Information obtained from sources attending the Bilderberg meeting 2008 ( click here to see list of attendees) have revealed the details of what the elite club discussed in Chantilly Virginia last week and the points of discussion in the club are ominous - it is, among other things, a plan to microchipear Americans under the pretext of the fight against terrorist groups that are identified as "blond hair", "Western blue eyes". the expert veteran Bilderberg and freelance journalist Jim Tucker relies on sources who regularly attend these meetings as aides and assistants but who are not members Bilderbergers.

The information provided this year puts the willies to those who have been monitoring the development of the plan to generalize the use of the microchip in the town so routinely as today are credit cards.

"Under the heading of resistance and counter-terrorism issues on terrorist organizations were discussed are recruiting people who do not look like terrorists, blond, with blue eyes, and how they are trying hard to find these types so that they new crazies are terrorists, "says Tucker.

( Commentary Trinity: for those who are not familiar with the rhetoric of the New World Order , commented that when these people said that it is this or that producing anything, what they want is to launch a (non-existent and false) problem immediately propose a solution . that is, it is not real that there is a threat of this kind, unless being manufactured themselves, which we expect soon to watch news on television commenting on the detention of terrorist individuals with very different racial and sociological profile to what we are accustomed, in all probability people look neighbor next door will fill the front pages of newspapers and will be the next "suicide bombers").

As reported earlier, the line of blue-eyed blonds Al Qaeda it is an issue that is already familiar and which has been promoted by the news network Fox news and within other circles Neo-Con in an attempt to divert the anti-Terror apparatus towards dissidents objectives, Protestants against the NWO ( New World Order ) and American citizens in general. the source of Tucker also assured him that Bilderberg discussed how microchipear human scale , which would be introduced under the pretext of combating terrorism so that the "good guys" could travel freely from airports so long as their microchips were scanned and the information is housed in a database. Tucker said the idea of the microchip was sold on the basis that this innovative system would help hospital staff in an emergency because a simple scan of the chip enable instant access to details on the health of individuals. Tucker revealed that the Bilderberg spoke specifically of subdermal implants and not just chips that can be contained in clothing. The discussion took place in the large conference room and was part of the agenda, not a simple matter to get out in the hotel bar informally as bizarre That idea may seem unbelievable to some, but the reality is that over the past ten years have seen dozens of examples of people who accepted the chips implanted by a variety of different reasons. in 2004, the attorney general and 160 of his employees were implanted with chips to control access to secure areas of their headquarters. the Club Baja Beach in Barcelona and other night clubs in the world and have at their disposal implantable chips to customers who want to pay for their drinks with the wave of a hand and have access to exclusive VIP areas of the club.

Iran

Tucker's source said the US Defense Secretary Robert Gates attended this meeting although it was not on the official list. Tucker said his sources told him Gates was at the meeting to present the case war with Iran , but the majority of Bilderberg members were against an attack at this time.

"The Europeans were most against an invasion of Iran. Gates made the typical war propaganda about Iran is a nuclear threat to the entire world, "Tucker said, adding that European Bilderberg made snide comments about where such nuclear weapons actually were being kept making a joke at a time on possibly they were "in the tomb of Saddam Hussein."

Despite Bilderberg opposition, Tucker said the administration was seriously considering an attack before Bush left office at the White House in January.

"At least 90 percent of Europeans are opposed to war, probably, the figure is closer to 100 100," said Tucker.

"Most of the Americans were passive and deferential to the arguments of the Ministry of Defense and Condoleezza Rice on the issue of Iran."

Tucker said that most of the Americans at the meeting were opposed to attacking Iran but showed no signs of opposition as visible and clear as Europeans.

Oil and gas prices

One of the Bilderberg boys addressed this issue, should put a check to the rise in oil prices ?, are reaching the critical point ?, Tucker said, adding that Bilderberg noted how Americans were buying and selling more than ever, in record numbers and more efficient small cars and more public transport used to combat high gas prices. the source of Tucker said that Bilderberg had predicted $ 5 per gallon of gas by the end of this summer and $ 150 for barrel oil, but this would be the ceiling and oil prices, from that moment, begin to decline because those attending the meeting thought that acceleration had occurred too quickly. As we have previously reported, the Bilderberg had already agreed an escalation of oil prices in 2005 when it cost $ 40 a barrel. During the conference in Germany that year, Henry Kissinger told attendees that the elite had decided to ensure a rise in oil prices doubled in the course of next 12-24 months, which is exactly what is happening. During the 2006 meeting in Ottawa, the Bilderberg agreed to shoot a barrel of oil to $ 105 a barrel by the end of 2008. with the mission accomplished and months, the acceleration to $ 150 a barrel has even exceeded the target of the Bilderberg, which is the reason why the elitists expressed a desire to cool prices at least in the short term. Only two days after he left Bilderberg, responsible the Fed, Ben Bernanke ( here we have attending the meeting ), George W. Bush and other publicly expressed support for a strong dollar and Bernanke noted that interest rates could rise, which immediately caused oil prices go down in line with the consensus reached at the meeting of the Bilderberg.

Since Bush entered the White House, Senator Bernie Sanders noted that in January,

"5.4 million middle-class Americans have fallen into poverty, 6.8 million Americans have lost their health insurance, the average income for working families has declined for 5 consecutive years and 3 million industrial workers have lost their jobs . At the same time, the costs of education, prescription drugs, energy and housing have increased dramatically. "

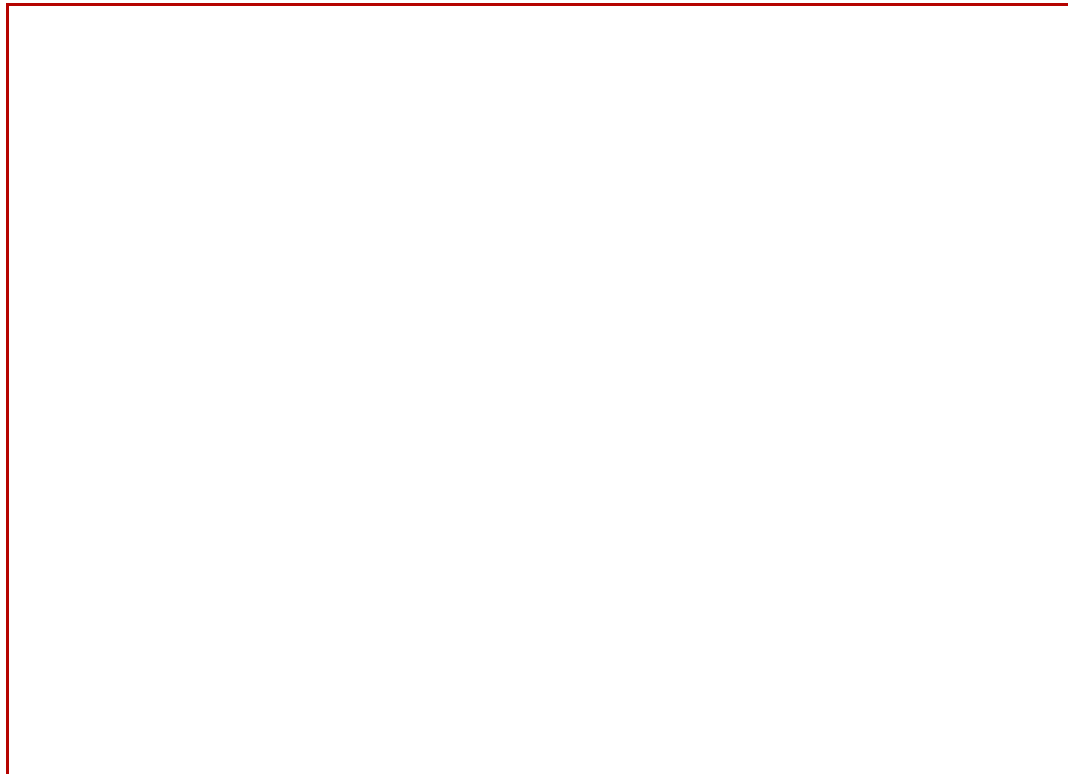

This process will continue regardless of who becomes the next president or which faction of the globalization game whoever comes to Congress. In Europe, although no management overall figures, the economic situation of the average family has clearly worsened in recent years. Wage increases, in general, do not even reach the CPI, prices have increased greatly after the entry of the countries of the European Union and adoption of the euro and generally receive less for more, regardless of what you tell us our macroeconomic figures showing rulers devoid of meaning. How can this be happening, especially in the United States, where the impoverishment of the middle classes is accelerated and brutally remarkable, people out massively to the streets to protest?
