ خَلْفَ الصَّفِّ (التحفة ۱۰۱)

682. Wābiṣah narrated that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ saw a man praying behind a row by himself, so he commanded him to repeat. Sulaimān (one of the narrators) added: "the prayer." (Ṣaḥīh)

تخریج: [إسناده صحيح] أخرجه الترمذي، الصلاة، باب ما جاء في الصلاة خلف الصف وحده، ح: ۲۳۱ من حديث شعبة به وقال: "حسن" وصححه ابن حبان، ح: ۴۰۳ وللحديث طرق أخرى عند ابن خزيمة، ح: ۱۵۶۹ وابن حبان، ح: ۴۰۱ وغيرهما.

Comments:

If a man intentionally prays alone behind a row in which there is room, then he will have to repeat his prayer. A woman must offer her prayer in a separate row from men, even if she is alone.

Chapter 100. A Person Bows Outside Of The Row

(المعجم ۱۰۰) - بَابُ الرَّجُلِ يَرْكَعُ دُونَ الصَّفِّ (التحفة ۱۰۲)

683. It was reported from Al-Ḥasan, that Abū Bakrah narrated that he once entered the Masjid and the Prophet of Allāh ﷺ was in Rukū'. He said: "So I bowed outside of the row (i.e., without joining the row). The Prophet ﷺ said (after the prayer): 'May Allāh increase your eagerness, but do not repeat it.'" (Ṣaḥīh)

تخريج: أخرجه البخاري، الأذان، باب: إذا ركع دون الصف، ح: ٧٨٣ من حديث زياد الأعمى به.

Comments:

"Do not repeat it." The scholars differ in interpreting the various versions of this Hadīth. Upon consideration of the various wordings, it appears to mean, that one should not rush to the prayer, as in some narrations: "When you come for prayer come with honor and dignity and whatever part of the prayer you catch, join it, and whatever is left, complete it." See number 572, while it is clear from the name of the chapter, that the author is using these two narrations to prove not bowing outside of the rows.

684. (There is another chain) It was reported from Al-Ḥasan that Abū Bakrah once came (to the Masjid) and the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ was in Rukū', so he bowed outside of the row, and then walked up to the row. After the Prophet ﷺ finished the prayer, he said: "Who among you was the one who bowed outside of the row, and then walked up to the row?" Abū Bakrah said: "I did." So the Prophet ﷺ said: "May Allāh increase your eagerness, and do not repeat it." (Sahīh)

قال أبو داود: زياد الأعمى زياد بن فلان ابن قرة، وهو ابن خالة يونس بن عبيد.

THE CHAPTERS RELATED TO THE SUTRAH

تَفْرِيعُ أَبْوَابِ السُّتْرَةِ

The Sutra refers to an object that a person should place, or have, in front of him during the Ṣalāt. The purpose of the Sutra is to demarcate the area in which one is performing Ṣalāt, allowing a pedestrian to cross beyond it, in front of the person who is praying, since the Sutra will act as a barrier between the one passing by, and the one who is praying.

Chapter 101. What May Be Used As A Sutrah By The Praying Person

(المعجم ١٠١) - بَابُ مَا يَسْتُرُ الْمُصَلِّي
(التحفة ١٠٣)

685. Ṭalḥah bin ‘Ubaidullāh narrated that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: “If you place in front of you something (the size of) the back of a saddle, then whoever passes in front of you will not affect you.” (Saḥīḥ)

تخریج: أخرجه مسلم، الصلاة، باب سترة المصلي، والندب إلى الصلاة إلى سترة الخ، ح: ٤٩٩ من حديث سماك بن حرب به.

Comments:

Based upon such Aḥādīth, it is said that the Sutrah must be at least that length, or about one and a half feet high.

686. Ibn Juraij reported from ‘Aṭā’, that he said: “The back of the saddle is around one forearm’s length or more.” (Saḥīḥ)

تخریج: [إسناده صحيح] أخرجه البيهقي: ٢/٢٦٩ من حديث أبي داود وغيره به وهو في مصنف عبدالرزاق، ح: ٢٢٧٢ بطوله * ابن جريج صرح بالسماع عند ابن خزيمة، ح: ٨٠٧.

687. It was reported from Nāfi‘ that Ibn ‘Umar narrated, that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ would order that a spear (Ḥarbah)^[1] be placed in front of him when he left for the ‘Eid prayer. He would pray towards it (behind it), and the people would be behind him. And he would do the same while traveling.” And this is where the leaders took this practice.^[2] (Saḥīḥ)

[1] Ḥarbah a type of spear that is shorter than a lance, having a broad blade.

[2] This last statement is from Nāfi‘ see Ibn Mājah no. 1305.

Comments:

The Imām's Sutra is sufficient for those behind him in the congregation, this is the view of the majority.

688. 'Awn bin Abī Juḥaifah narrated from his father, that the Prophet ﷺ prayed (in the valley of) Al-Baṭḥā' while there was a spear ('Anazah)^[1] in front of him. He prayed Zuhr as two Rak'ahs and 'Asr as two Rak'ahs. Women and donkeys would pass beyond the 'Anazah. (Ṣaḥīḥ)

٦٨٨ - حَدَّثَنَا حَفْصُ بْنُ عُمَرَ: حَدَّثَنَا شُعْبَةُ عَنْ عَوْنِ بْنِ أَبِي جُحَيْفَةَ، عَنْ أَبِيهِ: أَنَّ النَّبِيَّ ﷺ صَلَّى بِهِمْ بِالْبَطْحَاءِ - وَبَيْنَ يَدَيْهِ عَتْرَةٌ - الظُّهْرَ رَكَعَتَيْنِ وَالْعَصْرَ رَكَعَتَيْنِ يَمُرُّ خَلْفَ الْعَتْرَةِ الْمَرْأَةُ وَالْحِمَارُ.

Chapter 102. Drawing A Line If One Does Not Find A Stick

(المعجم ١٠٢) - بَابُ الْخَطِّ إِذَا لَمْ
يَجِدْ عَصًا (التحفة ١٠٤)

689. It was reported from Abū 'Amr bin Muḥammad bin Ḥuraith, that he heard his grandfather Ḥuraith narrating from Abū Hurairah that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: "When one of you prays, let him place something in front of him. If he does not find anything, let him take a stick and make it stand (in front of him). If he does not even have a stick, let him draw a line, then anything that passes in front of him will not affect him." (Da'if)

٦٨٩ - حَدَّثَنَا مُسَدَّدٌ: حَدَّثَنَا بِشْرُ بْنُ الْمُفَضَّلِ: حَدَّثَنَا إِسْمَاعِيلُ بْنُ أُمَيَّةَ: حَدَّثَنِي أَبُو عَمْرٍو بْنُ مُحَمَّدِ بْنِ حُرَيْثٍ أَنَّهُ سَمِعَ جَدَّهُ حُرَيْثًا يُحَدِّثُ عَنْ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ أَنَّ رَسُولَ اللَّهِ ﷺ قَالَ: «إِذَا صَلَّى أَحَدُكُمْ فَلْيَجْعَلْ تَلْقَاءَ وَجْهِهِ شَيْئًا، فَإِنْ لَمْ يَجِدْ فَلْيَنْصِبْ عَصًا، فَإِنْ لَمْ يَكُنْ مَعَهُ عَصًا فَلْيَخْطُطْ خَطًّا ثُمَّ لَا يَضُرَّهُ مَا مَرَّ أَمَامَهُ».

تخريج: [إسناده ضعيف] أخرجه البيهقي: ٢/ ٢٧٠ من حديث أبي داود به وانظر الحديث الآتي.

[1] 'Anazah a type of short spear, shorter than a lance, and some say it is shorter than the Harbah, and it has metal teeth. Some of them say that it is the same as a Harbah. 'Anazah appeared previously in a different version of this narration; no. 520.

690. (There is another chain) from ‘Alī meaning, Ibn Al-Madīnī, from Sufyān, from Ismā‘il bin Umayyah, from Abū Muḥammad bin ‘Amr bin Ḥurāith, from his grandfather Ḥurāith — who was a man from Banū ‘Udhrah — from Abū Hurairah, from Abūl-Qāsim رضي الله عنه. And he mentioned the Ḥadīth about the line. (Da‘īf)

Sufyān said:^[1] “We have not found anything to strengthen this Ḥadīth, and it has not been narrated except with this chain.” He (‘Alī bin Al-Madīnī) said: “I said to Sufyān: “They differed in it”^[2] so he discussed it for a while then said: ‘It is not preserved except from Abū Muḥammad bin ‘Amr.’”

Sufyān said: “After Ismā‘il bin Umayyah died, a man arrived here, so he sought out this Shaiḥ Abū Muḥammad until he found him, then he questioned him about it, but he was confused about it.”

Abū Dāwūd said: I heard Aḥmad — meaning Ibn Ḥanbal — may Allāh have mercy upon him, being asked more than once about how this line should be drawn, so he said: “Like this” indicating similar to a crescent, horizontally (in front of him).

Abū Dāwūd said: And I heard Musad-dad say: “(‘Abdullāh) bin Dāwūd said: ‘A (straight) line.’”

Abū Dāwūd said: And I heard Aḥmad say more than once that it should be drawn in a semi-circular fashion in front of the person praying.

Comments:

It is proven from authentic narrations that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ would pray while 'Āishah was sleeping in front of him. (See Ṣaḥīḥ Al-Bukhārī nos. 382-384, and 512-515.) The author recorded similarly in number 710. In general, though, one should not pray at the places where people are talking or busy in other worldly affairs as this may disrupt concentration, and similarly, based upon this narration, one should avoid praying behind a sleeping person.

Chapter 106. Coming Close To The Sutrah

695. It was reported from Nāfi' bin Jubair, from Sahl bin Abī Ḥathmah who conveyed it from the Prophet ﷺ, that he said: "When one of you prays towards a Sutrah, let him come close to it — let not Shaitān break his prayer." (Ṣaḥīḥ)

Abū Dāwud said: Wāqid bin Mūhammad reported it from Saḥwān, from Muḥammad bin Sahl, from his father, or from Muḥammad bin Sahl from the Prophet ﷺ. Some of them said: "From Nāfi' bin Jubair, from Sahl bin Sa'd, and there is disagreement in its chain. (Ṣaḥīḥ)

It was reported from ‘Abdur-Rahmān bin Abī Sa‘eed Al-Khudrī, from Abū Sa‘eed Al-Khudrī who said that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: “When one of you prays, let him not allow anyone to pass in front of him, and let him block him as much as he can. Comments:

If someone tries to cross in front of a worshiper who is praying behind a Sutrah then the worshiper should stop him by force. This should be done by stretching one’s hand out to block his passage. See no. 700.

Comments:

One stops the person from passing in front of them while they are performing Ṣalāt, actual fighting will dictate that they are no longer performing Ṣalāt, and therefore defeats the purpose of stopping them. Al-Khattābī said: "In this is evidence that few actions do not sever the Ṣalāt, provided it is not lengthy." Meaning, provided he does not become engaged in a matter aside from Ṣalāt. So the meaning is to stop him, then grab him if necessary, and then to push him back forcefully, if necessary, etc.

Chapter 108. The Prohibition Of Passing In Front Of One Who Is Praying

701. It was reported from Busr bin Sa'eed that Zaid bin Khālid Al-Juhnī sent him to Abū Juhaim to ask him what he heard from the Messenger of Allāh (ﷺ) about passing in front of the one who is praying. So Abū Juhaim said: "The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: 'If the one who crosses in front of someone who is praying only knew what (sin) would be upon him, then were he to wait forty, it would be better for him than to pass in front of him.'" Abū An-Naḍr (one of the narrators) said: "I do not know whether he said forty days, or months, or years." (Sahih)

Chapter 110. The Sutrah Of The Imām Acts As A Sutrah For Those Behind Him

(المعجم ١١٠) بَابُ: سُتْرَةُ الْإِمَامِ سُتْرَةٌ مَنْ خَلْفَهُ (التحفة ١١٢)

708. 'Amr bin Shu'aib narrated from his father, from his grandfather, that he said: "We camped once with the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ at Thaniyah Adhākhīr, and the time for prayer came. So he prayed towards a wall and took it as his Qiblah,^[1] while we were behind him. Then a goat tried to pass in front of him, but he continued to divert it, until (when it did not desist) he pressed his stomach to the wall, and it passed behind him." (Hasan)

٧٠٨ - حَدَّثَنَا مُسَدَّدٌ: حَدَّثَنَا عَيْسَى بْنُ يُونُسَ: حَدَّثَنَا هِشَامُ بْنُ الْعَازِ عَنْ عَمْرِو بْنِ شُعَيْبٍ، عَنْ أَبِيهِ، عَنْ جَدِّهِ قَالَ: هَبَطْنَا مَعَ رَسُولِ اللَّهِ ﷺ مِنْ نَبِيَّةٍ أَدَاخِرَ، فَحَضَرَتِ الصَّلَاةُ يَعْني فَصَلَّى إِلَى جَدْرِ فَاتَّخَذَهُ قِبْلَةً وَنَحْنُ خَلْفَهُ فَجَاءَتْ بِهِمَّةٌ تَمُرُّ بَيْنَ يَدَيْهِ فَمَا زَالَ يُدَارِئُهَا حَتَّى لَصِقَ بَطْنُهُ بِالْجَدْرِ وَمَرَّتْ مِنْ وَرَائِهِ أَوْ كَمَا قَالَ مُسَدَّدٌ.

709. Ibn 'Abbās narrated that the Prophet ﷺ was once praying when a baby goat tried to pass in front of him. So he prevented it (from doing so). (Hasan) ٧٠٩ - حَدَّثَنَا سُلَيْمَانُ بْنُ حَرْبٍ وَحَفْصُ بْنُ عُمَرَ قَالَا: حَدَّثَنَا شُعْبَةُ عَنْ عَمْرِو بْنِ مُرَّةَ، عَنْ يَحْيَى بْنِ الْجَزَارِيِّ، عَنْ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ: أَنَّ النَّبِيَّ ﷺ كَانَ يُصَلِّي فَذَهَبَ جَدْيٌ يَمُرُّ بَيْنَ يَدَيْهِ فَجَعَلَ يَتَّقِيهِ.

710. It was reported from Shu'bah, from Sa'd bin Ibrāhīm, from 'Urwah, from 'Āishah, who said: "I was (once) between the Prophet ﷺ and the Qiblah." Shu'bah said: "I think she said: '...while I was menstruating.'" (Sahīh)

Abū Dāwud said: Az-Zuhrī, 'Aṭā', Abū Bakr bin Ḥaṣṣ, Hishām bin 'Urwah, 'Irāk bin Mālik, Abū Al-Aswad, Tamīm bin Salamah — all reported it from 'Urwah from 'Āishah; and (it was also reported by) Ibrāhīm from Al-Aswad from 'Āishah; and (also) Abū Aḍ-Ḍuhā from Masrūq, from 'Āishah; and (also) Al-Qāsim bin Muḥammad and Abū Salamah from 'Āishah, and they did not mention: "I was menstruating."

712. It was reported from Al-Qāsim, who narrated from ‘Āishah, that she said: “How evil it is that you have equated us to donkeys and dogs! Chapter 112. Whoever Said That A Donkey Does Not Nullify The Prayer

(المعجم ١١٢) - بَابُ مَنْ قَالَ: الْحِمَارُ لَا يَقْطَعُ الصَّلَاةَ (التحفة ١١٤)

715. It was reported from Ibn 'Abbās, who said: "I came riding on a female donkey while the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ was leading the prayer at Minā, and I was at that time a (lad) who had come close to puberty. I crossed in front of some rows, and then dismounted (from the donkey). I let the donkey go as it wished, and entered (in prayer) in the row, and no one objected to that." (Ṣaḥīḥ)

Abū Dāwud said: This is the wording of Al-Qa'nabī, and it is more complete.^[1] Mālik said: "I don't see a problem with this, once the prayer has started."

قال أبو داؤد: وهذا لفظُ القَعْنَبِيِّ وهو أتم. قال مالك: وأنا أرى ذلك واسعاً إذا قامت الصلاة.

تخریج: أخرجه البخاري، أبواب سترة المصلي، باب سترة الإمام سترة من خلفه، ح: ٤٩٣ ومسلم، الصلاة، باب سترة المصلي والندب إلى الصلاة إلى سترة... إلخ، ح: ٥٠٤ من حديث مالك به وهو في الموطأ (يحيى): ١٥٦، ١٥٥/١.

Comments:

Those who say that the donkey does not sever the prayer argue that the donkey crossed a part of the row, and there was no Sutrah in front of them, and no one objected to that. But the Sutrah of Imām is sufficient for the entire congregation, therefore, if anyone crosses in front of the row but behind the Imām there is no harm.

[1] Meaning, than the version narrated to him by 'Uthmān bin Abī Shaibah, since he narrated this from those two, and Al-Qan'abī narrated it from Mālik.

716. Abū Aṣ-Ṣahbā' said: "Once we mentioned the factors that nullify the prayer in front of Ibn 'Abbās, so he said: 'I came to the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ while he was praying, and I was with a young lad from the tribe of Banū 'Abdul-Muṭṭalib, (both of us were) on a donkey. We both dismounted, and left the donkey in front of the row, and they did not mind that. And two young girls from the tribe of Banū 'Abdul-Muṭṭalib came and entered between the rows, and they did not mind that.'" (Hasan)

In another version of this (no. 716) Hadīth, he said: "Two young girls from the tribe of Banū 'Abdul-Muṭṭalib were fighting with each other, so he took them and separated them apart — 'Uthmān (one of the narrators) said: "he pulled one of them away from the other," — "and they (the people who were praying) did not mind that." Chapter 114. Whoever Said That Nothing Nullifies The Prayer تخریج: [حسن] أخرجه البيهقي: ٢/٢٧٨ من حديث أبي أسامة به وصرح بالسمع وللحديث شاهد قوي عند الدارقطني: ١/٣٦٧.

720. Abū Al-Waddāk said: “A youth from the Quraish passed in front of Abū Sa‘eed Al-Khudri while he was praying, so he pushed him away. The youth came back, but he pushed him again — three times. When he finished (the prayer), he said: ‘Nothing nullifies the prayer, but the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: ‘Prevent (people from crossing) as much as you can, for he is a Shaitān.’” (Hasan)

٧٢٠ - حَدَّثَنَا مُسَدَّدٌ: حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ الْوَاحِدِ ابْنُ زِيَادٍ: حَدَّثَنَا مُجَالِدٌ: حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو الْوَدَّاعِ قَالَ: مَرَّ شَابٌّ مِنْ قُرَيْشٍ بَيْنَ يَدَيْ أَبِي سَعِيدٍ الْخُدْرِيِّ وَهُوَ يُصَلِّي فَدَفَعَهُ، ثُمَّ عَادَ فَدَفَعَهُ، ثَلَاثَ مَرَّاتٍ، فَلَمَّا أَنْصَرَفَ قَالَ: إِنَّ الصَّلَاةَ لَا يَبْطُغُهَا شَيْءٌ، وَلَكِنْ قَالَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ ﷺ: «ادْرُؤُوا مَا اسْتَطَعْتُمْ فَإِنَّهُ شَيْطَانٌ».

Abū Dāwud said: If two narrations from the Prophet ﷺ differ with each other, then the actions of the Companions [may Allāh be pleased with him] after him are considered.

قال أبو داود: إِذَا تَنَازَعَ الْخَبْرَانِ عَنِ النَّبِيِّ ﷺ نَظَرَ إِلَى مَا عَمِلَ بِهِ أَصْحَابُهُ [رَضِيَ اللَّهُ عَنْهُمْ] مِنْ بَعْدِهِ.

تخریج: [حسن] أخرجه البيهقي، انظر الحديث السابق.

Comments:

These narrations prove that lying and sleeping in front of a praying person, and crossing in front of him are two different things.

Chapter 114, 115. Raising The Hands In The Prayer

(المعجم ١١٤، ١١٥) - بَابُ رَفْعِ الْيَدَيْنِ فِي الصَّلَاةِ (التحفة ١١٧)

721. Sālim reported from his father (Ibn ‘Umar) that he said: “I saw the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ raise his hands to the level of his shoulders when he began the prayer. And he would also do so when he intended to go into Rukū’, and after he would raise himself up from Rukū’” — Sufyān (one of the narrators) said one time: “when he would raise his head up” — and most of the time he said: “and after he would raise himself up from Rukū’”^[1] — “and he would not raise his hands between the two prostrations.” (Sahih) would raise his hands until they would be to the level of his shoulders, then he would say the Takbīr and his hands would be like that. Then he would go into Rukū'. Then, when he wanted to raise his back, he would raise them (his hands) until they would be to the level of his shoulders, and he would then say: 'Sami' Allāhu liman ḥamidah (Allāh has heard the one who praises Him).' And he would not raise his hands for the prostration, but he would raise them for every Takbīr that he would say before going into Rukū', until the prayer finished." (Ṣaḥīḥ)

Wa’il saw the Prophet ﷺ and his Companions raising their hands during the prayer. This narration specifies the final actions of the Prophet ﷺ.

He also said: "Then he (ﷺ) went into Rukū', and placed his hands on his knees, as if he were grabbing them. And he bent his hands (arms) such that they were away from his sides. Then he prostrated, and placed his nose and forehead (on the ground), and kept his hands (arms) at a distance from his sides. [1] When he started the prayer.

741. It was reported from ‘Abdul-
A‘lā that ‘Ubaidullāh narrated from Nāfi‘, from Ibn ‘Umar, that when he would stand for prayer, he would say the Takbīr and raise his hands.
And when he went into Rukū‘, and when he said: ‘Sami‘ Allāhu liman ḥamidah (Allāh hears the one who praises Him),’ and when he stood up after two Rak‘ahs, he would also raise his hands (for all of these acts). And he would claim that this was done by the Messenger of Allāh
ﷺ. (Ṣaḥīh)

Abū Dāwud said: What is correct is that it is a saying of Ibn ‘Umar, it is not Marfū‘ (from the Prophet ﷺ).

Abū Dāwud said: Baqiyyah of Ibn ‘Umar, and he said in it:

“And when he stood up after two his hands) to his chest.” And this is what is correct.

Abū Dāwud said: Al-Laith bin narrated it in Mawqūf form. Only Ḥammad bin Salamah narrated it with a (Marfū‘) chain from Ayyūb, mentioned raising (the hands)

mentioned it in his narration. Ibn Juraj said in it: "I said to Nāfi': 'Did Ibn 'Umar used to make the first one (i.e., the raising of hands) the highest?' He said: 'No, they were all (at) the same (level).'" So he said: "Show me." So he showed him to the (level of) the chest, or lower than it.

Chapter (...) Those Who Mentioned That He Should Raise His Hands After Standing Up After Two Rak'ah

743. It was reported from 'Āṣim bin Kulaib, from Muḥārib bin Dithār, from Ibn 'Umar, who said: "The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ would, when standing up after two Rak'ahs, say the Takbīr and raise his hands." (Sahīh)

(المعجم . . .) - بَابُ مَنْ ذَكَرَ أَنَّهُ يَرْفَعُ يَدَيْهِ إِذَا قَامَ مِنَ الثَّنَيْنِ (التحفة ١١٩)

تخريج: [إسناده صحيح] أخرجه أحمد: ١٤٥/٢ عن محمد بن فضيل بن غزوان به بإثبات رفع اليدين قبل الركوع وبعده.

744. It was reported from ‘Alī bin Abi Ṭālib that when the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ stood up to pray the obligatory prayers, he would say the Takbīr and raise his hands to the level of his shoulders. And he would do the same when he finished the recitation and intended to go into Rukū’. And he would do the same when he raised himself up from Rukū’. And he would not raise his hands in any of his prayer while he was sitting. And when he stood up after the two prostrations (after the second Rak’ah), he would also raise his hands and say the Takbīr. (Hasan)
Abū Dāwud said: And it is also reported in the Hadīth of Abū Humaid As-Sā’idī, when he described the prayer of the Prophet ﷺ that when he (ﷺ) stood up after two Rak’ahs, he would say the Takbīr, and raise his hands until they reached the level of his shoulders — just as he had done at the Takbīr at the beginning of the prayer.

تخريج: [إسناده حسن] أخرجه الترمذي، الدعوات، باب منه [دعاء: "وجهت وجهي للذي فطر السماوات والأرض..."], ح: ٣٤٢٣ عن الحسن بن علي به وقال: "حسن صحيح" ورواه ابن ماجه، ح: ٨٦٤ وصححه ابن خزيمة، ح: ٥٨٤.

745. Mālik bin Ḥuwairith said: “I saw the Prophet ﷺ raise his hands when he said the Takbīr, and when he went into Rukū’, and when he rose up from the Rukū’, until (his hands) reached the upper part of his ears.” (Ṣaḥīh)

٧٤٥ - حَدَّثَنَا حَفْصُ بْنُ عُمَرَ: حَدَّثَنَا شُعْبَةُ عَنْ قَتَادَةَ، عَنْ نَصْرِ بْنِ عَاصِمٍ، عَنْ مَالِكِ بْنِ الْحُوَيْرِثِ قَالَ: رَأَيْتُ النَّبِيَّ ﷺ يَرْفَعُ يَدَيْهِ إِذَا كَبَّرَ وَإِذَا رَكَعَ وَإِذَا رَفَعَ رَأْسَهُ

مِنَ الرُّكُوعِ حَتَّى يَبْلُغَ بِهِمَا فُرُوعَ أُذُنَيْهِ.

746. Abū Hurairah said: “If I were in front of the Prophet ﷺ, I would have seen his armpits.” (Hasan)

Ibn Mu‘ādh^[1] said: “He said: ‘Lāḥiq would say: ‘Meaning that, in the prayer, he cannot be in front of the Prophet ﷺ.’” Mūsā (one of the narrators) added: “Meaning that when he said the Takbīr and raised his hands.”

٧٤٦ - حَدَّثَنَا ابْنُ مُعَاذٍ: حَدَّثَنَا أَبِي؛
ح: وحدثنا موسى بن مروان: حَدَّثَنَا شُعَيْبٌ
يَعْنِي ابْنَ إِسْحَاقَ، الْمَعْنَى عَنْ عِمْرَانَ، عَنْ
لَاحِقٍ، عَنْ بَشِيرِ بْنِ نَهْلِكَ قَالَ: قَالَ أَبُو
هُرَيْرَةَ: لَوْ كُنْتُ قُدَّامَ النَّبِيِّ ﷺ لَرَأَيْتُ إِبْطَيْهِ.
زَادَ ابْنُ مُعَاذٍ: قَالَ يَقُولُ لِأَجْحَى: أَلَا تَرَى أَنَّهُ
فِي الصَّلَاةِ وَلَا يَسْتَطِيعُ أَنْ يَكُونَ قُدَّامَ النَّبِيِّ
ﷺ. وَزَادَ مُوسَى: يَعْني إِذَا كَبَّرَ رَفَعَ يَدَيْهِ.

تخریج: [إسناده حسن] أخرجه النسائي، التطبيق، باب صفة السجود، ح: ١١٠٨ من حديث عمران به مختصراً.

747. It was reported from ‘Alqamah, who said: “‘Abdullāh (bin Mas‘ūd) said: ‘The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ taught us the prayer. So he would say the Takbīr and raise his hands. And when he went into Rukū‘, he would clasp his hands between his knees.’ This reached Sa‘d^[2] so he said: ‘My brother has spoken the truth; we used to do this (in the past), then we were commanded to do this’ — meaning holding on to the knees.”

٧٤٧ - حَدَّثَنَا عُثْمَانُ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ:
حَدَّثَنَا ابْنُ إِدْرِيسَ عَنْ عَاصِمِ بْنِ كُلَيْبٍ، عَنْ
عَبْدِ الرَّحْمَنِ بْنِ الْأَسْوَدِ، عَنْ عَلْقَمَةَ قَالَ:
قَالَ عَبْدُ اللَّهِ: عَلَّمَنَا رَسُولُ اللَّهِ ﷺ الصَّلَاةَ
فَكَبَّرَ وَرَفَعَ يَدَيْهِ، فَلَمَّا رَكَعَ طَبَّقَ يَدَيْهِ بَيْنَ
رُكْبَتَيْهِ قَالَ: فَبَلَغَ ذَلِكَ سَعْدًا فَقَالَ: صَدَقَ
أَخِي قَدْ كُنَّا نَفْعَلُ هَذَا ثُمَّ أُمِرْنَا بِهِذَا، يَعْني
الإمْسَاكَ عَلَى الرُّكْبَتَيْنِ.

Chapter 116,117. Those Who Did Not Mention Raising The Hands After Rukū‘

(المعجم ١١٦، ١١٧) - بَابُ مَنْ لَمْ يَذْكُرِ الرَّفْعَ عِنْدَ الرَّكُوعِ (التحفة ١٢٠)

748. It was reported from Sufyān from ‘Āṣim — meaning Ibn Kulaib — from ‘Abdur-Raḥmān bin Al-Aswad, from ‘Alqamah who said: “‘Abdullāh bin Mas‘ūd said: ‘Should I not pray for you the prayer of the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ?’ So he prayed, and he did not raise his hands except one time. (Da‘īf)

٧٤٨ - حَدَّثَنَا عُثْمَانُ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ: حَدَّثَنَا وَكَيْعٌ عَنْ سُفْيَانَ، عَنْ عَاصِمٍ - يَعْنِي ابْنَ كُلَيْبٍ - عَنْ عَبْدِ الرَّحْمَنِ بْنِ الْأَسْوَدِ، عَنْ عَلْقَمَةَ قَالَ: قَالَ عَبْدُ اللَّهِ بْنُ مَسْعُودٍ: أَلَا أُصَلِّي بِكُمْ صَلَاةَ رَسُولِ اللَّهِ ﷺ؟ قَالَ: فَصَلَّى فَلَمْ يَرْفَعْ يَدَيْهِ إِلَّا مَرَّةً.

Abū Dāwud said: This is a summarized version of a longer narration, and it is not authentic with this wording.

قال أبو داود: هذا حديثٌ مُختَصَرٌ مِنْ حَدِيثٍ طَوِيلٍ، وَلَيْسَ هُوَ بِصَحِيحٍ عَلَى هَذَا اللَّفْظِ.

٧٥١ - حَدَّثَنَا الْحَسَنُ بْنُ عَلِيٍّ: حَدَّثَنَا مُعَاوِيَةُ وَخَالِدُ بْنُ عَمْرٍو وَأَبُو حُدَيْفَةَ قَالُوا: أَخْبَرَنَا سُفْيَانُ بِإِسْنَادِهِ بِهَذَا قَالَ: فَرَفَعَ يَدَيْهِ فِي أَوَّلِ مَرَّةٍ، وَقَالَ بَعْضُهُمْ: مَرَّةً وَاحِدَةً. تخریج: [إسناده ضعيف] انظر، ح: ٧٤٨.

Messenger of Allāh ﷺ, when he used to start the prayer, would raise his hands close to the level of his ears, then he would not repeat (that). (Da'if)

رسول الله ﷺ كَانَ إِذَا افْتَتَحَ الصَّلَاةَ رَفَعَ يَدَيْهِ إِلَى قَرِيبٍ مِنْ أُذُنَيْهِ ثُمَّ لَا يَعُودُ.

تخریج: [إسناده ضعيف] أخرجه ابن حبان في المجروحين: ١٠٠/٣ (والحميدي (بتحقيق حبيب الرضى أعظمي ح: ٧٢٤) من حديث يزيد بن أبي زياد به وهو ضعيف مدلس ولم يصرح بالسماح في هذا المتن وحدث به بعد اختلاطه واتفق الحفاظ على أن قوله: ثم لم يعد، مدرج (التلخيص الحبير: ١/٢٢١) والمدرج إلى المدرج للسيوطي ص: ١٩).

750. (There is another chain) that Sufyān narrated from Yazid similar to the narration of Sharīk (no. 749), but he did not say: "...then he would not repeat (that)." (Da'if)

٧٥٠ - حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ اللَّهِ بْنُ مُحَمَّدٍ الزُّهْرِيُّ: حَدَّثَنَا سُفْيَانٌ عَنْ يَزِيدَ نَحْوَ حَدِيثِ شَرِيكٍ، لَمْ يَقُلْ: ثُمَّ لَا يَعُودُ. قَالَ سُفْيَانٌ: قَالَ لَنَا بِالْكُوفَةِ بَعْدَ ثُمَّ لَا يَعُودُ.

Sufyān said: "Afterwards, in Al-Kūfah, he (Yazīd) said to us: "Then he would not repeat (that)."

Abū Dāwud said: Hushaim, Khālid, and Ibn Idrīs reported this Hadīth from Yazīd, and they did not mention: "Then he would not repeat (that)."

قال أبو داود: رَوَى هذا الحديث هُشَيْمٌ وَخَالِدٌ وَابْنُ إِدْرِيسَ عَنْ يَزِيدَ لَمْ يَذْكُرُوا ثُمَّ لَا يَعُودُ.

تخریج: [ضعيف] أخرجه الحميدي عن سفيان بن عيينة به، انظر الحديث السابق.

Comments:

Al-Hāfiẓ Ibn Hajar writes that the scholars and Huffāz agree that the words "then he would not repeat that" are not correct in this narration.

752. (There is another chain) that Wakī' narrated from Ibn Abī Laila, from his brother 'Eīsā, from Al-Ḥakam, from Abdur-Raḥmān bin Abī Lailā, from Al-Barā' bin 'Āzib, that he said: "I saw the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ raise his hands when he started the prayer, then he would not raise them until he finished." Abū Dāwud said: This Hadīth is not correct.

الكشميري الديوبندي: "فهو ضعيف عندي كما ذهب إليه الجمهور" (فيض الباري: ١٦٨/٣) وهو سمع هذا الخبر من يزيد بن أبي زياد كما في كتاب العلل للإمام أحمد، ح: ٦٩٣.

753. Abū Hurairah reported: "The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ, when he started the prayer, would raise his hands extended."^[1] (Hasan)

٧٥٥ - حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ بَكَّارٍ بْنِ الرِّيَّانِ عَنْ هُشَيْمِ بْنِ بَشِيرٍ، عَنِ الْحَجَّاجِ بْنِ أَبِي زَيْنَبٍ، عَنْ أَبِي عُثْمَانَ النَّهْدِيِّ، عَنْ ابْنِ مَسْعُودٍ: أَنَّهُ كَانَ يُصَلِّي فَوَضَعَ يَدَهُ اليُسْرَى عَلَى اليُمْنَى فَرَأَاهُ النَّبِيُّ ﷺ فَوَضَعَ يَدَهُ اليُمْنَى عَلَى اليُسْرَى.

[1] They differ on the meaning of "Maddan", translated here as "extended"; whether it refers to a description of where the hands were or how high, or how they were, or that the fingers were not closed together, since the word can apply to any of these. See nos 239 in Sunan At-Tirmidhī and 884 in Sunan An-Nasā'ī.

Verily, my prayer, and rites, and life, and death, all belong to Allāh, the Lord of the creation — He has no partners. And this is what I have been commanded with, and I am the first to submit myself (to Him). O Allāh, You are the King; there is no deity worthy of worship except You. You are my Lord, and I am Your slave. I have wronged myself, and admit to my sin, so forgive me all my sins; none forgives sins except for You. And guide me to the best conduct (and manners); none guides to the best of them except You. And turn away from me the evil of it (conduct and manners); none can turn away the evil of it except You. I am at Your service, and at Your help (call) at all times. All good is in Your Hands, and evil is not attributed to You. My (help and success) is with You, and upon You. You are exalted and glorified. I seek Your Forgiveness, and repent to You)

Comments:

This supplication may be said in all the prayers, obligatory or supererogatory, day or night.

761. (There is another chain) ‘Alī bin Abī Ṭālib reported: “When the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ used to stand up for the obligatory prayer, he would say the Takbīr and raise his hands upto (his) shoulders, and he would do the same when he finished the recitation, and when he intended to go into Rukū’, and when he stood up after Rukū’. And he would not raise his hands at any place of the prayer where he was sitting. And when he stood up after the two prostrations (Rak’ahs), he would raise his hands in a similar manner, and say the Takbīr...”

And he completed the narration in a similar manner as (the previous) narration of ‘Abdul-‘Azīz (no. 760) with some additions and deletions, except that he did not say: “Wal-khairu kulluhu fī yadaika wash-sharru laisa ilaika (and all good is in Your Hands, and evil is not attributed to You).”

And he added in it: “And he (the Prophet ﷺ) would say, when he finished the prayer: Allāhumaghfirli mā qaddamtu wa akh-khartu wa asrartu wa a’lantu,

762. Shu‘aib bin Abī Ḥamzah said: “Ibn Al-Munkadir, and Ibn Abī Farwah, and other among the Fuqahā’ of Al-Madīnah told me: ‘When you say that’ — meaning: ‘Wa ana awwalul-muslimīn (And I am the first to submit myself)’ — then you should say (instead): ‘Wa ana minal-muslimīn (And I am of those who submit myself).’” (Ṣaḥīḥ)

763. Anas bin Mālik narrated that a person came to pray, and he was short of breath.^[1] So he said: “Allāhu Akbaru, al-ḥamdulillāhi ḥamdan kathīran ṭayyiban mubārakan fih (Allāh is greater (than all things). All praise is due to Allāh; plentiful, beautiful and blessed praise).”

When the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ completed the prayer, he said: “Who was the one who said these phrases, for he did not say anything wrong.” The man replied: “It was I, O Messenger of Allāh. I came while I was short of breath, so I said it.” He said: “I saw twelve angels racing with one another (to see) who among them would raise it up (to Allāh first).”

So the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: 'I saw over thirty angels racing to see who would be the first to write it.'" (Ṣaḥīḥ)

Chapter 121,122. Those Who Do Not Say That “Bismillāhir-Rahmānir-Rahīm” Should Be Said Aloud

782. It was reported from Qatādah, from Anas, that the Prophet ﷺ, Abū Bakr, ‘Umar and ‘Uthmān would all start their recitation with: All praise is due to Allāh, the Lord of all that exists.^[1] (Ṣaḥīh)

783. It was reported from Abū Al-Jawzā from ‘Āishah, that she said: “The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ would start the prayer with the Takbīr, and by reciting: All praise is due to Allāh, the Lord of all that exists...^[2] And when he would go into Rukū’, he would not raise his head, nor would he hang it down, but it would be between these two (extremes). And when he would raise his head up from Rukū’, he would not go into prostration until he would stand up straight. And when he would raise his head up from prostration, he would not go into prostration until he had sat down perfectly. And he would say the Tahīyyāt after every two Rak’ahs. And when he would sit, he would place his left foot horizontally (on the ground), and

784. It was reported from Al-Mukhtār bin Fulful who said: “I heard Anas bin Mālik saying: ‘The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: “A Sūrah was just revealed to me.” Then he recited: “Bismillāhir-Rahmānir-Rahīm (In the Name of Allāh, the Merciful, the Beneficent); We have indeed given you the Kawthar...” until he finished the Sūrah.^[3] He said: “Do you know what the Kawthar is?” They said: “Allāh and His Messenger know best.” He replied: “It is a river that my Lord, the Mighty and Sublime, has promised (to give) me in Paradise.” (Ṣaḥīḥ)

Chapter (...) Those Who Recited It Out Loud

786. It was reported from Yazīd Al-Fārisī who said: “I heard Ibn ‘Abbās say: ‘I asked ‘Uthmān bin ‘Affān: “What has caused you to take (Sūrah) Barā‘ah, and it is of the Mi‘in, and (Sūrah) Al-Anfāl, and it is of the Mathānī, and put them in the ‘Seven Long Ones,’ without writing Bismillāhir-Raḥmānir-Raḥīm (between them)?” So ‘Uthmān said: “The Prophet ﷺ, when Verses would be revealed to him, he would call one of his scribes that used to write for him,

[1] The first few Sūrahs are called 'The Seven Long Ones', due to their length. These are followed by the Mi'in Sūrahs of the Qur'ān, so called since they each number around a hundred verses in length. These are followed by the Mathānī, so called since they are frequently recited (during the prayers). All Sūrahs of the Qur'ān have the Basmalah written at the beginning of them, except for the ninth Sūrah, known as Sūrah Barā'ah or Surat At-Tawbah. In this narration, Ibn 'Abbas asked 'Uthmān why he joined Barā'ah with Al-Anfāl (meaning why he placed them next to each other in order), even though in his opinion each was of a different category of Sūrah. 'Uthmān replied that the content of the two Sūrahs resembled one other, and the Prophet ﷺ passed away before explaining where to place them (in contrast to other Sūrahs and Verses, which were placed in specific sections by the explicit command of the Prophet ﷺ), hence he placed them together.

ﷺ did not write Bismillāhir-Raḥmānir-Raḥīm until Sūrat An-Naml was revealed.^[1]

788. It was reported from Sa'eed bin Jubair, from Ibn 'Abbās, that he said: "The Prophet ﷺ did not know the end of a Sūrah until Bismillāhir-Raḥmānir-Raḥīm was revealed." (Ṣaḥīḥ)

Chapter 122,123. Making The Prayer Shorter Due To An Unexpected Occurrence

(المعجم ١٢٢، ١٢٣) - بَابُ تَخْفِيفِ الصَّلَاةِ لِلْأَمْرِ بِحَدُوثِ (التحفة ١٢٧)

789. Abū Qatādah narrated that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: "I (sometimes) stand up to pray, desiring to lengthen (the prayer), but then I hear the cry of an infant, so I shorten (the prayer), not desiring to cause its mother any difficulty." (Ṣaḥīḥ)

Comments:

It is preferable to pray long and with humbleness and devotion but the Imām should have regard for the weak among the worshipers.

Chapter (...) What Has Been Narrated Concerning The Deficiency Of The Prayer

(المعجم ...) - بَابُ مَا جَاءَ فِي نَقْصَانِ الصَّلَاةِ (التحفة ١٢٩)

796.^[1] ‘Ammār bin Yāsir reported that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: “A person leaves (after having prayed), and nothing is written for him except a tenth of his prayer, (or) a ninth of it, (or) an eighth of it, (or) a seventh of it, (or) a sixth of it, (or) a fifth of it, (or) a fourth of it, (or) a third of it, (or) a half of it.” (Hasan)

Comments:

Obviously, this diminution of reward is due to devilish insinuations, stray thoughts, lack of concentration, absence or lack of humbleness, and improper or imperfect performance of various obligatory parts of the prayer.

Chapter (...) What Has Been Narrated Concerning Shortening The Prayer

(المعجم ١٢٣، ١٢٤) - بَابُ تَخْفِيفِ الصَّلَاةِ (التحفة ١٢٨)

790. It was reported from Suyān, from ‘Amr that he heard from Jābir that Mu‘ādh used to pray with the Prophet ﷺ, then return and lead them. One time he^[2] said “Lead his people” in prayer. One night, the Prophet ﷺ delayed the prayer. One time he said “the Ishā’.” So Mu‘ādh prayed with the Prophet ﷺ, then returned to lead

[1] In some of the manuscripts there is a discrepancy in the sequence here.

[2] The author narrated this from Ahmad bin Hanbal (3:308), who narrated from Sufyan bin ‘Uyaynah. It is Ahmad saying: “He said one time” meaning Sufyan said one time. And “Abū Az-Zubair said” and the remainder is Sufyan saying that Abū Az-Zubair said, etc. ‘Amr is ‘Amr bin Dinār.

his people in prayer. He started reciting Al-Baqarah. One member of the congregation broke off (from the prayer), and prayed (by himself). He was told: “You have become a hypocrite!” He replied: “No, I have not become a hypocrite,” then he went to the Prophet ﷺ, and said: “O Messenger of Allāh! Mu‘ādh prays with you, then comes back to lead us (in prayer). And we are caretakers of camels that require watering, and (we) work with our hands, and (yet) he came to lead us in prayer and recited Al-Baqarah.”

So he said: “O Mu‘ādh, are you the one who causes problems (and difficulty)? Are you the one who causes problems (and difficulty)? Recite such (a Sūrah), recite such (a Sūrah).” (Ṣaḥīḥ)

Abū Az-Zubair said:“(These were): Glorify the Name of your Lord, the Most High,^[1] and: By the Night, when it covers.”^[2] So we mentioned that to ‘Amr and he said: “I think that he did mention these (Sūrahs).”

Comments:

1. The Imām should have consideration and regard for those praying behind him. He should keep the length of the prayer moderate.
2. The Companions thought of one lagging behind and skipping congregation prayer as a hypocrite.

791. Ubayy bin Ka‘b narrated that he visited Mu‘ādh bin Jabal, and he was leading a group in the Maghrib

Comments:

Shaikh Al-Albānī has explained that the word "traveler" in the aforementioned Hadīth is an interpolation. It is not correct in this Hadīth.

792. It was reported from Sulaiman, from Abū Šāliḥ, from one of the Prophet’s ﷺ Companions that he asked a person: “What (supplication) do you say in the prayer?” The man replied: “I say the Tashah-hud, then say: ‘Allāhumma innī as‘aluka l-jannah, wa a‘ūdhu bika minan-nār (O Allāh, I ask you for Paradise, and seek Your refuge from the Fire). Indeed, I am not capable of your mumblings nor the mumblings of Mu‘adh!’” So the Prophet ﷺ responded: “Around this (meaning) we mumble!” (Da‘īf)

مُعَاذٍ قَالَ: وَقَالَ - يَعْنِي النَّبِيَّ ﷺ - لِفَتَى: «كَيْفَ تَصْنَعُ يَا ابْنَ أَخِي! إِذَا صَلَّيْتَ؟» قَالَ: أَقْرَأُ بِفَاتِحَةِ الْكِتَابِ، وَأَسْأَلُ اللَّهَ الْجَنَّةَ، وَأَعُوذُ بِهِ مِنَ النَّارِ، وَإِنِّي لَا أَدْرِي مَا دَنْدَنْتَكَ وَلَا دَنْدَنُةَ مُعَاذٍ. فَقَالَ النَّبِيُّ ﷺ: «إِنِّي وَمُعَاذٌ حَوْلَ هَاتَيْنِ»، أَوْ نَحْوَ هَذَا.

Comments:

Light or short prayer means to be moderate in length, by not reciting too long for the followers.

Chapter 124,125. Recitation In Zuhr

797. 'Atā' bin Abī Rabāh reported from Abū Hurairah, may Allāh be pleased with him, that he said: "In every prayer there is recitation — those that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ used to recite out loud to us, we have recited out loud to you, and those that he used to (recite) silently, we have kept it silent from you." (Sahih)

Comments:

Scholars are unanimous in agreement that the Qur'an is recited aloud in the first two Rak'ah of Maghrib and 'Ishā', and both Rak'ahs for Fajr, the Friday prayer, 'Eid and the Istisqā' (seeking rain) prayers, while it is recited quietly during all of Zuhr, 'Aṣr, the third Rak'ah of Maghrib and the last two Rak'ahs of the 'Ishā' prayers.

798. It was reported from Abū Qatādah, who said: "The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ would lead us in prayer, and in the Zuhr and 'Aṣr prayers, in the first two Rak'ah, he would recite Fātiḥatil-Kitāb and another Sūrah. Sometimes he would make us hear a Verse (that he was reciting). And he would lengthen the first Rak'ah of Zuhr, and make the second one short. And he would do the same for the Ṣubḥ prayer." (Sahih)

One may recite only Al-Fātiḥah in the last two Rak’ahs of Zuhr and ‘Asr prayers or one may also recite more of the Qur’ān. This is also borne out in the following Ḥadīth (no. 804).

We learn from these Aḥādīth that the Messenger of Allāh (ﷺ) recited long *Sūrah*s on some occasions. The Imām should take into consideration the circumstances and the needs of those whom he is leading in prayer.

Comments:

The Ḥadīth is authentic but the statement "more than that" does not occur in other versions of the same narration.

823. It was reported from Muḥammad bin Salamah, from Muḥammad bin Ishāq, from Makhūl, from Maḥmūd bin Ar-Rabī‘ from ‘Ubādah bin Aṣ-Ṣāmit, who said: “We were (standing) behind the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ in the Fajr prayer. The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ recited (the Qur’ān), but found it difficult to recite (due to interference). When he completed (the prayer) he said: ‘Perhaps you recite behind your Imām?’ We said: ‘Yes, rapidly, O Messenger of Allāh.’ So he said: ‘Do not do so, except with Fātiḥatil-Kitāb, for there is no prayer for one who does not recite it.’” (Ṣaḥīḥ)

٨٢٣ - حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ اللَّهِ بْنُ مُحَمَّدٍ النَّفِيلِيُّ: حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ سَلَمَةَ عَنْ مُحَمَّدِ بْنِ إِسْحَاقَ، عَنْ مَكْحُولٍ، عَنْ مَحْمُودِ بْنِ الرَّبِيعِ، عَنْ عُبَادَةَ بْنِ الصَّامِتِ قَالَ: كُنَّا خَلْفَ رَسُولِ اللَّهِ ﷺ فِي صَلَاةِ الْفَجْرِ، فَقَرَأَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ ﷺ فَتَقَلَّبَتْ عَلَيْهِ الْقِرَاءَةُ، فَلَمَّا فَرَغَ قَالَ: «لَعَلَّكُمْ تَقْرؤونَ خَلْفَ إِمَامِكُمْ؟» قُلْنَا: نَعَمْ هَذَا يَارَسُولَ اللَّهِ! قَالَ: «لَا تَفْعَلُوا إِلَّا بِفَاتِحَةِ الْكِتَابِ فَإِنَّهُ لَا صَلَاةَ لِمَنْ لَمْ يَقْرَأْ بِهَا».

824. It was reported from Makḥūl, from Nāfi' bin Maḥmūd bin Ar-Rabī' Al-Anṣārī who said: "Once 'Ubādah (bin Aṣ-Ṣāmit) was late for the Ṣubḥ prayer, so Abū Nu'aim, the Mu'adh-dhīn, called the Iqāmah, and led the people in prayer. 'Ubādah came, and I was with him, and we stood behind Abū Nu'aim while he was reciting out loud. 'Ubādah started reciting Fātiḥatil-Kitāb. When he finished, I said to him: 'I heard you reciting Fātiḥatil-Kitāb while Abū Nu'aim was reciting out loud (as well).' He replied: 'Yes. The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ prayed a prayer in which the recitation is done out loud, and the recitation became difficult for him. When he finished, he turned around to face us and said: "Do you recite when I recite out loud?" Some of us replied: "We do indeed do that." So he said: "Then do not (do so), for I was saying (to myself) 'What is the matter with me that I am struggling with the Qur'an?' So do not recite anything of the Qur'an when I recite out loud, except the Mother of the Book.'" (Ṣaḥīḥ)

825. (Others reported it) from Makhūl, from ‘Ubādah, similar to the narration of Ar-Rabi’ bin Sulaimān.^[1] They all said: “So Makhūl would recite the Fātiḥah in every Rak’ah of Maghrib, ‘Ishā’, and Ṣubḥ silently. Makhūl would say: ‘After the Imām recites (Fātiḥah) out loud and remains quiet, recite it (Fātiḥah) silently. But if he does not remain quiet, then recite before him, or with him, or after him. Chapter 132,133. Those Who Held That One Should Recite (Al-Fātiḥah) In Other Than The Aloud Prayers

826. It was reported from Mālik, from Ibn Shihāb, from Ibn Ukaimah Al-Laithī, from Abū Hurairah that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ once turned around (after completing) a prayer in which he had recited out loud, and said: “Did one of you just recite with me now?” (One man) said: “Yes, O Messenger of Allāh.” He replied: “I was saying (to myself) why is it that I am struggling in my (recitation) of the Qur’ān.” So when the people heard this, they stopped reciting in those prayers in which the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ recited out loud. Comments:

Both the above-mentioned Aḥādīth are weak as to the chain of narration. Before prostrating, one should place one’s hands on the ground first rather than one’s knees. This is borne out by the following Hadīth (no. 840).

It was reported from ‘Abdul-ʿAzīz bin Muḥammad (who said): “Muḥammad bin ‘Abdullāh bin Ḥasan narrated to us from Abū Az-Zinād, from Al-Aʿraj, from Abū Hurairah who said: ‘The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: “When one of you prostrates, let him not kneel as a camel kneels, and let him place his hands (on the ground) before his knees.” (Ḥasan)

846. It was reported from ‘Abdullāh bin Numair, Abū Mu‘āwiyah, Wakī‘, and Muḥammad bin ‘Ubaid from Al-A‘mash, from ‘Ubaid bin Al-Ḥasan who said: “I heard ‘Abdullāh bin Abī Awfā saying: ‘When the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ would raise his head from Rukū‘, he would say: “Sami’ Allāhu liman ḥamidah, Allāhummah rabbanā lakal-ḥamdu mil’as-samāwāti wa mil’al-arḍi wa mil’ama shū‘ta min shai’in ba’d. (Allāh has heard the one that praises Him. O Allāh, our Lord, to You belongs all praise, filling the heavens, and filling the earth, and filling anything that You will after that.)” (Ṣaḥīḥ)

Abū Dāwud said: Sufyān Ath-Thawri and Shu‘bah bin Al-Ḥajjāj said (in this chain): “‘Ubaid Abī Al-Ḥasan.”^[1] This Hadīth does not contain “after Rukū‘” in it.^[2] Sufyān said: “We met Shaiḥh ‘Ubaid Abū Al-Ḥasan later, so he did not say: ‘after Rukū‘’ in it.”

Abū Dāwud said: And Shu‘bah (also) reported it from Abū ‘Iṣmah from Al-A‘mash from ‘Ubaid, he said: “After Rukū‘.”

Comments:

Both the Imām and the follower may chose any of the wordings for these supplications found in the authentic Ḥadīths.

848. Abū Hurairah reported that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: “When the Imām says: ‘Sami‘ Allāhu liman ḥamidah (Allāh has heard the one that praises Him)’ then (all of you) say: ‘Allāhumma rabbanā lakal-ḥamdu (O Allāh, our Lord, to You belongs all Praise).’ For indeed, if one’s statement corresponds with the statement of the Angels, all of his previous sins will be forgiven.” (Ṣaḥīḥ)

٨٤٨ - حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ اللَّهِ بْنُ مَسْلَمَةَ عَنِ أَبِي مَالِكٍ، عَنْ سُمَيْيٍّ، عَنْ أَبِي صَالِحٍ السَّمَّانِ، عَنْ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ أَنَّ رَسُولَ اللَّهِ ﷺ قَالَ: «إِذَا قَالَ الْإِمَامُ: سَمِعَ اللَّهُ لِمَنْ حَمِدَهُ، فَقُولُوا: اللَّهُمَّ رَبَّنَا لَكَ الْحَمْدُ، فَإِنَّهُ مَنْ وَافَقَ قَوْلُهُ قَوْلَ الْمَلَائِكَةِ غُفِرَ لَهُ مَا تَقَدَّمَ مِنْ ذَنْبِهِ».

Comments:

1. We learn from this Ḥadīth that Angels, too, say these words, and that they say them when the Imām has finished saying Sami‘-Allāhu li-man ḥamidah.
2. The followers should also say it, as the Angels do.

849. Muṭarrif reported from ‘Āmir who said: “The people (praying) behind the Imām should not say, ‘Sami‘ Allāhu liman ḥamidah

٨٤٩ - حَدَّثَنَا يَشْرُ بْنُ عَمَّارٍ: حَدَّثَنَا أَشْبَاطُ عَنْ مُطَرِّفٍ، عَنْ عَامِرٍ قَالَ: لَا يَقُولُ الْقَوْمُ خَلْفَ الْإِمَامِ: سَمِعَ اللَّهُ لِمَنْ حَمِدَهُ،

Chapter 140,141. The Supplication Between The Two Prostrations

850. Ibn ‘Abbās reported that the Prophet ﷺ would say between the two prostrations: “Allāhummaghfirī warḥamnī wa ‘āfinī, waḥdīnī warzuqnī (O Allāh! Forgive me, and have mercy on me, and grant me security, and guide me, and give me sustenance.)” (Ḥasan)

Chapter 141,142. Women Raising Their Heads From Prostration When They Are (Praying) With Men

851. It was reported from the freed slave of Asmā’ bint Abī Bakr, from Asmā’ bint Abī Bakr, that she said: “I heard the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ say: ‘She (i.e., the women) among you who believes in Allāh and the Last Day — let her not raise her head until the men raise theirs.’ (He said this) due to the fact that he disliked that they should see the ‘Awrah of the men.” (Ḍa‘īf)

The words "and sitting" are not mentioned in some of the manuscripts.

853. Anas bin Mālik said: "I have never prayed behind anyone who was more concise in his prayer than the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ, while (the prayer) was still perfectly (performed). And the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ would stand up after saying, 'Sami' Allāhu liman hamidah (Allāh has heard the one who praises Him)' for such a (lengthy) period that we would presume that he had made a mistake, then he would say the Takbīr and go into prostration. Al-Barā' bin 'Azib said: "I carefully watched Muḥammad ﷺ" — Abū Kāmil (one of the narrators) said: "The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ" — "pray, and saw that his standing was similar (in length) to his Rukū' and prostration. And (the time that he) stood up after Rukū' was the same as his prostration, and (the time that he) sat between the two prostrations, and (the length of) his prostrations, and the (time that he sat) after the Taslīm before leaving (i.e., Taslīm)." (Ṣaḥīḥ)

Abū Dāwud said: Musad-dad said: "His Rukū', and his standing up between the two Rak'ahs, and his (first) prostration, and his sitting between the two prostrations, and his (second) prostration, and his sitting between the Taslīm and before leaving, were all the same."

It is recommended that the bowing, standing, prostrating, sitting between prostrations and sitting after the Taslīm — all be performed calmly, peacefully, without hurry, and be prolonged reasonably proportionate to the length of recitation.

So the man returned and prayed in the same manner that he had previously prayed. He then returned to the Prophet ﷺ and said Salām. The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: "And upon you be the Salām; Return and pray, for you have not prayed." This occurred three times. Comments:

Ṭabīq, or clasping one's hands together between the knees while in Rukū', has been abrogated, according to the majority of scholars, and the Companions.

868. It was reported from 'Alqamah and Al-Aswad, from 'Abdullāh (bin Mas'ūd) who said: "When one of you goes into Rukū', then let him spread his forearms over his thighs, and let him intertwine his palms between his knees, for I remember seeing the fingers of the Messenger of Allāh intertwined (while he was in Rukū')." (Ṣaḥīḥ)

٨٦٨ - حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ عَبْدِ اللَّهِ بْنِ نُمَيْرٍ: حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو مُعَاوِيَةَ: حَدَّثَنَا الْأَعْمَشُ عَنْ إِبْرَاهِيمَ، عَنْ عَلْقَمَةَ وَالْأَسْوَدِ، عَنْ عَبْدِ اللَّهِ قَالَ: إِذَا رَكَعَ أَحَدُكُمْ فَلْيَفْرِشْ ذِرَاعَيْهِ عَلَى فَخْذَيْهِ وَلْيَطْبُقْ بَيْنَ كَفَيْهِ فَكَأَنِّي أَنْظُرُ إِلَى اخْتِلَافِ أَصَابِعِ رَسُولِ اللَّهِ ﷺ.

Comments:

The majority of the scholars agree that this action of interlocking the fingers during the bowing position is abrogated, according to narrations like the one preceding this one, and that the hands are to be placed upon the knees during the bowing position.

Chapter 148,149. The Supplication During The Prayer

(المعجم ١٤٨، ١٤٩) - بَابُ الدَّعَاءِ فِي الصَّلَاةِ (التحفة ١٥٤)

٨٨٠ - حَدَّثَنَا عَمْرُو بْنُ عُثْمَانَ: حَدَّثَنَا بَقِيَّةٌ: حَدَّثَنَا شُعَيْبٌ عَنِ الرَّهْرِيِّ، عَنْ عُرْوَةَ أَنَّ عَائِشَةَ أَخْبَرَتْهُ أَنَّ رَسُولَ اللَّهِ ﷺ كَانَ يَدْعُو فِي صَلَاتِهِ: «اللَّهُمَّ إِنِّي أَعُوذُ بِكَ مِنْ عَذَابِ الْقَبْرِ، وَأَعُوذُ بِكَ مِنْ فِتْنَةِ الْمَسِيحِ الدَّجَالِ، وَأَعُوذُ بِكَ مِنْ فِتْنَةِ الْمَحْيَا وَالْمَمَاتِ. اللَّهُمَّ إِنِّي أَعُوذُ بِكَ مِنَ الْمَأْثَمِ وَالْمَغْرَمِ»، فَقَالَ قَائِلٌ: مَا أَكْثَرَ مَا تَسْتَعِيدُ مِنَ الْمَغْرَمِ، فَقَالَ: «إِنَّ الرَّجُلَ إِذَا غَرِمَ حَدَّثَ فَكَذَبَ وَوَعَدَ فَأَخْلَفَ».

Comments:

1. Al-Masihid-Dajjal refers to the false messiah.
2. "Trials of life" means temptations and other worldly things that usually beset a man and make him forget his duties to his Lord.
3. "Trials of death" means inability to pronounce the testimony of faith or uttering some improper statement or doing some improper action, at the time of death.

881. ‘Abdur-Rahmān bin Abī Lailā reported from his father that he said: “I prayed a voluntary prayer next to the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ, and I heard him say: ‘A‘ūdhu billāhi minan-nāri wailun li-ahlīn-nār (I seek refuge in Allāh from the Fire! Woe to the inhabitants of the Fire!)” (Da‘if)

٨٨١ - حَدَّثَنَا مُسَدَّدٌ: حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ اللَّهِ بْنُ دَاوُدَ عَنْ ابْنِ أَبِي لَيْلَى، عَنْ ثَابِتِ الْبُنَاتِيِّ، عَنْ عَبْدِ الرَّحْمَنِ بْنِ أَبِي لَيْلَى، عَنْ أَبِيهِ قَالَ: صَلَّيْتُ إِلَى جَنْبِ رَسُولِ اللَّهِ ﷺ فِي صَلَاةٍ تَطَوُّعٍ فَسَمِعْتُهُ يَقُولُ: «أَعُوذُ بِاللَّهِ مِنَ النَّارِ، وَيْلٌ لِأَهْلِ النَّارِ».

882. Abū Hurairah reported: “The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ once stood up to pray, so we stood up with him. A bedouin said in the prayer: ‘O Allāh! Have mercy on me and Muḥammad, and do not have mercy on anyone besides us!’ When the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said the Taslīm, he said to the bedouin: ‘You have restricted something which is vast,’ meaning the mercy of Allāh, the Mighty and Sublime.” (Ṣaḥīḥ)

٨٨٢ - حَدَّثَنَا أَحْمَدُ بْنُ صَالِحٍ: حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ اللَّهِ بْنُ وَهَبٍ: أَخْبَرَنِي يُونُسُ عَنْ ابْنِ شِهَابٍ، عَنْ أَبِي سَلَمَةَ بْنِ عَبْدِ الرَّحْمَنِ أَنَّ أَبَا هُرَيْرَةَ قَالَ: قَامَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ ﷺ إِلَى الصَّلَاةِ وَقُمْنَا مَعَهُ، فَقَالَ أُغْرَابِيُّ فِي الصَّلَاةِ: اللَّهُمَّ ارْحَمْنِي وَمَحَمَّدًا وَلَا تَرْحَمْ مَعَنَا أَحَدًا، فَلَمَّا سَلَّمَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ ﷺ قَالَ لِأُغْرَابِيِّ: «لَقَدْ تَحَجَّرْتَ وَاسِعًا»، يُرِيدُ رَحْمَةَ اللَّهِ عَزَّوَجَلَّ.

Comments:

In this supplication, the request was to restrict mercy, which is not appropriate. This narration preceded (no. 380) in a slightly longer form.

883. Waki' narrated from Isrā'il, from Abū Ishāq, from Muslim Al-Baṭīn, from Sa'eed bin Jubair, from Ibn 'Abbās that the Prophet ﷺ would say: "Subhana rabbil-'ala (Praised is my Lord, Most High)" every time he recited: Glorify the Name of your Lord, the Most High.^[1] (Da'if)

Abū Dāwud said: Waki' was contradicted in this narration. Abū Waki' and Shu'bah reported it from Abū Ishāq, from Sa'eed bin Jubair, from Ibn 'Abbās, in Mawqūf form.

884. Mūsā bin Abī 'Āishah narrated: "There was a person who used to pray on the roof of his house. Every time he would recite: Is He not capable of giving life to the dead? [Sūrat Al-Qiyamah; 42] he would say: Subhānaka fabala (Glorified are You! Indeed, You can!) They asked him concerning this (act), so he said: 'I heard this from the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ.'" (Da'if)

Abū Dāwud said: Ahmad said: "I like that a person should supplicate during the obligatory prayers according to what is in the Qur'an."

Chapter 149,150. The Length Of The Rukū‘ And Prostration

885. As-Sa’dī reported from his father, or his paternal uncle, that he said: “I observed the prayer of the Prophet ﷺ. He would remain in the Rukū‘ and prostration for the length of time that one says: ‘Subhāna rabbil-‘alā wa bi-ḥamdih (Glorified is Allāh, the Most High, and with His praise)’ three times.” (Da‘īf)

Comments:

Chapter 158,159. Correcting The Imām In The Prayer

(المعجم ١٥٨، ١٥٩) - بَابُ الْفَتْحِ عَلَى الْإِمَامِ فِي الصَّلَاةِ (التحفة ١٦٤)

907 (A). Al-Miswar bin Yazīd Al-Mālikī narrated that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ once recited in the prayer, and left out something without reciting it. So a person said to him (after the prayer): “O Messenger of Allāh! You left out such and such a Verse!” The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: “Then why did you not remind me of it?”

٩٠٧ (أ) - حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ الْعَلَاءِ وَسُلَيْمَانُ بْنُ عَبْدِ الرَّحْمَنِ الدَّمَشْقِيُّ قَالَا: أَخْبَرَنَا مَرْوَانَ بْنَ مُعَاوِيَةَ عَنْ يَحْيَى الْكَاهِلِيِّ، عَنِ الْمُسَوَّرِ بْنِ يَزِيدَ الْمَالِكِيِّ أَنَّ رَسُولَ اللَّهِ ﷺ - قَالَ يَحْيَى - وَرُبَّمَا قَالَ: شَهِدْتُ رَسُولَ اللَّهِ ﷺ يَقْرَأُ فِي الصَّلَاةِ فَتَرَكَ شَيْئًا لَمْ يَقْرَأْهُ، فَقَالَ لَهُ رَجُلٌ: يَا رَسُولَ اللَّهِ! تَرَكْتَ آيَةً كَذَا وَكَذَا، فَقَالَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ ﷺ: «هَلَّا أَذَكَّرْتَنِيهَا؟».

In his narration Sulaimān (one of the narrators)^[1] added (that the man responded): “I presumed that it had been abrogated.” (Hasan) قَالَ سُلَيْمَانُ فِي حَدِيثِهِ قَالَ: كُنْتُ أَرَاهَا نُسِخَتْ. وَقَالَ سُلَيْمَانُ قَالَ: حَدَّثَنَا يَحْيَى بْنُ كَثِيرٍ الْأَسَدِيُّ قَالَ: حَدَّثَنِي الْمُسَوَّرُ بْنُ يَزِيدَ الْأَسَدِيُّ الْمَالِكِيُّ.

Comments:

These narrations prove the allowance of correcting the Imām if something is not recited properly, and the validity of the Salāt if that was not known until after it.

[1] The author narrated this from two Shaikhs, Sulaimān being one of them, who also cited the names in the chain in a different manner.

907 (B). It was reported from ‘Abdullāh bin ‘Umar that the Prophet ﷺ once prayed, and became confused (regarding the recitation). When he had finished, he said to Ubayy (bin Ka‘b): “Did you pray with us?” He said: “Yes.” So he said: “Then what prevented you (from correcting me)?” (Hasan)

قَالَ أَبُو دَاوُدَ: أَبُو إِسْحَاقَ لَمْ يَسْمَعْ مِنَ الْحَارِثِ إِلَّا أَرْبَعَةَ أَحَادِيثَ لَيْسَ هَذَا مِنْهَا.

910. ‘Aishah narrated that she asked the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ regarding a person’s turning around in the prayer. He replied: “It is (like) stolen (goods) that the Shaitān (secretly) steals from the prayer of the servant.” (Ṣaḥīḥ)

Chapter 164,165. Actions During The Prayer

917. Abū Qatādah narrated that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ prayed while he was carrying Umāmah, the daughter of Zainab, the daughter of the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ. When he went into prostration, he would place her down, and when he stood up, he would pick her up. (Ṣaḥīḥ)

918. (There is another chain) from Abū Qatādah who narrated: "Once we were sitting in the Masjid, when the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ came out carrying Umāmah bint Abī Al-‘Āṣ bin Rabī‘, and her mother was Zainab the daughter of the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ. She was at that time a baby, and he was carrying her on his shoulders. So the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ led (us) in prayer while she was on his shoulders; he would place her (on the ground) when he went into Rukū’, and he would pick her up again when he stood up. He continued to do so until the prayer finished." (Ṣaḥīḥ)

Comments:

Movement (of limbs), much or little, is permissible during prayer provided it does not divert a worshiper away from the direction of Qiblah, the proof being the movements of Allāh's Messenger ﷺ who lifted up his granddaughter and placed her down, on and off.

921. Abū Hurairah narrated that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: “Kill the two black (vermin) in the prayer: The snake and the scorpion.” (Sahih)

Since such creatures are harmful, it is allowed to kill them, even during prayer.

Chapter 165,166. Returning The Salām During The Prayer

923. It was reported from ‘Alqamah, from ‘Abdullāh (bin Mas‘ūd) who said: “We used to say Salām to the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ while he was praying, and he would return the greeting to us. When we returned from (the land of) An-Najāshī, we said Salām to him, but he did not respond to us, and said, (after the prayer): ‘Indeed, there are (matters) in the prayer that (keep one) busy.’” (Ṣaḥīḥ)

Comments:

1. While praying, one is busy reciting Qur’ān, remembering Allāh, and supplicating. While busy with these, it is not proper for one to attend to other things, except those which are permitted.
2. Conversing intentionally with others during a prayer invalidates the prayer. See number 949.

924. It was reported from Abū Wā’il, from ‘Abdullāh (bin Mas‘ūd) who said: “We would give each other Salām during the prayer, and would command others regarding something that we needed. Once, I came to the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ while he was praying, and greeted him, but he did not respond to it! So I became anxious, wondering which of my deeds might have

Comments:

Responding verbally to Salām during a prayer was abrogated but not responding to it by sign or gesture of the hand. The latter is permissible as it is proved by the following Aḥādīth.

[1] The meaning of Khatt is a line or a figure, and it indicates drawing lines and figures in the sand or other than that, in order to seek a sign. An-Nawawī commented that the narration informs of that which it is not possible for one to attain — that is, whether or not his practice of this will coincide with the method of the previous Prophet that was mentioned, and therefore it is not for the worshiper of Allāh to attempt, since the Messenger ﷺ did not inform of the method employed by the previous Prophet. So the Prophet ﷺ stood listening to him, and said: ‘His (request) will of a surety be answered, if he seals it.’ A person among us said: ‘With what should he seal it?’ He responded: ‘With Āmīn, because if he seals it with Āmīn, it will of a surety be answered.’ So the man went to the person (making the supplication) and said: ‘Seal it off — O so-and-so — with Āmīn, and rejoice (that it has been accepted).’” (Da‘īf)

This is the wording of Maḥmūd (one of the narrators). Abū Dāwūd said: And Al-Maqrā‘ī is a branch of (the tribe of) Ḥimyar.

Chapter 168,169. Clapping During The Prayer

939. Abū Hurairah reported that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: “The Tasbīḥ is for men, and clapping (Tasfīq) is for women.” (Ṣaḥīḥ)

الصَّلَاةِ (التحفة ١٧٤)

٩٣٩ - حَدَّثَنَا قُتَيْبَةُ بْنُ سَعِيدٍ: حَدَّثَنَا سُفْيَانُ عَنِ الزُّهْرِيِّ، عَنْ أَبِي سَلَمَةَ، عَنْ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ قَالَ: قَالَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ ﷺ: «التَّسْبِيحُ لِلرِّجَالِ وَالتَّصْفِيقُ لِلنِّسَاءِ».

Comments:

Meaning, during the prayer, should a need arise for calling the attention of the Imām to something, then the men say Subhān Allāh and the woman clap rather than speaking. See number 942.

940. Sahl bin Sa'd reported that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ went to (the tribe of) Banū 'Amr bin 'Awf to reconcile between them, and the time for prayer came. So the Mu'adh-dhin came to Abū Bakr and asked: "Will you lead the people in prayer, so that I may call the Iqāmah?" He said: "Yes." So Abū Bakr led the prayer. While the people were praying, the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ returned, and reached one of the rows and stood (in prayer). The people started clapping — and Abū Bakr was one who would never turn around during the prayer, but when they increased their clapping, he turned around, and saw the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ. The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ motioned to him to remain in his place. Abū Bakr raised his hands and thanked Allāh due to the command that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ had given him, then he walked back until he stood in (the front) row. The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ walked forward to and prayed (leading them). When he finished, he said: "O Abū Bakr! Why did you not remain (leading the prayer) when I commanded you?" Abū Bakr replied: "It is not befitting that the son of Abū Quḥāfah lead while the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ is behind him." And the Messenger of Allāh

ﷺ then said: “Why is it that I saw you clapping so frequently? If something disturbs one of you while he is praying, let him say the Tasbīh (saying Subhān Allāh), since if he says the Tasbīh, (people) will pay attention to him. And Tasfīh^[1] is only for women.” (Ṣaḥīḥ)

Abū Dāwud said: And this is in the obligatory (prayers).

941. Sahl bin Sa'd reported: “Some fighting occurred between the (tribe members of) Banū ‘Amr bin ‘Awf. The Prophet ﷺ heard this, and went to them after the Zuhr prayer in order to reconcile between them. He said to Bilāl: ‘If the time for the ‘Asr prayer arrives, and I have not returned, then command Abū Bakr to lead the prayer.’ When the time for ‘Asr came, Bilāl called the Adhān and then the Iqāmah, then he commanded Abū Bakr to lead, so he stepped forward...” (the rest of the narration is similar to no. 940) in the end of it he (ﷺ) said: “If some matter disturbs you in the prayer, let the men say Tasbīh, and let the women hit their hands.”^[2]

[2] Walyuṣaffih an-nisā' and Tasfīh is explained in the following narration.

Comments:

1. In the event of a conflict or dispute between some Muslims, other Muslims should hasten to reconcile between the disputants. Notables and tribal leaders should rush before others to reconcile quarrels.
2. An Imām should appoint his deputy in the event of his anticipated absence.

Comments:

They differ over whether Tasfīh is the same as clapping (Tasfīq), hence this description, and some of them said that Tasfīh is for her to do this to the back of her hand, while clapping (Tasfīq) is what is known.

950. ‘Abdullāh bin ‘Amr narrated:

٩٥٠ - حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ قُدَامَةَ بْنِ

[1] Al-Baqarah 2:238.

“I had been informed that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ had said: ‘The (reward) of a person who prays while sitting down is (equivalent) to half of the prayer.’ Once, I went to him, and saw him praying while sitting down, so I put my hand on my head. He said: ‘What is the matter with you, O ‘Abdullāh bin ‘Amr?’ I replied: ‘I was informed, O Messenger of Allāh, that you had said: “The (reward) of a person who prays while sitting down is (equivalent) to half of the prayer,” and you are praying while sitting down!’ He said: ‘Yes, but I am not like one of you.’” (Ṣaḥīḥ)

Comments:

1. If the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said a voluntary prayer while sitting, he merited full reward from Allāh. That is an attribute specific to him.
2. Offering a voluntary prayer while sitting, without a genuine excuse, merits half the reward.

951. Imrān bin Huṣain narrated that he asked the Prophet ﷺ about the prayer of one who prays while sitting down, so he replied: “His prayer while he stands up is better than his prayer while he sits down, and his prayer while he sits down is equivalent to half of his prayer while he stands up. And his prayer while lying down is equivalent to half the prayer while he is sitting down.” (Ṣaḥīḥ)

Comments:

1. If a person, unable to stand up due to sickness or weakness, prays while sitting, he will receive full reward for his prayer, Allāh willing.

2. It is absolutely forbidden for a person, strong enough to stand up, to offer his or her obligatory prayer while sitting or lying. Anyhow, a voluntary prayer may be offered while sitting, without a genuine excuse, but such a prayer merits only half the reward.

952. ‘Imrān bin Ḥuṣain said: “I was afflicted with hemorrhoids, so I asked the Prophet ﷺ (about the prayer). He said: ‘Pray standing up, and if you cannot do so, then (pray) sitting down, and if you cannot do so, then (pray) on your side (lying down).’” (Saḥīḥ)

Comments:

It is better to perform Rukū' while standing if one has recited Qur'an while standing during a prayer and, likewise, it is better to perform Rukū' while sitting if one has recited Qur'an while sitting during a prayer.

956. It was reported from Kahmas bin Al-Ḥasan, from 'Abdullāh bin Shaqīq, who said: "I asked 'Āishah: 'Would the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ recite [*Sūrah*s]^[1] in one Rak'ah?' She replied: '(Yes, from the) Mufaṣṣal.' So I asked: 'Would he pray sitting down?' She replied:

Comments:

1. It is not proper to offer a prayer while sitting without a reasonable excuse.
2. It is permissible to recite more than one Sūrah of the Qur’ān in one Rak’ah of a prayer.

957. It was reported from Bishr bin Al-Mufaddal, from ‘Āsim bin Kulaib, from his father, from Wā’il bin Ḥujr, who said: “I said to myself: ‘I will see how the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ prays.’ So the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ stood up, faced the Qiblah, and said the Takbīr, raising both his hands until they were to the level of his ears. Then he grasped his left (hand) with his right (hand). When he wanted to go into Rukū’, he raised both of them in a similar manner.” He said: “Then he sat, straightening his left foot (and sitting on it). He placed his left hand on his left thigh, keeping his right elbow at a distance from his right thigh. He clasped two fingers,^[1] and formed a circle,^[2] and I saw him do like this,” then Bishr formed a circle with his thumb and middle finger, and

He also said: “He (ﷺ) then went into another Rak‘ah, and said the Takbīr, he the sat down after two Rak‘ahs, until, when he wanted to get up to stand, he stood up with the Takbīr, then he prayed the last two Rak‘ahs. When he said the Taslīm, he said them to his right and left.”^[1] (Da‘īf)

Chapter 177,178. The Tashahhud

(المعجم ١٧٧، ١٧٨) - بَابُ التَّشَهُدِ

(التحفة ١٨٣)

968. ‘Abdullāh bin Mas‘ūd narrated: “We used to say when we sat with the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ during (the Tashah-hud of) the prayer: ‘Peace (Salām) be upon Allāh before His servants, peace be upon so-and-so, and upon so-and-so...’. So the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: ‘Don’t say: “Peace (Salām) be upon Allāh,” for Allāh is Salām (The Giver of Peace). However, when one of you sits, let him say: “At-Taḥīyyātu Lillāhi waṣ-ṣalawātu waṭ-ṭayyibāt; as-salāmu ‘alaika ayyuhan-nabiyyu wa raḥmatullāhi wa barakātuahu; as-salāmu ‘alaina wa ‘alā ‘ibād-illāhiṣ-ṣāliḥīn (All compliments, prayers and good words are due to Allāh; peace be upon you, O Prophet, and the mercy of Allāh and His blessings; peace be upon us and upon the righteous slaves of Allāh).” For if you say this, it will reach every pious worshiper in — or between — the heavens and earth. (Then say:) “Ash-hadu anlā ilāha illallāh, wa ash-hadu anna Muḥammadan ‘abduhu wa Rasūluhu (I bear witness that none has the right to be worshiped but Allāh and I bear witness that Muḥammad is His slave and Messenger).” Then, let one of you choose the supplication that he likes most, and pray with it.” (Ṣaḥīḥ)

Comments:

The statement 'Fal-yaqul...' is imperative, meaning it is a command in the Arabic language, and therefore proves that saying the Tashah-hud is obligatory.

969. It was reported from Sharīk, from Abū Ishāq, from Abū Al-Aḥwas, from 'Abdullāh who said: "We did not use to know what to say when we sat during the prayer, and the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ had been taught..." and he mentioned a similar narration to the previous one.

Sharīk said: "Jāmi' — meaning Ibn Shaddād — from Abū Wā'il, from 'Abdullāh" with similar. He said: "And he would also teach us other words, but he would not teach them (as strictly) as he would teach us the Tashah-hud: 'Allāhumma, allaf baina qulūbinā, wa aṣlah dhāta baininā, wahdinā sublus-salāmi, wa najjinā min az-zulumāti ilan-nūri, wa jannibnāl-fawāḥish mā zahara minhā wa mā baṭan, wa bārik lanā fi asmā'inā, wa abṣārinā, wa qulūbinā wa azwājinā, wa dhurriyyātinā, wa tub 'alainā innaka antat-tawwābur-rahīm, wāj'alnā shākīrinā lini'matika, muthnīna bihā, qābilihā wa atimmahā 'alainā (O Allāh! قال شريك: وأخبرنا [جامع بن أبي راشد]، عن أبي وأئيل، عن عبد الله بمثله قال: وكان يعلمنا كلمات ولم يكن يعلمناهن كما يعلمنا التشهد: «اللهم ألف بين قلوبنا، وأصلح ذات بيننا، واهدنا سبل السلام، ونبنا الفواحش ما ظهر منها وما بطن، وبارك لنا في أسماعنا وأبصارنا وقلوبنا وأزواجنا وذرياتنا وتب علينا إنك أنت التواب الرحيم، واجعلنا شاكرين لنعمتك، مثنين بها، قابليها وأتمها علينا».

972. Ḥiṭṭān bin ‘Abdullāh Ar-Raqāshī narrated, “Abū Mūsā Al-Ash‘arī led us in prayer. When he sat down at the end of the prayer, one person among us said: ‘The prayer has been combined (in status) with goodness and charity.’ When Abū Mūsā completed the prayer, he turned around to face the people, and said: ‘Who among you said such and such in the prayer?’ But the people did not respond for fear. So he said: ‘Perhaps you said it, O Ḥiṭṭān?’ I said: ‘I did not say it, and I feared that you would blame me for it!’ One person of us said: ‘I said it, and I only intended good with it!’ So Abū Mūsā said: ‘Do you not know what to say in your prayer? Chapter 178,179. Sending Ṣalāt Upon The Prophet ﷺ After The Tashah-hud

976. It was reported from Shuʿbah from Al-Ḥakam, from Ibn Abī Lailā, from Kaʿb bin ʿUjrah who said: “We said — or — the people said: ‘O Messenger of Allāh! You have commanded us to send Ṣalāt and peace upon you. As for the peace (Salām), then we know (how to do it). But how do we send Ṣalāt upon you?’ So he said: ‘Say: Allāhumma ṣalli ʿalā Muḥammadin, wa ʿalī Muḥammadin, kamā ṣallaita ʿalā Ibrāhīm. Wa bārik ʿala

قَالَ أَبُو دَاوُدَ: سُلَيْمَانُ بْنُ مُوسَى كُوفِيٌّ الْأَضْلُ كَانَ بِدِمَشْقَ.

قَالَ أَبُو دَاوُدَ: وَدَلَّتْ هَذِهِ الضَّحِيفَةُ عَلَيَّ أَنَّ الْحَسَنَ سَمِعَ مِنْ سَمُرَةَ.

(المعجم ١٧٨، ١٧٩) - بَابُ الصَّلَاةِ عَلَيَّ النَّبِيِّ ﷺ بَعْدَ التَّشَهُدِ (التحفة ١٨٤)

٩٧٦ - حَدَّثَنَا حَفْصُ بْنُ عُمَرَ: أَخْبَرَنَا شُعْبَةُ عَنْ الْحَكَمِ، عَنْ ابْنِ أَبِي لَيْلَى، عَنْ كَعْبِ بْنِ عُجْرَةَ قَالَ: قُلْنَا - أَوْ قَالُوا -: يَا رَسُولَ اللَّهِ! أَمَرْتَنَا أَنْ نُصَلِّيَ عَلَيْكَ وَأَنْ نُسَلِّمَ عَلَيْكَ، فَأَمَّا السَّلَامُ فَقَدْ عَرَفْنَا، فَكَيْفَ نُصَلِّيَ عَلَيْكَ؟ قَالَ: «قُولُوا: اللَّهُمَّ صَلِّ عَلَيَّ مُحَمَّدٍ وَآلِ مُحَمَّدٍ كَمَا صَلَّيْتَ عَلَيَّ إِبْرَاهِيمَ، وَبَارِكْ عَلَيَّ مُحَمَّدٍ وَآلِ مُحَمَّدٍ كَمَا بَارَكْتَ عَلَيَّ آلِ إِبْرَاهِيمَ إِنَّكَ حَمِيدٌ مَجِيدٌ».

[1] That is, scholars differ over whether or not Al-Ḥasan Al-Baṣrī heard from Samurah, or whether he heard other than the Ḥadīth about Al-Aḥiqah (see nos. 2837, 2838) - which is a popular view. The author mentioned a letter here, and it is more clear in his narration of the same chain under number 456; “Samurah wrote to his son.” And this is the same exact chain of narration, by which the author means that this narration came from that same letter. Then he intends that because Al-Ḥasan and Sulaimān, the son of Samurah, lived during the same time, then narrations from Al-Ḥasan from Samurah should also be considered authentic.

Comments:

When the word Ṣalāt is used for Allāh, it means Allāh blesses His slave with mercy, elevates their ranks and praises them before His Angels.

Comments:

The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ, is called 'Ummī' which, literally, means "unread," "unlettered." Applied to the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ, it means he did not receive his knowledge by conventional means. That is to say, he was not taught or tutored by any human being.

It was reported from Muḥammad bin 'Alī Al-Hāshimī, from Al-Mujmir, from Abū Hurairah, from the Prophet ﷺ, that he said: "Whoever wishes that he be measured with full weight when he sends his Ṣalāt upon us — the Family of the House (of the Prophet ﷺ) — then let him say: 'Allāhumma ṣalli 'alā Muḥammadin an-nabī, wa azwājihi umhātil-mu'minīna wa dhuriyyatihi wa ahli baitihi, kamā ṣalaita 'alā āli Ibrāhīm. (المعجم ١٧٩، ١٨٠) - بَابُ إِخْفَاءِ التَّشَهُدِ (التحفة ١٨٦)

986. ‘Abdullāh bin Mas‘ūd said: “It is from the Sunnah to recite the Tashah-hud silently.” (Ṣaḥīḥ)

Chapter 180,181. Pointing (With The Finger) During The Tashah-hud

987. ‘Alī bin ‘Abdur-Rahmān Al-Mu‘āwī said: “‘Abdullāh bin ‘Umar saw me while I was playing with stones during the prayer. When I finished, he prohibited me, and said: ‘Do as the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ did.’ So I said: ‘And what did the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ used to do?’ He said: ‘When he sat down during the prayer, he would place his right palm on his right thigh, and curl his fingers up (into a fist), and motion with the finger that is next to his thumb (the forefinger). And he would place his left palm on his left thigh.’”
(Ṣaḥīḥ)

Comments:

We learn from this Ḥadīth that as soon as the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ sat down to say Tashah-hud, he would fold his fingers almost into a fist and point with his index finger, keeping the latter up.

988. It was reported from ‘Affān: “Abdul-Wāḥid bin Ziyād narrated to us (he said): “‘Uthmān bin Ḥakīm narrated to us, (he said): “‘Āmir bin ‘Abdullāh bin Az-Zubair narrated to us from his father, that he said: ‘When the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ sat during the prayer, he would place his left foot under his right thigh and shin, and he would lay out his right foot (on the ground). And he would place his left hand on his left knee, and his right hand on the right

Ibn Juraij said: “And ‘Amr bin Dinār added: ‘He (Ziyād) said: “‘Āmir informed me from his father that he saw the Prophet ﷺ supplicating like that. And the Prophet ﷺ would brace himself with his left hand on his left knee. (Da‘īf)

Comments:

During prayer, one’s sight is generally focused on the spot of prostration but, while saying Tashah-hud, the sight should not go beyond the index finger. Note how minutely and keenly the Companions observed each and every movement of the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ.

991. It was reported from Mālik bin Numair Al-Khuzā'i, from his father, that he said: "I saw the Prophet ﷺ place his right forearm on his right thigh, having raised his forefinger and (curving it) downwards slightly." (Hasan)

Chapter 181,182. It Is Disliked To Lean On The Hand During The Prayer

(المعجم ١٨١، ١٨٢) - بَابُ كَرَاهِيَةِ
الِاعْتِمَادِ عَلَى الْيَدِ فِي الصَّلَاةِ
(التحفة ١٨٨)

992. It was reported from Ibn 'Umar, that he said: "The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ prohibited" — Ahmad bin Hanbal^[1] said: "that a person sit in the prayer while leaning on his hand." (Sahih)

٩٩٢ - حَدَّثَنَا أَحْمَدُ بْنُ حَنْبَلٍ وَأَحْمَدُ بْنُ مُحَمَّدِ بْنِ شَبُوبَةَ وَمُحَمَّدُ بْنُ رَافِعٍ وَمُحَمَّدُ بْنُ عَبْدِ الْمَلِكِ الْعَزَّالِيُّ قَالُوا: حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ الرَّزَّاقِ عَنْ مَعْمَرٍ، عَنْ إِسْمَاعِيلَ بْنِ أُمَيَّةَ، عَنْ نَافِعٍ، عَنْ ابْنِ عُمَرَ قَالَ: نَهَى رَسُولُ اللَّهِ ﷺ - قَالَ أَحْمَدُ بْنُ حَنْبَلٍ: - أَنْ يَجْلِسَ الرَّجُلُ فِي الصَّلَاةِ وَهُوَ مُعْتَمِدٌ عَلَى يَدِهِ. وَقَالَ ابْنُ شُبُوبَةَ: نَهَى أَنْ يَعْتَمِدَ الرَّجُلُ عَلَى يَدِهِ فِي الصَّلَاةِ. وَقَالَ ابْنُ رَافِعٍ: نَهَى أَنْ يُصَلِّيَ الرَّجُلُ وَهُوَ مُعْتَمِدٌ عَلَى يَدِهِ. وَذَكَرَهُ فِي بَابِ الرَّفْعِ مِنَ السُّجُودِ. وَقَالَ ابْنُ عَبْدِ الْمَلِكِ: نَهَى أَنْ يَعْتَمِدَ الرَّجُلُ عَلَى يَدَيْهِ إِذَا نَهَضَ فِي الصَّلَاةِ.

Ibn Shabbuyah said: "...prohibited that a person lean on his hand during the prayer."

Ibn Rāfi' said: "...prohibited that a person pray while leaning on his hand." And he mentioned it under the topic of raising up from prostration.

Ibn 'Abdul-Malik said: "...prohibited that a person lean on his hands when he stood up during the prayer." (Da'if)

[1] These different additions are from those that Abū Dāwud heard the narration from.

تخريج: [صحيح] أخرجه البيهقي: ١٣٥/٢ من حديث أبي داود به وهو في مسند الإمام أحمد: ١٤٧/٢ ومصنف عبد الرزاق: ١٩٧/٢، ح: ٣٠٥٤ وصححه الحاكم على شرط الشيخين: ١/٢٣٠ ووافقه الذهبي وأما رواية محمد بن عبد الملك الغزال فضعيفة لأنهم لم يذكروا سماعه من عبد الرزاق أقبل اختلاطه أم بعده؟ وهي شاذة أيضًا لمخالفة الثقات.

Comments:

Authentic Aḥādīth prove using one's hands to get up after prostration. Most of them considered this to refer to a sitting posture.

993. Ismā'il bin Umayyah said: "I asked Nāfi' regarding a person who prays while the (fingers of his) two hands are intertwined. He told me that Ibn 'Umar said: 'That is the prayer of those upon whom anger has been shown.'" (Ṣaḥīh) ٩٩٣ - حَدَّثَنَا يَشْرُ بْنُ هِلَالٍ: حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ الْوَارِثِ عَنْ إِسْمَاعِيلَ بْنِ أُمَيَّةَ قَالَ: سَأَلْتُ نَافِعًا عَنِ الرَّجُلِ يُصَلِّي وَهُوَ مُسَبِّكٌ يَدَيْهِ؟ قَالَ: قَالَ ابْنُ عُمَرَ: تِلْكَ صَلَاةُ الْمَعْضُوبِ عَلَيْهِمْ.

تخريج: [إسناده صحيح] أخرجه البيهقي: ٢٨٩/٢ من حديث أبي داود به.

994. Nāfi' reported that Ibn 'Umar once saw a man leaning upon his left hand while he was sitting in the prayer — Hārūn bin Zaid (one of the narrators) said: "a man leaning upon his left side." — Ibn 'Umar said to him: "Do not sit in this manner, for this is the manner in which those who are punished sit." (Ḥasan)

٩٩٤ - حَدَّثَنَا هَارُونُ بْنُ زَيْدِ بْنِ أَبِي الرَّزْقَاءِ: حَدَّثَنَا أَبِي؛ ح: وَحَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ سَلَمَةَ: حَدَّثَنَا ابْنُ وَهْبٍ - وَهَذَا لَفْظُهُ - جَمِيعًا عَنْ هِشَامِ بْنِ سَعْدٍ، عَنْ نَافِعٍ، عَنْ ابْنِ عُمَرَ: أَنَّهُ رَأَى رَجُلًا يَتَّكِي عَلَى يَدِهِ الْيُسْرَى وَهُوَ قَاعِدٌ فِي الصَّلَاةِ. - وَقَالَ هَارُونُ بْنُ زَيْدٍ: سَاقِطٌ عَلَى شِقِّهِ الْأَيْسَرِ، ثُمَّ اتَّفَقَا - فَقَالَ لَهُ: لَا تَجْلِسْ هَكَذَا فَإِنَّ هَكَذَا يَجْلِسُ الَّذِينَ يُعَذَّبُونَ.

تخريج: [حسن] رواه أحمد: ١١٦/٢ من حديث هشام بن سعد به مرفوعًا.

Comments:

In case, a person is unable to sit up, he should pray lying down rather than leaning on his side.

Chapter 183,184. Regarding The Salām

996. ‘Abdullāh bin Mas‘ūd reported: “The Prophet ﷺ would say the Taslīm on his right side, and (then) on his left side — so much so that the whiteness of his cheeks could be seen. (He would say:) ‘As-salāmu ‘alaikum wa rahmatullah, as-salāmu ‘alaikum wa rahmatullah (Peace be upon you, and the Mercy of Allāh, peace be upon you, and the Mercy of Allāh).’” (Ṣaḥīḥ)

Abū Dāwud said: And this is the wording of the narration of Sufyān, while the narration of Isrā‘īl is not as detailed.^[1]

Abū Dāwud said: Zuhair reported it from Abū Ishāq. And Yahyā reported it from Isrā‘īl, from Abū Ishāq, from ‘Abdur-Raḥmān bin Al-Aswad, from his father, and ‘Alqamah, from ‘Abdullāh.

1003. (There is another chain) that Ibn ‘Abbās narrated: “People would, at the time of the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ, raise their voices with the Dhikr (statements of remembrance) after completing the obligatory prayers.” And Ibn ‘Abbās said: “I would know when they finished by that, and could hear it.” (Ṣaḥīḥ)

Chapter 185,196. Shortening The Taslīm^[1]

1004. It was reported from Qurrah bin ‘Abdur-Raḥmān, from Az-Zuhri, from Abū Salamah, from Abū Hurairah, that he said: “The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: “Shortening the Salām is a Sunnah.” (Da‘īf)

‘Eisā said:^[2] “Ibn Al-Mubārak prohibited me from narrating this Hadīth in Marfū’ form.”

Abū Dāwud said: I heard Abū ‘Umair ‘Eisā bin Yūnus Al-Fākhūrī Ar-Ramlī say: “When Al-Firyābī returned from Makkah, he stopped narrating this Hadīth in Marfū’ form.”

And he said:^[3] Aḥmad bin Ḥanbal prohibited him from narrating it in Marfū’ form.

(المعجم ١٨٥، ١٨٦) - بَابُ حَذْفِ

السَّلَامِ (التحفة ١٩٣)

قال عيسى: نهاني ابنُ المبارك عن رفعِ هذا الحديثِ.

قال أبو داود: سمعتُ أبا عمير عيسى بنَ يونسَ الفأخوريَّ الرَّمليَّ قال: لَمَّا رَجَعَ الْفِرْيَابِيُّ مِنْ مَكَّةَ تَرَكَ رَفَعَ هَذَا الْحَدِيثِ وَقَالَ: نَهَاهُ أَحْمَدُ بْنُ حَنْبَلٍ عَنِ رَفْعِهِ.

Comments:

Meaning that the Salām should not be said in a drawn-out voice but in a normal way.

[1] Ḥadhf: Shortening, or curtailing, meaning, not to elongate the pronunciation of it with ones voice. See At-Tirmidhī, no. 297 where Ibn Al-Mubārak said this, and An-Nihāyah.

[2] That is ‘Eisā bin Yūnus, whom he mentions after this.

[3] According to Al-‘Azīmābādī (‘Awn Al-Ma‘būd), the meaning is Aḥmad prohibited Abū Dāwud from narrating it like that. So he considered this statement to be from one of those who reported this book. Aḥmad — from whom Abū Dāwud heard this narration — included it, with the same chain and wording, in his Musnad (2:532).

Chapter 286,287. If One Breaks Wuḍū' During Prayer, He Must Start From The Beginning

1005. 'Alī bin Ṭalq reported that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: "If one of you silently passes wind in the prayer, let him leave, perform the Wuḍū', and repeat his prayer." (Hasan)

(المعجم ١٨٦، ١٨٧) بَابُ: إِذَا أَحَدُتْ فِي صَلَاتِهِ يَسْتَقْبِلُ (التحفة ١٩٤)

تخريج: [حسن] تقدم: ٢٠٥ أخرجه البيهقي: ٢/٢٥٥ من حديث أبي داود به.

Comments:

Breaking wind, be it audible or inaudible, invalidates Wuḍū'.

Chapter 187,188. A Person Praying Voluntary Prayers In the Same Place That He Prayed The Obligatory Prayer

(المعجم ١٨٧، ١٨٨) بَابُ: فِي الرَّجُلِ يَنْطَوِّعُ فِي مَكَانِهِ الَّذِي صَلَّى فِيهِ الْمَكْتُوبَةَ (التحفة ١٩٥)

١٠٠٦ - حَدَّثَنَا مُسَدَّدٌ: حَدَّثَنَا حَمَّادٌ وَعَبْدُ الْوَارِثِ عَنْ لَيْثٍ، عَنْ الْحَجَّاجِ بْنِ عُبَيْدٍ، عَنْ إِبْرَاهِيمَ بْنِ إِسْمَاعِيلَ، عَنْ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ قَالَ: قَالَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ ﷺ: «أَيَعِجْرُ أَحَدُكُمْ - قَالَ عَنْ عَبْدِ الْوَارِثِ -: أَنْ يَتَقَدَّمَ أَوْ يَتَأَخَّرَ أَوْ عَنْ يَمِينِهِ أَوْ عَنْ شِمَالِهِ». - زَادَ فِي حَدِيثِ حَمَّادٍ -: «فِي الصَّلَاةِ» يَعْنِي فِي السُّبْحَةِ.

[1] Abū Dāwūd narrated this from Musad-dad, who narrated it from both Ḥammad bin Zaid and 'Abdul-Wārith.

1007. Al-Azraq bin Qais reported: “An Imām with the Kunyah of Abū Rimthah led us in prayer then he said: ‘I prayed this prayer — or a prayer similar to it — with the Prophet ﷺ.’ He said: ‘And Abū Bakr and ‘Umar would stand in the front row towards his right. There was a man (among us) who had caught the first Takbīr of the prayer. So the Prophet of Allāh ﷺ prayed the prayer, and said the Taslīm to his right and left, and we could see the whiteness of his cheeks. Then he turned (around) just as Abū Rimthah’ — meaning himself — did. The man who had caught the first Takbīr stood up to pray voluntary prayers, but ‘Umar rushed at him, grabbed him by the shoulders, and shook him. Then he said: “Sit down, for the only reason that the People of the Book perished was due to the fact that their was no separation between their prayers.” The Prophet ﷺ raised his eyes (towards them) and said: “Allāh has corrected (him) through you, O son of Khatṭāb.”

Abū Dāwud said: (Some narrators mentioned the Kunyah as Abū Urayyah instead of Abū Rimthah.

Chapter 188,189. (Prostrating For) Forgetfulness After Two Prostrations (Rak'ahs)^[1]

1008. It was reported from Ayyūb, from Muḥammad, from Abū Hurairah that he said: “The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ led us in one of the two afternoon prayers, (either) Zuhr or ‘Asr, and he only prayed two Rak'ahs, and said the Taslim. Then he went to a piece of wood in the front of the Masjid, and placed his hands on it — one on top of the other. Anger could be seen on his face. Those who would usually leave the prayer quickly left saying: ‘The prayer has been shortened! The prayer has been shortened!’ Abū Bakr and ‘Umar were present among the people, but they were hesitant in addressing him, out of respect for him. A person whom the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ had nicknamed Dhul-Yadain (‘The one who possesses two hands’) stood up and said: ‘O Messenger of Allāh! Have you forgotten, or has the prayer been shortened?’ The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ replied: ‘I have neither forgotten, nor has the prayer been shortened.’ So he said: ‘Rather, you have forgotten O Messenger of Allāh!’ The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ turned to face the people, and said: ‘Has Dhul-Yadain spoken the truth?’ They motioned to him: ‘Yes.’ So the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ returned to his place, and prayed the remaining two Rak'ahs, and then said the Taslīm. Then he said the Takbīr and went into prostration like he usually did, or even longer. Then he raised (his head) and said the Takbīr. Then he said the Takbīr and prostrated as he usually did, or even longer, then he raised (his head) and said the Takbīr.” (Ṣaḥīḥ)

[1] The meaning of two prostrations in the chapter heading is after two sets of prostrations, or, after having prayed two Rak'ahs of the prayer.

He said:^[1] “It was said to Muḥammad: ‘Did he say the Taslīm in the (prostration) of forgetfulness?’ He responded: ‘I do not remember this from Abū Hurairah, but I was told that ‘Imrān bin Ḥuṣain said: “Then he said the Taslīm.”’ تخریج: أخرجه مسلم، المساجد، باب السهو في الصلاة والسجود له، ح: ٥٧٣ من حديث حماد بن زيد به.

Comments:

1. Only a few times did the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ, forget. By it, Allāh facilitated clarification, practically, of the proper actions in such case.
2. More than one error during a prayer does not require additional prostrations. One set of prostrations for forgetfulness is enough.

1009. (There is another chain) from Ayyūb, from Muḥammad, with his chain — and the (previous) narration of Ḥammād is more complete — he said: “Then the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ prayed...” and he did not say: ‘...led us in prayer,’ nor did he say, ‘...they motioned.’ Instead, he said: “They said: ‘Yes.’” And he said: “Then he raised (his head),” but he did not

Then he raised (his head)...” and he completed the Hadīth, without mentioning the last part. And no one mentioned that they motioned, except for one Hammad bin Zaid. (Saḥīh)

Abū Dāwud said: All those who narrated this Hadīth did not mention: “Then he said the Takbīr,”^[1] nor did they mention: “Then he returned (to his place)...”

Comments:

These different narrations have different wordings. Anyhow, these are reconcilable, that is, some responded verbally while others did by sign. Takbīrs shall be said, both while prostrating and lifting up one's head after prostrating, according to authentic narrations.

1010. Then he said: “I was informed that 'Imrān bin Ḥuṣayn said: ‘Then he said the Taslīm.’” He said: “I said: ‘Did (he say) the Tashah-hud?’” He replied: “I have not heard anything about the Tashah-hud, but I like that he does say it.”

And he did not mention that he

Abū Dāwud said: This Hadīth was also reported from Ḥabīb bin Ash-Shahīd, and Ḥumaid, and Yūnus, and ‘Āsim Al-Aḥwal, from Muḥammad, from Abū Hurairah. None of them mentioned what Ḥammād bin Zaid did from Hishām, that: “He said the Takbīr, then said the Takbīr, and prostrated.” Ḥammād bin Salamah and Abū Bakr bin ‘Ayyāsh also reported this Hadīth from Hishām, and they did not mention this from him as Ḥammād bin Zaid did — that “He said the Takbīr, then said the Takbīr.”

Comments:

The foregoing narrations prove that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ performed two prostrations after the Salām.

Comments:

1. There is proof in this Hadīth that forgetfulness occurred on more than one occasion, each case different from the other.
2. Takbīrat Al-Ihrām is said if one says the missing one, or more than one Rak’ah.

Comments:

In those early times, the Law was still being revealed. It could not be final as long as the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ was alive since there was always the likelihood of a certain law to be abrogated, amended or altered. That is the reason the Companions kept quiet during the prayer. But, now, the situation is different. Now a worshiper, while following the Imām, should caution him and draw his attention, in case he errs or forgets.

1020. (There is another chain) from Manṣūr, from Ibrāhīm, from ‘Alqamah, who said: “ ‘Abdullāh said: ‘The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ’” Ibrāhīm said: “I do not know if he added or prayed too few” — “once prayed. When he said the Taslim, he was asked: “O Messenger of Allāh, has something new occurred regarding the prayer?” He said: “And what is the matter?” They replied: “You prayed in such a manner.” So he tucked in his foot, turned to face the Qiblah, and prostrated twice with them (the people), then said the Taslim. When he had finished, he turned around to face us, and said: “If anything had changed in the prayer, I would have informed you, but I am only human, and forget as they forget. So if I forget, remind me.” And he also said: “If one of you is in doubt (regarding how many Rak’ahs he has prayed) during the prayer, let him try to assume what is correct, and complete his prayer on it. Then let him say the Taslim, and prostrate twice.” (Ṣaḥīḥ)

١٠٢٠ - حَدَّثَنَا عُثْمَانُ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ: حَدَّثَنَا جَرِيرٌ عَنْ مَثُورٍ، عَنْ إِبْرَاهِيمَ، عَنْ عَلْقَمَةَ قَالَ: قَالَ عَبْدُ اللَّهِ: صَلَّى رَسُولُ اللَّهِ ﷺ - قَالَ إِبْرَاهِيمُ: فَلَا أَدْرِي زَادَ أَمْ نَقَصَ - فَلَمَّا سَلَّمَ قِيلَ لَهُ: يَا رَسُولَ اللَّهِ! أَحَدَثَ فِي الصَّلَاةِ شَيْءٌ؟ قَالَ: «وَمَا ذَاكَ؟» قَالُوا: صَلَّيْتَ كَذَا وَكَذَا، فَتَنَى رِجْلَهُ وَاسْتَقْبَلَ الْقِبْلَةَ فَسَجَدَ [بِهِمْ] سَجَدَتَيْنِ ثُمَّ سَلَّمَ، فَلَمَّا انْقَلَبَ أَقْبَلَ عَلَيْنَا بِوَجْهِهِ فَقَالَ: «إِنَّهُ لَوْ حَدَثَ فِي الصَّلَاةِ شَيْءٌ أَنْبَأْتُكُمْ بِهِ، وَلَكِنْ إِنَّمَا أَنَا بَشَرٌ أَنْسَى كَمَا تَنْسَوْنَ، فَإِذَا نَسِيتُ فَذَكِّرُونِي». وَقَالَ: «إِذَا شَكَّ أَحَدُكُمْ فِي صَلَاتِهِ فَلْيَتَحَرَّرْ الصَّوَابَ فَلْيُتِمِّمْ عَلَيْهِ ثُمَّ لِيُسَلِّمْ ثُمَّ لِيَسْجُدْ سَجَدَتَيْنِ».

Comments:

1. A person should think over and try to remove his doubt and act upon what he is sure of.
2. Whatever the prayer, voluntary or obligatory, an error has to be rectified by means of prostrations of forgetfulness. And Allāh knows best.

1021. (There is another chain) from Al-A'mash from Ibrāhīm, from 'Alqamah, with this narration. He (ﷺ) said: "So if one of you forgets, let him prostrate twice." Then (the Prophet ﷺ) turned around, and prostrated twice. (Ṣaḥīh)

Abū Dāwud said: And Ḥuṣain reported it similar to the report of Al-A'mash.

1022. When he had turned around, the people started mumbling among themselves. So he asked them, "What is the matter?" They said: "O Messenger of Allāh, has the prayer been increased?" He said: "No." So they said: "But you have prayed five (Rak'ahs)!" So he turned around, prostrated twice, then said the Taslīm. Then he said: "I am only human — I forget as they forget." 1023. Mu'āwiyah bin Khudaij narrated that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ once led them in prayer, and said the Taslim while one Rak'ah was still remaining. A person caught up to him (after he had left) and said: "You have forgotten one Rak'ah of the prayer." So he returned, entered the Masjid, and ordered Bilāl to call the Iqāmah for the prayer. He then led the people for one Rak'ah. So I informed the people about this. They asked me: "Do you know the man (who informed him)?" I said: "No, but if I see him (I should recognize him)." The man then passed by me, and I said: "This is the man!" They said: "This is Talḥah bin 'Ubaidullāh." (Ṣaḥīḥ)

۱۰۲۳ - حَدَّثَنَا قُتَيْبَةُ بْنُ سَعِيدٍ: حَدَّثَنَا اللَّيْثُ يَعْنِي ابْنَ سَعْدٍ، عَنْ يَزِيدَ بْنِ أَبِي حَبِيبٍ أَنَّ سُؤَيْدَ بْنَ قَيْسٍ أَخْبَرَهُ عَنْ مُعَاوِيَةَ ابْنِ حَدَّاجٍ: أَنَّ رَسُولَ اللَّهِ ﷺ صَلَّى يَوْمًا فَسَلَّمَ وَقَدْ بَقِيََتْ مِنَ الصَّلَاةِ رَكْعَةٌ، فَأَذْرَكُهُ رَجُلٌ فَقَالَ: نَسِيتَ مِنَ الصَّلَاةِ رَكْعَةً، فَرَجَعَ فَدَخَلَ الْمَسْجِدَ وَأَمَرَ بِلَالًا فَأَقَامَ الصَّلَاةَ، فَصَلَّى لِلنَّاسِ رَكْعَةً، فَأَخْبَرْتُ بِذَلِكَ النَّاسَ، فَقَالُوا لِي: أَتَعْرِفُ الرَّجُلَ؟ قُلْتُ: لَا، إِلَّا أَنْ أَرَاهُ، فَمَرَّ بِي، فَقُلْتُ: هَذَا هُوَ، فَقَالُوا: هَذَا طَلْحَةُ بْنُ عُبَيْدِ اللَّهِ.

Comments:

If the people have moved away and the error in prayer comes to their knowledge later, the Iqāmah should be called in order for people to line up in rows for prayer.

Chapter 190,191. Whoever Said that Doubt Should Be Ignored When One Is Confused Regarding (Whether He Has Prayed) Two Or Three Rak'ah

(المعجم ۱۹۰، ۱۹۱) باب: إِذَا شَكَّ فِي الثُّلُثَيْنِ وَالثَّلَاثِ مَنْ قَالَ: يُلْقِي الشَّكَّ (التحفة ۱۹۸)

1024. It was reported from Ibn 'Ajlān, from Zaid bin Aslam, from 'Aṭā' bin Yasār, from Abū Sa'eed Al-Khudrī, that he said that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: "If one of you is doubtful in his prayer

۱۰۲۴ - حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ الْعَلَاءِ: حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو خَالِدٍ عَنْ ابْنِ عَجْلَانَ، عَنْ زَيْدِ بْنِ أَسْلَمَ، عَنْ عَطَاءِ بْنِ يَسَارٍ، عَنْ أَبِي سَعِيدٍ الْخُدْرِيِّ قَالَ: قَالَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ ﷺ: «إِذَا شَكَّ

(regarding the number of Rak'ahs he has prayed), let him throw away the doubt, and build upon what is certain. Then, when he is certain that he has completed (the prayer), let him prostrate twice. So if his prayer had been complete, this (extra) Rak'ah will be counted as voluntary, and so will the two prostrations. And if his prayer had been deficient, then the Rak'ah will have made his prayer complete, and the two prostrations will infuriate (and humiliate) the Shaitān.” (Ṣaḥīḥ)

Abū Dāwud said: Hishām bin Sa’d and Muḥammad bin Muṭarrif reported it from Zaid, from ‘Aṭā’ bin Yasār, from Abū Sa‘eed ‘Al-Khudrī, from the Prophet ﷺ. The narration of Abū Khālīd (above) is more detailed.

Comments:

In case of doubt, one should act upon whatever is certain. For example, if one is not sure how many Rak'ahs he has performed, two or three and four or five, he should take the lesser number as the basis: two in the former case and four in the latter case. Basing on this calculation, he should proceed to perform the remaining Rak'ahs and complete his prayer.

1025. Ibn ‘Abbās narrated that the Prophet ﷺ called the two prostrations of forgetfulness: “Al-Muraghimatāin.” (Ḥasan)

قَالَ أَبُو دَاوُدَ: رَوَاهُ هِشَامُ بْنُ سَعْدٍ وَمُحَمَّدُ بْنُ مُطَرِّفٍ عَنْ زَيْدِ بْنِ عَطَاءٍ بْنِ يَسَارٍ، عَنْ أَبِي سَعِيدِ الْخُدْرِيِّ عَنِ النَّبِيِّ ﷺ. وَحَدِيثُ أَبِي خَالِدٍ أَشْبَعُ.

Comments:

The devil wants to make a worshiper forget how many Rak'ahs he has performed, and thus leave him in an uneasy state of suspense and doubt, but, by performing additional prostrations, the worshiper corrects them and draws nearer to Allāh, thereby humiliating the devil.

1026. It was reported from Mālik, from Zaid bin Aslam, from 'Aṭā' bin Yasār that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: "If one of you is doubtful in his prayer, and is not sure how much he prays, three or four, then let him pray a Rak'ah, and prostrate twice while he is sitting — before he says the Taslīm. So if the Rak'ah that he prayed was actually a fifth (Rak'ah), then he would have made (the prayer) even with these two prostrations. And if it were the fourth Rak'ah, then these two prostrations will infuriate (and humiliate) the Shaitān." (Sahih)

1027. (There is another chain) narrated from Ya'qūb bin 'Abdur-Raḥmān Al-Qārī, from Zaid bin Aslam — with the chain of Mālik — he said: "Indeed the Prophet ﷺ said: "If one of you is in doubt (with regards to the number of Rak'ahs he has prayed) in the prayer, then if he is sure that he has (at least) prayed three, let him stand up and complete a Rak'ah with its prostrations, then let him sit down and say the Tashah-hud. Then, when he finishes, and all that is remaining for him is the Taslīm, let him prostrate twice while he is Abū Dāwud said: It was narrated like that by Ibn Wahb from Mālik, Ḥafṣ bin Maisarah, Dāwud bin Qais, and Hishām bin Sa’d, except that Hishām said it had been conveyed to him (as a narration) from Abū Sa’eed Al-Khudrī.

Chapter 191,192. Those Who Said He Should Complete (The Prayers) Based Upon His Strongest Judgment

1028. It was reported from Muḥammad bin Salamah, from Khuṣaif, from Abū ‘Ubaidullāh bin ‘Abdullāh, from his father, from the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ, that he said: “If you are praying, and are in doubt regarding three or four (whether you have prayed three or four), and you think that you have prayed four, then you should say the Tashah-hud, and prostrate twice while you are sitting, before saying the Taslīm. Then say the Tashah-hud again, then say the Taslīm.” (Da’if)

Abū Dāwud said: ‘Abdul-Wāhid reported it from Khuṣaif, and he did not narrate it in Marfū’ form. Sufyān, Sharīk, and Isrā’īl were in accord with ‘Abdul-Wāhid. They differ in the wording of the text of the Hadīth, and they did not narrate it with a complete chain (up to the Prophet ﷺ).

Comments:

This narration is weak. Hence, one should complete one's prayer on the basis of certainty, not on the basis of what is most likely or probable. It is clear from the above-mentioned Hadīth. It follows also that there is no need to say the Tashahhud after performing the two prostrations of forgetfulness.

1029. (It was reported) from Yaḥyā bin Kathīr that he narrated from 'Iyād, (and it was reported) from Yaḥyā bin Hilāl bin 'Iyād - from Abū Sa'eed Al-Khudrī, that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: "If one of you prays, and is unsure whether he has prayed more or less, let him prostrate twice while he is sitting. And if the Shaitān comes to him, and says: 'You have nullified (your ablution),' then say: 'You have lied!' Unless he detects some odor with his nose, or some sound with his ears." (Hasan)

Abū Dāwud said: Ma'mar and 'Alī bin Al-Mubāarak said: "'Iyād bin Hilāl." Al-Awzā'ī said: "'Iyād bin Abī Zuhair."

Comments:

The devil's mission it is to harass and torment humans. A worshiper should, therefore, think and try to drive away doubt, misgiving and delusion, become sure and certain, and then act accordingly.

1030. It was reported from Mālik, from Ibn Shihāb, from Abū Salamah bin 'Abdur-Raḥmān, from Abū Hurairah, that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: "When one of you stands up to pray, the Shaitān comes to him and confuses him

Comments:

This Hadīth is for those who are given to constant delusions, doubts and devilish insinuations and are totally unable to get rid of them. Such people should determine how many Rak‘āhs they are sure to have already performed, complete their prayer accordingly, and then perform the prostrations of forgiveness.

1031. It was reported from Ya‘qūb that he said: “The paternal nephew of Az-Zuhri informed us, from Muḥammad bin Muslim.” — With this Hadīth and with his chain, and he added: “...While he is sitting, before the Taslīm.” (Ṣaḥīḥ)

Comments:

That is, he shall complete his prayer by performing all the (requisite) Rak‘ahs and then, at the end, perform two prostrations. We learn from this Hadīth that the prostrations of forgetfulness may also be performed after the Taslīm.

Chapter 193,194. One Who Stands Up After Two Rak‘ah Without Performing the Tashah-hud

1034. It was reported from Mālik, from Ibn Shihāb, from ‘Abdur-Rahmān Al-A‘raj, from ‘Abdullāh bin Buḥainah, that he said: “The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ once led us in two Rak‘ahs, then stood up without sitting down. So the people stood up with him. When he had completed the prayer, and we were waiting for the Taslīm, he said the Takbīr, prostrated twice while he was sitting down — before the Taslīm — then said the Taslīm.” (Ṣaḥīh)

Comments:

1. It is obligatory on those being led in prayer (Muqtadīn) to follow the Imām even if he is erring forgetfully. It is also their duty to alert him to his mistake.
2. In case one missed the middle Tashah-hud, one may make up for it by performing the prostrations of forgetfulness.

1035. (There is another chain) from Az-Zuhri with similar meaning with his chain for the Hadīth (as no. 1034). He added: “And some of us said the Tashah-hud while we were standing.” (Ṣaḥīḥ)

Abū Dāwud said: Ibn Az-Zubair also prostrated in this manner before the Taslim when he stood up after two Rak'ahs. And this is also the opinion of Az-Zuhri.

Comments:

In case, one knows in the course of a prayer one has missed the middle Tashah-hud, it is better to perform the prostrations of forgetfulness before the Taslim, and if not possible, then after it.

Comments:

If one has already stood up erect, before he could remember that he has missed the Tashah-hud, he should continue standing and continue with his prayer until he completes it, and then, at the end, perform two prostrations before the Taslim.

1037. It was reported from Al-Mas'ūdī, from Ziyād bin 'Ilāqah who said: "Al-Mughīrah bin Shu'bah once led us in prayer, and stood up after two Rak'ahs. So we said: 'Subhān Allāh!' and he also said: 'Subhān Allāh,' and continued (to stand). When he completed the prayer and said the Taslim, he prostrated the two prostrations of forgetfulness. He then turned around and said: 'I saw the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ do as I did.'" (Hasan)

Abū Dāwud said: It was reported like that by Ibn Abī Lailā from Ash-Sha'bī, from Al-Mughīrah bin Shu'bah and he narrated it in Marfū' form. Abū 'Umais reported it from Thābit bin 'Ubaid, he said: "Al-Mughīrah bin Shu'bah lead us in prayer..." narrating similar to the Hadīth of Ziyād bin 'Ilāqah.

Abū Dāwud said: Abū 'Umais is the brother of Al-Mas'ūdī.

1041. Qabiṣah bin Hulb — from the tribe of Ṭai — reported from his father that he used to pray with the Prophet ﷺ, and he would turn around (to leave after the prayer) from both sides. (Hasan)

١٠٤١ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو الْوَلِيدِ الطَّبَالِيُّ: حَدَّثَنَا شُعْبَةُ عَنْ سِمَاكِ بْنِ حَرْبٍ، عَنْ قَيْصَةَ ابْنِ هُلْبٍ - رَجُلٍ مِنْ طَيِّ - عَنْ أَبِيهِ: أَنَّهُ صَلَّى مَعَ النَّبِيِّ ﷺ فَكَانَ يَنْصَرِفُ عَنْ شِقْبَيْهِ.

1042. ‘Umārah bin ‘Umair reported from Al-Aswād bin Yazīd, from ‘Abdullāh (bin Mas‘ūd), that he said: “Let not any of you give a portion of his prayer to Shaitān (by believing) that one should not turn except to the right (to leave after the prayer). Chapter 198,199. A Person’s Voluntary Prayer In His House

1043. Ibn ‘Umar narrated that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: “Offer some of your prayers in your houses, and do not make them into graves.” (Sahīh)

Comments:

This instruction applies to all voluntary prayers.

1044. Zaid bin Thabit reported that the Prophet ﷺ said: “A person’s prayer in his house is better than his prayer in my Masjid, except for the obligatory prayers.” (Sahīh) تخریج: متفق عليه من حديث أبي النضر به كما سيأتي، ح: ١٤٤٧.

Comments:

This instruction is for men, not for women. Women merit better reward if they pray in their houses though, of course, they may pray in the Masjid with others.

(المعجم ١٩٩، ٢٠٠) - بَابُ مَنْ صَلَّى لِعَبْرِ الْقِبْلَةِ ثُمَّ عَلِمَ (التحفة ٢٠٧)

1045. Anas narrated: “The Prophet ﷺ and his Companions would pray towards Bait Al-Maqdis (Jerusalem), then this Verse was revealed: ‘So turn your face towards Al-Masjid Al-Harām; and wherever you are, turn your faces towards it.’^[1] A person passed by (the tribe of) Banū Salamah, and they were in Rukū’, praying Fajr towards Bait Al-Maqdis (Jerusalem). ١٠٤٥ - حَدَّثَنَا مُوسَى بْنُ إِسْمَاعِيلَ: حَدَّثَنَا حَمَادٌ عَنْ ثَابِتٍ وَحَمِيدٍ، عَنْ أَنَسٍ: أَنَّ النَّبِيَّ ﷺ وَأَصْحَابَهُ كَانُوا يُصَلُّونَ نَحْوَ بَيْتِ الْمَقْدِسِ فَلَمَّا نَزَلَتْ هَذِهِ الْآيَةُ: ﴿فَوَلِّ وَجْهَكَ شَطْرَ الْمَسْجِدِ الْحَرَامِ وَحَيْثُ مَا كُنْتُمْ فَوَلُّوا وُجُوهَكُمْ شَطْرَهُ﴾ [البقرة: ١٤٤]. فَمَرَّ رَجُلٌ مِنْ بَنِي سَلَمَةَ فَتَادَاهُمْ وَهُمْ رُكُوعٌ فِي صَلَاةِ الْفَجْرِ نَحْوَ بَيْتِ الْمَقْدِسِ: أَلَا إِنَّ الْقِبْلَةَ قَدْ حُوِّلَتْ إِلَى الْكَعْبَةِ - مَرَّتَيْنِ - قَالَ: فَمَالُوا كَمَا هُمْ رُكُوعٌ إِلَى الْكَعْبَةِ.

تخریج: أخرجه مسلم، المساجد، باب تحويل القبلة من القدس إلى الكعبة، ح: ٥٢٧ من حديث حماد بن سلمة به.

Comments:

1. In case, a person prays with his face turned in a direction other than the Qiblah unintentionally, his prayer is valid.
2. One who is not praying may instruct the other who is praying, if need be.
3. Such instruction does not invalidate a prayer. And Allāh knows best.

Chapters On The Friday Prayer

Chapter 200,201. The Blessings Of Friday And The Eve Of Friday^[1]

1046. Abū Hurairah narrated that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: “The best day on which the sun rises is Friday: On it, Ādam was created; and on it, he descended (to earth); and on it, his repentance was accepted; and on it, he died; and on it, the Hour will be established. And there is not a single creature except that it awaits (the Hour) on Friday, from the time the sun appears (over the horizon) until it rises (high) — out of fear of the Hour — except for Jinn and mankind. And on it there is an hour that no Muslim catches while he is praying, asking Allāh, the Mighty and Sublime, for his need, except that he is given it.”

(Abū Hurairah then said:) “Ka‘b asked: ‘This occurs once every year?’ So I replied, ‘No, rather every single Friday!’ So Ka‘b read the Tawrah, and said, ‘The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ has told the truth.’ I then met ‘Abdullāh bin Salām, and told him about my conversation with Ka‘b. So ‘Abdullāh bin Salām said: ‘I know which hour it is.’ I said: ‘Tell me.’ He replied: ‘It is the last hour on

Comments:

This Ḥadīth proves the excellence and merit of Friday. It also proves that supplications are granted on this blessed day, especially towards its end.

1047. Aws bin Aws reported that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: “Of your best days is Friday. On it, Ādam was created; and on it his (soul) was taken; and on it is the blowing (of the Trumpet); and on it is the Swoon.^[1] Therefore, increase in sending your Ṣalāt upon me, for your Ṣalāt upon me are presented to me.” They said: “O Messenger of Allāh! And how will our Ṣalāt upon you be presented to you after you have perished?” He replied: “Indeed, Allāh, the Mighty and Sublime, has prohibited the earth from (destroying) the bodies of the Prophets.” (Daʿīf)

Comments:

This is a special kind of life, a peculiar state of existence after death, the details of which we know not beyond revelation. Barzakh, an Arabic word, refers to the barrier between this life and the Hereafter. This life of the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ, as mentioned in the Hādīth, relates to the realm of Barzakh. We do not know its quality, characteristics, and other details. We only believe in it, without going into its details.

Maybe, that blessed moment of Divine Grace when supplications are answered alternates between times. This is a good way to reconcile these narrations.

Chapter 202,203. The Blessings Of The Friday Prayer

(المعجم ٢٠٢، ٢٠٣) - بَابُ فَضْلِ الْجُمُعَةِ (التحفة ٢١٠)

1050. Abū Hurairah narrated that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: “Whoever performed Wuḍū’ and performed it well, then attended the Friday prayer, and listened (attentively), and was quiet; he will be forgiven (his sins that occurred) between the two Fridays, and an additional three days as well. And whoever played with pebbles, then he has committed Laghā (acted in vain).” (Sahih)

(المعجم ٢٠٣، ٢٠٤) - بَابُ التَّشْدِيدِ فِي تَرْكِ الْجُمُعَةِ (التحفة ٢١١)

1052. Abū Al-Ja‘d Aḍ-Ḍamrī — who was one of the Companions — narrated that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: “Whoever leaves three Friday prayers, considering it insignificant, Allāh will place a seal upon his heart.” (Ḥasan)

Comments:

A sealed heart is a tremendous loss, a great misfortune and deprivation. A person with a sealed heart becomes incapable of doing any deed of virtue.

Chapter 204,205. The Expiation Of One Who Leaves It

(المعجم ٢٠٤، ٢٠٥) - بَابُ كَفَّارَةِ مَنْ تَرَكَهَا (التحفة ٢١٢)

1053. Hammām reported from Qatādah, from Qudāmah bin Wabarah Al-‘Ujaīmī, from Samurah bin Jundab, from the Prophet ﷺ, that he said: “Whoever leaves the Friday prayer without an excuse, then let him give one Dīnar in charity, and if he cannot do so, then half a Dīnar.” (Da‘īf)

١٠٥٣ - حَدَّثَنَا الْحَسَنُ بْنُ عَلِيٍّ: حَدَّثَنَا يَزِيدُ بْنُ هَارُونَ: أَخْبَرَنَا هَمَّامٌ: حَدَّثَنَا قَتَادَةُ عَنْ قُدَامَةَ بْنِ وَبَرَةَ الْعُجَيْفِيِّ، عَنْ سَمُرَةَ بْنِ جُنْدَبٍ عَنِ النَّبِيِّ ﷺ قَالَ: «مَنْ تَرَكَ الْجُمُعَةَ مِنْ غَيْرِ عُدْرٍ فَلْيَتَصَدَّقْ بِدِينَارٍ، فَإِنْ لَمْ يَجِدْ فَبِنِصْفِ دِينَارٍ».

Abū Dāwud said: Similar was reported from Khālīd bin Qais, but he contradicted him in the chain,

Abū Dāwud said: Sa‘eed bin Bashīr reported it from Qatādah like this. Except that he said: A Mudd or half of a Mudd.^[3] And he said: “From Samurah.”

Abū Dāwud said: I heard Aḥmad bin Ḥanbal being asked about the differences over the narration of this Ḥadīth. He said: “Hammām has a stronger memory — in my opinion — than Ayyūb.”

Both the Aḥadīth of this chapter are weak and, therefore, fail to prove the atonement mentioned therein.

Comments:

Al-‘Awālī is on the outskirts of Al-Madīnah. The implication is that people living in settlements on the outskirts of a town are also obliged to attend the Friday prayers.

1056. It was reported from ‘Abdullāh bin ‘Abdullāh bin ‘Amr that the Prophet ﷺ said: “The Friday prayer is obligatory on everyone who hears the call (Adhān).” (Da‘īf)

Abū Dāwud said: A group reported this from Sufyān stopping at ‘Abdullāh bin ‘Amr, and none of them narrated it in Marfū’ form. Only Qabiṣah narrated it with a (connected Marfū’) chain.^[1]

(المعجم ٢٠٦، ٢٠٧) - بَابُ الْجُمُعَةِ فِي
الْيَوْمِ الْمَطِيرِ (التحفة ٢١٤)

1057. It was reported from Qatādah, from Abū Al-Maliḥ from his father, that the Day of Ḥunain was a rainy day, so the Prophet ﷺ ordered his caller to call out: "Pray in your tents." (Ṣaḥīḥ)

١٠٥٧ - حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ كَثِيرٍ: أَخْبَرَنَا هَمَّامٌ عَنْ قَتَادَةَ، عَنْ أَبِي الْمَلِيحِ، عَنْ أَبِيهِ: أَنَّ يَوْمَ حُنَيْنٍ كَانَ يَوْمَ مَطَرٍ، فَأَمَرَ النَّبِيُّ ﷺ مُنَادِيَهُ: أَنْ الصَّلَاةَ فِي الرِّحَالِ.

١٠٥٨ - حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ الْمُثَنَّى: حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ الْأَعْلَى: حَدَّثَنَا سَعِيدٌ عَنْ صَاحِبٍ لَهُ عَنْ أَبِي مَلِيحٍ أَنَّ ذَلِكَ كَانَ يَوْمَ جُمُعَةٍ.

Comments:

In the event of a heavy downpour on Friday making it difficult for people to go to Masjid, the Friday congregation may be skipped. Instead, they would have to perform Zuhr in their dwellings.

1059. (There is another chain) from Abū Qilābah, from Abū Al-Maliḥ, from his father that he was present at the events of Al-Ḥudaibiyah with the Prophet ﷺ, and it was Friday. It was raining, but the soles of their feet had not become damp. The Prophet ﷺ commanded them to pray in their tents. (Ṣaḥīḥ)

Chapter 207,208. Not Attending The Congregational Prayer On A Cold Night Or A Rainy Night

(المعجم ٢٠٧، ٢٠٨) - بَابُ التَّخَلُّفِ

عَنِ الْجَمَاعَةِ فِي اللَّيْلَةِ الْبَارِدَةِ أَوْ اللَّيْلَةِ الْمَطِيرَةِ (التحفة ٢١٥)

1060. It was reported from Hammād bin Zaid, that Ayyūb narrated to them from Nāfi', that Ibn 'Umar once camped at Ḍajnān on a cold night, and he ordered his caller to call out: "Pray in your tents."

١٠٦٠ - حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ عُبَيْدٍ: حَدَّثَنَا حَمَّادُ بْنُ زَيْدٍ: حَدَّثَنَا أَيُّوبُ عَنْ نَافِعٍ: أَنَّ ابْنَ عُمَرَ نَزَلَ بِضَجْنَانَ فِي لَيْلَةٍ بَارِدَةٍ فَأَمَرَ الْمُنَادِيَ فَنَادَى أَنْ الصَّلَاةَ فِي الرَّحَالِ.

Ayyūb said: "And Nāfi' narrated from Ibn 'Umar, that on a cold or rainy night, the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ would order his caller to call out: 'Pray in your tents.'" (Ṣaḥīḥ) قَالَ أَيُّوبُ: وَحَدَّثَ نَافِعٌ عَنْ ابْنِ عُمَرَ: أَنَّ رَسُولَ اللَّهِ ﷺ كَانَ إِذَا كَانَتْ لَيْلَةٌ بَارِدَةً أَوْ مَطِيرَةً أَمَرَ الْمُنَادِيَ فَنَادَى: الصَّلَاةَ فِي الرَّحَالِ.

1061. It was reported from Ismā'il, from Ayyūb, from Nāfi': "Ibn 'Umar, called for the prayer at Ḍajnān, and he said: 'Pray in your tents.'"

١٠٦١ - حَدَّثَنَا مُؤَمَّلُ بْنُ هِشَامٍ: حَدَّثَنَا إِسْمَاعِيلُ عَنْ أَيُّوبَ، عَنْ نَافِعٍ قَالَ: نَادَى ابْنُ عُمَرَ بِالصَّلَاةِ بِضَجْنَانَ، ثُمَّ نَادَى أَنْ صَلُّوا فِي رِحَالِكُمْ. قَالَ فِيهِ: ثُمَّ حَدَّثَ عَنْ رَسُولِ اللَّهِ ﷺ أَنَّهُ كَانَ يَأْمُرُ الْمُنَادِيَ فَيُنَادِي بِالصَّلَاةِ، ثُمَّ يَنَادِي أَنْ صَلُّوا فِي رِحَالِكُمْ فِي اللَّيْلَةِ الْبَارِدَةِ وَفِي اللَّيْلَةِ الْمَطِيرَةِ فِي السَّفَرِ.

He said in it: "Then he narrated from the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ that he would command the caller on a cold or rainy night to call for the prayer, then to say: 'Pray in your tents,' while on a journey." (Ṣaḥīḥ) قَالَ أَبُو دَاوُدَ: وَرَوَاهُ حَمَّادُ بْنُ سَلَمَةَ عَنْ أَيُّوبَ وَعُبَيْدِ اللَّهِ، قَالَ فِيهِ: فِي السَّفَرِ فِي اللَّيْلَةِ الْقُرَى أَوْ الْمَطِيرَةِ.

Abū Dāwud said: Hammād bin Salamah, reported it from Ayyūb and 'Ubaidullāh. He said in it: "While on a journey, on a cold or rainy night."

Comments:

According to most Ahādīth, the permission to pray indoors seems to have been given during journeys, but some Ahādīth make no mention of journeys. This leads us to infer that the permission is unrestricted.

1062. It was reported from ‘Ubaidullāh, from Nāfi‘, from Ibn ‘Umar, that he called for the prayer at Ḍajnān on a cold and windy night, and he said at the end of the call: “Pray in your tents; Pray in your tents.” He then said: “If he was traveling and it was a cold or rainy night, the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ would command the Mu’adhdhin to say: “Pray in your tents.” (Ṣaḥīḥ)

1063. It was reported from Mālik, from Nāfi‘, that Ibn ‘Umar — meaning he called the Adhān for the prayer on a cold and windy night — and he said: “Pray in your tents.” He then said: “The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ would command the Mu’adh-dhin if it was a cold night, or a rainy night, to say, ‘Pray in your tents.’” (Ṣaḥīḥ)

Abū Dāwud said: This narration was reported by Yahyā bin Sa‘eed Al-Anṣārī from Al-Qāsim, from Ibn ‘Umar, from the Prophet ﷺ, but he said: “While they were on a journey.”

قَالَ أَبُو دَاوُدَ: رَوَى هَذَا الْخَبَرُ يَحْيَى بْنُ سَعِيدِ الْأَنْصَارِيِّ عَنِ الْقَاسِمِ، عَنِ ابْنِ عُمَرَ، عَنِ النَّبِيِّ ﷺ قَالَ فِيهِ: فِي السَّفَرِ.

1065. Abū Az-Zubair reported from Jābir that he said: “We were once traveling with the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ and rain started to fall. The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: ‘Whoever among you wishes may pray in his tent.’” (Sahīh)

Comments:

In such situations, one has an excuse to not go to the Masjid.

1066. It was reported from ‘Abdullāh bin Al-Hāriṭh, the paternal nephew of Muḥammad bin Sīrīn that Ibn ‘Abbās said to his Mu‘adh-dhin on a rainy day: “When you say: ‘I testify that Muḥammad is the Messenger of Allāh,’ don’t say: ‘Come to prayer,’ but say instead: ‘Pray in your houses.’” But it seemed that the people found this (act) strange, so he said: “Indeed, someone who was better than me did it. The Friday prayer is obligatory, so I disliked that I should cause you to leave (your houses) and walk in the mud and rain.” (Sahīh)

١٠٦٦ - حَدَّثَنَا مُسَدَّدٌ: حَدَّثَنَا إِسْمَاعِيلُ: أَخْبَرَنِي عَبْدُ الْحَمِيدِ صَاحِبُ الزُّبَيْرِيِّ: حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ اللَّهِ بْنُ الْحَارِثِ ابْنُ عَمِّ مُحَمَّدِ بْنِ سِيرِينَ: أَنَّ ابْنَ عَبَّاسٍ قَالَ لِمُؤَدِّهِ فِي يَوْمٍ مَطِيرٍ: إِذَا قُلْتَ أَشْهَدُ أَنَّ مُحَمَّدًا رَسُولُ اللَّهِ فَلَا تَقُلْ: حَيَّ عَلَى الصَّلَاةِ، قُلْ: صَلُّوا فِي بُيُوتِكُمْ. فَكَأَنَّ النَّاسَ اسْتَنْكَرُوا ذَلِكَ، فَقَالَ: قَدْ فَعَلَ ذَا مَنْ هُوَ خَيْرٌ مِنِّي، إِنَّ الْجُمُعَةَ عَزْمَةٌ وَإِنِّي كَرِهْتُ أَنْ أُخْرِجَكُمْ فْتَمْشُونَ فِي الطِّينِ وَالْمَطَرِ.

Comments:

Whenever the weather is bad, and may cause difficulty on those attending the Masjid, then this constitutes a legal excuse to not go to the Masjid for that prayer.

Chapter 208,209. The Friday Prayer For The Slave And The Woman

1067. It was reported from Tāriq bin Shihāb, from the Prophet ﷺ that he said: “The Friday prayer in congregation is an obligation on every single Muslim, except for four: An owned slave, a woman, a child, and a sick person.” (Ṣaḥīḥ) Abū Dāwud said: Tāriq bin Shihāb saw the Prophet ﷺ but did not hear anything from him.

Chapter 209,210. The Friday Prayer In Villages

1068. Ibn ‘Abbās narrated: “The first Friday prayer in Islam that was prayed after the Friday prayers held in the Masjid of Allāh’s Messenger ﷺ in Al-Madīnah was the Friday prayer in Juwāthā’ — a village of the villages of Baḥrain.” ‘Uthmān (one of the narrators) said: “It is a village of (the tribe of)

Comments:

This Ḥadīth proves that the Friday prayer be established in all settled places. There is no text to prove that the Friday prayer may not be held in a small village.

1069. ‘Abdur-Raḥman bin Ka’b bin Mālik — who was the guide for his father after he lost his sight — reported from his father Ka’b bin Mālik, that when he would hear the Adhān for the Friday prayer, he would seek forgiveness for As’ad bin Zurārah. So I asked him: “Every time you hear the Adhān, you seek forgiveness for As’ad bin Zurārah.” He replied: “Because he was the first one who gathered us together in (the village of) Hazm an-Nabīṭ, which (was inhabited by) Banu Bayāḍah, in the lower part of a valley called Naqī ‘Al-Khaḍīmāt.” I asked him: “How many were you at that time?” He replied: “Forty.”

Comments:

There is no text to indicate that if they were less than forty in number, then they would not have held the Friday prayer. Meaning, this number is not the minimum number required to hold the Friday prayer.

Comments:

This Ḥadīth and other narrations prove that, in case the day of 'Eid falls on a Friday, one may attend the 'Eid prayer as well as the Friday prayer, or they have a legal excuse to not attend the Friday if they have attended the 'Eid prayer.

1071. Al-A'mash reported from 'Āṭā' bin Abī Rabāḥ that he said: "Ibn Az-Zubair once led us in the early morning in the 'Eid prayer, and it happened to be on a Friday. Then we went to attend the Friday prayer, but he did not come out to us (to give the Khutbah). So we prayed by ourselves (without a congregation). And Ibn 'Abbās at that time was in Aṭ-Ṭā'if, so when he came back, we informed him about this. He said: 'He has followed the Sunnah.'" (Ṣaḥīḥ)

1072. It was reported that Ibn Jurairj said: "'Āṭā' said: 'Once, 'Eid Al-Fiṭr fell on a Friday during the time of Ibn Az-Zubair. He said: "Two 'Eid have fallen on the same day," so he combined them together, and prayed them as two

Comments:

This is among the narrations used by those scholars that say whoever performed 'Eid prayer when it falls on a Friday, then there is no need for them to pray any other obligatory prayer, until 'Asr', others say that the exemption from the Friday prayer does not prove exemption from performing Zuhr.

1073. Abū Hurairah reported that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: "Two 'Eid have fallen on the same day. So whoever wishes, it (the 'Eid prayer) will suffice for his Friday prayer. And as for us, then we will pray the Friday prayer." (Da'if)

(المعجم ٢١٢، ٢١٣) - بَابُ اللَّبْسِ
لِلْجُمُعَةِ (التحفة ٢٢٠)

1076. It was reported from Nāfi', from 'Abdullāh bin 'Umar that once 'Umar bin Al-Khattāb saw a Siyarā' Hullah being sold outside the door of the Masjid. He said: "O Messenger of Allāh! If you were to purchase this and wear it on Fridays, and when delegations come to visit you (it would be good)!" The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: "This type (of garment) is only worn by those who will have no share of the Hereafter." Then, the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ was given some garments of these, so he gave one to 'Umar bin Al-Khattāb. 'Umar said: "Have you given me this garment to wear, even though you said concerning the garment of 'Uṭārid what you

1. It is recommended to put on nice garments for the Friday prayer, 'Eid prayers and on special occasions.
2. Men are prohibited, while women are permitted, to wear silk.

1077. It was reported from Ibn Shihāb, from Sālim, from his father who said: 'Umar bin Al-Khattāb once saw a Hullah made of Istabraq being sold in the market-place, so he took it to the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ and said: '(Why don't you) purchase this (garment) so that you can dress up for 'Eid and when delegations come?..."' and the rest of the narration is similar (to no. 1076), but the first narration is more complete. (There is another chain) from Ibn Habbān, from Ibn Salām, that he heard the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ say this on the Minbar. (Ḥasan)

'Amr bin Shu'aib reported from his father, from his grandfather, that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ prohibited selling and purchasing (goods) in the Masjid, and that one should announce lost property in it, or recite poetry in it. the Minbar (in the Prophet's Masjid) and what it was made out of, for they had been arguing about it. So he said: 'By Allāh, I know what it was made out of, and I saw it the first day it was made, and the first day that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ sat on it. The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ had sent someone to so-and-so' — a woman whom Sahl had named — 'saying: "Order your slave, the carpenter, to make for me some wooden planks that I may sit on while addressing the people." So she ordered him to do so, and he made it from Ṭarfā',^[1] from Al-Ghābah.^[2] So he brought it to her, and she sent it to the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ, who commanded that it be put in this particular place. And I saw the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ praying on it, saying the Takbīr, and going into Rukū' while on it, then he descended and stepped back, and prostrated at the base of the Minbar, then returned (on top of it). When he had finished, he turned to face the people and said: "O people, I have done this so that you may imitate me and learn my prayer." (Sahīh)

Comments:

1. It is recommended to use a Minbar for the Khutbah.
2. In this text is proof for prayer on the Minbar when educating the followers.

[1] They say that Ṭarfā' refers to the Tamarisk tree which grows in desert areas.

[2] A place outside of Al-Madīnah, towards the north.

1081. Ibn ‘Umar narrated: “When the Prophet ﷺ grew old, Tamīm Ad-Dārī said: ‘Should I not make for you a Minbar that will carry you, O Messenger of Allāh ﷺ?’ He said: ‘Yes,’ so he made for him a Minbar with two steps.” (Hasan)

تخريج: [إسناده حسن] أخرجه البيهقي: ١٩٥/٣، ١٩٦ من حديث أبي عاصم به.

Comments:

This Hadūth says that the Minbar was made by Tamīm Ad-Dārī, but the Hadīth preceding it says that it was made a slave. Al-Hāfīz Ibn Ḥajar said that the latter Hadīth is stronger than the former, and added that both may have been connected, one way or the other, with the making of the Minbar.

1083. Mujāhid narrated from Abū Al-Khalīl that Abū Qatādah reported: “The Prophet ﷺ disliked prayer in the middle of the daylight (noon), except on Friday, for he said: ‘The Fire of Hell is kindled, except on Friday.’” (Da‘if)

١٠٨٣ - حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ عِيْسَى: حَدَّثَنَا حَسَّانُ بْنُ إِبْرَاهِيمَ عَنْ لَيْثٍ، عَنْ مُجَاهِدٍ، عَنْ أَبِي الْخَلِيلِ، عَنْ أَبِي قَتَادَةَ عَنِ النَّبِيِّ ﷺ: أَنَّهُ كَرِهَ الصَّلَاةَ نِصْفَ النَّهَارِ إِلَّا يَوْمَ الْجُمُعَةِ، وَقَالَ: «إِنَّ جَهَنَّمَ تُسَجَّرُ إِلَّا يَوْمَ الْجُمُعَةِ». قَالَ أَبُو دَاوُدَ: وَهُوَ مُرْسَلٌ مُجَاهِدٌ

We learn from the foregoing Ahādīth that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ used to be finished with the Friday prayer early.

Chapter 217,219. The Call To Prayer On Friday

(المعجم ٢١٧، ٢١٩) - بَابُ النَّدَاءِ يَوْمَ
الْجُمُعَةِ (التحفة ٢٢٦)

1087. It was reported from Yūnus, from Ibn Shihāb, that As-Sā'ib bin Yazīd informed him: "During the time of the Prophet ﷺ, Abū Bakr, and 'Umar, the Adhān used to be called when the Imām sat on the Minbar on Friday. During the Khilāfah of 'Uthmān, the people increased, so 'Uthmān ordered a third Adhān, and it used to be called at Az-Zawrā'. So this became the custom." (Sahih)

١٠٨٧ - حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ سَلَمَةَ
الْمُرَادِيُّ: حَدَّثَنَا ابْنُ وَهْبٍ عَنْ يُونُسَ، عَنْ

الْأَذَانَ كَانَ أَوَّلَهُ حِينَ يَجْلِسُ الْإِمَامُ عَلَى

النَّاسُ أَمَرَ عُمَانُ يَوْمَ الْجُمُعَةِ بِالْأَذَانِ
الثَّلَاثِ، فَأَذَّنَ بِهِ عَلَى الزَّوْرَاءِ، فَتَبَتِ الْأُمْرُ
عَلَى ذَلِكَ.

تخریج: أخرجه البخاري، الجمعة، باب التأذين عند الخطبة، ح: ٩١٦ من حديث يونس بن يزيد الأيلي به.

Comments:

"Third Adhān" a number of scholars consider that to mean a "third call" counting the Adhān and Iqāmah as two, so the meaning would be that he instituted a second Adhān.

1088. It was reported from Muḥammad bin Salamah, from Muḥammad bin Ishāq, from Az-Zuhri, from As-Sā'ib bin Yazīd, who said: "The Adhān used to be called on Friday at the door of the Masjid — in front of the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ — when he sat down on the Minbar. And this was the case during the time of Abū Bakr and 'Umar as well..." then he narrated similar to the Hadīth of Yūnus (no. 1087). (Da'if)

١٠٨٨ - حَدَّثَنَا الثُّقَلِيُّ: حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ
سَلَمَةَ عَنْ مُحَمَّدِ بْنِ إِسْحَاقَ، عَنِ الزُّهْرِيِّ،

يَدَيْ رَسُولِ اللَّهِ ﷺ إِذَا جَلَسَ عَلَى الْمِنْبَرِ يَوْمَ
الْجُمُعَةِ عَلَى بَابِ الْمَسْجِدِ وَأَبِي بَكْرٍ وَعُمَرَ

1089. It was reported from ‘Abdah, from Muḥammad, meaning Ibn Ishāq, from Az-Zuhri, from As-Sā’ib, that he said: “The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ only had one Mu’adh-dhin: Bilāl...” and he narrated similar (to no. 1087) in meaning. (Da’if)

١٠٨٩ - حَدَّثَنَا هَنَادُ بْنُ السَّرِيِّ: حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدَةُ عَنْ مُحَمَّدٍ يَعْنِي ابْنَ إِسْحَاقَ، عَنِ الزُّهْرِيِّ، عَنِ السَّائِبِ قَالَ: لَمْ يَكُنْ لِرَسُولِ اللَّهِ ﷺ إِلَّا مُؤَدِّنٌ وَاحِدٌ، بِلَالٍ ثُمَّ ذَكَرَ مَعْنَاهُ.

Comments:

Apart from Bilāl, there were other Mu’adh-dhins as proven by many other narrations.

1090. It was reported from Abū Šāliḥ, from Ibn Šihāb, that As-Sā’ib bin Yazīd, the maternal nephew of Namir informed him: “The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ only had one Mu’adh-dhin...” and he narrated the rest of the Hadīth, but in this version it is incomplete. (Šahīh)

Chapter 218,220. The Imām Talking To Someone During His Khutbah

1091. It was reported from Makhlad bin Yazīd, (who said): “Ibn Jurajj narrated to us from ‘Aṭā’, from Jābir, that he said: ‘Once the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ sat on the Minbar on Friday and said: ‘All of you should sit down.’ Ibn Mas‘ūd heard this (while he was entering the mosque), so he sat

Chapter 219,221. Sitting Down On The Minbar

(المعجم ٢١٩، ٢٢١) - بَابُ الْجُلُوسِ إِذَا صَعِدَ الْمِنْبَرَ (التحفة ٢٢٨)

1092. Ibn 'Umar reported: "The Prophet ﷺ would deliver two Khutbah — he would sit on the Minbar until" — I think [he said]: "the Mu'adh-dhin" — finished (the Adhān), then he would stand up and deliver a Khutbah, then sit down and not speak, then stand up and deliver a Khutbah."^[2] (Da'if)

Comments:

Delivering the Khutbah from the Minbar while standing is recommended. It is [1] Meaning, it is known from that route, and it is believed that the Mursal narration is what is correct.

[2] The doubt in this narration is whether Ibn 'Umar merely intended that he sat for the duration of the Adhān, and one of the narrators added that commentary, or whether the narrator said that in the narration, and the one who heard it from him was not sure if that was part of it or not. This narration was reported from a group of narrators from Al-'Umarī (who narrated it here), and none of them said this statement in question here except for 'Abdul-Wahhāb bin 'Ātā', who said it here. So it is clear that he is the one who said it, and Allāh knows best. This narration is repeated again after number 1131.

not permissible to do so sitting unless there is a reason to justify that. The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ sat very briefly in between the two Khutbah.

Chapter 220,222. Giving The Khutbah While Standing

1093. It was reported from Zuhair, from Simāk, from Jābir bin Samurah that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ would deliver his Khutbah while standing, then (he would) sit down, then stand up and deliver (another Khutbah). So whoever informs you that he would deliver his Khutbah sitting down, then he is in error, for indeed I have prayed more than two thousand prayers with him.” (Sahīh)

Chapter 221,223. A Person Giving The Khutbah While Leaning On A Bow

يَخْطُبُ عَلَى قَوْسٍ (التحفة ٢٣٠)

1096. Shu'aib bin Ruzaiq said: "I sat by a Companion of the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ, by the name of Al-Ḥakam bin Ḥazn Al-Kulafī, and he began to narrate to us. He said: 'I went as part of a delegation to the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ, I was the seventh of seven people, or the ninth of nine. We visited him and said: "O Messenger of Allāh! We have come to visit you, so pray to Allāh to bless us with good." So he ordered that some dates be given to us — and the situation at that time was not good. We stayed a few days with him, and attended the Friday prayer with the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ. He stood up, supporting himself on a stick, or bow, and praised Allāh and glorified him — with words that were concise, pure and blessed. Then he said: "O people, you will not be able to handle, or will not be able to do, all that you have been commanded to, but aim to achieve righteousness and come close to it." (Ḥasan)

Abū Dāwud said: Some of my companions confirmed some parts of this, which had fallen loose from my book.

1. If one comes across a person known for his piety and knowledge, one may well request him to pray for one's well-being.
2. One should serve one's guests to the best of one's ability. It is the right of a guest.

1097. Ibn Mas'ūd narrated: "When the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ would give a Khuṭbah, he would say: 'All praise is due to Allāh, we seek His help and ask for His forgiveness. And we seek Allāh's refuge from the evil of ourselves. There is none that can misguide one whom Allāh guides, and none can guide whom He misguides. And I testify that none has the right to be worshiped but Allāh, and I testify that Muḥammad is His slave and Messenger. He has sent him with the Truth, as a giver of glad tidings and a warner against evil, before the time of the (Final) Hour. Whoever obeys Allāh and His Messenger has been guided, and whoever disobeys them has only brought harm upon himself, and has not harmed Allāh in the least.'" (Da'īf)

Comments:

The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ disliked the use of a single pronoun, denoting a dual number, for both Allāh and himself since, by doing so, there is a hint of equating the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ with Allāh. While the same statement preceded from him ﷺ, in number 1097, but when the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said “them” he was speaking about himself in the third person, meaning, he did not say: “whoever disobeys us...” but “whoever disobeys them,” and this is something that can only occur in his ﷺ case.

1100. The daughter of Al-Ḥārith bin An-Nu‘mān said: “I memorized (Sārah) Qāf directly from the mouth of the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ, for he would give a Khuṭbah with it every Friday. And we would share the same oven with the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ.” (Ṣaḥīh)

Comments:

The Khutbah, and prayer after it, should be of a moderate length. These two narrations demonstrate the approximate length. In number 1100, the author narrated a version saying that Surah Qāf was the topic of the Khutbah, then he narrated number 1102 which indicates it was recited during the prayer. These narrations give an indication that both the Khutbah and the recitation were each about the length of that Sūrah. See number 1106 and the chapter related to it, stressing the brevity of the Khutbah.

1105. Sahl bin Sa'd reported: "I never (even) once saw the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ raising his hands high while supplicating on the Minbar, nor elsewhere. But I did see him do this," and he pointed with his forefinger, and connected his thumb with the middle finger. (Da'if)

The *Khuṭbah

(المعجم ٢٢٣، ٢٢٥) - بَابُ إِقْصَارِ
الْخُطْبِ (التحفة ٢٣٢)

1106. ‘Ammār bin Yāsir narrated: “The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ commanded us to shorten the Khuṭbah.” (Hasan)

١١٠٦ - حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ عَبْدِ اللَّهِ بْنِ نُمَيْرٍ: حَدَّثَنَا أَبِي: حَدَّثَنَا الْعَلَاءُ بْنُ صَالِحٍ عَنْ عَدِيِّ بْنِ ثَابِتٍ، عَنْ أَبِي رَاشِدٍ، عَنْ عَمَّارِ بْنِ يَاسِرٍ قَالَ: أَمَرَنَا رَسُولُ اللَّهِ ﷺ بِإِقْصَارِ الْخُطْبِ.

1107. Jābir bin Samurah As-Suwāī said: “The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ would not prolong his admonitions on Friday. Rather, (he would speak with) a few words.” (Hasan) ١١٠٧ - حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ خَالِدٍ: حَدَّثَنَا الْوَلِيدُ: أَخْبَرَنِي شَيْبَانُ أَبُو مُعَاوِيَةَ، عَنْ سِمَاكِ بْنِ حَرْبٍ، عَنْ جَابِرِ بْنِ سَمْرَةَ السُّوَائِيِّ قَالَ: كَانَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ ﷺ لَا يُطِيلُ الْمَوْعِظَةَ يَوْمَ الْجُمُعَةِ، إِنَّمَا هُنَّ كَلِمَاتٌ يَسِيرَاتٌ.

Comments:

A Friday Khuṭbah should be not be unnecessarily lengthy, and an earlier chapter elaborated on details about topics, giving an indication of its length. In number 2009 of Ṣaḥīḥ Muslim the Messenger of Allāh indicated that the brief Khuṭbah, and lengthy prayer is a sign of understanding of the religion. In number 1006, the author narrated a version in which is the order to keep the Khuṭbah brief.

(المعجم ٢٢٤، ٢٢٦) - بَابُ الدُّنُوبِ مِنَ

1108. Samurah bin Jundab narrated that the Prophet of Allāh ﷺ said: “Attend the remembrance

١١٠٨ - حَدَّثَنَا عَلِيُّ بْنُ عَبْدِ اللَّهِ: حَدَّثَنَا مُعَاذُ بْنُ هِشَامٍ قَالَ: وَجَدْتُ فِي كِتَابِ أَبِي

تخريج: [إسناده ضعيف] أخرجه أحمد: ١١/٥ عن علي بن المديني به وصححه الحاكم على شرط مسلم: ٢٨٩/١ ووافقه الذهبي * قتادة تقدم، ح: ٢٩ وعنعن.

Comments:

1. The believers should vie with one another to attend gatherings devoted to remembrance of Allāh, especially the Friday prayers and sermons.
2. Sitting as close as possible to the Imām has more merit and deserves greater reward.

Chapter 225,227. The Imām Interrupting The Khuṭbah Due To An Incident

1109. ‘Abdullāh bin Buraidah narrated from his father that he said: “Once, the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ was giving us a Khuṭbah when Al-Ḥasan and Al-Ḥusain came, wearing two red garments. They would trip and fall, and then stand up. So he descended from the Minbar and took them (in his arms), and then returned to the Minbar. He then said: ‘Indeed, Allāh has told the truth! — Your wealth and your children are but a trial.^[1] — I saw these two, and was not able to be patient.’ Then he continued the Khuṭbah.” (Ḥasan)

Chapter 226,228. Sitting In The Ihtibā'^[1] Position While The Imām Gives The Khuṭbah

Ya'lā bin Shaddād bin Aws said: "I attended the Friday prayer with Mu'āwiyah bin Abī Sufyān in Baīt Al-Maqdis (Jerusalem), and I saw that most of the people in the Masjid were Companions of the Prophet ﷺ; I saw them sitting in the Ihtibā' position while the Imām was delivering his Khuṭbah." (Da'if) Abū Dāwud said: Ibn 'Umar used to sit in the Ihtibā' position while the Imām was delivering his Khuṭbah. And Anas bin Mālik, Shurāih, Ṣa'sa'ah bin Ṣuwḥān, Sa'eed bin Al-Musayyab, Ibrāhīm An-Nakha'ī, Makhūl, Ismā'il bin Muḥammad bin Sa'd and Nu'aim bin Salāmah all said that there is no harm in it.

Abū Dāwud said: It has not reached me that anyone disliked it except 'Ubādah bin Nusayy.

(المعجم ٢٢٧، ٢٢٩) - بَابُ الْكَلَامِ
وَإِلَامًا يَخْطُبُ (التحفة ٢٣٦)

1112. Abū Hurairah narrated that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: “If you say: ‘Be quiet,’ while the Imām is delivering the Khutbah, you have committed Laghā (spoken in vain).” (Sahīh)

١١١٢ - حَدَّثَنَا الْقَعْنَبِيُّ عَنْ مَالِكٍ، عَنْ ابْنِ شِهَابٍ، عَنْ سَعِيدٍ، عَنْ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ أَنَّ رَسُولَ اللَّهِ ﷺ قَالَ: «إِذَا قُلْتَ أَنْصِتْ وَإِلَامًا يَخْطُبُ فَقَدْ لَعَوْتَ».

Comments:

One should keep absolutely quiet during the Khutbah and not speak, even to tell others to keep quiet. It is for the Khatib to do so, if there is a need.

1113. ‘Abdullāh bin ‘Amr narrated that the Prophet ﷺ said: “Three types of people attend the Friday prayer: A person who comes and commits Laghā (acts in vain), and that (action) will be his reward; a person who comes and supplicates to Allāh, so if (Allāh) wills, He will give him, and if He wills, He will not respond to him; and a man who attends it, remaining quiet and listening — he neither walked over a Muslim’s back nor did he harm anyone. So (for this person) it will be an expiation (for all sins) until the next Friday, and an additional three days. This is because Allāh says: Whoever brings a good deed shall have ten times the like Chapter 228,230. Should The One Who Commits Hadath (Breaks His Wudū) Ask Permission From The Imām To Leave ?

(المعجم ٢٢٨، ٢٣٠) - بَابُ اسْتِثْنَانِ الْمُحَدِّثِ لِلْإِمَامِ (التحفة ٢٣٧)

1114. It was reported from Ibn Juraij that Hishām bin ‘Urwah informed him from ‘Urwah, from ‘Āishah, that she said: “The Prophet ﷺ said: ‘If one of you commits Hadath (breaks his Wudū) during the prayer, let him place his hand on his nose and leave.” (Sahih)

١١١٤ - حَدَّثَنَا إِبْرَاهِيمُ بْنُ الْحَسَنِ الْمُصَيَّبِيُّ: حَدَّثَنَا حَجَّاجُ بْنُ جُرَيْجٍ: أَخْبَرَنِي هِشَامُ بْنُ عُرْوَةَ عَنْ عُرْوَةَ عَنِ عَائِشَةَ قَالَتْ: قَالَ النَّبِيُّ ﷺ: «إِذَا أَحَدَتْ أَحَدُكُمْ فِي صَلَاتِهِ فَلْيَأْخُذْ بِأَنْفِهِ ثُمَّ لِيَنْصَرِفْ».

Abū Dāwud said: Hammād bin Salamah and Abū Usāmah reported from Hishām, from his father, from the Prophet ﷺ: “If one comes while the Imām is delivering the Khuṭbah” and they did not mention ‘Āishah.

قَالَ أَبُو دَاوُدَ: رَوَاهُ حَمَّادُ بْنُ سَلَمَةَ وَأَبُو أُسَامَةَ عَنْ هِشَامِ، عَنْ أَبِيهِ عَنِ النَّبِيِّ ﷺ: «إِذَا دَخَلَ وَالْإِمَامُ يَخْطُبُ» لَمْ يَذْكُرَا عَائِشَةَ.

Comments:

In this respect, the ruling for prayer and the Khuṭbah is the same. Placing one’s hand over one’s nose, while leaving the congregation, in case one’s Wudū becomes invalid, is indicative of one’s excuse.

Chapter 229,231. If A Person Enters While The Imām Is Delivering The Khuṭbah

Al-A'mash reported from Abū Sufyān from Jābir, and, from Abū Ṣāliḥ from Abū Hurairah, they both (Jābir and Abū Hurairah) said: "Sulaik Al-Ghaṭafānī came while the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ was delivering the Khutbah, so he said to him: 'Have you prayed anything?' He replied: 'No.' So he said: 'Pray two Rak'ahs, and make them short.'" (Sahih)

1117. It was reported from Talḥah, that he heard Jābir bin 'Abdullāh narrating that Sulaik came...and he completed the Hadith (as no. 1116) in a similar manner, except that he added: "Then the Prophet ﷺ turned to face us and said: 'When one of you comes while the Imām is delivering the Khutbah, let him pray two Rak'ahs, and make them short.'" Comments:

These texts indicate the obligation of performing at least two Rak'ahs prior to sitting after entering the Masjid.

Chapter 230,232. Stepping Over People's Necks On Friday^[1]

1118. Abū Az-Zāhiriyyah said: "We were with 'Abdullāh bin Busr — a Companion of the Prophet ﷺ — on Friday. A person came, walking (stepping) over other people's necks, so 'Abdullāh bin Bistr said: 'Once, on a Friday, when the Prophet ﷺ was delivering his Khuṭbah, a person came walking over other people's necks. Comments:

Coming late for Friday prayer and then stepping over the shoulders of others to reach front rows is a reprehensible act. It troubles other worshippers and is forbidden.

Chapter 231,233. A Person Yawns When The Imām Delivers The Khuṭbah

1119. Ibn 'Umar reported that he heard the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ say: "If one of you yawns while he is in the Masjid, let him change from his sitting place to another place." (Hasan)

1120. It was reported from Jarīr — and he is Ibn Ḥāzīm — and I do not know if Muslim said that or not^[1] — from Thābit, from Anas, that he said: “I saw a man come to the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ, for some matter of his, immediately after he had descended from the Minbar. So he stood with him until his matter was resolved, then he stood up to pray.” (Daʿīf)

١١٢٠ - حَدَّثَنَا مُسْلِمٌ بْنُ إِبْرَاهِيمَ عَنْ جَرِيرٍ - وَهُوَ ابْنُ حَازِمٍ، لَا أَدْرِي كَيْفَ قَالَهُ مُسْلِمٌ أَوْ لَا - عَنْ ثَابِتٍ، عَنْ أَنَسٍ قَالَ: رَأَيْتُ رَسُولَ اللَّهِ ﷺ يَنْزِلُ مِنَ الْمِنْبَرِ فَيَعْرِضُ لَهُ الرَّجُلُ فِي الْحَاجَةِ فَيَقُومُ مَعَهُ حَتَّى يَقْضِيَ حَاجَتَهُ ثُمَّ يَقُومُ فَيُصَلِّي.

Abū Dāwūd said: This Hadīth is not well-known from Thābit, it is among that which Jarīr bin Ḥāzīm is alone in narrating.

Comments:

If one is late but catches one Rak'ah of the congregational prayer, be it Friday, or any another congregational prayer, or he catches one Rak'ah of a prayer before its time is over when alone, then he has, in fact, caught that prayer. In the case of the Friday prayer, if he caught only one Rak'ah, then he prays a second one along with it. If he misses all of the Friday prayer he has to perform four Rak'ahs for Zuhr.

Chapter 236,238. Praying After The Friday Prayer

(المعجم ٢٣٦، ٢٣٨) - بَابُ الصَّلَاةِ بَعْدَ الْجُمُعَةِ (التحفة ٢٤٥)

1127. It was reported from Ayyūb, from Nāfi‘ that Ibn ‘Umar once saw a man praying two Rak‘ahs after the Friday prayer, in the same place that he had prayed (the Friday prayer). So he prevented him and said: “Are you praying the Friday prayer as if it is four Rak‘ahs?” And ‘Abdullāh (bin ‘Umar) would pray two Rak‘ah in his house on Friday, and say: “This is what the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ used to do.” (Ṣaḥīḥ)

One should not perform voluntary prayers on the same place one has performed the obligatory prayer. Changing one’s place, or conversing with someone, or saying any remembrance formula will suffice to constitute a break between the two prayers and keep them distinct from each other. Offering two Rak'ahs in one's house on Fridays is Sunnah.

[1] “Apartment” or Hujrah; its meaning is not clear in this narration so it has been translated in the more general way. In one of the narrations recorded by Al-Bukhārī it mentions that its wall was short, and they could see him beyond it. For this reason and others, Al-Hāfiẓ Ibn Hajar said that this Hujrah in this narration may refer to an occasion when he was performing the voluntary night prayer inside the Masjid, and he would make some sort of temporary structure with “walls” using palm-reed mats, to temporarily section off the area in which he was praying.

1128. It was reported from Ayyūb, from Nāfi' who said: "Ibn 'Umar would engage in prayer for a long time before the Friday prayer, and pray two Rak'ahs after it in his house. He would narrate that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ used to do that." (Ṣaḥīḥ)

1129. It was reported from 'Umar bin 'Aṭā' bin Abī Al-Khuwār, that Nāfi' bin Jubair sent him to As-Sā'ib bin Yazīd, the maternal nephew of Namir, asking him regarding something Mu'āwiyah had seen him do in the prayer. He said: "I prayed the Friday prayer with him (Mu'āwiyah) in his enclosure, and when he said the Taslīm, I stood up in my place and prayed. When he went inside, he sent for me and said: 'Do not repeat what you have done. If you pray the Friday prayer, then do not join another prayer with it until you speak or exit, for that is what the Prophet of Allāh ﷺ commanded us; that one prayer not be joined with another until you speak or exit.'" Chapter 239. The ‘Eid Prayers (المعجم ٢٣٩) - بَابُ صَلَاةِ الْعِيدَيْنِ

(التحفة ٢٤٦)

1134. Anas narrated: “When the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ came to Al-Madīnah, its (inhabitants) had two days they would play in (and be merry on). He asked them: ‘What are these two days?’ They replied: ‘We used to play on these days during Jahiliyyah.’ So the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ replied: ‘Indeed, Allāh has replaced you with two days that are better than them: The Day of Al-Adhā, and the Day of Al-Fitr.’”

١١٣٤ - حَدَّثَنَا مُوسَى بْنُ إِسْمَاعِيلَ: حَدَّثَنَا حَمَادٌ عَنْ حُمَيْدٍ، عَنْ أَنَسِ قَالَ: قَدِمَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ ﷺ الْمَدِينَةَ وَلَهُمْ يَوْمَانِ يَلْعَبُونَ فِيهِمَا فَقَالَ: «مَا هَذَانِ الْيَوْمَانِ؟» قَالُوا: كُنَّا نَلْعَبُ فِيهِمَا فِي الْجَاهِلِيَّةِ، فَقَالَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ ﷺ: «إِنَّ اللَّهَ قَدْ أَبْدَلَكَم بِهِمَا خَيْرًا مِنْهُمَا: يَوْمَ الْأَضْحَى، وَيَوْمَ الْفِطْرِ».

Comments:

Islam has done away with all the customs of the Days of Ignorance. The followers of Allāh’s Messenger ﷺ celebrate only the festival days appointed by the Sharī’ah he ﷺ delivered. This Hadīth informs us that Muslims have only two festivals sanctioned by the Prophet ﷺ.

Ritual impurity is no bar to supplication. It is permissible.

1137. (There is another chain) from Ḥammad, that Ayyūb narrated from Muḥammad, from Umm ‘Aṭīyah, with this narration (similar to no. 1136). He (ﷺ) said: “And let the menstruating women avoid the place of prayer,” and he did not mention the garment. However, he narrated from Ḥaḥṣah from a woman, who narrated it from another woman who said: “It was said: ‘O Messenger of Allāh!’” Then he mentioned the meaning of what was narrated by Mūsā^[1] about the garment. While it is better that the Eid prayer be held outdoors, it is allowed to hold it in a Masjid if there is a reason for that.

الْاِسْتِسْقَاءِ وَتَفْرِيعِهَا (التحفة ٢٥٩)

1161. It was reported from Ma'mar from Az-Zuhrī, from 'Abbād bin Tamīm, from his paternal uncle that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ went out with the people to ask (Supplicate) for rain. He prayed two Rak'ahs, reciting aloud in them, and he turned his Ridā' around.^[1] And he raised his hands, supplicating, and asking for rain, and he faced the Qiblah." (Ṣaḥīh)

1162. It was reported from Ibn Abi Dhī'b and Yūnus from Ibn Shihab, who said: "Abbād bin Tamīm Al-Māzinī heard from his paternal uncle, who was a Companion of the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ, that he said: 'One day, the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ went with the people, supplicating for rain. He turned his

1163. It was reported from Az-Zubaidī, from Muḥammad bin Muslim^[1] — this Hadīth — with his chain (a narration similar to 110-1162). He did not mention the prayer, and he said: “And he turned his Ridā, such that its right side was upon his left shoulder, and its left side was upon his right shoulder. Then he supplicated to Allāh, the Mighty and Sublime.” (Ṣaḥīḥ)

1164. It was reported from ‘Umārah bin Ghaziyyah, from ‘Abbād bin Tamīm, from ‘Abdullāh bin Zaid, who said: “The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ sought (supplicated for) rain while he was wearing a black Khamīṣah. The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ intended to switch it around, such that its lower part would become the higher part, but when he found difficulty in that, he switched it around over his shoulders.” (Ṣaḥīḥ)

[1] That is Az-Zuhrī, who is also called Ibn Shihāb.

1165. Hishām bin Ishāq bin ‘Abdullāh bin Kinānah narrated that his father narrated to him, that the Amir of Al-Madīnah, Al-Walīd bin ‘Uqbah — according to ‘Uthmān (one of the narrators): Ibn ‘Utbah — sent him to Ibn ‘Abbās asking him about the rain prayer of the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ. So he (Ibn ‘Abbās) narrated: “The Messenger of Allāh went out (meaning in the open-out side the city), wearing modest clothes, in a state of humbleness and displaying neediness (to Allāh), until he came to the prayer ground” — ‘Uthmān (one of the narrators) added: And ascended the Minbar — “And he did not deliver any Khutbah such as you do, but he continued to supplicate and petition (Allāh), and say the Takbīr. Then he prayed two Rak’ahs as is performed for ‘Eid.” (Ḥasan)

Abū Dāwud said: This narration is that of An-Nufailī,^[1] and what is correct is (Al-Walīd) bin ‘Utbah.

تخريج: [إسناده حسن] أخرجه الترمذي، الصلاة، باب ما جاء في صلاة الاستسقاء، ح: ٥٥٨ من حديث حاتم بن إسماعيل به وقال: "حسن صحيح" وصححه ابن خزيمة، ح: ١٤٠٥ وابن حبان، ح: ٦٠٣.

Comments:

That it was like ‘Eid’ prayer means that it was like it in duration, that no Adhān was called, the number of Rak’ahs was the same, and the prayer preceded the Khutbah, but the prayer for rain has no additional Takbīrs.

reported from ‘Abbād bin Tamīm, that ‘Abdullāh bin Zaid informed him, that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ once went out to the prayer ground (Muṣalla) in order to seek rain, and that, when he wanted to supplicate, he faced the Qiblah, then turned his Ridā’ around. (Ṣaḥīḥ)

1167. It was reported from ‘Abdullāh bin Abī Bakr that he heard ‘Abbād bin Tamīm saying: “I heard ‘Abdullāh bin Zaid Al-Māzinī saying: ‘The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ went out to the prayer ground to seek rain, and he turned his Ridā’ when he faced the Qiblah.’” (Ṣaḥīḥ)

Comments:

Turning the garment around is a sign of turning away from mistakes and toward repentance, so it is accompanied by supplications

Chapter 2. Raising The Hands During Istisqā’

1168. Muḥammad bin Ibrāhīm reported from Umair, the freed slave of the children of Abī Al-Laḥm, that he saw the Prophet ﷺ asking (supplicating) for rain at Aḥjār Az-Zait, close to Az-Zawrā’.^[1] He was standing, supplicating, asking for rain; with his hands raised in front of his face. His hands would not go above his head. (Ṣaḥīḥ)

1169. It was reported from Yazīd bin Al-Faqīr, from Jābir bin Abdullāh, that he said: “Some people came to the Prophet ﷺ, crying (and complaining). So he said: Allāhumma asqinā ghaithan mughūthan marī’an marī’ah nāfi’an ghaira dārrin, ‘ājilan ghaira ājil (O Allāh! Comments:

1. In times of difficulty, hardship or need, one should supplicate to Allah, ardently, humbly, and repeatedly.
2. One may also request the living and present pious, devout men to supplicate to Allāh for relief.

1170. It was reported from Qatādah from Anas that the Prophet ﷺ would not raise his hands in any supplication except for seeking rain, for he would raise his hands until the whiteness of his armpits could be seen. (Sahih)

1173. It was reported from 'Āishah, that she said: "The people complained to the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ about the lack of rain. So he ordered that his Minbar be placed in the prayer ground (Muṣalla), and he appointed a day for the people to come out. The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ went out when the sun's rays could be seen, and sat on the Minbar. He glorified Allāh and praised Him, then said: 'You have complained regarding the lack of rain on your lands, and the delay of rain from its usual time. And Allāh, the Mighty and Sublime, has commanded you to supplicate to Him, and promised you that He will respond to you.' Beneficent, the Most Merciful; King of the Day of Judgment. None has the right to be worshipped but Allāh. He does what He wills. O Allāh! You are Allāh — None has the right to be worshipped but You: the Self-Sufficient Who is not in need of anything, and we are the destitute (always in need of You). Send down rain upon us, and make what You have sent down a sustenance and a means to live by for a time being.’

Then he raised his hands, and continued to do so until the whiteness of his armpits could be seen. He then turned his back to the people, and turned — or turned upside down — his Ridā’ around while his hands were raised. Then he turned around to face the people, descended (from the Minbar) and prayed two Rak’ahs.

So Allāh caused a cloud to form, and it sent forth its lightening and thunder, then it rained by the permission of Allāh. The Prophet ﷺ did not return to his Masjid except that streams had started flowing (in the streets). So when he saw how quickly they were looking for shelter, he laughed so much that his molars could be seen, and said: ‘I testify that Allāh is capable of doing all things, and that I am the slave of Allāh and His Messenger.’” (Ḥasan)

Abū Dāwud said: This Ḥadīth is Gharīb,^[1] and its chain is good.

ثُمَّ أَقْبَلَ عَلَى النَّاسِ وَنَزَلَ فَصَلَّى رَكَعَتَيْنِ،

أَنَّ اللَّهَ عَلَى كُلِّ شَيْءٍ قَدِيرٌ، وَأَنَا عَبْدُ اللَّهِ
وَرَسُولُهُ».

قال أبو داود: هذا حديث غريب إسناده
جيد. أهل المدينة يقرؤون (ملك يوم
الدين)، وإن هذا الحديث حجة لهم.

[1] Meaning it is only narrated through one route of transmission.

The people of Al-Madīnah recite: ‘King (Malik) of the Day of Judgment,’ and this Hadīth is a proof for them.

1174. (It was reported from ‘Abdul-‘Azīz bin Ṣuḥaib and Thābit) from Anas, who said: “A drought once afflicted the inhabitants of Al-Madīnah during the time of the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ. So when he was delivering the Khutbah on Friday, a person stood up and said: ‘O Messenger of Allāh! Our horses have perished, and our sheep have perished, so pray to Allāh to grant us rain.’ So the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ extended his hands and supplicated. And the sky was as clear as glass! But the winds began to blow, and clouds formed and merged, then the skies poured down rain. So we left (the Masjid) wading through the water until we reached our houses. And it continued raining until the next Friday. So that same man, or perhaps another man, stood up and said: ‘O Messenger of Allāh! The houses have been destroyed, so pray to Allāh that He withholds it (the rain, from us).’ So the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ smiled and said: ‘Hawālainā wa lā ‘alainā [(O Allāh!) Around us and not on us],’ and I saw the clouds splitting up around Al-Madīnah, as if they were a crown.” (Sahih)

Supplicating for rain during the Friday Khutbah is in accord with the Sunnah.

1175. Sharīk bin ‘Abdullāh bin Abī Namir reported that he heard Anas saying — and he mentioned similar to the narration (similar to no. 1174) of ‘Abdul-‘Azīz. He said: “So the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ raised his hands to the level of his face, and said: ‘Allāhummasqinā (O Allāh! Send rain on us...)” and the rest of the narration is the same. (Ṣaḥīh)

It was reported from ‘Amr bin Shu‘aib from his father, from his grandfather, who said: “When the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ supplicated for rain, he said: ‘Allāhumma isqi ‘ibādaka wa bahā‘imaka wanshur rahmataka wa ahyi baladaka-mayyit (O Allāh! Chapter 3. The Eclipse (Al-Kusūf) Prayer

(المعجم ٣) - بَابُ صَلَاةِ الْكُسُوفِ (التحفة ٢٦٢)

1177. It was narrated by Ismā‘il

١١٧٧ - حَدَّثَنَا عُثْمَانُ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ:

[1] That is, he narrated it through two chains of narration, and this is the wording of the chain of Mālik bin Anas.

Ibn ‘Ulayyah, from Ibn Juraij, from ‘Atā’, from ‘Ubaid bin ‘Umair, that he said: “Someone whom I trust to be truthful — (‘Atā’ said) I presumed he meant ‘Āishah — narrated to me: ‘There was a solar eclipse during the time of the Prophet ﷺ, so the Prophet ﷺ stood in prayer for a long time leading the people. Then he would go into Rukū’, then stand, then go into Rukū’, then stand, then go into Rukū’, praying two Rak’ahs. In each Rak’ah, there would be three Rukū’s; after the third one he would prostrate. (He stood for such a long time) that the men were about to faint due to the length that he stood, so much so that buckets of water would be poured over them. He would say “Allāhu Akbar (Allāh is the Most Great)” when going into Rukū’: and when he stood up: “Sami’ Allāhu liman ḥamidah (Allāh has heard those who praise Him).” (He continued praying) until the sun was visible again, then he said: “Verily, the sun and the moon do not eclipse due to the death or life (birth) of anyone, but these two (eclipses) are of the signs of Allāh, the Mighty and Sublime, by which He frightens His servants. So when they are eclipsed, hasten to the Ṣalāt.”” (Ṣaḥīḥ) 1178. It was reported from Yahyā, from 'Abdul-Malik, that 'Aṭā' narrated to him from Jābir bin Abdullāh, who said: "There was a solar eclipse during the time of the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ, and it occurred the day that Ibrāhīm, the son of the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ, died. So the people said that the eclipse was due to the death of his son Ibrāhīm.

A Prayer during the Eclipse should be coupled with a Khuṭbah and supplication, see also number 1191.

Chapter 4. Whoever Said That It Should Be Prayed With Four Rak'ahs

Therefore, the Prophet ﷺ stood in prayer, and led the people in six Rukū's in four prostrations. He said the Takbīr, then he recited (the Qur'ān) and made it a lengthy recitation, then he went into Rukū' for a period of time similar to what he had stood, then he raised his head and recited for a length of time that was less than the first recitation. Then he went into Rukū' for a period of time similar to what he had stood. Then raised his head and recited a third time, slightly less than what he had recited the second time. Then he went into Rukū' for as long as he had stood, then raised his head, and went into prostration, and prostrated twice. Then he stood up, and performed three Rukū's before he prostrated — every Rukū' was for a shorter duration than the one before it, and each Rukū' would be similar to the length that he had stood.

Then he moved backwards during his prayer, so the row behind him

The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ led the Companions in prayer, and stood up for a long time — so much so that they began to fall. This Hadīth mentions five *Rukū’*s (bowings) but it is a weak narration.

1183. Tāwūs reported from Ibn ‘Abbās, from the Prophet ﷺ, that he prayed during a solar eclipse. He recited (the Qur’ān), then went into Rukū’, then recited, then went into Rukū’, then recited, then went into Rukū', then recited, then went into Rukū'. Then he prostrated, and he prayed the second Rak'ah in a similar fashion. (Ṣaḥīḥ)

قَرَأَ ثُمَّ رَكَعَ ثُمَّ قَرَأَ ثُمَّ رَكَعَ ثُمَّ قَرَأَ ثُمَّ رَكَعَ
ثُمَّ سَجَدَ وَالْأُخْرَى مِثْلَهَا .

1184. Tha'labah bin 'Ibād Al-'Abdī, from the city of Al-Baṣrah, narrated that he attended a Friday Khuṭbah of Samurah bin Jundab, in which Samurah said: "Once, a boy from the Anṣār and I were practicing (shooting arrows) at two targets of ours. When the sun had reached two or three spear's length over the horizon in the eyes of a beholder, it returned as if it were a Tannūmah.^[1] One of us said to the other: 'Let us return to the Masjid, for, by Allāh, this (eclipse) of the sun will cause the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ to do something new with the Ummah.' So we returned, and saw him clearly, leading (the people) in prayer. He led us in this prayer longer than he had led us in any other prayer, and we could not hear his voice. Then he went into Rukū' longer than any other Rukū' he had led us in, and we could not hear his voice. Then he went into prostration — longer than any prostration he had led us in before, and we could not hear his voice. He then repeated the same actions in the second Rak'ah. While he was sitting down in the second Rak'ah, the sun appeared again. He then (المعجم ۵) - بَابُ الْقِرَاءَةِ فِي صَلَاةِ

الْكُسُوفِ (التحفة ۲۶۴)

1187. It was reported from 'Urwah, from 'Aishah, that she said: "There was a solar eclipse during the lifetime of the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ, so the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ went out to led the people in prayer. He stood up, and I estimated that he had recited Sūrat Al-Baqarah due to the length of the recitation" (and she said similor) to the rest of the narration (as no. 1185): "Then he prostrated twice. Then he stood up and lengthened his recitation, and I estimated that he had recited Sūrat Al 'Imrān due to the length of the recitation." (Hasan)

Comments:

The length of the recitation, the bowings, and the prayer itself, will depend upon the length of the eclipse.

1188. It was reported from Az-Zuhri, who said: 'Urwah bin Az-Zubair informed me from 'Aishah, that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ recited for a long time, and he recited aloud," meaning during the eclipse prayer. (Sahih)

He stood for a long time, similar to (the length it takes to recite) Sūrat Al-Baqarah, then he bowed...” and he continued with the narration. (Ṣaḥīh)

Chapter 9. Whoever Said That Only Two Rukū‘ Should Be Performed (In Eclipse Prayer)

(المعجم ٩) - بَابُ مَنْ قَالَ: يَرْكَعُ

رَكَعَتَيْنِ (التحفة ٢٦٨)

1193. An-Nu'mān bin Bashīr narrated: “There was a solar eclipse during the Prophet’s ﷺ lifetime, so he started praying two *Rukū‘*s, one after another, and asking about it,^[1] until it finished.” (Da‘īf)

تخریج: [إسناده ضعيف] أخرجه النسائي، الكسوف، باب: ١٦ نوع آخر، ح: ١٤٨٦ وابن ماجه، ح: ١٢٦٢ من حديث أبي قلابة به وقال البيهقي: ٣/٣٣٣: "هذا مرسل، أبو قلابة لم يسمعه من النعمان بن بشير، إنما رواه عن رجل عن النعمان".

[1] They say that the meaning is that he was asking Allāh, similar to what appears in the following narration, or, that he would ask someone to look and see if the eclipse is over after praying, and pray again, or, that he would indicate with his hand that someone should look during the prayer.

1194. ‘Abdullāh bin ‘Amr reported: “There was a solar eclipse during the lifetime of the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ, so the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ stood up (in prayer), and it appeared that he would not go into Rukū’. Then he went into Rukū’, and it appeared that he would not stand up. Then he stood up, and it appeared that he would not prostrate. Then he prostrated, and it appeared that he would not raise up. Then he raised up, and it appeared that he would not prostrate. Then he prostrated, and it appeared that he would not stand up. Then he stood up, and repeated the same acts in the next Rak’ah. He then whispered in the final prostration: ‘Uff, Uff,’ and said: ‘O Lord! Have You not promised me that you would not punish them while I was with them? Have You not promised me that You would not punish them while they are seeking forgiveness?’ So the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ completed the prayer and the sun had appeared...” and he narrated the rest of the Hadīth. Comments:

The different methods of performing the prayer reflect the differences in the duration of the eclipse.

1195. ‘Abdur-Raḥmān bin Samurah narrated: “While I was shooting my arrows during the lifetime of the Messenger of Allāh, there was a solar eclipse. So I tossed my arrows away, and said: ‘I will see

Comments:

The death of a close relative or a virtuous person is a big loss. In the event of such a catastrophe, people should turn to Allāh and remember Him.

(المعجم ١) - بَابُ صَلَاةِ الْمَسَافِرِ
(التحفة ٢٧١)

1198. 'Aishah narrated: "Initially, the prayer had been made obligatory in units of two Rak'ahs only — during residence and travel. So the prayer for the traveler was approved (and remained as two), and the prayer during residence was increased." (Sahih)

1199. Ya'la bin Umayyah said: "I asked 'Umar bin Al-Khattāb: 'Do you see that people are shortening the prayer? This, despite the fact that Allāh, the Mighty and Sublime, said: if you fear that those who disbelieve will put you in trial.^[1] And this (fear) has now gone in our days.' Comments:

1. Shortening (Qaṣr) a prayer during journeys is Sunnah.
2. Authentic Hadīths are explanations of the Qur’ān.

Chapter 2. When Should The Traveler Shorten The Prayer?

1201. It was reported from Shu’bah, from Yahyā bin Yazīd Al-Hunā’ī that he said: “I asked Anas bin Mālik regarding the shortening of the prayer. He replied: ‘When the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ traveled for a distance of three miles’ — or: ‘three Farsakhs’^[1] — Shu’bah was

1202. It was reported from Muḥammad bin Al-Munkadir and Ibrāhīm bin Maisarah, that they heard Anas bin Mālik saying: “I prayed Zuhr with the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ four Rak'ahs while (we were) in Al-Madīnah, and then ‘Asr as two Rak'ahs at Dhūl-Ḥulaifah.” (Sahih)

١٢٠٢ - حَدَّثَنَا زُهَيْرُ بْنُ حَرْبٍ: حَدَّثَنَا ابْنُ عُيَيْنَةَ عَنْ مُحَمَّدِ بْنِ الْمُكَدِّرِ وَإِبْرَاهِيمَ بْنِ مَيْسَرَةَ سَمِعَا أَنَسَ بْنَ مَالِكٍ يَقُولُ: صَلَّيْتُ مَعَ رَسُولِ اللَّهِ ﷺ الظُّهْرَ بِالْمَدِينَةِ أَرْبَعًا، وَالْعَصْرَ بِذِي الْحُلَيْفَةِ رَكَعَتَيْنِ .

Comments:

A prayer shall be shortened only after a person has set out on a journey and is beyond the city limits. Dhul-Hulaifah is about ten kilometers from Al-Madīnah, and is the first stop on the way to Makkah.

Chapter 3. The Adhān During Travel

(المعجم ٣) - بَابُ الْأَذَانِ فِي السَّفَرِ
(التحفة ٢٧٣)

1203. ‘Uqbah bin ‘Āmir narrated that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: “Your Lord, the Mighty and Sublime, is amazed (and pleased) when a shepherd who is tending his sheep (and is standing at) a protruding rock at the top of a mountain calls the Adhān for the prayer, and then prays. Allāh says: ‘Look at this servant of Mine. He calls the Adhān and performs the prayer; he fears Me. So I have forgiven this servant of Mine, and admitted him to Paradise.” (Sahih)

١٢٠٣ - حَدَّثَنَا هَارُونُ بْنُ مَعْرُوفٍ: حَدَّثَنَا ابْنُ وَهْبٍ عَنْ عَمْرِو بْنِ الْحَارِثِ؛ أَنَّ أَبَا عُسَّانَةَ الْمَعَاوِرِيَّ حَدَّثَهُ عَنْ عُقْبَةَ بْنِ عَامِرٍ قَالَ: سَمِعْتُ رَسُولَ اللَّهِ ﷺ يَقُولُ: «يَعْجَبُ رَبُّكَ عَزَّ وَجَلَّ مِنْ رَاعِي غَنَمٍ فِي رَأْسِ شَطِئَةٍ بِجَبَلٍ يُؤَدِّنُ لِلصَّلَاةِ وَيُصَلِّي، فيقولُ الله عَزَّ وَجَلَّ: انظُرُوا إِلَى عَبْدِي هَذَا يُؤَدِّنُ وَيُقيمُ للصَّلَاةِ يَخَافُ مِنِّي قَدْ غَفَرْتُ لِعَبْدِي وَأَدْخَلْتُهُ الْجَنَّةَ» .

Chapter 4. A Traveler Praying While He Is Unsure Of The Time

1204. It was reported from Mishāj bin Mūsā, who said: "I asked Anas bin Mālik: 'Narrate to us something that you heard from the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ.' So he said: 'When we used to be with the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ on a journey, we would say (to ourselves): "Has the sun begun its descent or not?" — and he (the Prophet ﷺ) would pray Zuhr, and continue traveling.'" (Ṣaḥīḥ)

(المعجم ٤) - بَابُ الْمَسَافِرِ يُصَلِّي وَهُوَ
يَشْكُ فِي الْوَقْتِ (التحفة ٢٧٤)

١٢٠٤ - حَدَّثَنَا مُسَدَّدٌ: حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو مُعَاوِيَةَ
عَنِ الْمُسْحَاحِ بْنِ مُوسَى قَالَ: قُلْتُ لِأَنْسِ
ابْنِ مَالِكٍ: حَدَّثَنَا مَا سَمِعْتَ مِنْ رَسُولِ اللَّهِ
ﷺ قَالَ: كُنَّا إِذَا كُنَّا مَعَ رَسُولِ اللَّهِ ﷺ فِي
السَّفَرِ فَقُلْنَا زَالَتِ الشَّمْسُ أَوْ لَمْ تَزَلْ صَلَّى
الظُّهْرَ ثُمَّ ارْتَحَلَ.

Comments: تخريج: [صحيح] أخرجه أحمد: ١١٣/٣ عن أبي معاوية الضرير به .

For a prayer to be valid, some important conditions have to be met. Knowing the correct timing of prayer, that is, when the time of a prayer is due, is one of those conditions.

1205. Shu'bah narrated: "Hamzah Al-‘Āi‘dhī, a man from Banū Dabbah, narrated to me, he said: 'I heard Anas bin Mālik saying: "Whenever the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ camped, he would not leave until he had prayed Zuhr." A man asked Anas: "Even if it was mid-day?" He replied: "Even if it was mid-day." (Ṣaḥīḥ)

١٢٠٥ - حَدَّثَنَا مُسَدَّدٌ: حَدَّثَنَا يَحْيَى،
عَنْ شُعْبَةَ: حَدَّثَنِي حَمَزَةُ الْعَائِذِيُّ - رَجُلٌ
مِنْ بَنِي ضَبَّةَ - قَالَ: سَمِعْتُ أَنَسَ بْنَ مَالِكٍ
يَقُولُ: كَانَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ ﷺ إِذَا نَزَلَ مَتَرًا لَمْ
يَرْتَحِلْ حَتَّى يُصَلِّيَ الظُّهْرَ، فَقَالَ لَهُ رَجُلٌ:
وَإِنْ كَانَ يَنْصَفُ النَّهَارِ؟ قَالَ: وَإِنْ كَانَ
يَنْصَفُ النَّهَارِ.

Comments: [إسناده صحيح] أخرجه النسائي، المواقيت، باب تعجيل الظهر في السفر، ح: ٤٩٩ من حديث يحيى القطان به .

Comments:

It does not mean that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ performed Zuhr exactly at midday (noon), before the sun had crossed the meridian. Rather, it means that he said his prayer immediately after the sun had crossed the meridian and then resumed his journey. It is quite obvious because the Zuhr prayer time begins only after the sun had crossed the meridian.

Chapter 5. Combining Between Two Prayers

1206. It was reported from Mālik, from Abū Az-Zubair Al-Makkī, from Abū Aṭ-Ṭufail ‘Āmir bin Wāthilah, that Mu‘ādh bin Jabal informed them that they went out with the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ for the battle of Tabūk. The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ would combine between Zuhr and ‘Aṣr, and between Maghrib and ‘Ishā’. One day, he delayed the prayer, then came out and prayed Zuhr and ‘Aṣr together, then returned (to his tent), then came out and prayed Maghrib and ‘Ishā’ together. (Sahih)

(المعجم ٥) - بَابُ الْجَمْعِ بَيْنَ الصَّلَاتَيْنِ
(التحفة ٢٧٥)

تخریج: أخرجه مسلم، صلاة المسافرين، باب الجمع بين الصلاتين في الحضر، ح: ٧٠٦ من حديث أبي الزبير به وهو في الموطأ (يحيى): ١/١٤٣، ١٤٤ (والقعنبي، ص: ١٨٣).

Comments:

A traveler may combine his prayers both while camping and moving. Performing Congregational prayers while traveling is also Sunnah.

1207. Nāfi‘ reported that Ibn ‘Umar was informed of the death of Ṣafiyyah while he was in Makkah. He traveled until the sun set and the stars appeared. He said: “When the Prophet ﷺ was in a hurry during his journey, he would combine between these (meaning Maghrib and ‘Ishā’ two prayers, and would continue traveling until the twilight disappeared.” (Sahih)

تخریج: [إسناده صحيح] أخرجه البيهقي: ٣/١٥٩ من حديث حماد بن زيد به ورواه الترمذي، الجمعة، باب ما جاء في الجمع بين الصلاتين، ح: ٥٥٥ من حديث نافع به وقال: "حسن صحيح".

Abū Dāwud said: Hishām bin ‘Urwah reported it from Ḥusain bin ‘Abdullāh, from Kuraib, from Ibn ‘Abbās, from the Prophet ﷺ, similar to the narration of Al-Mufaḍḍal and Al-Laith (no. 1207). (Hasan) وانظر، ح: ١٢٠٦ وهذا طرف منه.

Comments:

1. Combining prayers during journeys is established in the Sunnah.
2. Prayers may be combined in two ways. One way is to perform Zuhr and ‘Asr prayers at Zuhr time, and then Maghrib and ‘Ishā’ prayers at Maghrib time. The other way is to perform Zuhr and ‘Asr prayers at ‘Asr time, then Maghrib and ‘Ishā’ prayers at ‘Ishā’ time.

1209. It was reported from Sulaimān bin Abī Yahyā, from Ibn ‘Umar, that he said: “The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ never combined between Maghrib and قال أبو داود: رواه هشام بن عروة عن حسين بن عبد الله، عن كريب، عن ابن عباس عن النبي ﷺ نحو حديث المفضل والليث.

Abū Dāwud said: This was related from Ayyūb from Nāfi' from Ibn 'Umar as a Mawqūf narration of Ibn 'Umar; that he did not see Ibn 'Umar combining between the two of them ever except that one night, meaning the night he was informed of the death of Ṣafīyyah. It has been related in a narration of Makhūl from Nāfi' that he saw Ibn 'Umar do that once or twice.

1210. It was reported from Mālik from Abū Az-Zubair Al-Makkī, from Sa'eed bin Jubair, from 'Abdullāh bin 'Abbās, that he said: "The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ prayed Zuhr and 'Aṣr combined, and Maghrib and 'Ishā' combined, while he was neither traveling nor in a state of fear." (Ṣahīh)

Mālik said: "I believe this occurred when it rained."

Abū Dāwud said: Ḥammād bin Salamah reported the same, from Abū Az-Zubair. And Qurrah bin Khālid reported it from Abū-Az-Zubair; he said: "(This happened) during our travels to Tabūk."

تخريج: أخرجه مسلم، صلاة المسافرين، باب الجمع بين الصلاتين في الحضر، ح: ٧٠٥ من حديث مالك به وهو في الموطأ (يحيى): ١٤٤/١ (والقنبي، ص: ١٨٥).

1211. Ḥabīb bin Abī Thābit reported Sa'eed bin Jubair, from Ibn 'Abbās, that he said: "The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ once combined between Zuhr and 'Aṣr, and between Maghrib and 'Ishā'

Ibn ‘Abbās was asked: “Why did he do that?” He replied: “He wished not to inconvenience his nation.”

1212. It was reported from Muḥammad bin Fuḍail, from his father, from Nāfi‘, and Abdullāh bin Wāqid, that the Mu’adh-dhin of Ibn ‘Umar said (to Ibn ‘Umar, while they were traveling): “The prayer!” He said: “Proceed, proceed!” He continued until the twilight was about to disappear, then he camped and prayed Maghrib. He then waited until the redness disappeared, and then prayed Ishā’. Then he said: “When the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ was in a hurry, he would do as I just did. And he would travel three days’ (of normal travel) distance on that one day and night.” (Ṣaḥīḥ)

Abū Dāwud said: Ibn Jābir reported it from Nāfi‘ similarly, with his chain.

1230. It was reported from ‘Āṣim, from ‘Ikrimah, from Ibn ‘Abbās that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ stayed seventeen (days) in Makkah, and he shortened the prayers. Ibn ‘Abbās said: “So whoever stays seventeen days should shorten, and whoever stays longer (than that) should pray the complete prayer.” (Sahih) أَقَامَ سَبْعَ عَشْرَةَ قَصَرَ وَمَنْ أَقَامَ أَكْثَرَ أْتَمَّ.

Abū Dāwud said: ‘Abbād bin Manṣūr narrated it from ‘Ikrimah from Ibn ‘Abbās: “He stayed nineteen.”

Abū Dāwud said: ‘Abdah bin Sulaimān reported this Hadīth, as did Aḥmad bin Khālid Al-Wahbī and Salmah bin Al-Faḍl, from Ibn Ishāq, and none of them said in it: “from Ibn ‘Abbās.”

1233. It was reported from Yahyā bin Abī Ishāq, from Anas bin Mālik, who said: “We went on a journey with the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ from Al-Madīnah to Makkah. He (ﷺ) continued to pray two Rak’ahs until we returned to Al-Madīnah.” So we (the sub-narrators) said: “Did you stay there (in Makkah) for some time?” He (Anas bin Mālik) replied: “We stayed for ten (days).” (Ṣaḥīḥ)

1234. ‘Umar bin ‘Alī bin Abī Tālib narrated: “When ‘Alī used to travel, he would travel after sunset until it was almost dark, then he would camp and pray Maghrib. He would then call for his dinner, eat, and then pray Ishā, and continue on the journey. He would say: “This is what the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ used to do.” (Ṣaḥīḥ)

Usāmah bin Zaid reported from Ḥaḥḥ bin 'Ubaidullāh, meaning Ibn Anas bin Mālik, that Anas would combine between them when the twilight disappeared, and he would say: "The Prophet ﷺ would do that." And a narration of Az-Zuhri, from Anas, from the Prophet ﷺ is (also) similar.

قال عثمان عن عبد الله بن محمد بن عمر بن علي. سمعت أبا داود يقول: وروى أسامة بن زيد عن حفص بن عبيد الله يعني ابن أنس بن مالك: أن أنسا كان يجمع بينهما حين يغيب الشفق ويقول: كان النبي ﷺ يصنع ذلك. ورواية الزهري عن أنس عن النبي ﷺ مثله.

Chapter 12. The Prayer Of Fear (Ṣalāt-il-Khawf)

(المعجم ١٢) - بَابُ صَلَاةِ الْخَوْفِ (التحفة ٢٨٢)

Those who held the view that the Imām should lead them while they are in two rows, and that they should all say the Takbīr with him,

مَنْ رَأَى أَنْ يُصَلِّيَ بِهِمْ وَهُمْ صَفَّانِ فَيَكْبِرُ بِهِمْ جَمِيعًا ثُمَّ يَرْكَعُ بِهِمْ جَمِيعًا ثُمَّ يَسْجُدُ الْإِمَامُ وَالصَّفِّ الَّذِي بِلَيْهِ، وَالْآخَرُونَ قِيَامًا then they all follow him in Rukū'. Then the Imām and those in the first row should prostrate, while the second row should remain standing, guarding them. Then, when the Imām and the first row stand up, those in the second row should prostrate; then, the first row should exchange positions with the second row, such that they retreat to where the second row was, and the second row should move forward to the position of the first row. Then, all of them should follow the Imām into Rukū', then the Imām should prostrate along with the first row, while the second row stands guard. Then, when the Imām sits down along with the first row, the second row should prostrate; then they should all sit down together, and say the Taslīm together.

Abū Dāwud said: This is the opinion of Sufyān.

1236. Abū Ayyāsh Az-Zurqī narrated: "We were with the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ at 'Uṣfān, while the leader of the pagans was Khālid bin Al-Walid. We prayed Zuhr, and the pagans said: 'We had been given a time (in which the Muslims were) heedless; we had been given a time (in which they were) inattentive. If only we had attacked them while they were praying.' So the Verse permitting the shortening (of the prayer) was revealed between Zuhr and 'Aṣr. Therefore, when the time for 'Aṣr came, the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ stood facing the Qiblah, while the pagans were facing us. One row stood behind the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ, and another row stood behind the first row. The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ went into Rukū', and all of them also went into Rukū'. Then he went into prostration, and the row that was behind him also went into prostration, while the others stood guard over them. After these ones (the first row) had prostrated twice and stood up, those behind them then prostrated. Then the row that was behind him retreated to the position of the other row, and the rear row moved forward until they were in the position of the first row. Then the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ went into Rukū' and they all went into Rukū' with him. Then he went into prostration, and the row behind him also went into prostration, while the others stood guard over them. When the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ sat down with the row that was behind him, the others then prostrated, then they all sat down together. He then said the Taslim with all of them. He prayed (in this manner) at 'Uṣfān, and he also prayed (in this manner) on the Day of Banū Sulaim." (Ṣaḥīḥ)

Abū Dāwud said: Ayyūb and Hishām reported it from Abū Az-Zubair, from Jābir, with this meaning, from the Prophet ﷺ. And similarly, Dāwud bin Ḥuṣain reported it from 'Ikrimah, from Ibn 'Abbās. And 'Abdul-Malik also reported like that from 'Aṭā' from قال أبو داود: رواه أيوب وهشام عن أبي الزبير، عن جابر هذا المعنى عن النبي ﷺ، وكذلك رواه داود بن حصين عن عكرمة، عن ابن عباس، وكذلك عبد الملك عن عطاء عن جابر، وكذلك قتادة عن الحسن بن حطان عن أبي موسى فعله، وكذلك عكرمة بن خالد عن مجاهد عن النبي ﷺ، وكذلك هشام بن عروة عن أبيه عن النبي ﷺ، وهو قول الثوري.

Jāibr. And also Qatādah from Al-Ḥasan, from Ḥiṭṭān, from Abū Mūsā, that he did it. And similarly, 'Ikrimah bin Khālīd reported it from Mujāhid from the Prophet ﷺ. And like that, Hishām bin 'Urwah from his father, from the Prophet ﷺ. And this is the view of (Sufyān) Ath-Thawrī.

Chapter 13. Whoever Said That One Row Should Stand With The Imām, And Another Row Face The Enemy

Then the Imām should lead those behind him for one Rak'ah, then stand up until those that are with him pray another Rak'ah, then leave and face the enemy while the other group comes (in their place). Then he leads them in prayer for one Rak'ah; then he remains sitting while they complete another Rak'ah by themselves; then he says the Taslim for all of them.

Comments:

Obligatory prayer is a duty which shall not be waived even in times of war.

1237. It was reported from 'Abdur-Raḥmān bin Al-Qāsim, from his father, from Ṣāliḥ bin Khawwāt, from Sahl bin Abī Ḥathmah that the Prophet ﷺ once led his Companions in the Prayer of Fear. He made them stand behind him in two rows, and then led those that were behind him for one Rak'ah. Then he stood up, and remained

It was reported from Mālik, from Yazīd bin Rūmān, from Ṣāliḥ bin Khawwāt who narrated from someone who had prayed the Prayer of Fear with the Messenger of Allāh on the Day of Ar-Riqā', that one group stood with him while the other group faced the enemy. The Imām should stand with a group of his followers, while another group faces the enemy. The Imām should then lead those behind him in the Rukū' and prostration, then stand up. Once he stands up, he should remain standing while they (the first group) complete by themselves the remaining Rak'ah. Then they should say the Taslim and leave while the Imām remains standing, and go to face the enemy. After this, the other group — the one that has not prayed yet — should say the Takbīr behind the Imām, and he (the Imām) should lead them in the Rukū' and prostration, then say the Taslim. They should then stand up and complete the remaining Rak'ah, then say the Taslim. (Ṣaḥīḥ)

And ‘Ubaidullāh reported similar to the narration of Yaḥyā bin Sa‘eed, he said: “He said: ‘And he remains standing.’”.

Chapter 15. Whoever Said That They Say The Takbīr Together

This second group should pray one Rak‘ah by themselves, then the Imām should lead them in one Rak‘ah; then the group that is facing the enemy should return and pray another Rak‘ah by themselves while the Imām is still sitting; then he should say the Taslim for all of them.

1240. Abū Al-Aswad narrated that he heard ‘Urwah bin Az-Zubair narrate that Marwān bin Al-Hakam asked Abū Hurairah: “Did you pray the Prayer of Fear with the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ?” Abū Hurairah replied: “Yes.” Marwān said: “When?” Abū Hurairah said: “The year (of) the battle of Najd. The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ stood up for the ‘Asr prayer, and a group stood with him, while another group was facing the enemy — their backs were towards the

١٢٤٠ - حَدَّثَنَا الْحَسَنُ بْنُ عَلِيٍّ: حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو عَبْدِ الرَّحْمَنِ الْمُقْرِي: حَدَّثَنَا حَيْوَةُ وَابْنُ لَهَيْعَةَ قَالَا: حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو الْأَسْوَدِ أَنَّهُ سَمِعَ عُرْوَةَ ابْنَ الزُّبَيْرِ يُحَدِّثُ عَنْ مَرْوَانَ بْنِ الْحَكَمِ أَنَّهُ سَأَلَ أَبَا هُرَيْرَةَ: هَلْ صَلَّيْتَ مَعَ رَسُولِ اللَّهِ ﷺ صَلَاةَ الْخَوْفِ؟ قَالَ أَبُو هُرَيْرَةَ: نَعَمْ. فَقَالَ مَرْوَانُ: مَتَى؟ قَالَ أَبُو هُرَيْرَةَ: عَامَ عُرْوَةَ نَجْدٍ، قَامَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ ﷺ إِلَى صَلَاةِ الْعَصْرِ فَقَامَتْ مَعَهُ طَائِفَةٌ وَطَائِفَةٌ أُخْرَى

Qiblah. The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said Takbīr, and everyone said Takbīr as well — those that were behind him, and those that were facing the enemy. Then the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ went into the first Rukū', and those that were with him also did so. Then he went into prostration, and those that were with him followed. (During this time) the other group was standing, facing the enemy. Then the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ stood up, and those that were behind him also stood up, and went to face the enemy, while the group that was initially facing the enemy came, and performed one Rukū' and prostration. The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ remained standing as he was (while they did this). Then they stood up, and the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ went into the second Rukū' and they also went into Rukū'. Then he prostrated, and they also prostrated. Then, the group that was facing the enemy came and performed one Rukū' and prostrated while the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ was sitting with those who were with him. It was then time for the Taslīm, so the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said the Taslīm and all those that were with him also said the Taslīm. So the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ prayed two Rak'ahs, and everyone else from the two groups prayed one Rak'ah." (Hasan)

1241. (Another chain) from 'Urwah bin Az-Zubair, from Abū Hurairah, who said: "We once went (on an expedition) with the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ to Najd. When we reached Dhat Ar-Riqā', at Nakhil, we met a group from the tribe of Ghaṭafān..." and he narrated a similar narration in meaning (as in no. 1240), except that in this one, after he said: "...so when he led those that were with him in Rukū' and prostrated..." he added, "...when they stood up, they retreated backwards, until they reached the place of their companions.' And in this version he did not mention the fact that their backs were facing the Qiblah. (Hasan)

1242. 'Āishah also narrated this incident as follows: "The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said the Takbīr, and those that were lined behind him also said it. Then he went into Rukū' and they all went into Rukū'. Then he prostrated, and they all prostrated, then he came up (from the prostration), and they did the same. Then the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ remained sitting while they completed the second prostration by themselves. They then stood up, and retraced their steps, walking backwards, until they stood behind where they had prayed. The second group then came up, and they stood (in line) and said the Takbīr. They then completed the Rukū' by

Chapter 16. Whoever Said That The Imām Should Lead Every Group In One Rak'ah, Then Say The Taslim And Every Group Should Stand Up And Pray One Rak'ah By Themselves

1243. It was reported from Sālim, from Ibn 'Umar that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ led one group in prayer while the other group was facing the enemy. Then (the first group) went away and stood in their (the second group's) place, while they (the second group) prayed one Rak'ah with him. Then he said the Taslim to Abū Dāwud said: Nāfi' and Khālīd bin Ma'dān reported like that from Ibn 'Umar, from the Prophet ﷺ. And similar was said by Masrūq and Yūsuf bin Mihrān from Ibn 'Abbās. And similar was reported by Yūnus, from Al-Ḥasan, from Abū Mūsā, that he would do that.

Comments:

In this mode of praying, the Imām becomes like a guardian of the fighters praying behind him by giving them time enough to complete their prayer.

Chapter 17. Whoever Said That The Imām Should Lead Each Of The Two Groups In One Rak'ah Then Say The Taslīm, Then Those That Are Behind Him Should Stand Up And Complete Another Rak'ah, Then The Other Group Should Take This Group's Place And Pray One Rak'ah.

1244. It was reported from Ibn Fuḍail that Khuṣaif narrated to them from Abū 'Ubaidah, from 'Abdullāh bin Mas'ūd, who said: “The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ once led us in the Prayer of Fear. One group stood in a row behind the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ, and another group stood facing the enemy. The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ led them (the row behind him) in one Rak'ah, then the other group came and stood in their place, while the first group went to face the enemy. Then the Prophet ﷺ

Chapter 18. Those Who Said That The Imām Should Lead Each Group For One Rak'ah And Then They Should Not Complete (The Second Rak'ah)

1246. Tha'labah bin Zahdam said: "We were with Sa'eed bin Al-'Āṣ in Ṭabaristān. He stood up and said: 'Who among you has prayed the Prayer of Fear with the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ?' Hudhaifah said: 'I have.' So he led this group in one Rak'ah, and that group in one Rak'ah, and they did not complete (the second Rak'ah)." (Ṣaḥīḥ)

Abū Dāwud said: Similar to this was reported by 'Ubaidullāh bin 'Abdullāh and Mujāhid, from Ibn 'Abbās, from the Prophet ﷺ. And also, 'Abdullāh bin Shaqīq from Abū Hurairah, from the Prophet ﷺ. And, also Yazīd Al-Faqīr and Abū Mūsā — Abū Dāwud said: He was a man among the Tābī'in, not (Abū Mūsā) Al-Ash'arī — both of them reporting from Jābir from the Prophet ﷺ. Some of them reported Shu'bah's narration from Yazīd bin Al-Faqīr that he said: "They completed the other Rak'ah." Similar to that was reported by Simāk Al-Hanafī from Ibn 'Umar, from the Prophet ﷺ. And similarly, Zaid bin Thābit reported from the Prophet ﷺ, he said: "So that was one Rak'ah for the people and two Rak'ahs for the Prophet, upon him be peace."

قال أبو داود: وكذا رواه عبيد الله بن عبد الله ومجاهد عن ابن عباس عن النبي ﷺ، وعبد الله بن شقيق عن أبي هريرة عن النبي ﷺ، ويزيد الفقيه وأبو موسى. - قال أبو داود: رجُلٌ مِنَ التَّابِعِينَ لَيْسَ بِالأَشْعَرِيِّ - جميعاً عن جابر عن النبي ﷺ. وقد قال بعضهم عن شعبة في حديث يزيد الفقيه: أَنَّهُمْ قَضَوْا رَكْعَةً أُخْرَى. وكذلك رواه سماك الحنفي عن ابن عمر عن النبي ﷺ. وكذلك رواه زيد بن ثابت عن النبي ﷺ قال: فَكَانَتْ لِلْقَوْمِ رَكْعَةً وَلِلنَّبِيِّ عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ رَكْعَتَيْنِ.

1247. It was reported from Bukair bin Al-Akhnas, from Mujāhid, from Ibn 'Abbās, who said: "Allāh, the Exalted, has made obligatory (upon you) upon the tongue of your Prophet ﷺ four Rak'ahs in residence (while not travelling), and two during travel, and one during fear." (Ṣaḥīḥ)

Chapter 19. Those Who Said That Each Group Should Pray Two Rak'ahs With The Imām

1248. Al-Hasan narrated from Abū Bakrah that he said: "The Prophet ﷺ once prayed the Prayer of Fear for Zuhr. Some of them (the Companions) lined up behind him, while others faced the enemy. He led them for two Rak'ahs then said the Taslim. Those who had prayed with him went and stood in the place of the other group, while they (the other group) came and prayed behind him. He led them for two Rak'ahs, then said the Taslim. So the Prophet ﷺ prayed four (Rak'ahs) while his Companions prayed two." And this was the procedure (of Prayer of Fear) that Al-Hasan used to hold. (Da'īf)

Abū Dāwud said: And the same applies for Maghrib — the Imām will pray six Rak'ahs while the people pray three Rak'ahs.

Abū Dāwud said: Yahyā bin Abī Kathīr reported that from Abū Salamah, from Jābir, from the

Comments:

The foregoing Hadīths describe different ways of performing the prayer during a state of fear. This will depend on the circumstances and the level of fear at that time, the Imām has a range of options. He may choose any in the light of prevailing circumstances.

Chapter 20. The Prayer Of One Who Is Seeking (The Enemy)

(المعجم ٢٠) - بَابُ صَلَاةِ الطَّالِبِ

(التحفة ٢٩٠)

1249. It was reported from Ibn ‘Abdullāh bin Unais, from his father who said: “The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ sent me to Khalid bin Sufyān Al-Hudhalī, and he was in the direction of ‘Uranah and ‘Arafāt. He (the Prophet ﷺ) had said: ‘Go and kill him.’ When I saw him, it was time for ‘Asr, so I said (to myself): ‘I fear that there will be (some problem) between me and him that will cause me to delay the prayer.’ So I continued to walk and prayed while walking — I would motion (for the prayer) in his direction. When I came close to him, he said to me: ‘Who are you?’ I said: ‘I am a man from the ‘Arabs. I have heard that you are gathering (an army to fight) against this man (the Prophet ﷺ), so I have come to you regarding this.’ He said: ‘I am indeed doing this.’ So I walked with him for some time, until, when I was able to, I struck him with my sword until he died.” (Hasan)

Comments:

1. If, during a war, the situation becomes very critical and there is no way to perform group prayer in any of the afore-mentioned modes, Muslim warriors may say their prayers by sign and gesture.
2. One may dodge an enemy in times of war through dissimulation. It is not a form of lying.

5. The Book Of The Voluntary Prayers

(المعجم ٥) - [كِتَابُ التَّطَوُّعِ]

Chapter 1. (Chapters Regarding The Voluntary And Sunnah Prayers)

(المعجم ١) - بَابُ تَفْرِيعِ أَبْوَابِ التَّطَوُّعِ
وَرَكَعَاتِ السُّنَّةِ (التحفة ٢٩١)

1250. Umm Ḥabībah narrated that the Prophet ﷺ said: “Whoever prays twelve voluntary prayers in a day will have a house built for him because of it in Paradise.” (Ṣaḥīḥ)

١٢٥٠ - حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ عَيْسَى: حَدَّثَنَا ابْنُ عُليَّةَ: حَدَّثَنَا دَاوُدُ بْنُ أَبِي هِنْدٍ: حَدَّثَنِي النُّعْمَانُ بْنُ سَالِمٍ عَنْ عَمْرٍو بْنِ أَوْسٍ، عَنْ عَنَسَةَ بْنِ أَبِي سُفْيَانَ، عَنْ أُمِّ حَبِيبَةَ قَالَتْ: قَالَ النَّبِيُّ ﷺ: «مَنْ صَلَّى فِي يَوْمٍ ثِنْتَيْ عَشْرَةَ رُكْعَةً تَطَوُّعًا بُنِيَ لَهُ بِهِنَّ بَيْتٌ فِي الْجَنَّةِ».

Comments:

These glad tidings relate to Sunnah prayers said before and after obligatory prayers. These are called Rātibah (fixed) or Mu'akkadah (stressed). The Ḥadīth shows the importance of maintaining these Sunnah prayers. Other Ḥadīths list four Rak'ahs before Zuhr prayer and two Rak'ahs after it, two Rak'ahs after Maghrib prayer, two Rak'ahs after Ishā' prayer, and two Rak'ahs before the Fajr prayer.

1251. ‘Abdullāh bin Shaqīq said: “I asked ‘Āishah regarding the voluntary prayers of the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ. She replied: ‘He would pray four (Rak'ahs) in my house before Zuhr, then go out (to the Masjid) and lead the people in prayer. Then he would return to my house and pray two Rak'ahs. And he would lead the people for Maghrib, then return to my house and pray two Rak'ahs. And he would lead them for 'Ishā'', then return to my house and pray two Rak'ahs. And he would pray nine Rak'ahs at night, including the Witr. And he would pray for a long time at night, standing (in prayer), and (sometimes) he would pray for a long time at night while sitting. So when he recited (the Qur'an) while he was standing, he went into Rukū' and prostration from a standing position. And when he recited (the Qur'an) while he was sitting, he would go into Rukū' and prostration from a sitting position. Comments:

It is better if one performs these Sunnah prayers in one's house. It encourages one's family, especially the children, to maintain these prayers.

1252. It was reported from Nāfi' from 'Abdullāh bin 'Umar, that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ would pray two Rak'ahs before Zuhr, and two Rak'ahs after it, and two Rak'ahs after Maghrib in his house, and two Rak'ahs after 'Ishā''. And he would not pray after the Friday prayer until he left (for his home), then he would pray two Rak'ahs. (Ṣaḥīḥ)

1254. It was reported from ‘Ubaidullāh bin ‘Umair, from ‘Āishah who said: “The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ would not be more regular with (performing) anything among the voluntary (prayers) than the two Rak’ahs before Ṣubḥ (Fajr prayer).” (Ṣaḥīḥ)

Chapter 3. Making Them Brief

(المعجم ٣) بَابُ فِي تَخْفِيفِهِمَا

(التحفة ٢٩٣)

1255. It was reported from ‘Amrah, from ‘Āishah, who said: “The Prophet ﷺ would make the two Rak’ahs before the Fajr prayer so brief, that I would ask (myself): ‘Did he recite Umm Al-Qur’ān (Sūrat Al-Fatiḥah) in them?’” (Ṣaḥīḥ)

But ‘Aishah asked Bilāl concerning a matter, which kept him busy until the morning became clear, and (the sky) was bright. So Bilāl stood up and called the Adhān for the prayer, and then went back to inform him. But the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ did not come out (immediately). When he came out, he led the people in prayer. Comments:

To lie down on one's right side after performing the Sunnah Rak'ahs of Fajr is a Sunnah of the Prophet ﷺ, whether one has performed late-night voluntary prayer or not.

1262. It was reported from Sālim Abū An-Nadr, from Abū Salamah bin 'Abdur-Raḥmān, from 'Āishah, who said: "When the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ would finish his night prayer, he would see if I were awake — in which case he would talk to me — or if I were asleep, in which case he would wake me up. And he would pray two Rak'ahs, then lie down until the Mu'adh-dhin would come informing him of the (time) for the Subh prayer. Then he would pray two light Rak'ahs, then leave (for the Masjid) for the prayer." (Sahih)

Comments:

According to this Hadith, it is permissible to perform a two Rak'ah voluntary prayer after Witr prayer.

1263. It was reported from Ziyād bin Sa'd from someone that narrated to him — either Abū 'Attāb, or other than him — from Abū Salamah, who said: “ ‘Āishah said: ‘After the Prophet ﷺ would pray the two Rak'ahs (before) Fajr, he would lie down if I were asleep, or else he would talk to me if I were awake.” (Ṣaḥīḥ)

1264. Muslim bin Abī Bakrah narrated from his father: “I went with the Prophet ﷺ to the Ṣubḥ prayer. He would not pass by any person except that he would call him to the prayer, or he would move him with his foot.” (Da'īf)

Comments:

While a group prayer is being performed, one may not perform any non-obligatory prayer, even if one is sure one can, after finishing one's prayer, join the group during the first Rak'ah.

Comments:

These Sunnah prayers are recommended, but they are not categorized as Rātibah or Mu'akkadah. As for the two narrations, one saying that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said two Rak'ahs before the 'Aṣr obligatory prayer, and the other that he said four Rak'ahs, they are not contradictory to each other but reconcilable. The meaning is that he said two Rak'ahs sometimes and four at other times.

(المعجم ٩) - بَابُ الصَّلَاةِ بَعْدَ الْعَصْرِ (التحفة ٢٩٩)

They said to him: "Convey our Salām to her, and ask her regarding the two Rak'ahs after 'Aṣr. Tell her: 'We have been informed that you pray them, even though we have been told that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ forbade them.'" Kuraib said: "So I went to her, and told her what I had been sent to tell her. She said: 'Ask Umm Salamah.' So I returned to them, and informed them of what she had told me. They then sent me to Umm Salamah, with the same message that they

As for when he prayed them: He had prayed ‘Āṣr, then visited my house, but I had some women (visiting me) from the tribe of Banū Ḥarām, of the Anṣār. So he prayed these two (Rak’ahs). I sent a young girl to him, and said to her, “Stand next to him, and say: ‘Umm Salamah is saying: ‘O Messenger of Allāh! I heard that you prohibited (us from praying) these two Rak’ahs, but I see that you are praying them!’” So if he motions to you, then stand some distance away from him.” So the young girl did as she was told, and he motioned with his hand, so she went some distance away from him. When he had finished, he said: “O daughter of Abū Umayyah! You have asked me regarding the two Rak’ahs after ‘Āṣr. Verily, some people from the tribe of ‘Abdul-Qais came to me having accepted Islām, so they prevented me from (praying) the two Rak’ahs after Zuhr. So these two are those two!” (Sahīh)

“So prayer in general is allowed, whether it is obligatory which is being made up, or Sunnah, or voluntary, or Janāzah.” This was said by Al-‘Azīmābādī in ‘Awn Al-Ma‘būd. What is popular, based on Hadīths like those that follow, is a general prohibition of prayer after 'Aṣr, while this narration explains that it is allowed provided that the sun is not low, and this is in accord with what is narrated in number 1279.

1275. It was reported from ‘Āṣim bin Ḍamrah, from ‘Alī, that he said: “The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ would pray after every obligatory prayer two Rak‘ahs, except for Fajr and 'Aṣr.” (Ḍa‘īf)

1276. It was reported from Ibn ‘Abbās, that he said: “A number of people whom I trust testified in front of me — including ‘Umar bin Al-Khaṭṭāb, and he is the one who I am most pleased with — that the Prophet of Allāh ﷺ said: ‘There should be no prayer after the Ṣubḥ prayer until the sun rises, and there should be no prayer after the 'Aṣr prayer until the sun sets.’” (Ṣaḥīḥ)

1277. It was reported from ‘Amr bin ‘Abasah As-Sulamī, that he said: “I said: ‘O Messenger of Allāh! Which part of the night is the one in which (my supplication is) most likely to be heard (and responded to)?’ He replied: ‘The last part of the night — so pray as much as you wish, for prayer (at this time) is witnessed, and written, until you pray the morning prayer. Then stop (praying) until the sun appears and rises to the level of a spear, or two spears, for it rises between the two horns of Shaitān, and the disbelievers pray to it. Then pray as much as you want, for the prayer (at this time) is witnessed, and written, until the spear is as long as its shadow. Then stop (praying), for at this time Hell is blazed, and its doors are opened. Once the sun starts its descent, pray as much as you wish, for prayer (at this time) is witnessed until you pray ‘Asr. Then stop (praying) until the sun sets, for it sets between the horns of Shaitān, and the disbelievers pray to it...” and he continued to narrate a lengthy Hadīth. (Ṣaḥīḥ)

Al-‘Abbās (one of the narrators said) said: “This is how Abū Sallām narrated it to me from Abū Umāmah, except that I have made a mistake in something of it without intending to, so I seek pardon from Allāh and repent to him.”

This Hadith lists three timings forbidden for prayers: after the Fajr prayer until the sun has risen, at mid-day (noon), and after ‘Asr prayer. There are also other Hadiths forbidding praying at sunrise and at sunset.

He said: ‘O Yasār, the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ once came to us while we were praying this prayer, and he said: “Let those who are present inform those who are absent: Do not pray after Fajr except two prostrations.” (Da‘if)

Prophet ﷺ said: "Every morning, each joint of the son of Ādam is obligated to give charity. And his giving Salām to whom he meets is a charity, and his commanding (others) to do good is a charity, and his prohibiting from evil is a charity, and removing harm from the way is a charity, and his (intercourse) with his wife is a charity. And the two Rak'ahs of Duḥā will suffice all of these (acts)." (Ṣaḥīḥ)

Abū Dāwud said: The narration of 'Abbād^[1] is more complete, and Musaddad did not mention the commanding and the forbidding, and he added in his narration: "And he said: 'Like this and like this'." And Ibn Manī' added in his narration: "They said: 'O Messenger of Allāh! One of us satisfies his (sexual) desires, and it will count as an act of charity for him?' So he (ﷺ) replied: 'Do you not see that, had he placed it where it was not permitted for him to do so, it would be a sin for him?'"

Comments:

Voluntary prayers at any time, day or night, should be split up into two Rak'ahs apiece. It is better and commendable although four Rak'ahs with one salutation may also be said.

two, two — that you say the Tashahhud in every second Rak'ah. And that you show your need, and are tranquil, and raising you hands in supplication, and say: 'O Allāh! O Allāh!' So whoever does not do so, it will be deficient." (Da'if)

Chapter 14. Ṣalāt At-Tasbīh

(المعجم ١٤) - بَابُ صَلَاةِ التَّسْبِيحِ

(التحفة ٣٠٤)

1297. Ibn 'Abbās narrated that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said to Al-'Abbās bin 'Abdul-Muṭṭalib: "O 'Abbās, O my uncle! Should I not give something to you? Should I not give you a present? Should I not give a gift to you? Should I not (instruct) you to ten things — if you were to do them, Allāh will forgive your sins; the first of them and the last of them, the old of them and the new of them, the unintentional of them and the intentional of them, the small of them and the large of them, the hidden of them and the public of them. Ten things, (which are:) that you pray four Rak'ahs, in each Rak'ah you recite Fātiḥat Al-Kitāb (Sūrat Al-Fāthah) and a Sūrah.

Then, when you have completed the recitation in the first Rak'ah, and you are still standing, say: 'Subhān Allāh, wal-ḥamdulillāh, wa lā ilāha illallāh, wa Allāhu Akbar (Glorious is Allāh, and all praise is due to Allāh, and none has the right to be worshipped but Allāh, and Allāh is the Most Great)' fifteen times.

Then go into Rukū', and say it while you are in Rukū' ten times. Then raise your head from the Rukū' and say it ten times. Then go into prostration and say it while you are in prostration ten times. Then raise your head from the prostration and say it ten times. Then prostrate and say it ten times. Then raise your head and say it ten times. This comes out to seventy-five times in every Rak'ah, and you do this for four Rak'ahs.

If you are able to pray this once every day, do so. And if you do not do so, then once every week. And if you do not do so, then once every month. And if you do not do so, then once every year. And if you do not do so, then once in your lifetime." (Hasan)

He said: 'When the day begins to wane (afternoon occurs), stand up and pray four Rak'ahs...' and he narrated a similar narration as the previous one (no. 1297), except that he said: "Then raise your head — meaning from the second prostration — and sit down, and do not stand up until you exclaim Allāh's glory (say Subhān Allāh) ten times, and praise Him (say Al-hamdulillāh) ten times, and extol His greatness (say Allāhu akbar) ten times, and say the Tahlīl (say Lā ilāha illallāh) ten times. Then repeat this for all four Rak'ahs."

And he ﷺ also said: "So if you were to be the most sinful of all of the inhabitants of earth, you would be forgiven because of this." The Companion asked: "What if I cannot pray it at this time?" He (ﷺ) replied: "Pray it at night, or during the day." (Da'īf)

Abū Dāwud said: Al-Mustamirr bin Ar-Rayyān reported it from Abū Al-Jawzā', from 'Abdullāh bin 'Amr in Mawqūf form (as a statement from him and not the Prophet ﷺ). Rawḥ bin Al-Musayyab and Ja'far bin Sulaimān reported it from 'Amr bin Mālik An-Nukrī, from Abū Al-Jawzā' from Ibn 'Abbās as his statement.

يُرُونَ أَنَّهُ عَبْدُ اللَّهِ بْنُ عَمْرٍو قَالَ: قَالَ لِي النَّبِيُّ ﷺ: «إِثْنَيْ عَدَا أَحْبُوكَ وَأُثْبِتِكَ وَأُعْطِيكَ» حَتَّى ظَنَنْتُ أَنَّهُ يُعْطِينِي عَطِيَّةً. قَالَ: «إِذَا زَالَ النَّهَارُ فَقُمْ فَصَلِّ أَرْبَعَ رَكَعَاتٍ» فَذَكَرَ نَحْوَهُ. قَالَ: «ثُمَّ تَرَفَّعْ رَأْسَكَ - يَعْنِي مِنَ السَّجْدَةِ الثَّانِيَةِ - فَاسْتَوِ جَالِسًا وَلَا تَقُمْ حَتَّى تُسَبِّحَ عَشْرًا، وَتُحَمِّدَ عَشْرًا، وَتُكَبِّرَ عَشْرًا، وَتَهْلَلَ عَشْرًا، ثُمَّ تَضَعُ ذَلِكَ فِي الْأَرْبَعِ رَكَعَاتٍ». قَالَ: «فَإِنَّكَ لَوْ كُنْتَ أَعْظَمَ أَهْلِ الْأَرْضِ ذَنْبًا غُفِرَ لَكَ بِذَلِكَ». قَالَ: قُلْتُ: فَإِنْ لَمْ أَشْتَطِعْ أَنْ أُصَلِّيَهَا يَلَكُ السَّاعَةَ قَالَ: «صَلِّهَا مِنَ اللَّيْلِ وَالنَّهَارِ».

Chapter 15. Where Should The Two Rak'ahs Of Maghrib Be Prayed ?

1300. It was reported from Sa'd bin Ishāq bin Ka'b bin 'Ujrah, from his father, from his grandfather, that the Prophet ﷺ came to the Masjid of the tribe of 'Abdul-Ashhal and prayed Maghrib in it. When they had finished their prayer, he saw them praying voluntary prayers after it, so he said: "This is the prayer of the houses." (Hasan)

It is recommended for one to perform the Sunnah prayers in one's house.

Comments:

This is a reflection of Allāh's order: 'Help one another to righteousness and piety' (Al-Mā'idah 5:2). We learn from this Hadīth, that exhorting and urging kinsmen and friends to do deeds of virtue and charity is something commendable.

1309. It was reported that Abū Sa'eed and Abū Hurairah both said that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: "If a man wakes his wife up at night, and they both prayed, or they prayed two Rak'ahs together, they will be written among those men and women who remember Allāh."

Ibn Kathīr^[1] did not narrate it in Marfū' form nor did he mention Abū Hurairah, making it a statement of Abū Sa'eed. (Da'if)

Abū Dāwud said: Ibn Mahdī reported it from Sufyān, he said: "I think he mentioned Abū Hurairah."

Abū Dāwud said: The narration of Sufyān is Mawqūf.^[2]

قال أبو داود: رواه ابن مهدي عن سفيان قال: وأراه ذكر أبا هريرة.

قال أبو داود: وحديث سفيان موقوف.

[1] That is Muḥammad bin Kathīr, one of the two that the author narrated it from, and this Ibn Kathīr narrated it from Sufyān.

[2] The second narration, which the author heard from Muḥammad bin Hātim is the version that is Marfū', meaning, attributed to the Prophet ﷺ. The discussion before this is to indicate that those who narrated it from Sufyān, did not include that it was a statement of the Prophet ﷺ.

Chapter (...) Feeling Sleepy During The Prayer

(المعجم . . .) - بَابُ النَّعَاسِ فِي الصَّلَاةِ

(التحفة ٣٠٩)

1310. ‘Aishah, the wife of the Prophet ﷺ, narrated that the Prophet ﷺ said: “If one of you yawns during the prayer, let him lie down until his sleep leaves him. For one of you might pray while he is sleepy, and intend to seek forgiveness but instead curse himself!” (Sahih)

١٣١٠ - حَدَّثَنَا الْمُعَنَّبِيُّ عَنْ مَالِكٍ، عَنْ هِشَامِ بْنِ عُرْوَةَ، عَنْ أَبِيهِ، عَنْ عَائِشَةَ زَوْجِ النَّبِيِّ ﷺ أَنَّ النَّبِيَّ ﷺ قَالَ: «إِذَا نَعَسَ أَحَدُكُمْ فِي الصَّلَاةِ فَلْيَرُقْهُ حَتَّى يَذْهَبَ عَنْهُ النَّوْمُ فَإِنَّ أَحَدَكُمْ إِذَا صَلَّى وَهُوَ نَاعِسٌ لَعَلَّهُ يَذْهَبُ يَسْتَغْفِرُ فَيَسِبُ نَفْسَهُ».

Comments:

1. Humbleness, submissiveness, and presence of mind — these are pre-requisites of prayer.
2. A person who feels sleepy should first lie down to sleep, and then get up and pray a voluntary prayer. One should not perform a voluntary pray while dozing.

1311. Abū Hurairah narrated that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: “If one of you stands up to pray at night, and finds the Qur’ān difficult (to recite), such that he does not know what he is saying, then let him lie down (and stop praying).” (Sahih)

١٣١١ - حَدَّثَنَا أَحْمَدُ بْنُ حَنْبَلٍ: حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ الرَّزَّاقِ: أَخْبَرَنَا مَعْمَرٌ عَنْ هَمَّامِ بْنِ مُنَبِّهِ، عَنْ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ قَالَ: قَالَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ ﷺ: «إِذَا قَامَ أَحَدُكُمْ مِنَ اللَّيْلِ فَاسْتَعَجَمَ الْقُرْآنَ عَلَى لِسَانِهِ فَلَمْ يَدْرِ مَا يَقُولُ فَلْيَضْطَجِعْ».

1312. Anas narrated that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ once entered the Masjid and saw a rope tied between two pillars. He said: “What is this rope?” He was told: “O Messenger of Allāh! This is for Hamnah bint Jahsh; when she prays and becomes tired, she holds on to it (for support).” So the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: “Let her pray as much as she can, and when she gets tired, let her sit down.”

١٣١٢ - حَدَّثَنَا زَيَْادُ بْنُ أَيُّوبَ وَهَارُونُ ابْنُ عَبَّادٍ الْأَرْدِيُّ: أَنَّ إِسْمَاعِيلَ بْنَ إِبْرَاهِيمَ حَدَّثَهُمْ قَالَ: حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ الْعَزِيزِ عَنْ أَنَسٍ قَالَ: دَخَلَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ ﷺ الْمَسْجِدَ وَحَبْلٌ مَمْدُودٌ بَيْنَ سَارِيَتَيْنِ فَقَالَ: «مَا هَذَا الْحَبْلُ؟»

Ziyād (one of the narrators) said (in his version): “He ﷺ asked: ‘What is this?’ They replied: ‘This is for Zainab; when she prays and gets tired or feels lethargic, she holds on to it.’ So he replied: ‘Untie it; let one of you pray according to his enthusiasm. If he gets tired or feels lethargic, let him sit.’” (Ṣaḥīḥ)

Comments:

1. Women may also perform voluntary prayers in the Masjid provided that they observe proper Hijāb.
2. Devotional worship with moderation is best.

Chapter 19. Whoever Slept Through His Portion (Routine Of The Night Prayer)^[1]

1313. ‘Umar bin Al-Khattāb said that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: “Whoever slept through his portion, of recitation during the voluntary night prayer or a part of it, and prayed it between the Fajr and Zuhr prayer, it will be written for him as if he had prayed it at night.” (Ṣaḥīḥ)

فَقِيلَ: يَا رَسُولَ اللَّهِ! هَذِهِ حَمَمَةٌ ابْنَةُ جَحْشٍ تُصَلِّي فَيَاذَا أَعْيَتْ تَعَلَّقَتْ بِهِ فَقَالَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ ﷺ لِنُصَلِّي مَا أَطَاقَتْ فَيَاذَا أَعْيَتْ فَلْتَجْلِسْ» قَالَ زِيَادٌ: فَقَالَ مَا هَذَا؟ قَالُوا لَزَيْنَبَ تُصَلِّي، فَيَاذَا كَسِلَتْ أَوْ فَتَرَتْ أَمْسَكَتْ بِهِ، فَقَالَ: «حُلُوهُ». فَقَالَ: «لِيُصَلَّ أَحَدُكُمْ نَشَاطَهُ فَيَاذَا كَسِلَ أَوْ فَتَرَ فَلْيَقْعُدْ».

Chapter 20. Whoever Intended To Pray But Slept

(المعجم ٢٠) - بَابُ مَنْ نَوَى الْقِيَامَ فَنَامَ
(التحفة ٣١١)

1314. It was reported from Sa'eed bin Jubair, from a man that he was pleased with, that 'Aishah, the wife of the Prophet ﷺ, informed him that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: "No man has a (habit of regular) prayer at night, and sleep gets the better of him, except that the reward of the prayer will be written for him, and his sleep will be charity for him." (Sahih)

١٣١٤ - حَدَّثَنَا الْقَعْنَبِيُّ عَنْ مَالِكٍ، عَنْ مُحَمَّدِ بْنِ الْمُكَدِّرِ، عَنْ سَعِيدِ بْنِ جُبَيْرٍ، عَنْ رَجُلٍ عِنْدَهُ رَضِي أَنْ عَائِشَةَ زَوْجِ النَّبِيِّ ﷺ أَخْبَرَتْهُ أَنَّ رَسُولَ اللَّهِ ﷺ قَالَ: «مَا مِنْ امْرِئٍ تَكُونُ لَهُ صَلَاةٌ لَيْلٍ يَغْلِبُهُ عَلَيْهَا نَوْمٌ إِلَّا كُتِبَ لَهُ أَجْرُ صَلَاتِهِ وَكَانَ نَوْمُهُ عَلَيْهِ صَدَقَةً».

Comments:

This Hadith is yet another proof of Allāh's profuse bounty and abundant grace for His righteous and pious slaves.

Chapter 21. What Part Of The Night Is Best (For Prayer)?

(المعجم ٢١) بَابُ: أَيُّ اللَّيْلِ أَفْضَلُ
(التحفة ٣١٢)

1315. Abū Hurairah reported that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: "Every night, when only a third of the night remains, Our Lord, Exalted and Blessed is He, descends to the skies of the earth (the lower skies). He says: 'Who is there that is calling to Me, that I

ثَلُثُ اللَّيْلِ الْآخِرُ فَيَقُولُ: مَنْ يَدْعُونِي فَأَسْتَجِيبَ لَهُ، مَنْ يَسْأَلُنِي فَأُعْطِيَهُ، مَنْ يَسْتَغْفِرُنِي فَأَغْفِرَ لَهُ.

Comments:

1. The latter part of night is best for voluntary prayer and supplication.
2. The people of knowledge of Ahl As-Sunnah wal-Jamā'ah say that Hadīths describing Allāh are narrated as they are, and believed in, without saying how or like, and without denying them or giving interpretations that strip their meanings.

Chapter 22. The Time That The Prophet ﷺ Would Pray At Night

(المعجم ٢٢) - بَابُ وَقْتِ قِيَامِ النَّبِيِّ ﷺ
مِنَ اللَّيْلِ (التحفة ٣١٣)

1316. It was reported from Hishām bin ‘Urwah, from his father, from ‘Āishah, that she said: “Allāh, the Mighty and Sublime, would awake the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ at night, such that Sahar (pre-dawn) would not come except that he had completed his portion.”^[1] (Da’if) ١٣١٦ - حَدَّثَنَا حُسَيْنُ بْنُ يَزِيدَ الْكُوفِيُّ: حَدَّثَنَا حَفْصٌ عَنْ هِشَامِ بْنِ عُرْوَةَ، عَنْ أَبِيهِ، عَنْ عَائِشَةَ قَالَتْ: إِنْ كَانَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ ﷺ لَيُوقِظُهُ اللَّهُ عَزَّوَجَلَّ بِاللَّيْلِ فَمَا يَجِيءُ السَّحَرُ حَتَّى يُفْرَغَ مِنْ حِزْبِهِ.

تخریج: [إسناده ضعيف] أخرجه البيهقي: ٣/٣ من حديث أبي داود به * حفص بن غياث مدلس وعنعن.

Comments:

Whatever good act one is able to perform, it is by Allāh’s will, grace and bounty. Success to do good works is granted by Allāh alone. Hence, one should always supplicate to Allāh and implore Him to grant success.

1317. It was reported from Masrūq that he said: “I asked ‘Āishah about the (night) prayer of the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ, and said: ‘At what time would he pray?’ She said: ‘When he would hear the rooster, he would stand up and pray.’” (Sahih)

١٣١٧ - حَدَّثَنَا إِبْرَاهِيمُ بْنُ مُوسَى: حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو الْأَحْوَصِ؛ ح: وَحَدَّثَنَا هَنَادٌ عَنْ أَبِي الْأَحْوَصِ، وَهَذَا حَدِيثُ إِبْرَاهِيمَ عَنْ أَشْعَثَ، عَنْ أَبِيهِ، عَنْ مَسْرُوقٍ قَالَ: سَأَلْتُ عَائِشَةَ عَنْ صَلَاةِ رَسُولِ اللَّهِ ﷺ، فَقُلْتُ لَهَا

Comments:

These narrations demonstrate that he often would perform the voluntary prayer late at night, close to dawn.

1318. It was reported from Abū Salamah, from ‘Āishah that she said: “When he was with me, dawn would always find him — meaning the Prophet ﷺ — sleeping.” (Ṣaḥīḥ)

١٣١٨ - حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو تَوْبَةَ عَنْ إِبْرَاهِيمَ بْنِ سَعْدٍ، عَنْ أَبِيهِ، عَنْ أَبِي سَلَمَةَ، عَنْ عَائِشَةَ قَالَتْ: مَا أَلْفَاهُ السَّحْرُ عِنْدِي إِلَّا نَائِمًا تَعْنِي النَّبِيَّ ﷺ.

Comments:

It appears that the author intends to apply this narration to late night voluntary prayer. While the prayer mentioned in this narration is not restricted to a particular time.

Comments:

This verse exhorts Believers to perform late-night voluntary prayer (Qiyām-ul-Lail) as well as provides extended time to do that. That is, voluntary prayer performed between Maghrib and 'Ishā'', as the Companions did, is as good as late-night prayer.

Chapter 23. Starting The Night Prayer With Two Rak'ahs

1323. Sulaimān bin Ḥayyān reported from Hishām bin Ḥassān, from Ibn Sīrīn, from Abū Hurairah, that he said: “The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: ‘If one of you stands up (to pray) at night, let him pray two brief Rak'ahs.’” (Ṣaḥīḥ)

Abū Dāwūd said: This Ḥadīth was reported by Ḥammād bin Salamah and Zuhair bin Mu'āwiyah, as well as a group of others, from Hishām, and they narrated it in Mawqūf form from Abū Hurairah. And similarly, Ayyūb and Ibn 'Awn reported it, and they narrated it in Mawqūf form from Abū Hurairah. Ibn 'Awn reported it from Muḥammad, he said: “They should be brief.”

Comments:

It is recommended to begin one's late-night voluntary prayers with a short two Rak'ah prayer.

(المعجم ٢٤) - بَابُ صَلَاةِ اللَّيْلِ مَثْنَى مَثْنَى (التحفة ٣١٥)

1326. ‘Abdullāh bin ‘Umar narrated that a man asked the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ about the night prayer. The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ replied: “The night prayer is (in units of) two. When one of you fears that dawn will come, he should pray one Rak'ah in order to make his prayer an odd (number).” (Sahih)

And he passed by ‘Umar, who was praying in a loud voice. When they met with the Prophet ﷺ, he said: “O Abū Bakr! Comments:

The best way to invoke Allāh’s blessings and drive away the accursed devil, and keep safe from his evil machinations, is performance of Ṣalāh and recitation of the Qur’ān.

1330. It was reported from Abū Salamah, from Abū Hurairah, from the Prophet ﷺ, with this narration (similar to no. 1329), but he did not mention: “So he said to Abū Bakr: ‘Raise your voice a little.’” Nor his saying to ‘Umar: “Lower your voice a little.”

And he added: “I heard you (too) O Bilāl, while you were reciting from this Sūrah, and from this Sūrah.” He replied: “Beautiful Speech; Allāh combines parts of it with other parts.” So the Prophet ﷺ said: “All of you have acted correctly.” (Ḥasan) زَادَ: «وَقَدْ سَمِعْتُكَ يَا بِلَالُ! وَأَنْتَ تَقْرَأُ مِنْ هَذِهِ السُّورَةِ وَمِنْ هَذِهِ السُّورَةِ» قَالَ: كَلَامٌ طَيِّبٌ يَجْمَعُهُ اللَّهُ بَعْضُهُ إِلَى بَعْضٍ، فَقَالَ النَّبِيُّ ﷺ: «كُلُّكُمْ قَدْ أَصَابَ».

Comments:

One should not, while reciting Qur’ān, raise one’s voice to such a high pitch as to disturb others praying or reciting the Qur’ān. One should be considerate and have regard for others, too.

Comments:

Divine reward for a deed of virtue depends on the intent of the doer. If the purpose of loud recitation of the Qur'an is to exhort and awaken interest in others, it is an act permissible and deserving of reward or else, not.

Chapter 26. On The Night Prayer

(المعجم ٢٦) بَابُ فِي صَلَاةِ اللَّيْلِ
(التحفة ٣١٧)

1334. It was reported from Al-Qāsim bin Muḥammad, from ‘Āishah, that she said: “The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ would pray ten Rak’ahs at night, and make it odd (Witr) by praying one Sajdah (Rak’ah). Then he would pray two Rak’ahs of Fajr,^[1] thus making it thirteen Rak’ahs.” (Ṣaḥīḥ)

١٣٣٤ - حَدَّثَنَا ابْنُ الْمُثَنَّى: حَدَّثَنَا ابْنُ أَبِي عَدِيٍّ عَنْ حَنْظَلَةَ، عَنِ الْقَاسِمِ بْنِ مُحَمَّدٍ، عَنِ عَائِشَةَ قَالَتْ: كَانَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ ﷺ يُصَلِّي مِنَ اللَّيْلِ عَشْرَ رَكَعَاتٍ وَيُوتِرُ بِسَجْدَةٍ وَيَسْجُدُ سَجْدَتِي الْفَجْرِ فَذَلِكَ ثَلَاثَ عَشْرَةَ رَكَعَةً.

Comments:

Some narrations list the two Sunnah Rak’ahs of the Fajr prayer after the late-night prayer, the reason being that they were said early, after the Witr prayer. This makes the total number of Rak’ahs thirteen. See number 1339 as well.

It was reported from Ibn Abi Dhi'b and Al-Awzā'i, from Az-Zuhri, from 'Urwah, from 'Aishah, who said: "The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ would pray eleven Rak'ahs between when he was finished with the 'Ishā' until the break of the dawn. He would say the Taslim after every two, and pray Witr with one. And he would remain in prostration, not raising his head, the amount of time that one of you takes to recite fifty verses. And when the Mu'adh-dhin become quiet from the first (call) of the Fajr prayer, he would stand up to pray two brief Rak'ahs, then lie down on his right side, until the Mu'adh-dhin would come to him." He would not sit during any of these five until he sat in the last one, then he would say the Taslīm.”

He would pray four (Rak'ahs) — and do not ask how beautiful and long they were! And then he would pray four (Rak'ahs) — and do not ask how beautiful and long they were! Then he would pray three.” 'Āishah also said that she asked him: “O Messenger of Allāh! Do you sleep before praying the Witr?” He said: “O 'Āishah! 1. According to some narrations, the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ performed his late-night prayer in sets of two Rak'ahs. Narrations vary as to how the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said his late-night prayer. According to some narrations, he would perform them in sets of four Rak'ahs sometimes.

1342. It was reported from Qatādah, from Zurārah bin Awfā, from Sa'd bin Hishām, who said: "I divorced my wife, and then came to Al-Madīnah in order to sell some property I had there, (all of this) so that I could buy some weapons and fight (in the Cause of Allāh). I met some Companions of the Prophet ﷺ, and they said: 'A group of six of us also intended to do this, but the Prophet of Allāh ﷺ forbade us, and said: "Indeed, you have in the conduct of the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ a good example to follow."'

So I went to Ibn 'Abbās, and asked him about the Witr of the Prophet ﷺ. He said: 'I will direct you to the one who is the most knowledgeable regarding the Witr of the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ: Go to 'Āishah.' So I came to her, asking Ḥakīm bin Aflah to come with me, but he (initially) refused, so I pleaded with him, so he went with me. We both asked permission to visit her.

She said: 'Who is it?' He replied: 'Ḥakīm bin Aflah.' She asked: 'Who is with you?' He replied: 'Sa'd bin Hishām.' She asked, 'Hishām, the son of 'Āmir, who was killed (during the battle) on the Day of Uḥud?' I replied: 'Yes.' She said: 'What a great man 'Āmir was!'

I said: 'O Mother of the Believers!

Tell me about the manners of the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ.’ She said: ‘Do you not read the Qur’an? For the manners of the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ was the Qur’an.’

So I said: ‘Tell me about (his) praying at night.’ She replied: ‘Do you not recite: O you wrapped in a garment^[1]?’ I said: ‘Yes.’ She said: ‘When the first part of this Sūrah was revealed, the Companions of the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ stood (in prayer) until their feet cracked, and its ending was delayed in the heavens for twelve months. Late-night prayer may also be performed as eight Rak'ahs, with no Tashahhud in between.

1343. (Another chain) from Qatādah, with his narration similarly (as no. 1342). He said: "He (ﷺ) would pray eight Rak'ahs, sitting down only in the last Rak'ah; for he would sit down (in that Rak'ah) remembering Allāh, then he would pray (to Allāh), then he would say the Taslīm such that we could hear it. Then he would pray two Rak'ahs while he was sitting — after he had said the Taslīm — then he would pray one Rak'ah. So this is a total of eleven Rak'ahs, O my son. And he would not sit down in any of these (Rak'ahs) except for the eighth one, and he would not say the Taslīm (in this one), but he would recite in the ninth Rak'ah, then sit down, and pray to Allāh with whatever he wished to pray, and he would ask Him and plead to Him. He would then say one Taslīm energetically — the people of the house might awake due to its strength!

Then he would recite the Mother of the Book while he was sitting down, and go into Rukū' from a sitting posture, and then recite in the second (Rak'ah), going into Rukū' and prostration from a sitting posture. Then he would pray with whatever Allāh willed him to pray, then he would say the Taslīm and leave (the prayer place).

“This continued to be the prayer of the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ until he gained weight. Thereafter, he reduced from the nine Rak'ahs two Rak'ahs, and thus he would pray six (Rak'ahs) and then the seventh, and then the two Rak'ahs while he was sitting down. ‘Abdullāh Al-Wāsiṭī reported both of these narrations from Muḥammad bin ‘Amr similarly. He said in it: “Alqamah bin Waqqāṣ said: ‘O mother, how did he (ﷺ) used to pray the two Rak’ahs?’” and he mentioned its meaning.

“Then he stood up and prayed two Rak’ahs, lengthening the recitation, Rukū’ and prostrations. Then he finished the prayers and went to sleep, until he snored. It is the duty of family elders, especially mothers, to inculcate in young children the habit to say prayers regularly and punctually and do other deeds of virtue. Moreover, the father or guardian should keep himself informed of their conduct and occasionally make inquiries about them and their behavior.

1364. Kuraib, the freed slave of Ibn ‘Abbās, narrated that he asked Ibn ‘Abbās: “How did the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ used to pray at night?” He replied: “I once spent the night with him, when he was with Maimūnah. He slept until a third of the night had passed, or half of it, then he awoke. He went to a leather bag which had water in it and performed Wudū’, and I performed Wudū’ with him as well. He then stood up (to pray), so I stood next to him, on his left, but he placed me to his right. Then he placed his hand on my head, as if he were touching my ears in order to wake me up. He prayed two light Rak’ahs, reciting the Umm Al-Qur’an (Al-Fātiḥah) in each one, then he said the Taslīm. Then he prayed eleven Rak’ahs, including Witr, then slept. Then Bilāl came to him and said: ‘The prayer, O Messenger of Allāh.’ Then he stood up and prayed two Rak’ahs, then he led the people in (Fajr) prayer.” (Sahih)

Comments:

Too much devotional worship that exhausts and ultimately destroys one’s health, and results in shunning required worldly pursuits, is contrary to the Sunnah. In fact, it is like the monasticism practiced by Christians, and it is forbidden in Islam.

1370. ‘Alqamah said: “I asked ‘Āishah: ‘How were the deeds of the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ? Did he used to set aside some days (for extra worship)?” She said: ‘No, for all his actions were constant (and habitual). And who among you is

Comments:

Doing a devotional act of worship persistently and abidingly is the real worship. Obviously, it is not possible unless it is done with moderation, shunning both laxity and excess.

6. (The Book Of The Chapters Pertaining To The Month Of Ramaḍān)

Chapter 1. Regarding Standing (In Voluntary Night Prayer) During The Month Of Ramaḍān

1371. (A number of narrators) reported that Ma'mar informed them — and Al-Ḥasan (one of the narrators) said in his narration: “And Mālik bin Anas” — from Az-Zuhrī, from Abū Salamah, from Abū Hurairah, who said: “The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ would encourage them to pray (the night prayers) during Ramaḍān, without commanding them to do so. He would say: ‘Whoever stands (in prayer) during Ramaḍān, having faith and expecting his reward (from Allāh), he will have all his previous sins forgiven.’ So when the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ passed away, the situation was the same. During the Khilāfah of Abū Bakr, may Allāh be pleased with him, and the early part of the Khilāfah of ‘Umar, may Allāh be pleased with him, it also remained the same.” (Ṣaḥīḥ)

Abū Dāwud said: And this was reported by ‘Uqail, Yūnus, and Abū Uwais: “Whoever stood (in night prayer) during Ramaḍān.” While ‘Uqail reported: “Whoever fasted Ramaḍān and stood (in prayer) during it.”

Comments:

Voluntary night prayer during any time of the year is recommended and merits great rewards from Allāh, even more so during Ramaḍān.

1372. It was reported from Sufyān, from Az-Zuhrī, from Abū Salamah, from Abū Hurairah, conveying it from the Prophet ﷺ: “Whoever fasts during Ramaḍān, having faith and expecting his reward (from Allāh), will have all his previous sins forgiven. And whoever stands in prayer on Lailat Al-Qadr (the Night of Decree), having faith and expecting his reward (from Allāh) will have all his previous sins forgiven.” (Sahih)

Abū Dāwud: This is how it was reported by Yaḥyā bin Abī Kathīr, from Abū Salamah, as well as Muḥammad bin ‘Amr from Abū Salamah.

قَالَ أَبُو دَاوُدَ: كَذَا رَوَاهُ يَحْيَى بْنُ أَبِي كَثِيرٍ عَنْ أَبِي سَلَمَةَ، وَمُحَمَّدُ بْنُ عَمْرٍو عَنْ أَبِي سَلَمَةَ.

1373. It was reported from ‘Urwah bin Az-Zubair, from ‘Āishah, the wife of the Prophet ﷺ that the Prophet ﷺ once prayed in the Masjid, and the people prayed behind him, following him in his prayer. Then he prayed the next night, and the number of people increased. Then they gathered together on the third night, but the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ did not come out to them. The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ asked me to place a mat (in the Masjid), and he prayed on it...” — narrating this incident. She said in it: “So he said: ‘O people! prayer for the entire night?' He replied: 'If a person prays with the Imām until he leaves, it will be counted as an entire night's prayer for him.' And when there were four (nights left) he did not stand (in prayer). When only three (nights) remained, he gathered his family and wives and the people, and led us (in prayer) until we thought that we would miss the Falāh." He (the sub-narrator) said: "I said: 'What is the Falāh?' He (Abū Dharr) said: 'The Sahūr (pre-dawn meal). — Then he did not lead us for the rest of the month." (Sahīh)

1376. It was reported from Masrūq, from 'Āishah that when the (last) ten (nights) came (of Ramaḍān), the Prophet ﷺ would spend the night awake, and tighten his Izār, and awake his family." (Sahīh)

Abū Dāwud said: (One of the narrator) Abū Ya'fūr's name is 'Abdur-Raḥmān ibn 'Ubaid bin Nisṭās.

1377. It was reported from Muslim bin Khālid, from Al-'Alā' bin 'Abdur-Raḥmān, from his father, from Abū Hurairah, who said: "Once, the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ

١٣٧٧ - حَدَّثَنَا أَحْمَدُ بْنُ سَعِيدٍ الْهَمْدَانِيُّ: حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ اللَّهِ بْنُ وَهَبٍ: أَخْبَرَنِي مُسْلِمُ بْنُ خَالِدٍ عَنِ الْعَلَاءِ بْنِ عَبْدِ الرَّحْمَنِ، came out to the Masjid during Ramaḍān, and saw a group of people praying in a corner of the Masjid. He asked: 'Who are these people?' He was told: 'These are people who have not (memorized) any Qur'ān, and so Ubayy bin Ka'b is praying, and they are praying with his prayer (behind him).' So the Prophet ﷺ said: 'They have acted correctly, and what a good thing they have done!'" (Ḥasan)

Abū Dāwud said: This Ḥadīth is not strong; Muslim bin Khālīd is a weak narrator.

عن أبيه، عن أبي هريرة قال: خرج رسول الله ﷺ فإذا أناس في رَمَضَانَ يُصَلُّونَ في نَاحِيَةِ الْمَسْجِدِ فَقَالَ: «مَا هَؤُلَاءِ؟» فَقِيلَ: هَؤُلَاءِ نَاسٌ لَيْسَ مَعَهُمْ قُرْآنٌ، وَأَبِي بْنُ كَعْبٍ يُصَلِّي، وَهُمْ يُصَلُّونَ بِصَلَاتِهِ، فَقَالَ النَّبِيُّ ﷺ: «أَصَابُوا وَنِعْمَ مَا صَنَعُوا».

قال أبو داود: لَيْسَ هذا الحديث بالقوي، مُسْلِمٌ بْنُ خَالِدٍ ضَعِيفٌ.

Chapter 2. Concerning Lailat Al-Qadr (The Night Of Decree)

(المعجم ٢) بَابُ: فِي لَيْلَةِ الْقَدْرِ (التحفة ٣٢٠)

1378. It was reported from 'Āṣim from Zirr, who said: "I asked Ubay bin Ka'b: 'Inform us of Lailat Al-Qadr (the Night of Decree), for our companion was asked about it, and he said: "Whoever stands the whole year will catch it!" He replied: 'May Allāh have mercy on Abū 'Abdur-Raḥmān, for by Allāh he knows that it is in Ramaḍān'" — Musad-dad (one of the narrators) added: "but he disliked that they should rely on it, or he liked that they not rely on it" — then they (the narrators) were in accord (in the rest of the narration): "By Allāh! Indeed it is in Ramaḍān, on the twenty-seventh night' — and he didn't say: 'If Allāh wills.' I asked him: 'O Abū ١٣٧٨ - حَدَّثَنَا سُلَيْمَانُ بْنُ حَرْبٍ وَمُسَدَّدُ الْمَعْنَى، قَالَ: حَدَّثَنَا حَمَادُ بْنُ زَيْدٍ عَنْ عَاصِمٍ عَنْ زُرِّ قَالَ: قُلْتُ لِأَبِي بِنِ كَعْبٍ: أَخْبِرْنِي عَنْ لَيْلَةِ الْقَدْرِ يَا أَبَا الْمُنْذِرِ! فَإِنَّ صَاحِبَنَا سئِلَ عَنْهَا، فَقَالَ: مَنْ يَثْمُ الْحَوْلَ يُصْبِحَهَا، فَقَالَ: رَجِمَ اللهُ أَبَا عَبْدِ الرَّحْمَنِ وَالله! لَقَدْ عَلِمَ أَنَّهَا فِي رَمَضَانَ - زَادَ مُسَدَّدٌ: وَلَكِنْ كَرِهَ أَنْ يَتَكَلَّمُوا، أَوْ أَحَبَّ أَنْ لَا يَتَكَلَّمُوا، ثُمَّ اتَّفَقَا - وَالله! إِنَّهَا لَفِي رَمَضَانَ لَيْلَةَ سَبْعٍ وَعِشْرِينَ لَا يَسْتَنِي. قُلْتُ: يَا أَبَا الْمُنْذِرِ! أَنَّى عَلِمْتَ ذَلِكَ؟ قَالَ: بِالآيَةِ الَّتِي أَخْبَرَنَا رَسُولُ اللهِ ﷺ.

قُلْتُ لَزُرِّ: مَا الْآيَةُ؟ قَالَ: تُصْبِحُ الشَّمْسُ

Al-Mundhir! How do you know this?' He replied: 'By the sign that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ has told us about it.'"

I ('Āsim) said to Zirr: "What sign?" He said: "The sun rises on the day after it like a shield, having no rays until it has risen." (Ṣaḥīḥ)

Comments:

1. Worship during Lailat Al-Qadr (the Night of Power) is better than that of a thousand nights.
2. It is only an indication that the previous night was the Night of Power. If one sees it, he should thank Allāh for his good fortune, and if he did not, he should long, and try for it the next year.

1379. Muḥammad bin Muslim Az-Zuhrī reported from Ḍamrah bin 'Abdullāh bin Unais, from his father, who said: "I was once sitting in the gathering of Banū Salamah, and I was the youngest of them. They said, on the morning of the twenty-first day of Ramaḍān: 'Who among us will ask the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ concerning the Night of Decree?' So I left, and prayed the Maghrib prayer with the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ. I then stood by the door to his house. He passed by me and said: 'Enter,' so I entered. He was brought his dinner, but saw that I was not eating, due to its small quantity. When he had finished, he said: 'Hand me my sandals,' and he stood up, so I stood up with him. He said: 'It is as if you have some matter (that you wish to discuss).' I said: 'Yes! A group of people from Banū Salamah sent me to ask you

1380. Muḥammad bin Ibrāhīm reported from Ibn ‘Abdullāh bin Unais Al-Juhanī, from his father, who said: “O Messenger of Allāh! I have (a place) in the desert that I am at, and I pray there, by the grace of Allāh. So command me one night on which I should return here to the Masjid.” He said: “Come on the night of the twenty-third.” So I said to his son: “What did your father used to do?” The son replied: “He would enter the Masjid after praying ‘Asr, and not leave it for any reason until he prayed Ṣubḥ. So after he had prayed Ṣubḥ, he would find his mount at the door of the Masjid, and ride it until he arrived at his place in the desert.” (Hasan)

فَقُلْتُ لِأَبْنَيْهِ: فَكَيْفَ كَانَ أَبُوكَ يَصْنَعُ؟ قَالَ: كَانَ يَدْخُلُ الْمَسْجِدَ إِذَا صَلَّى الْعَصْرَ، فَلَا يَخْرُجُ مِنْهُ لِحَاجَةٍ حَتَّى يُصَلِّيَ الصُّبْحَ، فَإِذَا صَلَّى الصُّبْحَ وَجَدَ دَابَّتَهُ عَلَى بَابِ الْمَسْجِدِ فَجَلَسَ عَلَيْهَا فَلَجِحَ بِبَادِيَتِهِ.

Comments:

There are only three Masjids in the world for which one may make a journey, with the intent to worship there for a higher reward. These are: Masjid Al-Haram in Makkah, the Prophet’s Masjid in Al-Madinah, and Masjid Al-Aqsa in Jerusalem.

1381. Ibn ‘Abbās reported that the Prophet ﷺ said: “Search for it (the Night of Decree) in the last ten nights of Ramaḍān; when nine

Comments:

The exact night of the Night of Power has been concealed, the purpose being to awaken in people a strong desire to worship as much, and, as often as possible, in a bid to get closer to Allāh.

Chapter 3. Regarding Whoever Said That It Is The Twenty-First Night

1382. It was reported from Abū Salamah bin ‘Abdur-Raḥmān, from Abū Sa‘eed Al-Khudrī, who said: “The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ used to perform I’tikāf in the middle ten nights of Ramaḍān. One year, he performed this I’tikāf, then, on the twenty-first night — which was the night he usually left the I’tikāf — he said: ‘Whoever performed I’tikāf with me, let him also perform I’tikāf of the last ten nights. And I was shown this night, but then was caused to forget it. And I saw myself in a dream, prostrating in water and mud on the morning following it.

So search for it in the last ten nights, and search for it on every odd night.’

Abū Sa‘eed said: “So it rained that night, and the Masjid’s roof was covered (with date-palm leaves), and (the rain water soaked the leaves and) it dripped. And with my own eyes, I saw the Prophet ﷺ

ابن عباس عن النبي ﷺ قال: «الْتِمِسُوهَا فِي الْعَشْرِ الْأَوَاخِرِ مِنْ رَمَضَانَ، فِي تَاسِعَةٍ تَبَقَى، وَفِي سَابِعَةٍ تَبَقَى، وَفِي خَامِسَةٍ تَبَقَى.»

(المعجم ٣) بَابُ: فِيمَنْ قَالَ: لَيْلَةٌ

1383. It was reported from Abū Naḍrah, from Abū Sa‘eed Al-Khudrī, who said: “The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: ‘Search for it in the last ten of Ramaḍān. Search for it in the ninth, and the seventh, and the fifth.’”

He (Abū Naḍrah) said: “I said: ‘O Abū Sa‘eed! You know your numbers better than we do!’ He said: ‘Yes.’ So he said: ‘What (do you) mean: “...the ninth, and the seventh, and the fifth?’” He replied: ‘When twenty-one (days) have gone, then the (night) that follows it is the ‘ninth’. And when twenty-three (days) have gone, then the (night) that follows it is the ‘seventh’. And when twenty-five days have gone, then the night that follows it is the ‘fifth.’” (Sahih)

Abū Dāwud said: I don’t know, perhaps I did not hear some parts of this.

Chapter 4. Whoever Said It Was The Seventeenth Night

1384. Ibn Mas‘ūd said: “The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ told us:

وَالطَّيْنِ مِنْ صَبِيحَةِ إِحْدَى وَعِشْرِينَ.

قَالَ: قُلْتُ: يَا أَبَا سَعِيدٍ! إِنَّكُمْ أَعْلَمُ بِالْعَدَدِ مِنَّا. قَالَ: أَجَلٌ. قُلْتُ: مَا التَّاسِعَةُ وَالسَّابِعَةُ وَالْخَامِسَةُ؟ قَالَ: إِذَا مَضَتْ وَاحِدَةٌ وَعِشْرُونَ فَالَّتِي تَلِيهَا التَّاسِعَةُ، وَإِذَا مَضَى ثَلَاثٌ وَعِشْرُونَ فَالَّتِي تَلِيهَا السَّابِعَةُ، وَإِذَا مَضَى خَمْسٌ وَعِشْرُونَ فَالَّتِي تَلِيهَا الْخَامِسَةُ. قَالَ أَبُو دَاوُدَ: لَا أَذْرِي أَحْفِي عَلَيَّ مِنْهُ شَيْءٌ أَمْ لَا.

(المعجم ٤) - بَابُ مَنْ رَوَى أَنَّهَا لَيْلَةٌ

سَبْعَ عَشْرَةَ (التحفة ٣٢٢)

١٣٨٤ - حَدَّثَنَا حَكِيمُ بْنُ سَيِّفِ الرَّقِّي:

حَدَّثَنَا عُبَيْدُ اللَّهِ يَعْنِي ابْنَ عَمْرٍو، عَنْ زَيْدِ يَعْنِي

‘Seek it on the seventeenth night of Ramaḍān, and on the twenty-first night, and on the twenty-third night,’ then he remained quite.” (Da‘if)

ابن أبي أنيسة، عن أبي إسحاق، عن عبد الرحمن بن الأسود، عن أبيه، عن ابن مسعود قال: قال لنا رسول الله ﷺ: «اطبُّوها لَيْلَةَ سَبْعِ عَشْرَةَ مِنْ رَمَضَانَ وَلَيْلَةَ إِحْدَى وَعَشْرِينَ، وَلَيْلَةَ ثَلَاثِ وَعَشْرِينَ» ثُمَّ سَكَتَ.

Chapter 5. Whoever Said It Was Among The Last Seven Nights

(المعجم ٥) - بَابُ مَنْ رَوَى فِي السَّبْعِ الْأَوَاخِرِ (التحفة ٣٢٣)

1385. Ibn ‘Umar narrated that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: “Seek the Night of the Decree, eagerly, during the last seven (nights).” (Ṣaḥīḥ)

تخريج: أخرجه مسلم، الصيام، باب فضل ليلة القدر والحث على طلبها ... إلخ، ح: ١١٦٥ من حديث مالك به وهو في الموطأ (يحيى): ٣٢٠/١.

Comments:

It is also a general statement. It speaks of several nights which include both odd and even numbers.

Chapter 6. Whoever Said It Was The Twenty-Seventh Night

(المعجم ٦) - بَابُ مَنْ قَالَ: سَبْعٌ وَعَشْرُونَ (التحفة ٣٢٤)

1386. Mu‘āwiyah bin Abī Sufyān narrated that the Prophet ﷺ said, regarding the Night of Decree: “The Night of Decree is the twenty-seventh night.” (Ḥasan)

١٣٨٦ - حَدَّثَنَا عُبَيْدُ اللَّهِ بْنُ مُعَاذٍ: حَدَّثَنَا أَبِي: حَدَّثَنَا شُعْبَةُ عَنْ قَتَادَةَ أَنَّهُ سَمِعَ مُطَرِّفًا عَنْ مُعَاوِيَةَ بْنِ أَبِي سُفْيَانَ عَنْ النَّبِيِّ ﷺ فِي لَيْلَةِ الْقَدْرِ قَالَ: «لَيْلَةُ الْقَدْرِ لَيْلَةُ سَبْعِ وَعَشْرِينَ».

Comments:

Opinions vary, each person holding an opinion according to what he heard. Those who believe the Night of Power falls on the twenty-seventh of Ramaḍān are far more in number than others.

Chapter 7. Whoever Said It Was Throughout Ramaḍān

1387. It was reported from Mūsā bin ‘Uqbah, from Abū Ishāq, from Sa‘eed bin Jubair, from ‘Abdullāh bin ‘Umar, who said: “Once, I was listening when the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ was asked about the Night of Decree. He responded: ‘It is in all of Ramaḍān.’” (Da‘īf)

Abū Dāwud said: Sufyān and Shu‘bah reported it from Abū Ishāq in Mawqūf form from Ibn ‘Umar, they did not narrate it Marfū‘ to the Prophet ﷺ.

(المعجم ٧) - بَابُ مَنْ قَالَ: هِيَ فِي كُلِّ رَمَضَانَ (التحفة ٣٢٥)

Comments:

One should not finish reciting the whole of the Qur’an in less than a week. Reciting the whole of it in less than three days is disliked.

1389. It was reported from ‘Aṭā’ bin As-Sā’ib, from his father, from ‘Abdullāh bin ‘Amr, who said: “The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said to me: ‘Fast three days of every month, and recite the Qur’an in one month.’ So he made it less for me, as I kept (asking) for less, until he said: ‘Fast one day, and leave fasting for one day...’” ‘Aṭā’ said: “We differed over what my father narrated. Comments:

The Qur’ān should not just be recited or read. It should also be understood. Recitation, much or little, should be coupled with proper comprehension. One who merely reads it, will, no doubt, be rewarded for just reading the text but, none the less, the need to comprehend and grasp its meaning is obvious.

1391. It was reported from Khaithamah, from ‘Abdullāh bin ‘Amr, who said: “The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said to me: ‘Recite the Qur’ān in one month.’ So I said: ‘But I find myself (more) energetic!’ So he said: ‘Recite it in three (days).’” (Sahīh)

Chapter 9. The Division Of The Qur'an

(المعجم ٩) - بَابُ تَحْزِيبِ الْقُرْآنِ

(التحفة ٣٢٧)

1392. Ibn Al-Hād said: "Nāfi' bin Jubair bin Mut'im asked me: 'In how many days do you recite the Qur'an?' I said: 'I do not divide it into sections.' So Nāfi' said: 'Don't say that you won't divide it into sections, for the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: "I recited a portion (Juz') of the Qur'an." He (Ibn Al-Hād) said: "I think that (Nāfi') mentioned this on the authority of Al-Mughīrah bin Shu'bah." (Da'īf)

To recite the Qur'an in parts is an authentic tradition of the Messenger of Allāh, ﷺ.

And his primary topic (of discussion) was the treatment he had received from the Quraish. He said: ‘We were not equal, (nor have we forgotten) We were weak and oppressed’ — Musad-dad added: ‘in Makkah’ — ‘But when we came to Al-Madīnah, the winds of war shifted between us and them: Sometimes they were on the upper-hand, and sometimes us.’ One night, he was delayed from coming to us at his usual time, so we said: ‘You have come to us later than usual tonight.’ He said: ‘My portion of the Qur’ān overtook me, and I did not like that I should come until I had completed it.’”

Aws said: “I asked the Companions of the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ how they would divide the Qur’ān. They said: “Three, and five, and seven, and nine, and eleven, and thirteen, and the section of the Mufaṣṣal by itself.” (Da‘īf)

There is an indication in this narration that the existing divisions of the Qur'an, date back to the first century of Islam.

He (ﷺ) said: "In forty days," then he said: "In a month," then he said: "In twenty days," then he said: "In fifteen," then he said: "In ten," then he said: "In seven," and he did not say anything less than seven. It was reported from ‘Eīsā bin Hilāl Aṣ-Sadafī, from ‘Abdullāh bin ‘Amr, who said: “A man came to the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ and said: ‘Teach me (some Qur’ān) to recite, O Messenger of Allāh.’ He said: ‘Read three (*Sūrah*s) which begin with Alif Lām Mīm.’ He replied: ‘I have become old, and my heart is hard, and my tongue is coarse!’ So he said: ‘Then recite three (*Sūrah*s) which begin with Hā Mīm.’ But the man repeated what he had said earlier. So the Prophet ﷺ said: ‘Recite three (*Sūrah*s) which begin with the glorification of Allāh (Al-Musabbihat).’ But he repeated the same (excuse) that he had stated earlier, then said, ‘O Messenger of Allāh, teach me a comprehensive Sūrah.’ So the Prophet ﷺ recited: ‘When the

7. (The Book Of The Prostrations Of The Qur'an)

Chapter 1. The Chapters Pertaining To The Prostrations Of the Qur'an, And How Many There Are?

1401. It was reported from Al-Hārith bin Sa'eed Al-'Utaqī, from 'Abdullāh bin Munain of Banū 'Abdu Kulāl, from 'Amr bin Al-'Āṣ that the Prophet ﷺ taught him fifteen prostrations in the Qur'an. Of these, three were in the Mufaṣṣal, and two prostrations in Sūrat Al-Hajj. (Ḍa'if)

Abū Dāwud said: Eleven prostrations has been related from Abū Ad-Dardā', from the Prophet ﷺ, in the Qur'an, but its chain is weak.

Comments:

This Hadīth provides proof that there are two prostrations of recitation in Sūrat Al-Hajj.

1402. 'Uqbah bin 'Āmir narrated: "I asked the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ: 'Are there two prostrations in Sūrat Al-Hajj?' He said: 'Yes, and whoever does not prostrate these two prostrations, then let him not recite them.'" (Ḥasan)

Comments:

Zaid recited Sūrah An-Najm while leading the prayer. Since he was the Imām for that prayer, and he did not perform the prostration of recitation, the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ who was listening, also did not perform it. Allāh knows best.

1405. (Another chain) from Khārijah bin Zaid bin Thābit, from his father, from the Prophet ﷺ, in meaning. (Sahīh)

Abū Dāwud said: Zaid was the Imām, (similar to no. 1404) thus he did not prostrate after (reciting) it.^[1]

Chapter 3. Whoever Held The View That There Is A Prostration In It

(المعجم ٣) - بَابُ مَنْ رَأَى فِيهَا سُجُودًا
(التحفة ٣٣١)

1406. It was reported from Al-Aswad, from 'Abdullāh, that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ once recited Sūrat An-Najm and prostrated in it. There was no one present except that they also prostrated with him. But one man among them took a handful of stones, or sand, and raised it to his face, and said: 'This suffices me.' And I saw him after that — he was killed as a disbeliever." (Sahīh)

Comments:

1. There is a prostration of recitation in Sūrat An-Najm.
2. During the prayer, the followers prostrate if the Imām prostrates, if he does not, they do not.

تخريج: أخرجه مسلم، المساجد، باب سجود التلاوة، ح: ٥٧٨ من حديث سفیان بن عيينة

1408. It was reported from Abū Rāfi' who said: "We prayed the night prayer with Abū Hurairah. He recited 'When the heaven is split asunder'^[5] and then prostrated. I said: 'What is this prostration?' He replied: 'I prostrated this prostration when I was (praying) behind Abūl-Qāsim (the Prophet ﷺ), so I will continue prostrating it until I meet Him.'" (Sahih) تخريج: أخرجه البخاري، سجود القرآن، باب سجدة ص، ح: ١٠٦٩ من حديث أيوب به .

1410. Abū Sa‘eed Al-Khudrī said: “Once, the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ recited Sūrat Ṣād while he was on the Minbar. When he reached (the Verse which has) the prostration, he descended and prostrated, and the people prostrated with him. On another day, he also recited it, so the people got ready to prostrate. (Seeing this,) the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: ‘This was only the repentance of a Prophet! But I have seen that you have prepared yourselves for prostration,’ and he descended and prostrated, and they prostrated along with him.” (Ḥasan)

Comments:

If a Khaṭīb, while reciting from the Qur'ān, recites a verse of prostration, he may climb down from the Minbar and perform the prostration. Listeners should also follow him.

It was reported from Muṣ'ab bin Thābit bin 'Abdullāh bin Az-Zubair, from Nāfi', from Ibn 'Umar that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ recited a (Verse of) prostration in the Year of the Conquest, so all the people prostrated — those who were riding prostrated such that they prostrated on their hands, (and those who were not) did so on the earth." In the event of a (legitimate) excuse, one may merely bow as a mark of prostration.

1412. It was reported from 'Ubaidullāh, from Nāfi', from Ibn Umar who said: "The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ would recite a Sūrah to us," Ibn Numair (one of the narrators) said: "outside of the prayer" — and then they were in accord^[1] — "and he would prostrate, so we would prostrate with him, so much so that some of us would not find space to place our foreheads." [1] Meaning the narrators, since the author heard this from two different narrators.

Comments:

During the group prayer, the followers follow the Imām; in the case of a reciter outside of the prayer, if he recites a Verse of prostration and others hear that, there is no connection between them as there is during the prayer. Hence, the durations of their prostrations need not be the same. One may perform a long prostration, the other a short one. One may lift up one's head before the other. Similarly, if the reciter does not prostrate, the listener, whether man, woman or child, may, with Wuḍū' or not.

1413. It was reported from 'Abdur-Razzāq, that 'Abdullāh bin 'Umar informed them, from Nāfi', from Ibn 'Umar who said: "The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ would recite the Qur'an to us. When he came across (a Verse of) prostration, he would say the Takbīr and prostrate, and we would prostrate as well." (Hasan)

'Abdur-Razzāq said: "Ath-Thawrī used to like this Hadīth."

Abū Dāwūd said: He would like it, because it mentions that he said the Takbīr.

I heard the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ saying: “There are five prayers that Allāh has prescribed upon the worshippers. Whoever comes having (performed) them, not having lost anything of them by neglecting its rights, has a promise from Allāh that He will admit him into Paradise. And whoever does not bring them, then he has no promise with Allāh: If He wishes, He will punish him, and if He wishes, He will admit him into Paradise.” (Ḥasan)

1427. It was reported from Hammad, from Hishām bin ‘Amr Al-Fazārī, from ‘Abdur-Raḥmān bin Al-Hārith bin Hishām, from ‘Alī bin Abī Ṭālib that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ would say at the end of his Witr: “Allāhumma! Innī ‘A’udhu bi-riḍākā min sakhatikā

١٤٢٧ - حَدَّثَنَا مُوسَى بْنُ إِسْمَاعِيلَ: حَدَّثَنَا حَمَّادٌ عَنْ هِشَامِ بْنِ عَمْرٍو الْفَزَارِيِّ، عَنْ عَبْدِ الرَّحْمَنِ بْنِ الْحَارِثِ بْنِ هِشَامٍ، عَنْ عَلِيِّ بْنِ أَبِي طَالِبٍ: أَنَّ رَسُولَ اللَّهِ ﷺ كَانَ يَقُولُ فِي آخِرِ وَتْرِهِ: «اللَّهُمَّ! إِنِّي أَعُوذُ

wa bi-mu'afatika min 'uqubatika, wa a'udhu bika minka la uḥṣī thanā'an 'alaikā, anta kamā athnaita 'alā nafsik (O Allāh! I seek refuge in Your pleasure from Your displeasure, and from Your protection against Your punishment, and I seek refuge in You from You. I cannot count (do justice in) praising You, for You are as You have praised Yourself)." (Ṣaḥīḥ)

Abū Dāwud said: Hishām is the earliest of Ḥammād's *Ṣhaikh*s, and it was conveyed to me from Yahyā bin Ma'īn that he said: "No one other than Ḥammād bin Salamah reports from him."

Abū Dāwud said: 'Eisā bin Yūnus reported from Sa'eed bin Abī 'Arūbah, from Qatādah, from Sa'eed bin 'Abdur-Raḥmān bin Abzā, from his father from Ubayy bin Ka'b, that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ would perform the Qunūt — meaning in the Witr prayer — before going into Rukū'.

Abū Dāwud said: And 'Eisā bin Yunūs also reported this Ḥadīth from Fiṭr bin Khalīfah, from Zubaid, from Sa'eed bin 'Abdur-Raḥmān bin Abzā, from his father from Ubayy, from the Prophet ﷺ similarly. And it has been related from Ḥafṣ bin Ghiyāth from Mis'ar, from Zubaid, from Sa'eed bin 'Abdur-Raḥmān bin Abzā, from his father, from Ubayy bin Ka'b; that the Messenger of Allāh performed the Qunūt in Witr before going into Rukū'.

Abū Dāwud said: And like this, it

بِرِضَاكَ مِنْ سَخَطِكَ، وَبِمُعَافَاتِكَ مِنْ عُقُوبَتِكَ، وَأَعُوذُ بِكَ مِنْكَ لَا أُحْصِي ثَنَاءَ عَلَيْكَ أَنْتَ كَمَا أَثْنَيْتَ عَلَيَّ نَفْسِكَ».

قال أبو داود: هشام أ قدم شيخ حماد، وبلغني عن يحيى بن معين أنه قال: لم يرو عنه غير حماد بن سلمة.

قال أبو داود: روى عيسى بن يونس هذا الحديث أيضا عن فطر بن خليفة، عن زبيد، عن سعيد بن عبد الرحمن بن أبيزى، عن أبيه، عن أبي عن النبي ﷺ مثله. وروى عن حفص بن غياث عن مسعر، عن زبيد، عن سعيد بن عبد الرحمن بن أبيزى، عن أبيه، عن أبي بن كعب: أن رسول الله ﷺ قنت في الوتر قبل الركوع.

قال أبو داود: وكذلك رواه عبد الأعلى ومحمد بن بشر العبدي - وسامعه بالكوفة - مع عيسى بن يونس ولم يذكروا القنوت، was reported by ‘Abdul-A‘lā and Muḥammad bin Bishr Al-‘Abdī — who heard it in Al-Kūfah along with ‘Eisā bin Yunūs — and they did not mention the Qunūt, and it was also reported by Hishām Ad-Dastawā‘ī and Shu‘bah from Qatādah, and they did not mention the Qunūt.

Abū Dāwud said: As for the Hadīth of Zubaid; Sulaimān Al-A‘mash, Shu‘bah, ‘Abdul-Malik bin Abī Sulaimān, and Jarīr bin Ḥāzim reported it, all of them from Zubaid, and none of them mentioned the Qunūt in it, except for what was related from Ḥaḥṣ bin Ghiyāth from Mis‘ar, from Zubaid. For he said in his narration of it: “he performed the Qunūt before the Rukū’.”

Abū Dāwud said: And it is not popular from the narration of Ḥaḥṣ, we fear that it is really from Ḥaḥṣ from someone other than Mis‘ar.

Abū Dāwud said: It has been related that Ubayy would say the Qunūt during middle of Ramaḍān.

تخریج: [إسناده صحيح] أخرجه الترمذي، الدعوات، باب: في دعاء الوتر، ح: ٣٥٦٦ من حديث حماد بن سلمة به وقال: "حسن غريب" ورواه النسائي، ح: ١٧٤٨ وابن ماجه، ح: ١١٧٩.

Comments:

It is to be noted that in Witr prayer, the Qunūt was said before Rukū’ (bowing) but the Qunūt performed during the times of distress or calamity was said after the Rukū’.

1428. Muḥammad (bin Sirīn) narrated from some of his companions, that Ubayy bin Ka‘b led them in prayer — meaning in the month of Ramaḍān — and he would pray with the Qunūt in the

قال أبو داود: وَحَدِيثُ زُبَيْدٍ رَوَاهُ سُلَيْمَانُ الْأَعْمَشُ وَشُعْبَةُ وَعَبْدُ الْمَلِكِ بْنُ أَبِي سُلَيْمَانَ وَجَرِيرُ بْنُ حَازِمٍ، كُلُّهُمْ عَنْ زُبَيْدٍ، لَمْ يَذْكُرْ أَحَدٌ مِنْهُمْ الْقُنُوتَ إِلَّا مَا رَوَى عَنْ حَفْصِ بْنِ غِيَاثٍ عَنْ مِسْعَرٍ، عَنْ زُبَيْدٍ فَإِنَّهُ قَالَ فِي حَدِيثِهِ: إِنَّهُ قَنَتَ قَبْلَ الرُّكُوعِ.

١٤٢٨ - حَدَّثَنَا أَحْمَدُ بْنُ مُحَمَّدٍ عَنْ حَبِيبِ بْنِ حَبِيبٍ: حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ بَكْرٍ: أَنَّ أَبَانَ هِشَامَ عَنْ مُحَمَّدٍ عَنْ بَعْضِ أَصْحَابِهِ: أَنَّ أُبَيَّ بْنَ كَعْبٍ أَمَّهُمْ يَغْنِي فِي رَمَضَانَ وَكَانَ يَقْنُتُ فِي latter half of Ramaḍān. (Da'if)

النُّصْفِ الْآخِرِ مِنْ رَمَضَانَ.

تخريج: [إسناده ضعيف] أخرجه البيهقي: ٤٩٨/٢ من حديث أبي داود به، قال العيني: "فيه مجهول" (شرح سنن أبي داود: ٣٤٢/٥، ح: ١٣٩٨) ومراد ذلك "بعض أصحابه".

1429. It was reported from Yunūs bin 'Ubaid, from Al-Hasan, that 'Umar bin Al-Khattāb gathered the people behind Ubayy bin Ka'b (in the month of Ramaḍān.) He led them for twenty nights; he would not pray the Qunūt except in the last half (of the month). When the last ten nights would start, he would not lead them, and instead pray in his house. So they would say, 'Ubayy has fled (like a slave)!'"

(Da'if)

Abū Dāwud said: This shows that what was mentioned regarding the Qunūt is not correct. And these two Hadīths show the weakness of the Hadīth narrated from Ubayy that the Prophet ﷺ would perform Qunūt in the Witr.

١٤٢٩ - حَدَّثَنَا شُجَاعُ بْنُ مَخْلَدٍ: حَدَّثَنَا هُشَيْمٌ: أَخْبَرَنَا يُونُسُ بْنُ عُبَيْدٍ عَنِ الْحَسَنِ: أَنَّ عُمَرَ بْنَ الْخَطَّابِ رَضِيَ اللَّهُ عَنْهُ جَمَعَ النَّاسَ عَلَى أَبِي بِنِ كَعْبٍ فَكَانَ يُصَلِّي لَهُمْ عِشْرِينَ لَيْلَةً، وَلَا يَقْنُتُ بِهِمْ إِلَّا فِي النُّصْفِ الْبَاقِي. فَإِذَا كَانَتِ الْعَشْرُ الْأَوَاخِرُ تَخَلَّفَ فَصَلَّى فِي بَيْتِهِ، فَكَانُوا يَقُولُونَ: أَبَى أَبِي.

(المعجم ٦) بَابُ: فِي الدُّعَاءِ بَعْدَ الْوَيْتْرِ
(التحفة ٣٤٢)

1430. It was reported from Ubayy bin Ka'b that he said: "When the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ would say the Taslīm of the Witr prayer, he would say: 'Subhānal-Malikil-Quddūs' (Exalted is the Holy King)." (Sahih)

تخريج: [صحيح] أخرجه النسائي، قيام الليل، باب ذكر الاختلاف على شعبة فيه، ح: ١٧٣٥ من حديث سعيد بن عبدالرحمن به.

1431. It was reported from Abū Sa‘eed that he said: “The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: ‘Whoever oversleeps for his Witr prayer, or forgets to pray it, he should pray it when he remembers.’” (Sahih)

١٤٣١ - حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ عَوْفٍ: حَدَّثَنَا عُثْمَانُ بْنُ سَعِيدٍ عَنْ أَبِي غَسَّانَ مُحَمَّدِ بْنِ مُطَرِّفِ الْمَدَنِيِّ، عَنْ زَيْدِ بْنِ أَسْلَمَ، عَنْ عَطَاءِ بْنِ يَسَارٍ، عَنْ أَبِي سَعِيدٍ قَالَ: قَالَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ ﷺ: «مَنْ نَامَ عَنْ وَتْرِهِ أَوْ نَسِيَهُ فَلْيُصَلِّهِ إِذَا ذَكَرَهُ».

Comments:

Based upon this Hadith, the missed Witr prayer may be performed whenever one awakens or remembers it

Chapter 7. Praying Witr Before Sleeping

1432. It was reported from Abū Sa‘eed, of Azdshānuw’ah, from Abū Hurairah, that he said: “My close friend (the Prophet ﷺ) advised me with three matters which I will never abandon, whether I am travelling or not: (To pray) two Rak’ahs of Duḥa, and (to) fast three days of every month, and that I not sleep except after praying Witr.” (Sahih)

Comments:

In case a person fears he cannot wake up from his sleep until the onset of dawn, he should perform the Witr prayer before he goes to bed.

1433. It was reported from Jubair bin Nufair, from Abū Ad-Dardā', who said: "My close friend (the Prophet ﷺ) advised me with three matters which I will never abandon for any reason: He advised me to fast three days of every month, and that I not sleep except after praying Witr, and (that I pray) the two Rak'ahs of Duha whether I was traveling or not."^[1] (Da'if)

١٤٣٣ - حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ الْوَهَّابِ بْنُ نَجْدَةَ: حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو الْيَمَانِ عَنْ صَفْوَانَ بْنِ عَمْرٍو، عَنْ أَبِي إِدْرِيسَ السَّكُونِيِّ، عَنْ جُبَيْرِ بْنِ نُفَيْرٍ، عَنْ أَبِي الدَّرْدَاءِ قَالَ: أَوْصَانِي خَلِيلِي ﷺ بِثَلَاثٍ لَا أَدْعُهُنَّ بِشَيْءٍ، أَوْصَانِي بِصِيَامِ ثَلَاثَةِ أَيَّامٍ مِنْ كُلِّ شَهْرٍ، وَلَا أَنَامُ إِلَّا عَلَى وَيْتْرِ، وَبَسْبَحَةِ الصُّحَى فِي الْحَضَرِ وَالسَّفَرِ.

Comments:

These Hadiths encourage busy people and students to say their late-night prayer (Qiyām Al-Lail) in the first part (early hours) of night after 'Ishā'.

1434. Abū Qatādah narrated that the Prophet ﷺ asked Abū Bakr: "When do you pray the Witr?" He said: "I pray the Witr in the early part of the night." And he asked Umar: "When do you pray Witr?" He said: "In the last part of the night." So he said to Abū Bakr: "This one has been cautious," and he said to Umar: "This one has been strong." (Hasan)

١٤٣٤ - حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ أَحْمَدَ بْنِ أَبِي خَلْفٍ: حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو زَكْرِيَّا يَحْيَى بْنُ إِسْحَاقَ السَّيْلِيِّ: حَدَّثَنَا حَمَادُ بْنُ سَلَمَةَ عَنْ ثَابِتٍ، عَنْ عَبْدِ اللَّهِ بْنِ رَبَاحٍ، عَنْ أَبِي قَتَادَةَ؛ أَنَّ النَّبِيَّ ﷺ قَالَ لِأَبِي بَكْرٍ: «مَتَى تُوَيْتِرُ؟» قَالَ: «أُوَيْتِرُ مِنْ أَوَّلِ اللَّيْلِ، وَقَالَ لِعُمَرَ: «مَتَى تُوَيْتِرُ؟» قَالَ: «أُوَيْتِرُ آخِرَ اللَّيْلِ، فَقَالَ لِأَبِي بَكْرٍ: «أَخَذَ هَذَا بِالْحَزْمِ» وَقَالَ لِعُمَرَ: «أَخَذَ هَذَا بِالْقُوَّةِ».

به.

Comments:

In case a person feels it hard to wake up in the last hours of night, he should perform his Witr prayer before he goes to bed, and perform Tahajjud prayer when he wakes up late at night. He need not perform Witr again in this case.

Chapter 8. The Time Of The Witr Prayer

(المعجم ٨) بَابُ: فِي وَقْتِ الْوَيْتْرِ

(التحفة ٣٤٤)

1435. Masrūq said: "I asked 'Āishah, when the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ would pray the Witr prayer. She replied: 'He would do all — he would pray at the beginning of the night, and the middle, and the end. However, in the later part (of his life) — when he passed away — he would pray (closer to) the time of dawn.'" (Ṣaḥīḥ)

١٤٣٥ - حَدَّثَنَا أَحْمَدُ بْنُ يُونُسَ: حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ عَيَّاشٍ عَنِ الْأَعْمَشِ، عَنْ مُسْلِمٍ، عَنْ مَسْرُوقٍ قَالَ: قُلْتُ لِعَائِشَةَ: مَتَى كَانَ يُوتِرُ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ ﷺ؟ قَالَتْ: كُلَّ ذَلِكَ قَدْ فَعَلَ: أَوْتَرَ أَوَّلَ اللَّيْلِ وَوَسَطَهُ وَآخِرَهُ، وَلَكِنْ انْتَهَى وَتَرَهُ - جِئْنَا مَاتَ - إِلَى السَّحْرِ.

Comments:

The time of 'Īshā' prayer lasts until midnight, while that of Witr prayer until before dawn.

1436. It was reported from Ibn 'Umar that the Prophet ﷺ said: "Rush to offer the Witr before dawn." (Ṣaḥīḥ)

١٤٣٦ - حَدَّثَنَا هَارُونُ بْنُ مَعْرُوفٍ: حَدَّثَنَا ابْنُ أَبِي زَائِدَةَ قَالَ: حَدَّثَنِي عُبَيْدُ اللَّهِ بْنُ عُمَرَ عَنْ نَافِعٍ، عَنْ ابْنِ عُمَرَ؛ أَنَّ النَّبِيَّ ﷺ قَالَ: «بَادِرُوا الصُّبْحَ بِالْوَيْتْرِ».

In case one misses the Witr prayer at night, one may perform it after the onset of dawn.

1437. 'Abdullāh bin Abi Qais said: "I asked 'Āishah regarding the Witr of the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ. Comments:

Some scholars argue, on the basis of this Hadīth, that it is not permissible to say a voluntary prayer after Witr prayer. But other scholars dispute it, and assert that it is commendable, and it is not impermissible, since the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ himself performed a two Rak’ah voluntary prayer after he had already performed Witr, according to authentic narrations.

Chapter 9. Regarding The Cancellation Of Witr

1439. Qais bin Ṭalq reported: “Ṭalq bin ‘Alī once visited us during one of the days of Ramaḍān. He stayed the evening with us, and broke his fast. He then led us in prayer that night, and prayed the Witr for us as well. He then returned to his Masjid and led his companions in prayer. When the Witr prayer was left, he asked another man to step forward (in his place) and said to him: 'Lead your companions in the Witr prayer, for I heard the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ say: "There should not be two Witrs in one night." (Sahih)

Comments:

A Witr prayer (which consists of an odd number of Rak'ahs) may not be changed into an even number of Rak'ahs. There is no authentic tradition of Allāh's Messenger ﷺ supporting that. So, if one is not in the habit of performing Tahajjud prayer, then he should perform Witr prior to sleeping.

Chapter 10. The Qunūt In The (Other) Prayers

(المعجم ١٠) - بَابُ الْقُنُوتِ فِي الصَّلَاةِ
(التحفة ٣٤٦)

1440. Abū Hurairah narrated: "I swear by Allāh, I will imitate for you the prayer of the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ." He (a sub narrator) said: "So Abū Hurairah would say the Qunūt in the last Rak'ah of Zuhr, and Ishā', and Ṣubḥ (Fajr). He would pray for the believers, and curse the disbelievers." (Sahih)

1447. Zaid bin Thābit narrated: “The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ sectioned off a small area in the Masjid,^[1] and he would exit (his house) at night and pray in it. So the people started praying with his prayer (behind him), and they would come every night. One night, the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ did not come out to them. So they coughed and raised their voices, and threw small pebbles at his door, until he came out in a state of anger. He ﷺ said: ‘O people! Your actions (i.e., the prayer behind me) continued until I thought that it would become obligatory upon you. So I command you to pray in your houses, for indeed the best prayer that a person prays is the prayer in his house, except for the obligatory prayers.’” (Sahīh)

[قَالَ أَبُو عُبَيْدٍ: الْكَوْمَاءُ النَّاقَةُ الْعَظِيمَةُ السَّتَامُ]

[1] It is explained after the narration.

[2] It appears that this definition was added by one of the copyists to one of the manuscripts. Abū ‘Ubaid is Al-Qāsim Ibn Sallām, and he compiled a dictionary of odd words in Hādīth called: “Gharīb Al-Hādīth.”

Chapter 15. Fātiḥatil-Kitāb (The Opening Of The Book)

(المعجم ١٥) - بَابُ فَاتِحَةِ الْكِتَابِ

(التحفة ٣٥١)

1457. Abū Hurairah narrated that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: “All praise is due to Allāh, the Lord of Al-‘Ālamīn is Umm Al-Qur’ān, and Umm Al-Kitāb, and the ‘Seven Oft-Repeated Verses.’” (Saḥīḥ)

١٤٥٧ - حَدَّثَنَا أَحْمَدُ بْنُ أَبِي شُعَيْبٍ الْخِرَازِيُّ: حَدَّثَنَا عَيْسَى بْنُ يُونُسَ: حَدَّثَنَا ابْنُ أَبِي ذَنْبٍ عَنِ الْمُقْبِرِيِّ، عَنْ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ قَالَ: قَالَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ ﷺ: «الْحَمْدُ لِلَّهِ رَبِّ الْعَالَمِينَ أُمُّ الْقُرْآنِ وَأُمُّ الْكِتَابِ وَالسَّبْعُ الْمَثَانِي».

Comments:

Here the Arabic word Umm means essence or basis. Sūrat Al-Fātiḥah is called Umm Al-Qur’ān or Umm Al-Kitāb because it contains the essence of the Qur’ān. It is also called the Seven Oft-Repeated because it contains seven Verses which we say over and over in every prayer.

1458. Abū Sa’eed bin Al-Mu’allā said that the Prophet ﷺ passed by him while he was praying. He summoned him, but he first prayed then came. The Prophet ﷺ said: “What prevented you from responding to me?” He replied: “I was praying.” So he said: “Has not Allāh said: O you who believe! Respond to the call of Allāh and the Messenger when he calls you to that which gives you life?^[1] I will teach you the greatest Sūrah from — or — in the Qur’ān before I exit from the Masjid.”

١٤٥٨ - حَدَّثَنَا عُيَيْدُ اللَّهِ بْنُ مُعَاذٍ: حَدَّثَنَا خَالِدٌ: حَدَّثَنَا شُعْبَةُ عَنْ خُثَيْبِ بْنِ عَبْدِ الرَّحْمَنِ قَالَ: سَمِعْتُ حَفْصَ بْنَ عَاصِمٍ يُحَدِّثُ عَنْ أَبِي سَعِيدِ بْنِ الْمُعَلَّى: أَنَّ النَّبِيَّ ﷺ مَرَّ بِهِ وَهُوَ يُصَلِّي فَدَعَاهُ، قَالَ: فَصَلَّيْتُ ثُمَّ أَتَيْتُهُ، قَالَ: فَقَالَ: «مَا مَنَعَكَ أَنْ تُجِيبَنِي؟» قَالَ: كُنْتُ أَصَلِّي، قَالَ: «أَلَمْ يَقُلِ اللَّهُ تَعَالَى: ﴿يَا أَيُّهَا الَّذِينَ آمَنُوا اسْتَجِيبُوا لِلَّهِ وَلِلرَّسُولِ إِذَا دَعَاكُمْ لِمَا يُحْيِيكُمْ﴾»

(المعجم ١٦) - بَابُ مَنْ قَالَ هِيَ مِنْ

1459. Ibn 'Abbās said: "The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ was given the 'Seven Oft-Repeated Verses' (of) the Tuwal (long *Sūrah*s). And Mūsā was given six, but when he threw the tablets, two were lifted up and four remained." (Da'if)

(المعجم ١٧) - بَابُ مَا جَاءَ فِي آيَةِ
الْكُرْسِيِّ (التحفة ٣٥٣)

1460. Ubayy bin Ka'b said that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: "O Abū Al-Mundhir, which Verse that you know of the Book of Allāh is the greatest Verse?" He replied: "Allāh and His Messenger know best." He said: "O Abū Al-Mundhir, which Verse that you know of the Book of Allāh is the greatest Verse?" He said: "So I said: Allāhu lā ilāha illā Huwa, Al-Hayy Al-Qayyūm (none has the right to be worshipped but Him the Ever-Living, the Sustainer). So he struck me on my chest and said:

Comments:

This Hadūth proves the excellence of Ayat Al-Kursī. It also proves the relative precedence of parts of the Qur’ān over each other.

Chapter 18. Regarding Sūrat Aṣ-Ṣamad (Al-Ikhlās)

(المعجم ١٨) بَابُ: فِي سُورَةِ الصَّمَدِ
(التحفة ٣٥٤)

1461. Abū Sa‘eed Al-Khudrī narrated that a person heard another person recite: Qul Huw Allāhu Aḥad^[1] many times, repeating it. So the next morning, he went to the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ, and mentioned this fact to him — it seemed that he presumed this act to be very insignificant. But the Prophet ﷺ responded: “I swear by Him in whose Hands is my soul, it is equivalent to a third of the Qur’ān.” (Ṣaḥīh)

And he taught me: "Say: I seek refuge in the Lord of the day-break."^[1] and "Say: I seek refuge in the Lord of mankind."^[2] But he saw that I was not overjoyed at that. So when he camped for the morning prayer, he recited these two *Sūrah*s in them while leading the people. When he had finished the prayer, he turned to me and said: 'O Uqbah, what do you think?'" Comments:

The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ stressed the importance and excellence of those two *Sūrah*s by reciting them in the dawn prayer. Moreover, it is well-established that these two *Sūrah*s drive away spells, guard against evils, and are a comprehensive formula for seeking refuge in Allāh from all types of harms.

1463. It was reported from Sa'eed bin Abi Sa'eed Al-Maqburi, from his father, from 'Uqbah bin 'Amir, who said: "Once, we were traveling with the Prophet ﷺ between Al-Juḥfah and Al-Abwā', when a strong wind and a darkness overtook us. The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ began to seek refuge with: I seek refuge in the Lord of the day-break^[3] and; I seek refuge in the Lord of mankind.^[4] He said: 'O Uqbah! Some of them say it means to recite in an audible and pleasant voice, others say that it means to busy oneself with recitation of the Qur'an rather than other than that. Others say it means to "chant" in a melodious manner, since the Arabs used to do that when riding on their camels or on other occasions, and rather than poetry or Nashid, they should chant with the Qur'an.

Chapter 22. 'Allāh Revealed The Qur'an According To Seven Ahruf^[1]

1475. 'Umar bin Al-Khattāb narrated: "I heard Hishām bin Ḥakīm bin Hizām recite Sūrat Al-Furqān in a manner that I did not used to recite it in, even though the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ himself had taught it to me. So I was about to hasten (in reprimanding) him, but I waited until he finished (his recitation). Then I held him tightly by his Ridā' (upper garment), and brought him to the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ. I said: 'O Messenger of Allāh! I heard this man recite Sūrat Al-Furqān in a manner different from what you taught me.' So the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ commanded him: 'Recite.' He recited in the same manner as I had heard him recite. The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: 'This was the way it was revealed.'

1477. It was reported from Sulaimān bin Şurad Al-Khuzā'i, from Ubayy bin Ka'b, that the Prophet ﷺ said: "O Ubayy! I was taught the recitation of the Qur'an, and it was said to me: 'In one Harf or two?' The angel that was with me said: 'Say: In two Harfs.' So I said: 'In two Harfs.' Then it was said to me: 'In two Harfs or three?' The angel that was with me said: 'Say: In three.' So I said, 'In three,' until we reached seven Ahruf. Comments:

Since supplication is worship, it is quite obvious that supplicating to someone other than Allāh is a form of Shirk.

1480. It was reported from Abū Na‘āmāh, from a son of Sa‘d, who said: “My father heard me while I was saying: “O Allāh! I ask you (to grant me) Paradise, and its blessings, and its glory, and its this, and its that, and I seek refuge in You from the Fire, and its chains, and its scalding (water), and its this, and its that.” So he said: ‘My dear son, I heard the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ say: “There will be a group of people who will exceed the boundaries of supplication,” so be careful that you are not among them. If you are given Paradise, you will be given it with all that is in it, and if you are saved from the Fire, you will be saved from it and all that is in it of evil.’” (Da‘if)

١٤٨٠ - حَدَّثَنَا مُسَدَّدٌ: حَدَّثَنَا يَحْيَى عَنْ شُعْبَةَ، عَنْ زِيَادِ بْنِ مَخْرَاقٍ، عَنْ أَبِي نَعَامَةَ، عَنْ ابْنِ لِسْعَدٍ قَالَ: سَمِعَنِي أَبِي وَأَنَا أَقُولُ: اللَّهُمَّ! إِنِّي أَسْأَلُكَ الْجَنَّةَ، وَنَعِيمَهَا وَبَهْجَتَهَا، وَكَذَا وَكَذَا، وَأَعُوذُ بِكَ مِنَ النَّارِ وَسَلْسِلِهَا، وَأَغْلَالِهَا وَكَذَا وَكَذَا، فَقَالَ: يَا بَنِيَّ! إِنِّي سَمِعْتُ رَسُولَ اللَّهِ ﷺ يَقُولُ: «سَيَكُونُ قَوْمٌ يَتَعَدُونَ فِي الدَّعَاءِ»، فَإِيَّاكَ أَنْ تَكُونَ مِنْهُمْ، إِنَّكَ إِنْ أُعْطِيتَ الْجَنَّةَ أُعْطِيتَهَا وَمَا فِيهَا مِنَ الْخَيْرِ، وَإِنْ أُعْذِتَ مِنَ النَّارِ أُعْذِتَ مِنْهَا وَمَا فِيهَا مِنَ الشَّرِّ.

That is, all-inclusive supplications, with few words that encompass wider meanings, comprehending the blessings of this world and the next.

1483. It was reported from Al-A‘raj, from Abū Hurairah, that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: “Let not any of you say: ‘O Allāh! Forgive me if You please, O Allāh! Have mercy on me if You please.’ Rather, be firm in your asking, for no one can force Him.” (Ṣahīh)

Comments:

Supplications are answered in a variety of ways. 1. One may get what he has asked for; 2. Or one may get what they asked for later, the reason of delay being some hidden wisdom unknown to the person; 3. Or Allāh may ward off some evil from him or give him something else instead; 4. Or his prayer may be stored for him to be rewarded in the Hereafter when he shall be in need of it the most.

1485. It was reported from Muḥammad bin Ka'b Al-Qurazī, that 'Abdullāh bin 'Abbās narrated, that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: "Do not cover up walls. Whoever looks at the writing of his brother without his permission, it is as if he is looking at the Fire. Ask Allāh with the palms of your hands, and do not ask with the back of the hands. And when you finish, then wipe your faces with them." (Da'if) Abū Dāwud said: This narration was related by other route (also), from Muḥammad bin Ka'b, and all of them are weak. This version is an example of them, and it too is weak.

Comments:

Normally, during a supplication, one turns the palms of the hands up but, during the prayer for rain, one should turn the palms down, keeping the backs of palms up, as did the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ according to the authentic Hadīths.

1487. Anas bin Mālik said: “I saw the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ supplicate like this,” with the palms of his hands, and their back portion. (Ḍa‘īf)

Lifting up one finger (the index finger) indicates Tawḥīd.

1495. It was reported from Ḥaḥḥ, meaning the paternal nephew of Anas, from Anas that he was once sitting with the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ when a person prayed and then supplicated, saying: “*Allāhumma! 1500. It was reported that Sa'eed bin Abi Hilāl narrated from Khuzaimah, from 'Āishah, the daughter of Sa'd bin Abi Waqqās, from her father that he once visited a woman with the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ who had some date-seeds — or pebbles — in front of her. She was using them to (count) her glorifications (Tasbīh) of Allāh. The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said: "Should I not inform you of something which is easier, or better, for you than this? Comments:

The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ uttered the Tasbīh counting, as he did so, on his fingers. He told his Companions to do likewise. The popular way using beads is not sanctioned by word or practice of the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ.

1501. It was reported from Yusairah that the Prophet of Allāh ﷺ commanded them to look after (performing) the Takbīr, the Taqdīs and the Tahlīl, and to count them with the tips of the fingers, for they will be asked, and they will speak. (Hasan)
