THE GEOMETRIC RELATIONSHIP OF SACRED SYMBOLS

The geometric interrelation of Judaism and Christianity's most sacred symbols...Truth is I couldn't stop there: Christianity to Judaism to India to DNA to Mayans to China. I give you my 10,000 hours of study in 24 pictures, for free....ok, 33 pictures linking also to Greek wisdom teachings, and high eastern spirituality.

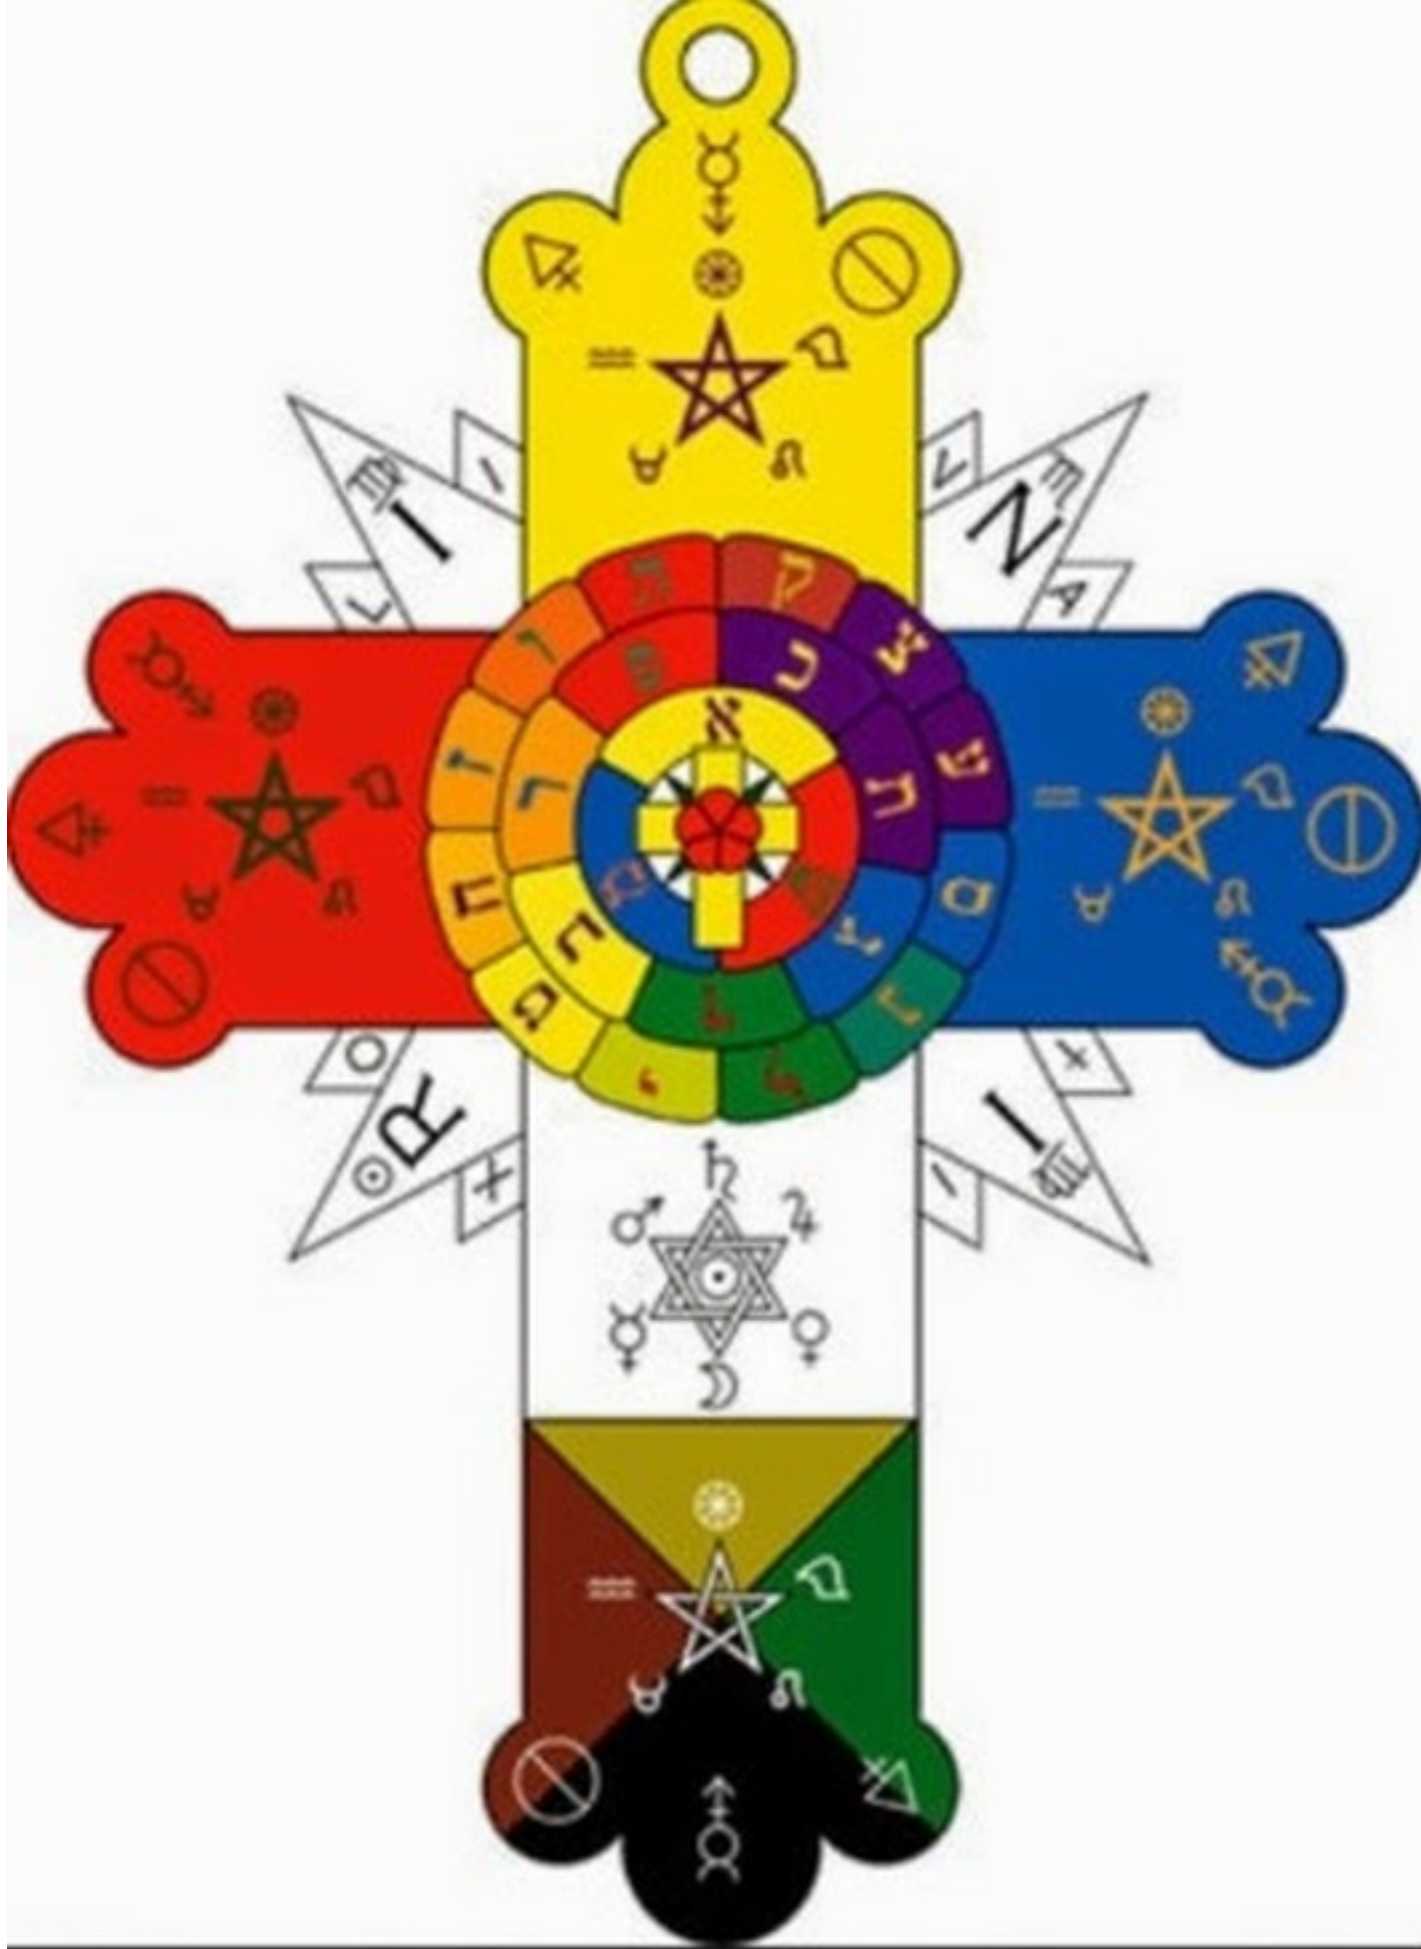

But what does it mean Graham?

1. The Cube: The 14 stations of the cross and the 12 disciples. And Jesus in the middle! (Christian) (The Perfect Ashlar, to my Brothers.) (Maybe the 26 letters of the alphabet? You think maybe? "Alpha and omega" Hummm)

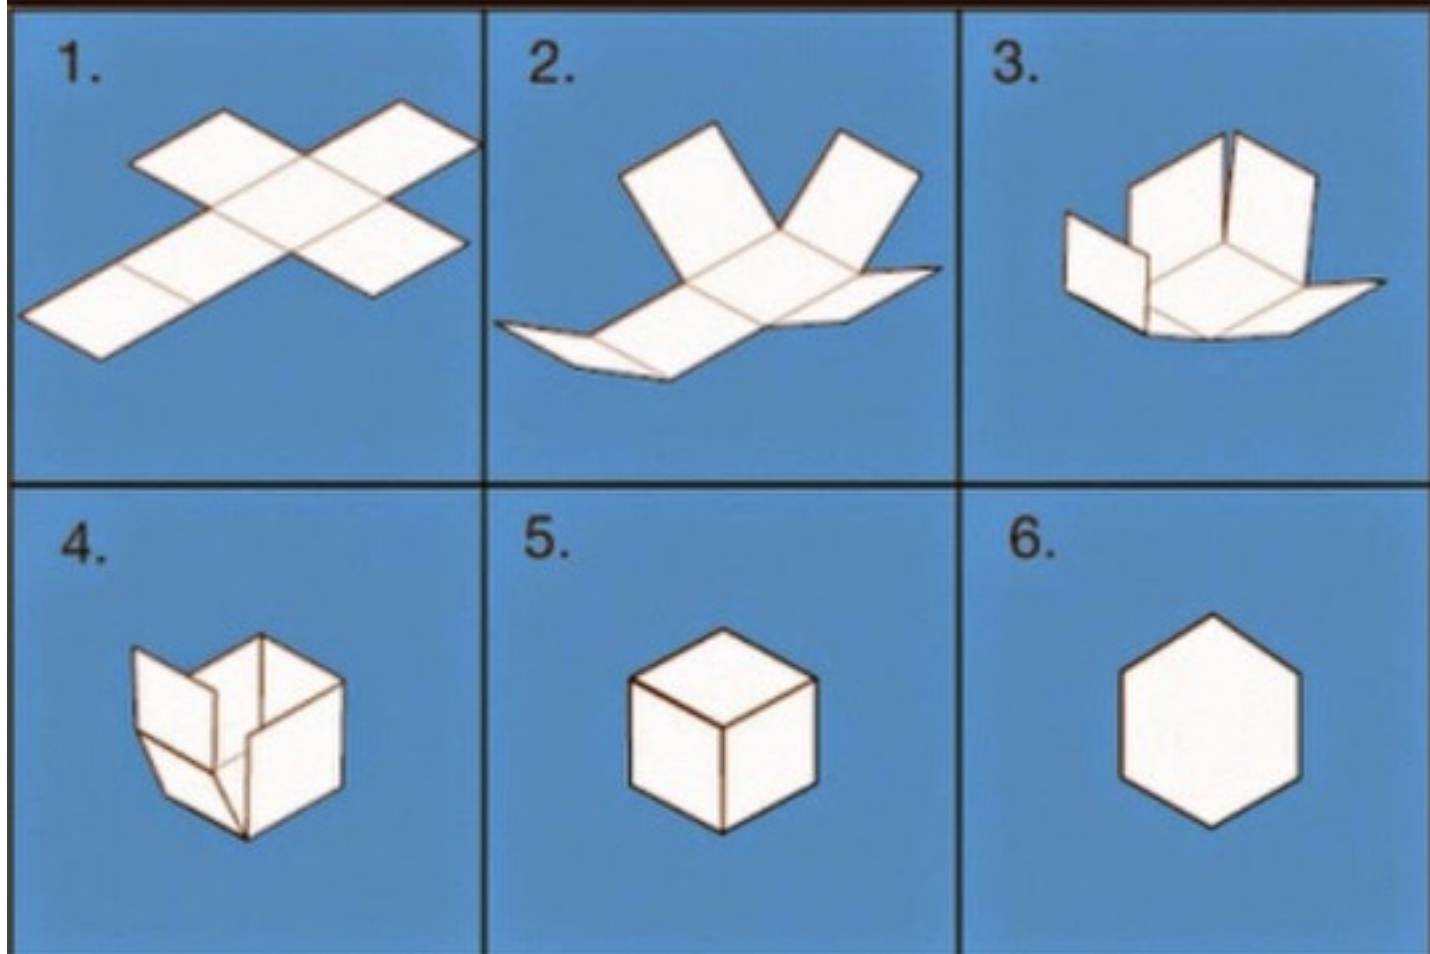

2. The cube is the cross

3. The Kerubic Cross (it's just a version of the cross that contains a lot more information than a plain cross.)

---

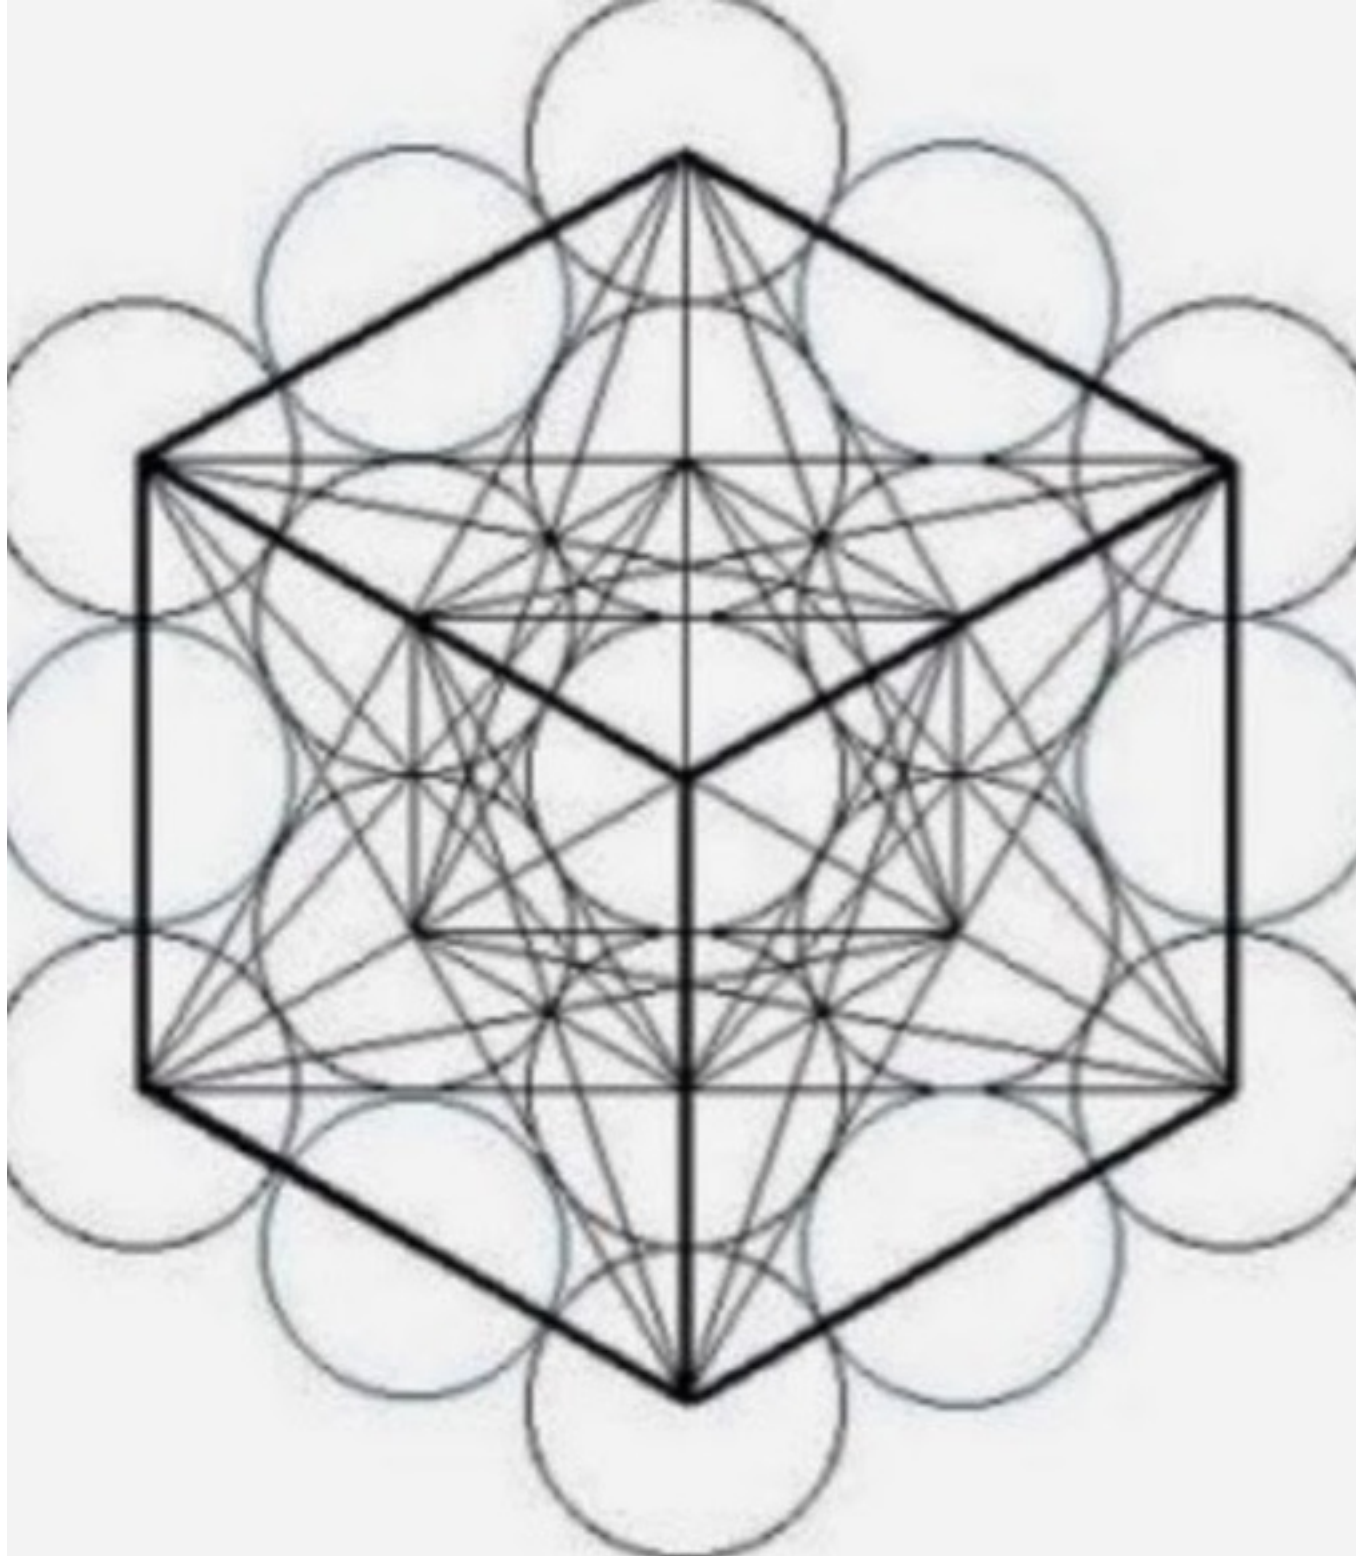

4. The cross into a cube

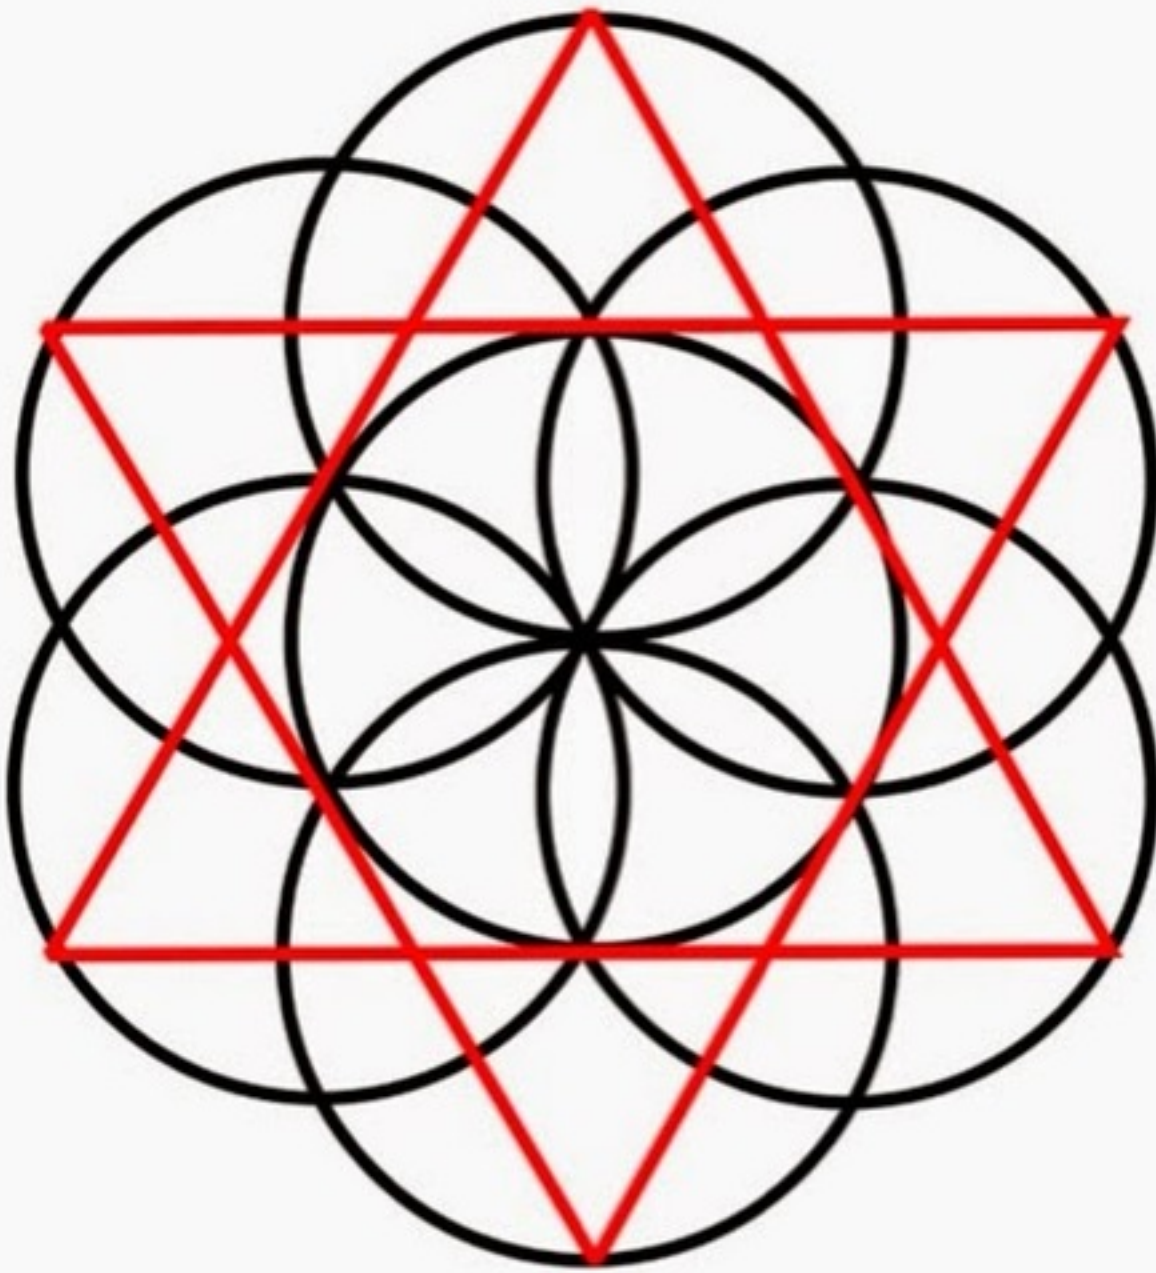

5. The 3D cube is a 2D hexagon (Judaism)

6. The Hexagon, The Cube, and internal circles

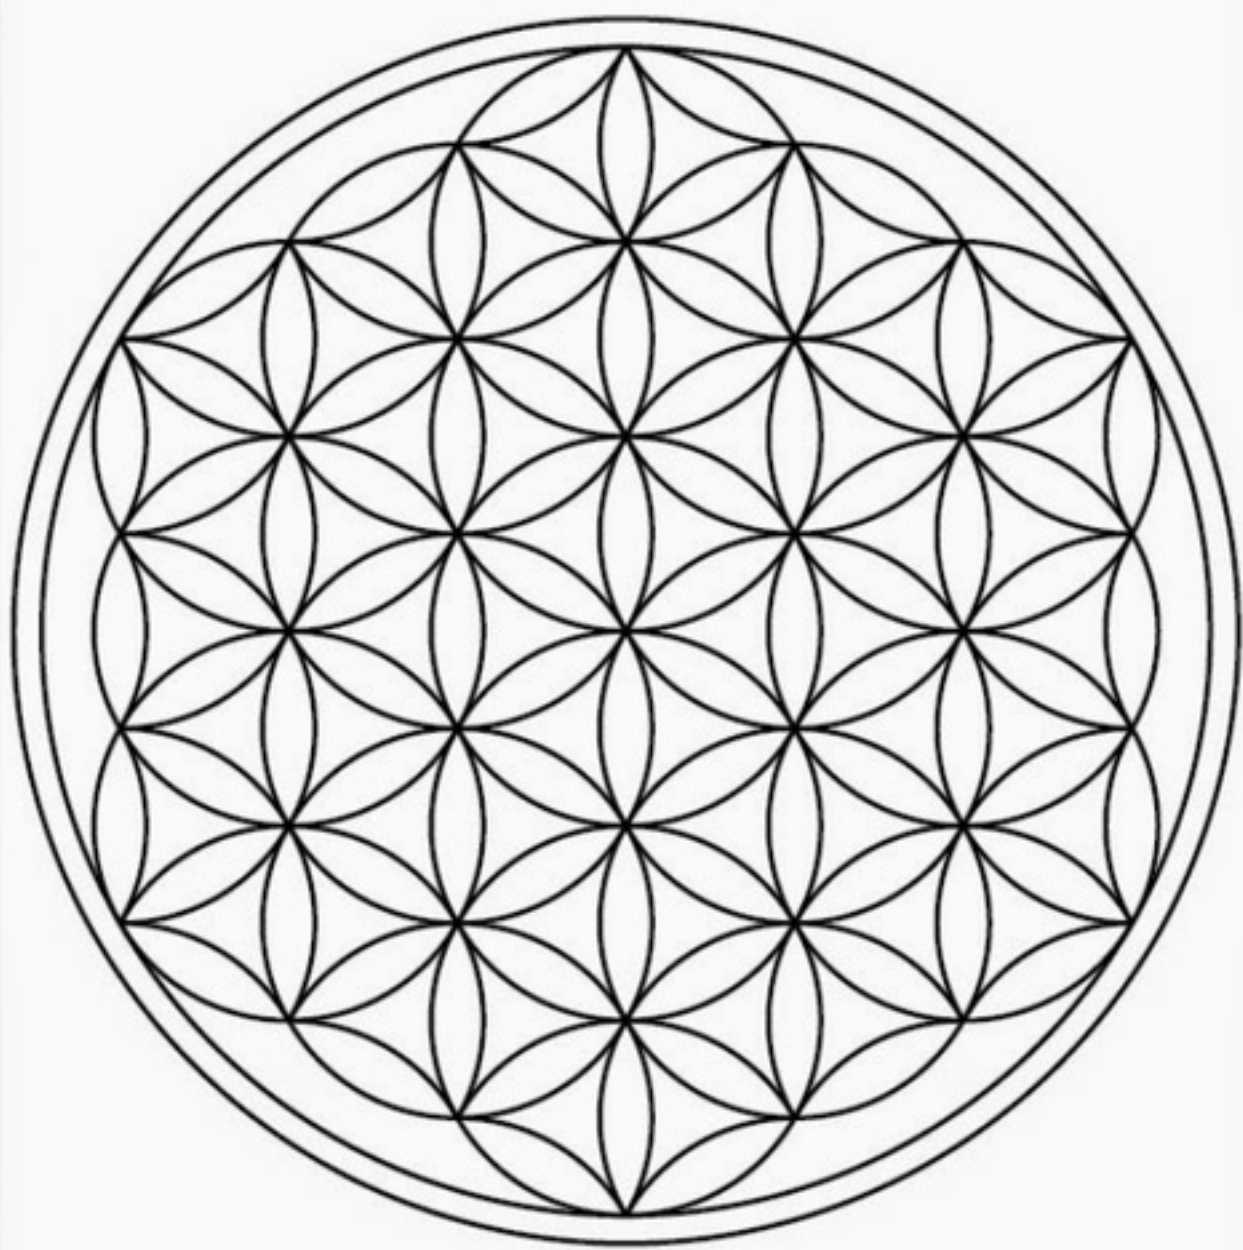

7. . The infinite internal geometry of the hexagram

.8. The hexagram and the beginnings of the Flower of Life

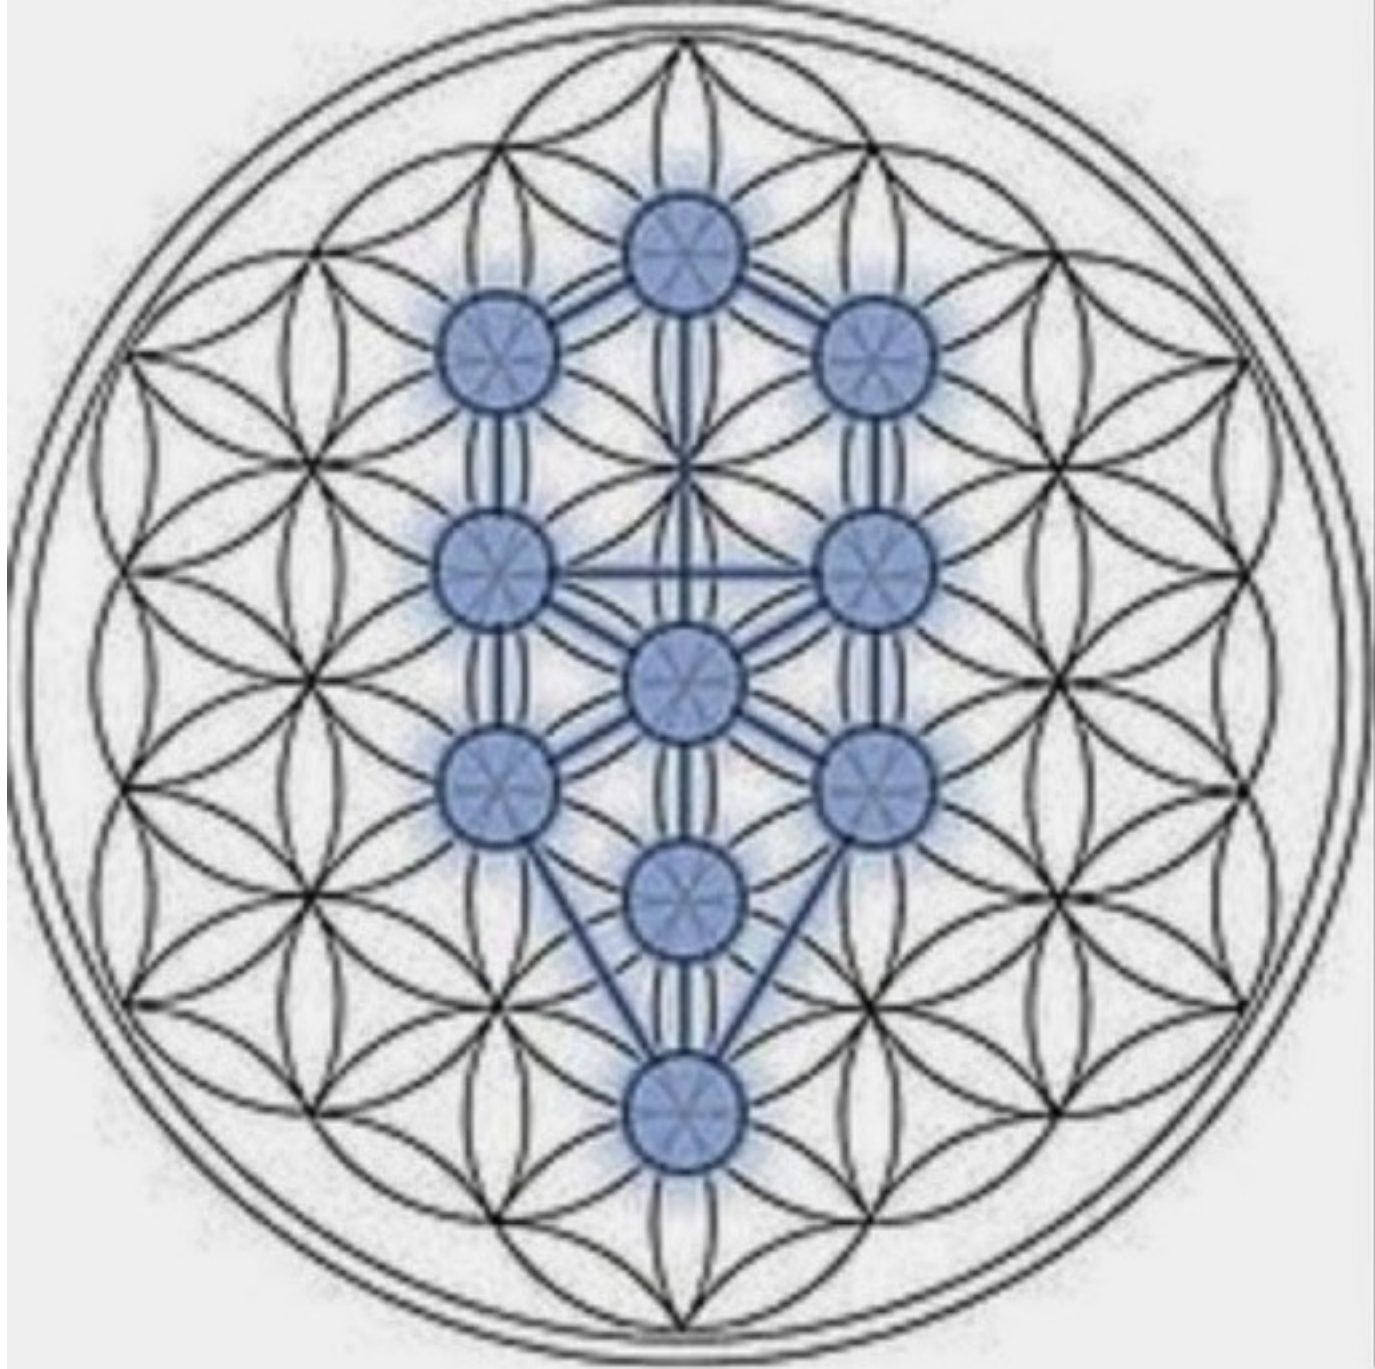

---

9. . The Flower of Life

---

10. The (Jewish) Tree of Life within the Flower. The perfect ten of the Kabbalah.

It means there's one religion. One.

There's an old prayer take from the Kabbalah Tree of Life. (Jewish mysticism)

"Ah taa (Kether, the top of the tree)

Malkuth (the bottom of the tree)

Veh Gebburah (the fifth sephiroth of the Tree of life on the left side)

Veh Gedulah (the fourth sephiroth Chesed on the right side of the tree of life)

La oh la

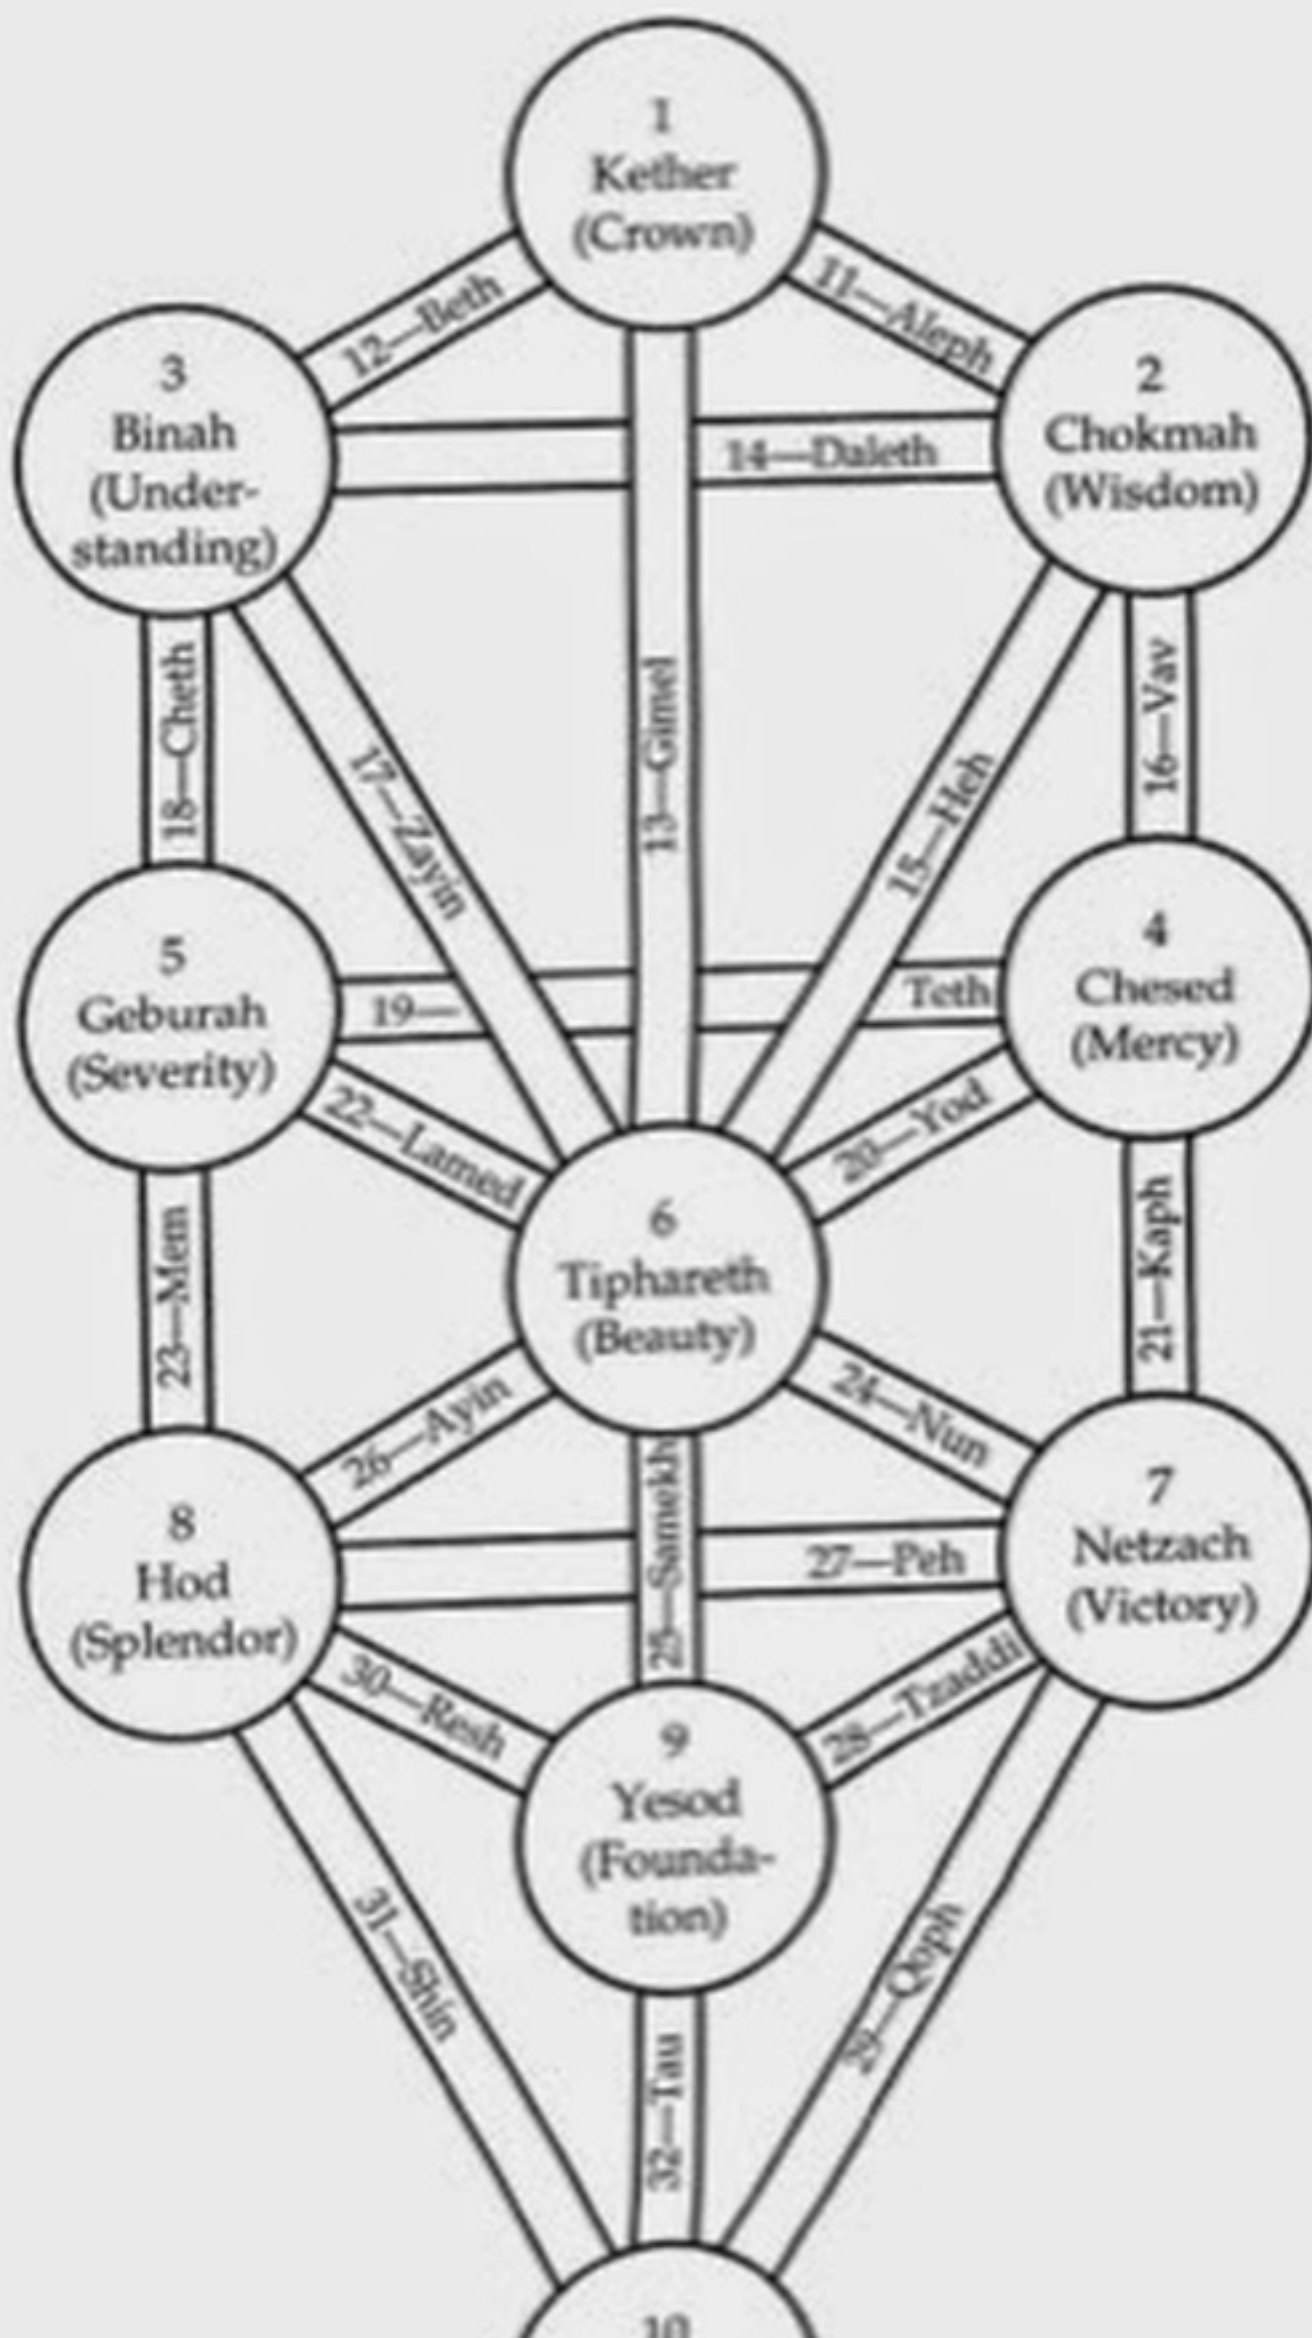

Amen"

Those words are words we know in modern times as "for thine (Kether) is the kingdom (Malkuth) and the power (Geburah) and the glory (Chesed), forever and ever amen."

There's a pattern between those points and when you see a Catholic crossing himself, (although he does it backward, because priests used to do it the right way and the congregations would mirror the priests backward, but now priests do it backward too.) it's intended to go with that prayer, and the crossing pattern comes from the tree of life.

The next time someone tells you that an occultist is satanic, someone into magick is against the Bible, tell them about that, because it's in Theurgy, the high magic of the Golden Dawn, the OTO, and others where that prayer is still used. And also is the place you will find people who cross themselves correctly and remember/know why they do it and how it relates to Christianity and Judaism

Additionally, we have:

11. The Tree of Life with it's relation to the Jewish alphabet

12. The Tree of Life as it relates to the Tarot deck. The major arcana of the tarot.

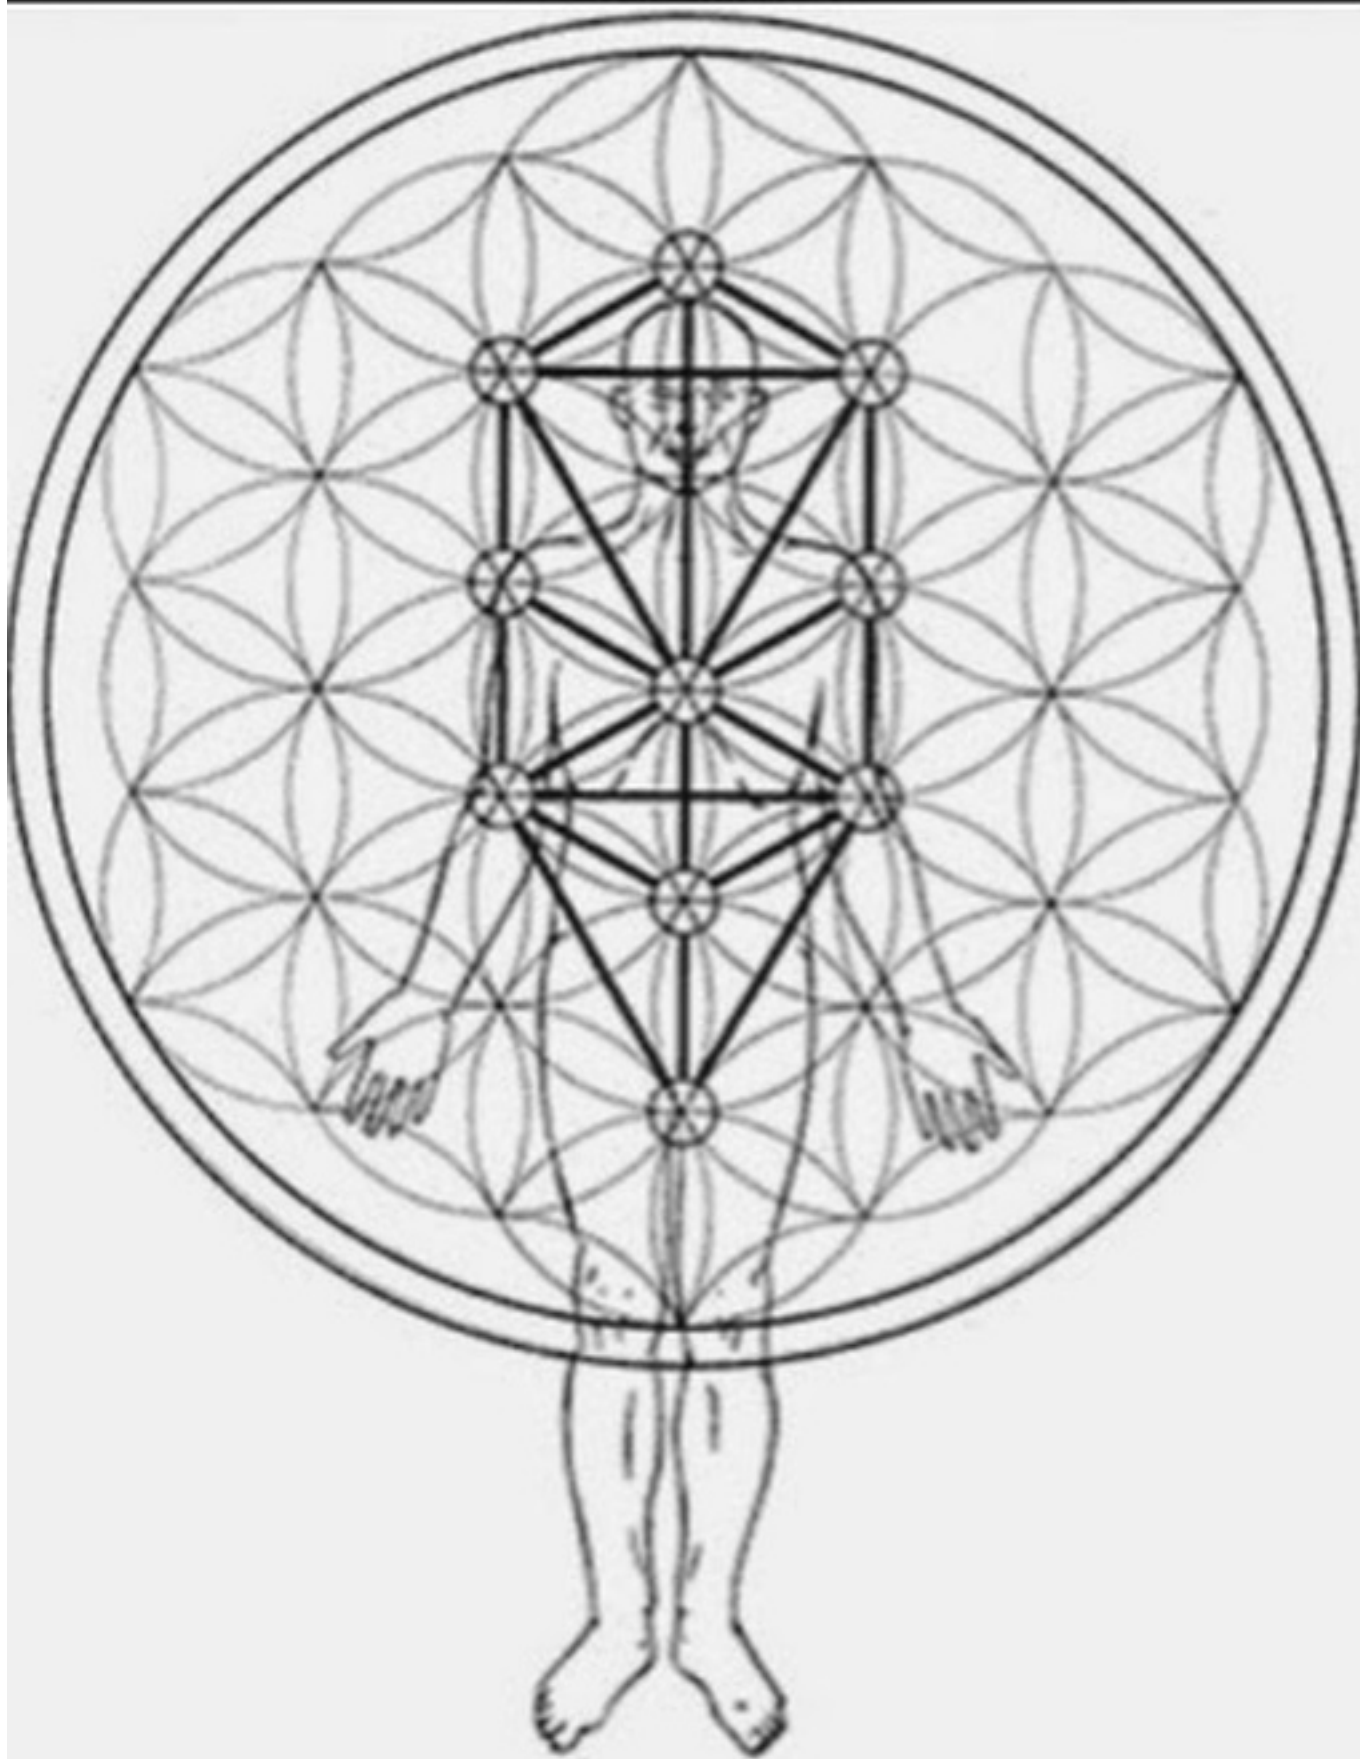

13. The Tree of Life as it sits upon the body.

14. The Tree of Life as it relates to the planets and the body.

Tree of Life and Flower of Life as they relate to the Human figure

15. Tree of Life the Flower of Life, and how they line up with the chakras (chakras not shown. (3rd, 5th, and 6th chakras do not correspond to Tree of Life Sephiroth). (Notice there are three pillars, these relate to the Ida, Pingala, and Shushumna of the chakra system, to the pillars of the three degrees of freemasonry, with the Middle Pillar of the most vital importance.)

---

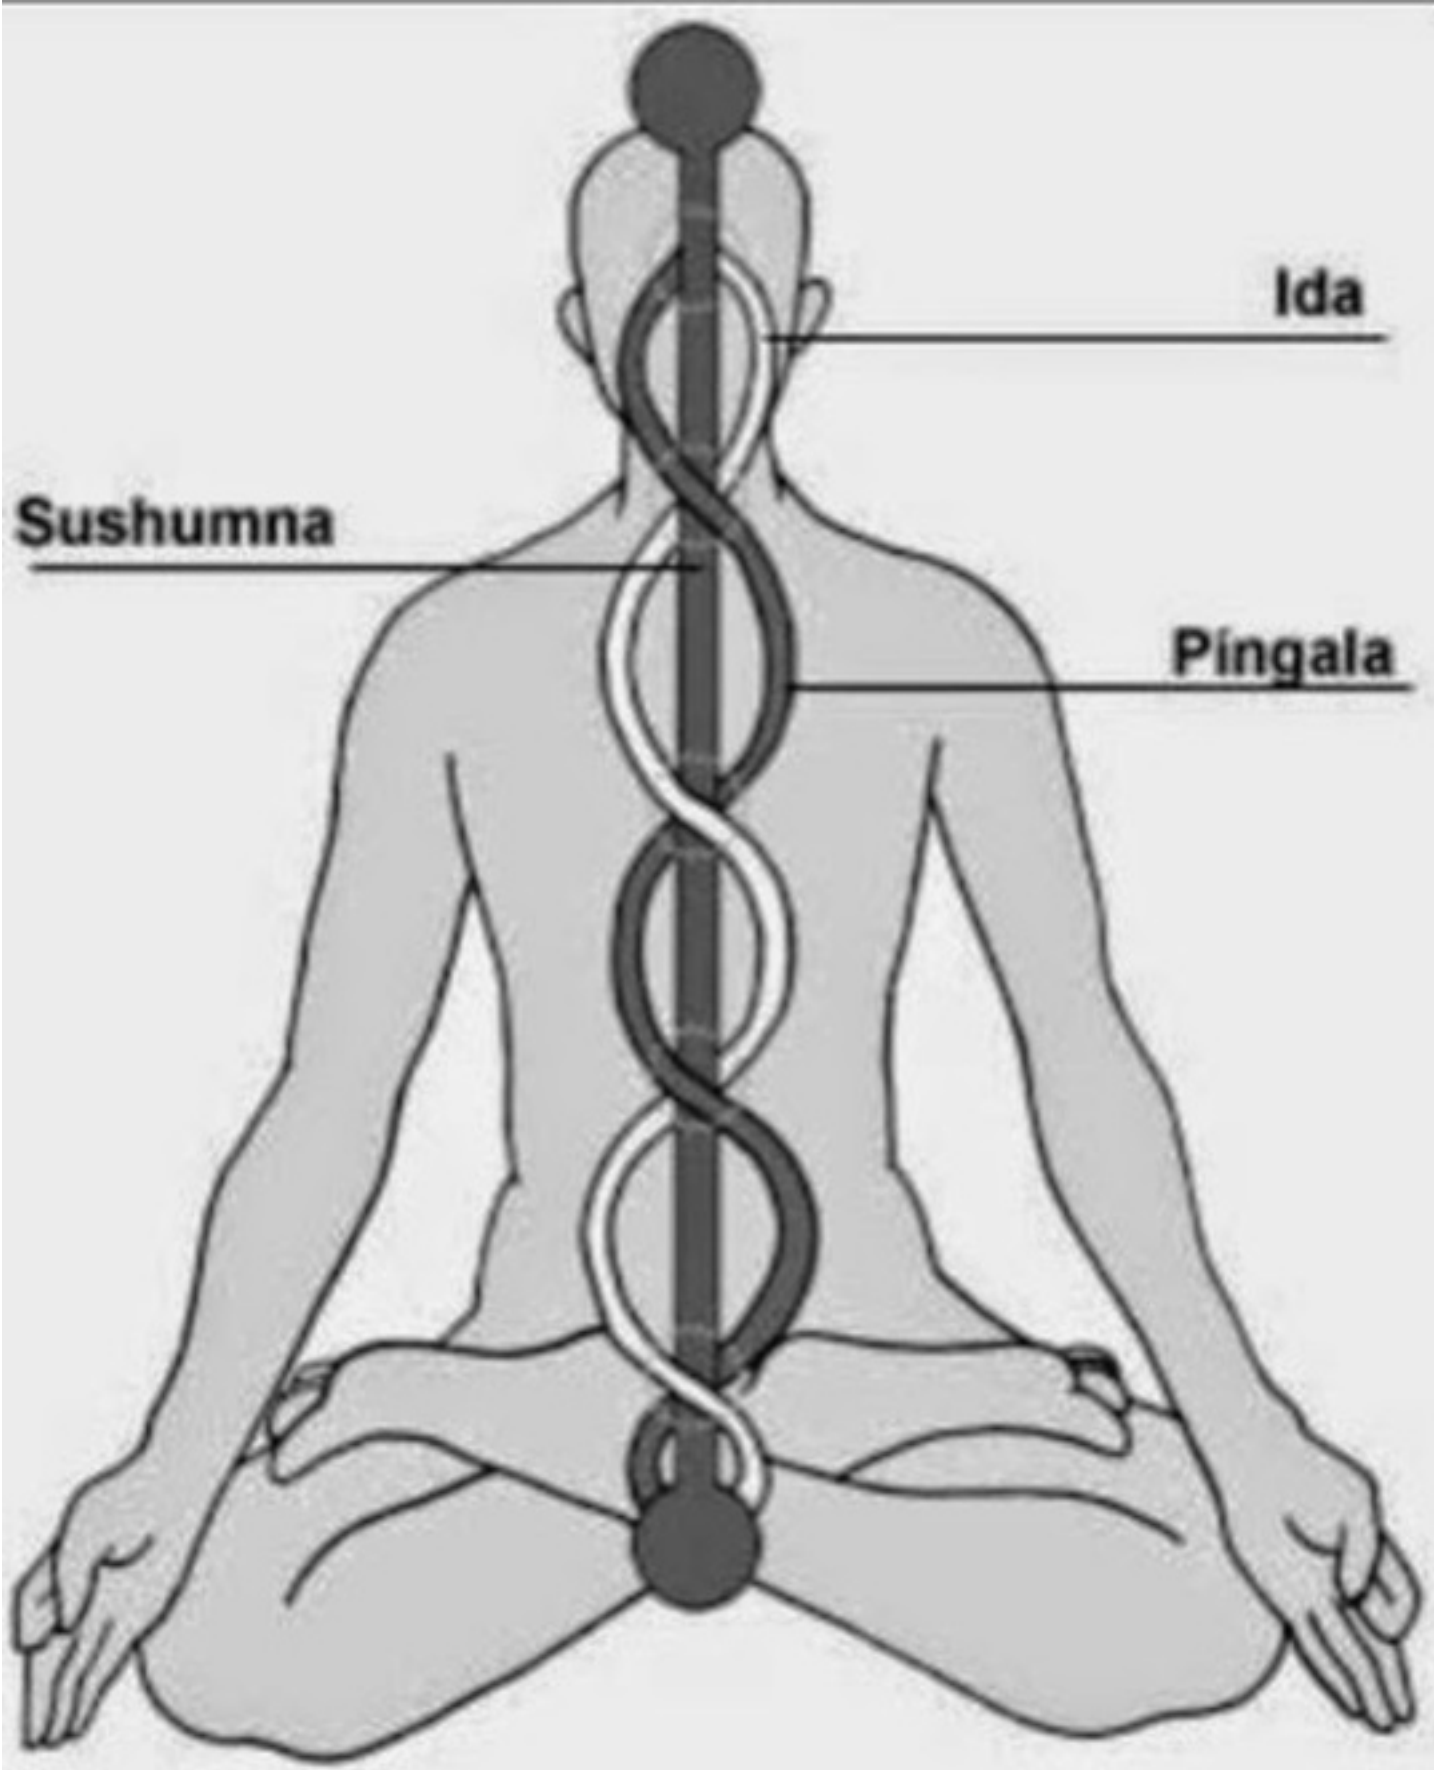

16. The Chakras

---

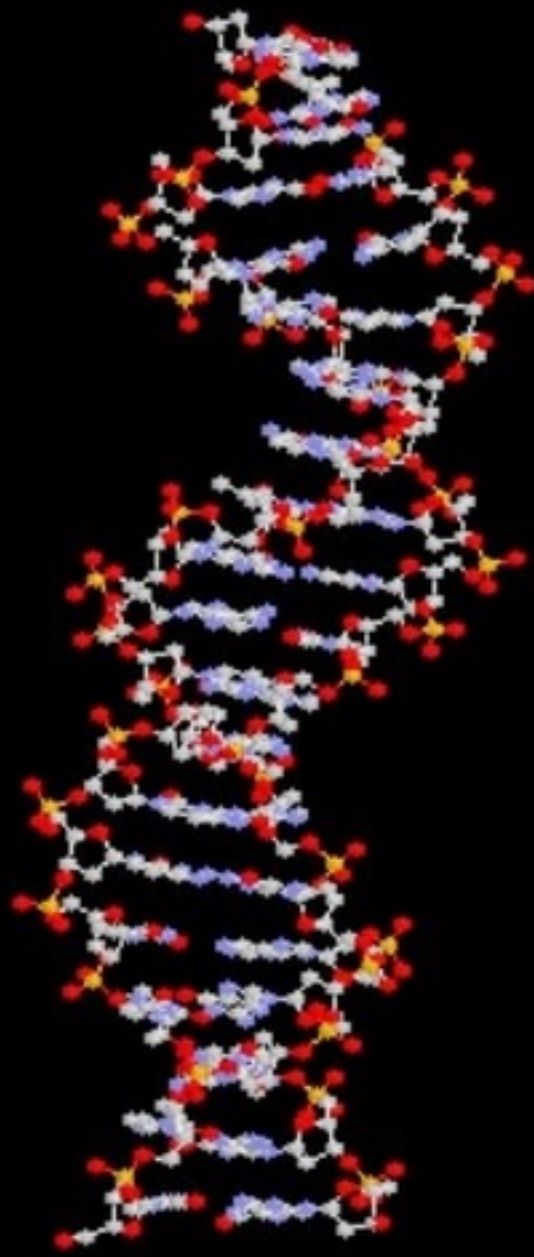

17. The Chakras, Ida, Pingala, and Shushumna.

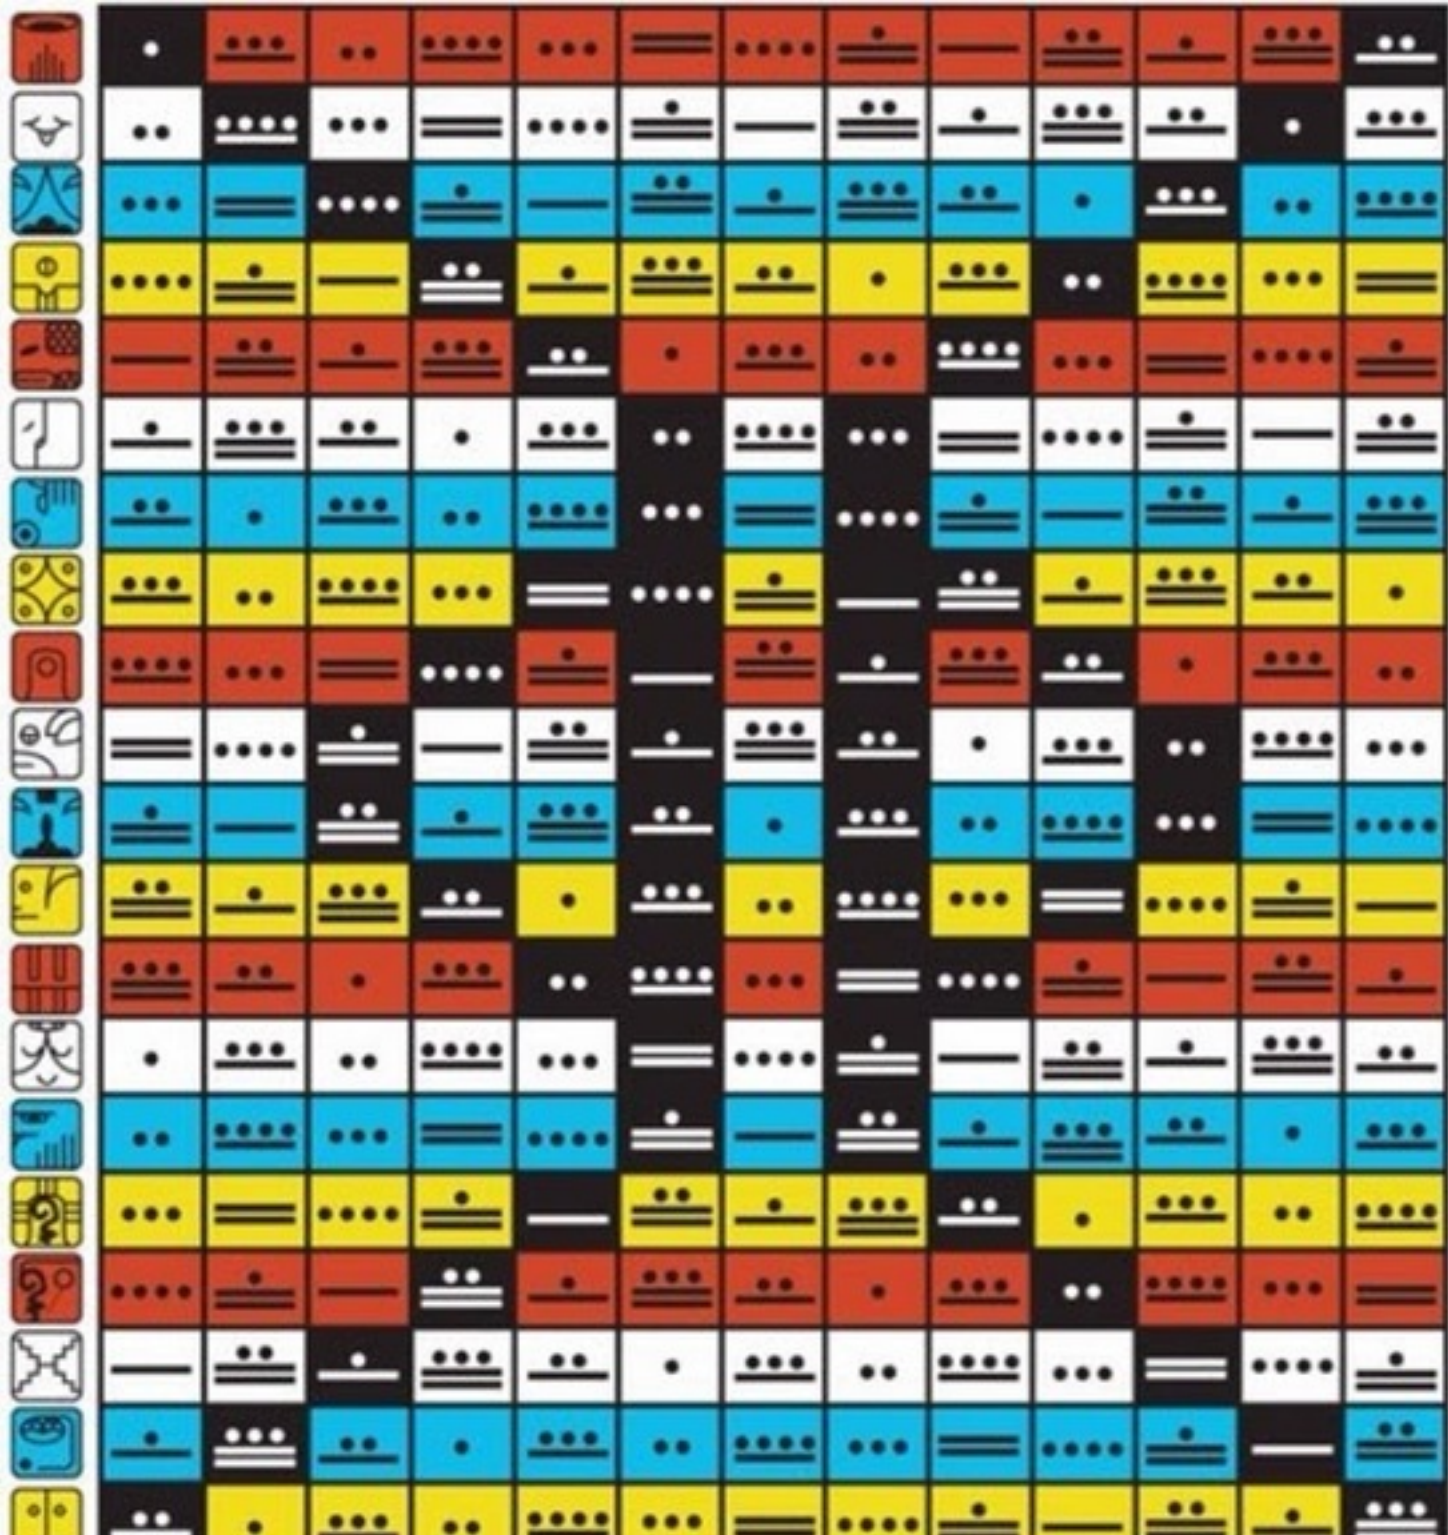

18. The Ida and Pingala as a double helix

---

20. The Mayan Calendar self similarity to DNA, and relation to the I Ching (all the black squares and the squares inside the black = 64 as in the hexagrams of the I Ching)

---

Genetic Code table

Columns under "dec" are the decimal equivalent of Hexagrams

In RNA T is replaced by U

21. The I Ching related to DNA

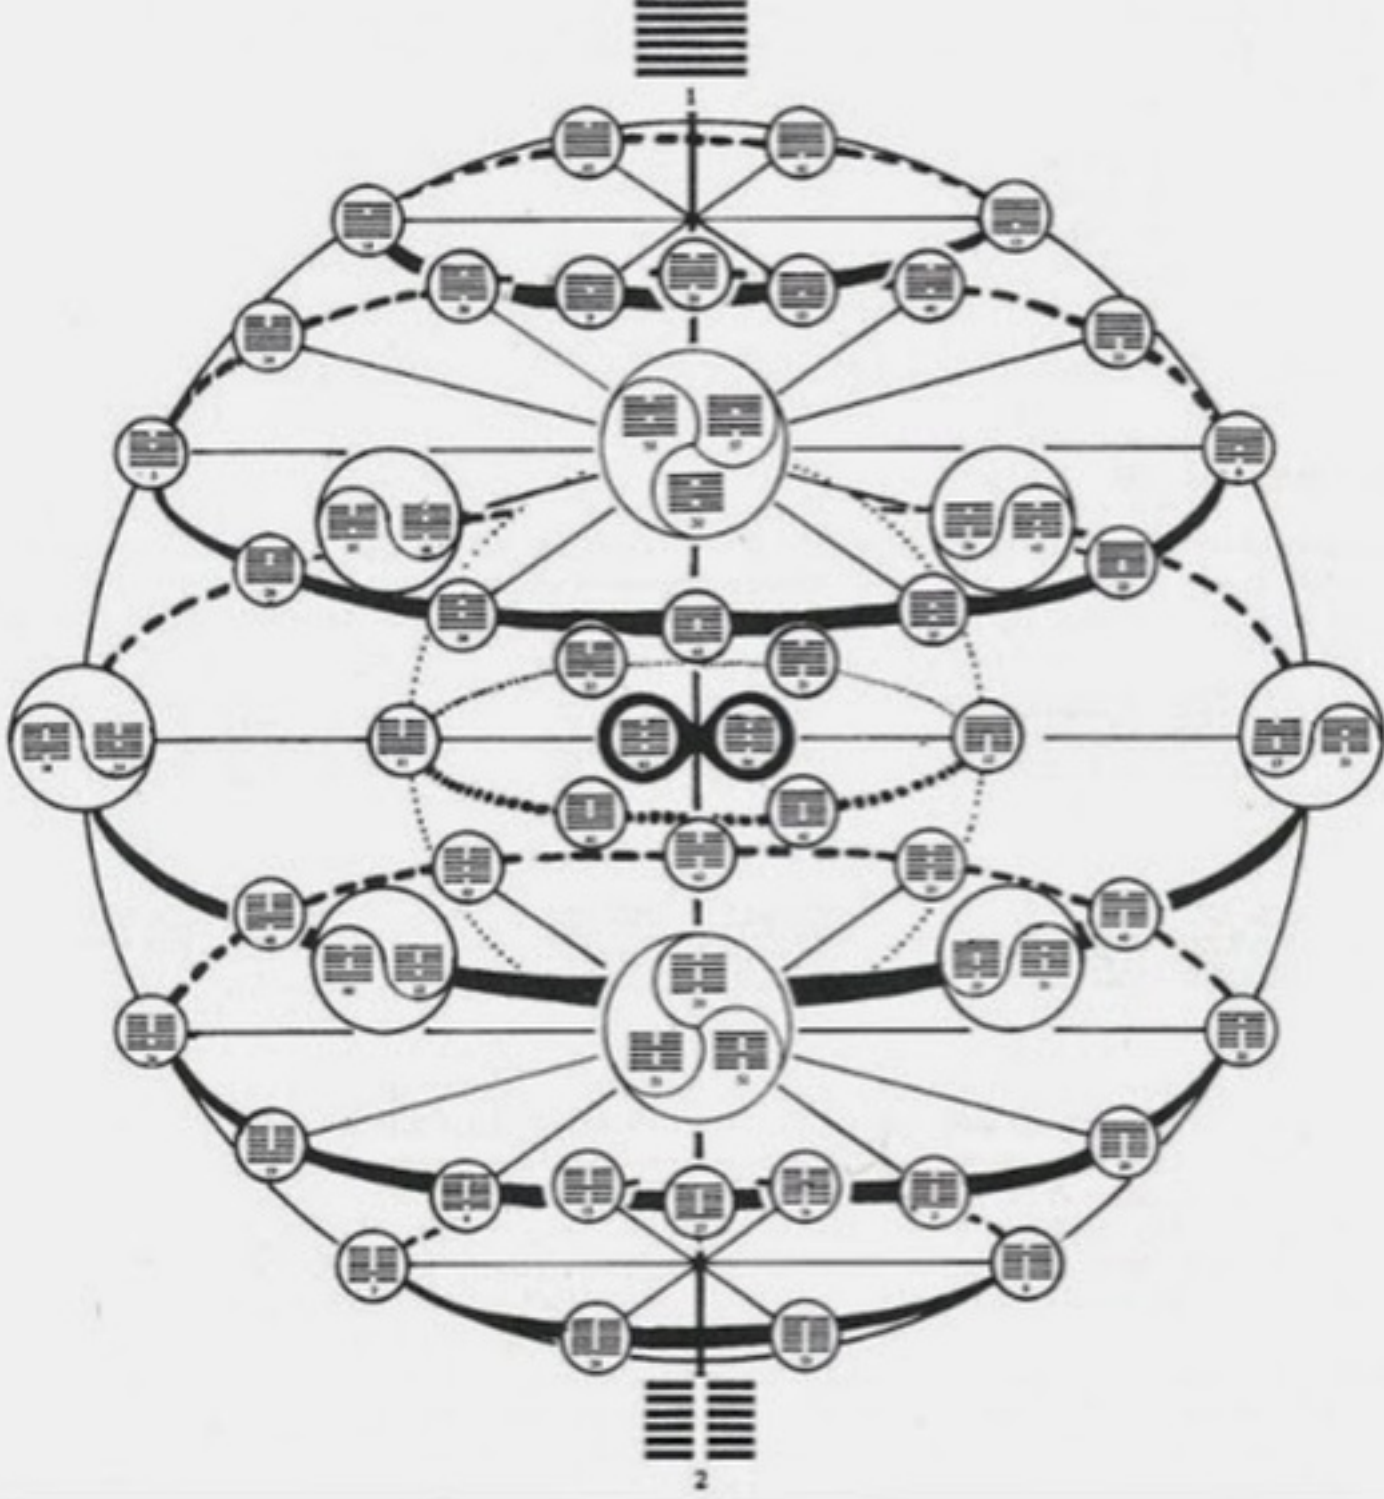

22. The I Ching related to the embedded Trees of Life

23. The I Ching to the Tree of Life, there are 32 hexagrams applied to the 22 paths and 10 sephiroth a of the Tree of Life, twice, giving the hexagram and it's inverse relation to each aspect of the Tree of Life, or perhaps the 2nd 32 apply to the Tree of Life's inverse: the tree of...?

24. The I Ching, the 64 hexagrams in a spherical depiction .

25. The I Ching comes from the eight and their unity.

26. It came from the back of a tortoise the sages taught.

---

27. It yields the nine of the enneagram (which has an unstated central tenth point, and a mystical secret point between four and five. "4.5", a very special number, as it serves as a key to nine, making A TOTAL OF  $9 + 1 + 1 = 11$  points, like the 10 sephiroth of the Tree of Life plus Da'ath, the 11th)

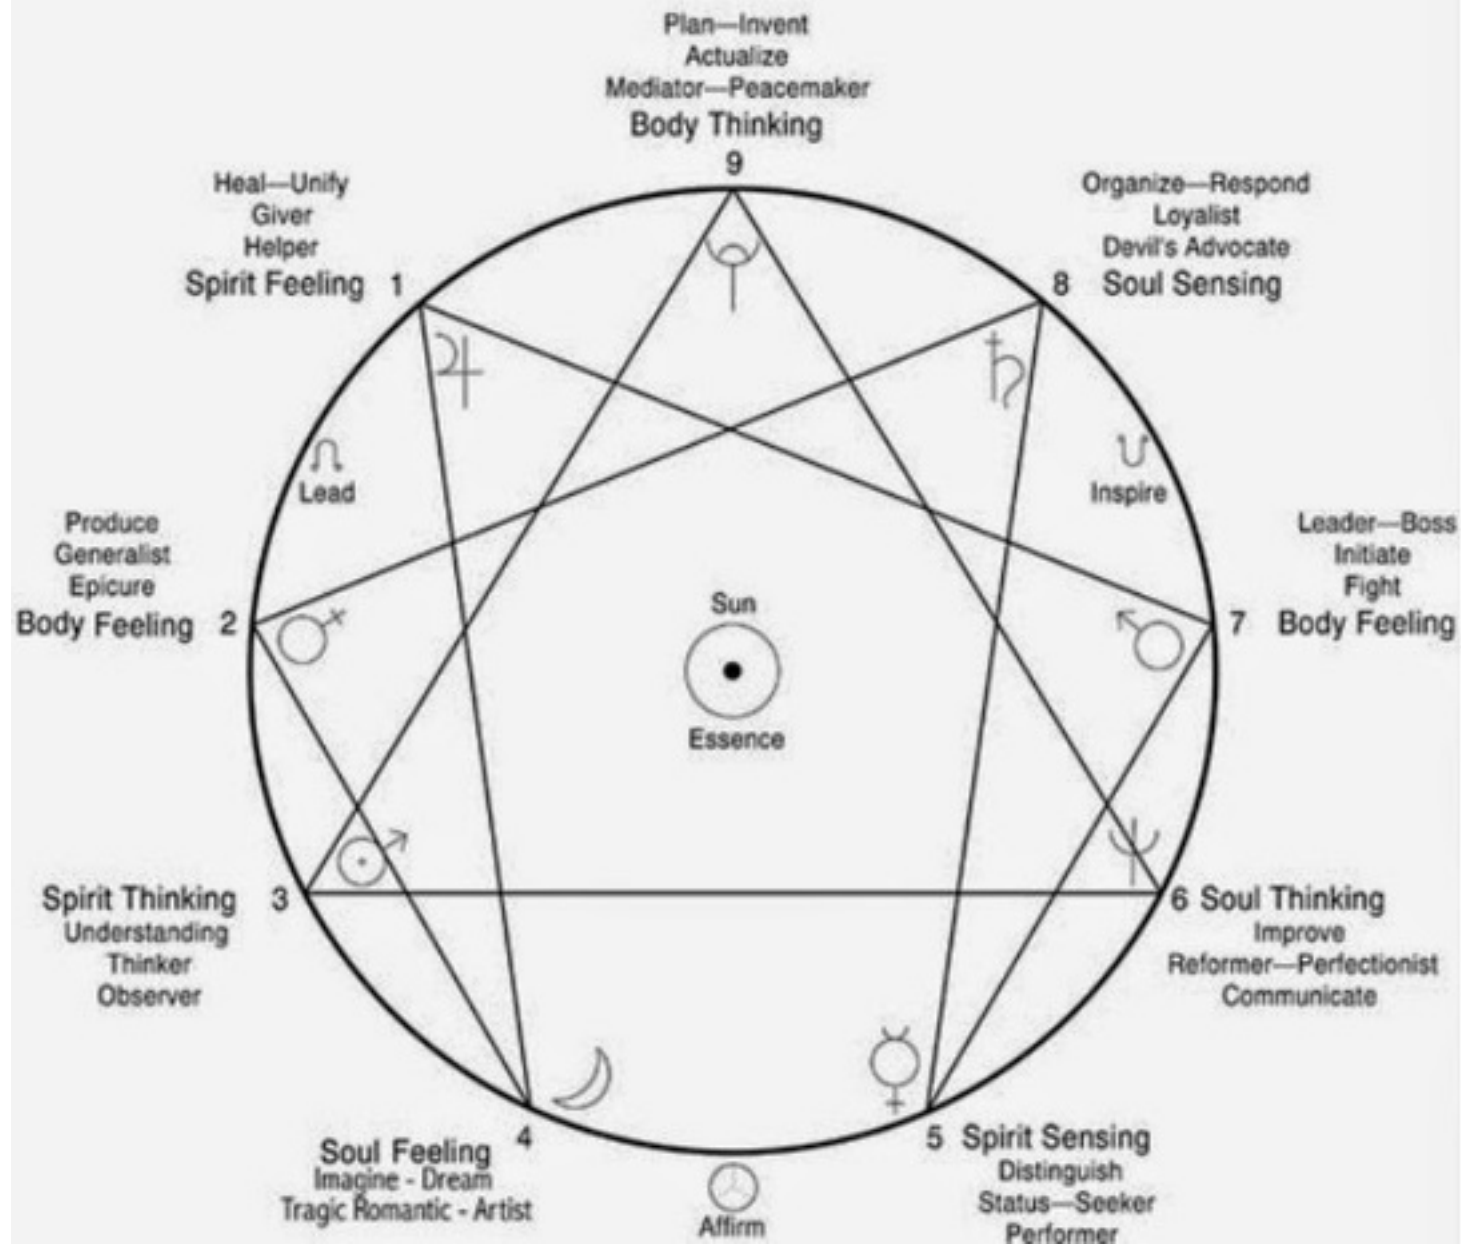

---

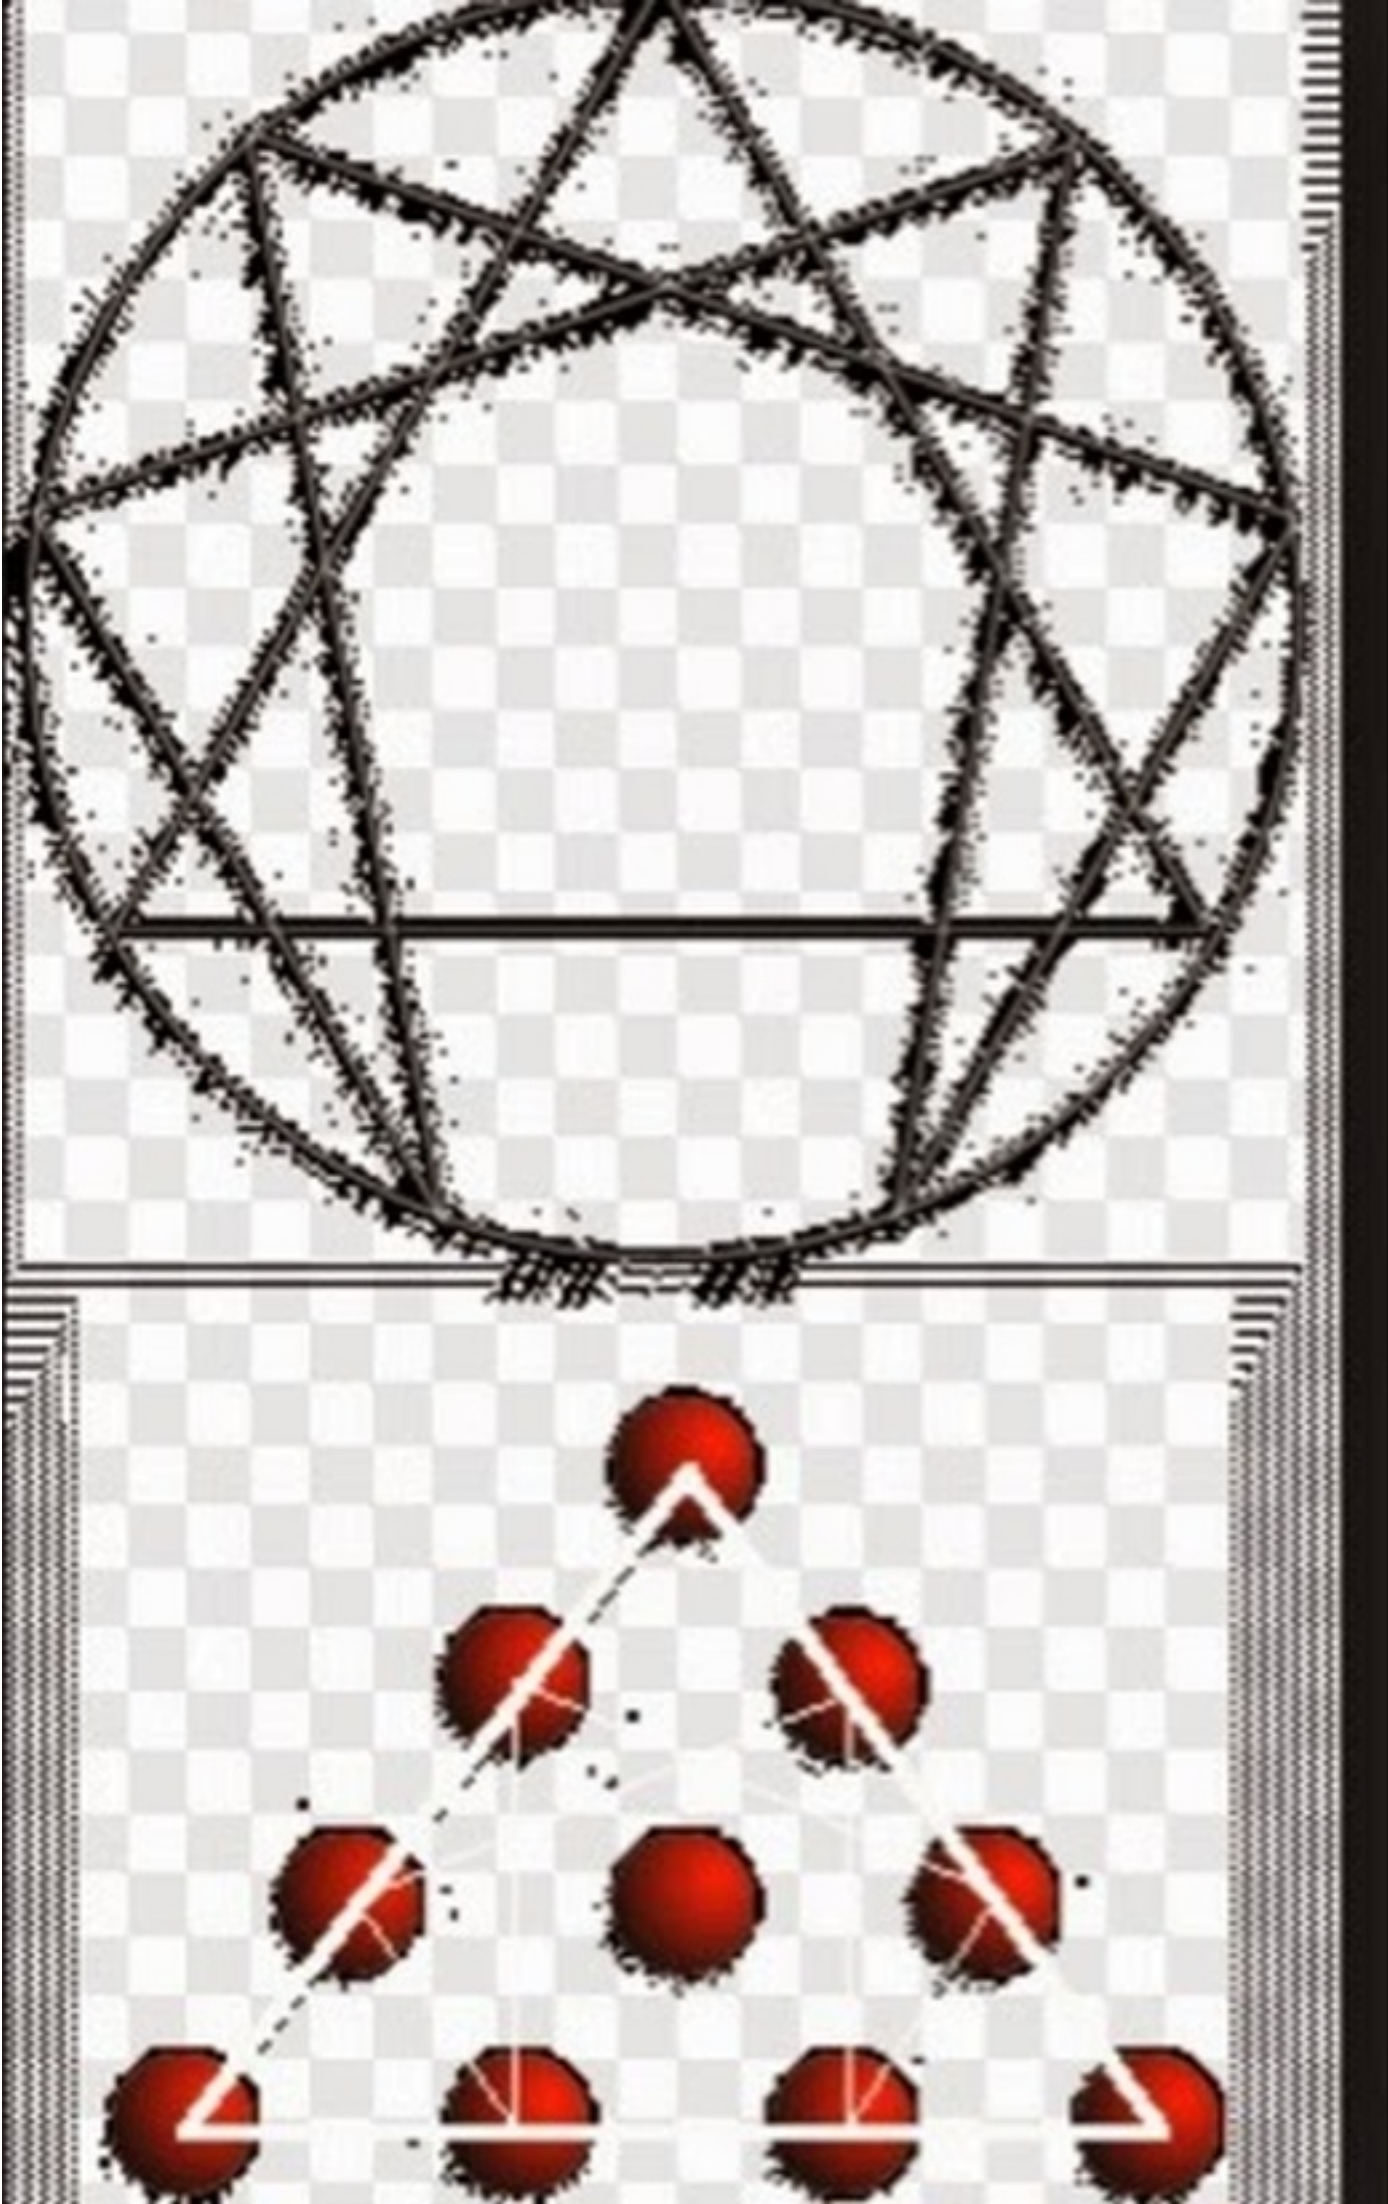

28. The enneagram and an interesting relationship to the western musical scale

---

ENNEAGRAM STRUCTURE

29. The enneagram with the central and four point five point (4.5) related to the planets.

30. The enneagram related to the Tetractys (wish I could show you a picture of enneagram to Tree of Life.)

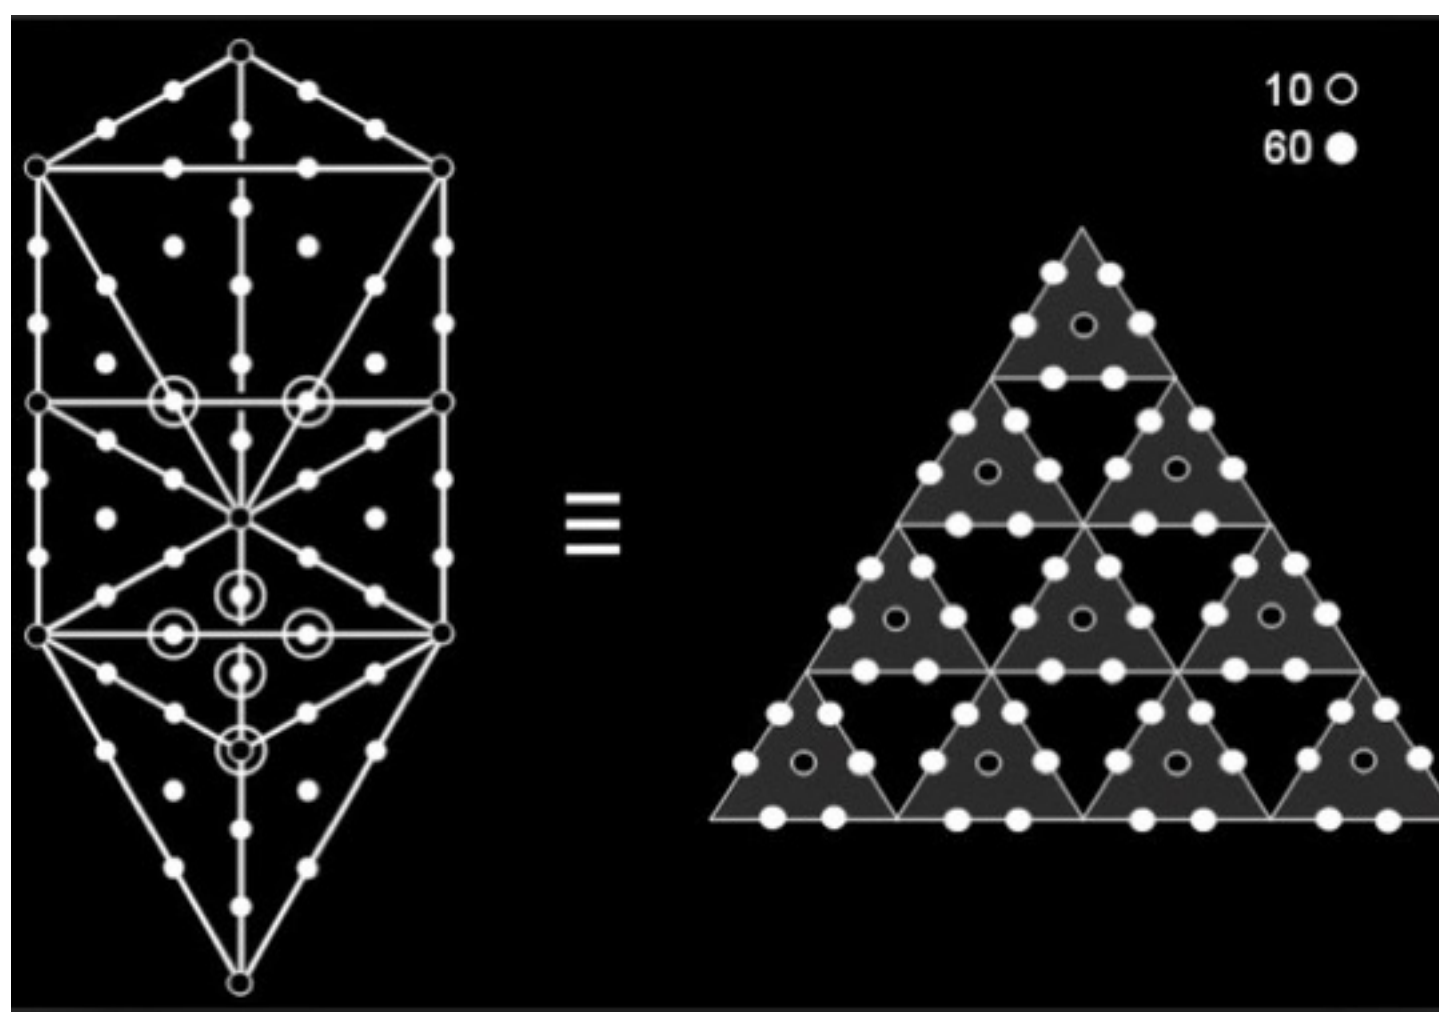

31. The tetractys (ten like in the tree of life)

32. The GREEK tetractys to the Jewish 72 names of God and the name Jehovah.

33. And the complicated tetractys to the tree of life.

The symbols seem fixed and exact. 8 trigrams of the I Ching right? Yes, but there's also a unifying ninth. And the permutations of the 8 lead to 64 in balanced combinations.

10 sephiroth to the tree of life, right? Yes, but then there's also Da'ath (from which Darth Vaders name comes, trust me I know what Lucas was into.) making 11. (11)

Enneagram has nine right? Afterall ennea means nine, right? Yes but there's a tenth point in the middle, and an eleventh hidden one, the mystical 4.5. (11)

A hexagram is six points, right? Don't try to tell me it's more, you bastard! Well yes, it's six points but all those points are in relation to a center, an assumed seventh point, unstated but really the origin point that the rest is organized around.

If you want to be smart in a way that matters too, just start reading. I've put together a list that will get you most of the way there.
