There is a lot to know when it comes to current events, but to someone who doesn't know about hidden powers such as the Bilderberg group these events might not be fully understood.

Knowledge of this powerful group is absolutely essential if you want to have a grasp not only on what is happening, but why it is happening, and what influences might be behind current events.

Most people still don't know about this group, but many more are starting to hear about it, and are connecting the dots as to what it is and the influence that it has.

The Bilderberg group is a secretive association of roughly 140+ of the worlds most powerful people, which have closed-door meetings once a year in what are supposed to be clandestine locations around the globe (although the location is always leaked).

The 2011 meeting was held in Switzerland, the 2012 meeting was in Chantilly, Virginia, and the 2014 Bilderberg meeting was held in Copenhagen, Denmark.

The group was actually never given an official name until many years after its formation when they were dubbed the Bilderberg Group after the name of the hotel in which their first meeting was held in 1954, the Bilderberg Hotel or Hotel De Bilderberg in Oosterbeek in the Netherlands.

Some say that the Bilderberg group is nothing more than a harmless get-together of wealthy elites who just want to relax and have a nice time discussing business matters without undesired scrutiny from the public. This may be partially true, but is not the entire case.

By and large, the people who suggest that this group is a harmless entity are either those who are totally ignorant of the group, or those working in the mainstream media, which plays an important role in keeping the activities of Bilderberg out of sight of the public.

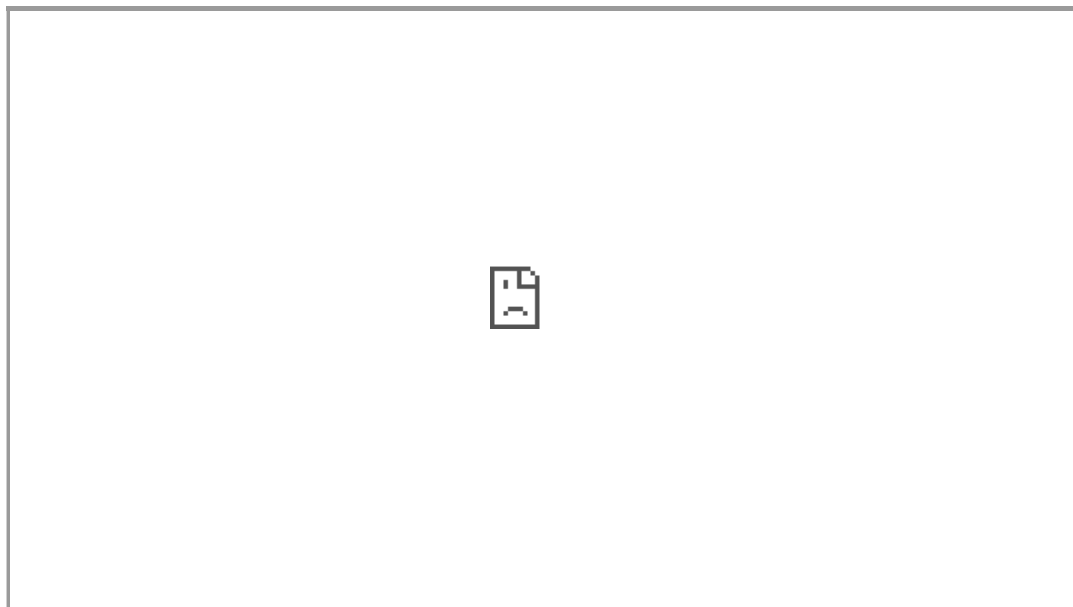

This incredibly important and influential group had received nearly zero press coverage since its formation in 1954, that is, until the alternative media discovered it and began reporting on it years ago.

Alex Jones, one of the main reporters exposing this, was in fact called a 'conspiracy theorist' for even suggesting that this group existed over a decade ago.

However, now that he and others have brought forth volumes of information on Bilderberg, even mainstream media outlets, which have attended meetings in the past and formerly refused to touch it in reporting, have been forced into covering it. However, the mainstream media always makes sure to put enough spin on the story to make you think that it is really nothing worth paying attention to, while leaving out critical information that suggests otherwise.

A few politicians, mainstream media representatives and other power-men have been confronted about Bilderberg, and they all either refuse to acknowledge its existence, give ridiculous explanations to avoid legitimately answering the question, or refuse to speak about it at all.

Here, you can watch MSNBC's Lawrence O'Donnell confronted by We Are Change's Luke Rudkowski claim to know nothing about it, saying that he is "way too lazy" to look it up, then just say some pretty bizarre stuff all around, all while having a disturbingly blank look on his face:

CNN's Paula Zahn also claimed to know nothing of the group (below video).

PBS's Charlie Rose voice shook as he gave very specific and evasive talking points about the group during his confrontation. The first time that Rose was asked about the group he simply walked away to avoid making a statement altogether (far below video).

The list goes on and on to include politicians and other associated 'elitist' individuals and the response virtually does not change. Nobody who has gone to Bilderberg dares say a word about what went on during these meetings.

Luke Rudkowski confronts Paula Zahn of CNN about Bilderberg:

33rd Degree free mason, Charlie Rose doesn't like to be asked about the shadowy elite group:

Guest lists of the elite meetings have been leaked several times, revealing who actually attends these highly secretive events.

The guest list from 2011 includes,

- David Rockefeller
- Henry Kissinger
- Eric Schmidt (CEO of Google)
- Charlie Rose (PBS)
- Craig J. Mundie (Microsoft)
- Keith B. Alexander (director of NSA)
- Jeff Bezos (founder and CEO of Amazon.com)
- James B. Steinberg,

...and many more.

The group's attendees also regularly include a whole list of foreign officials, which makes this groups very existence a violation of the Logan Act passed in 1799 under the John Adams administration, making it a crime for a citizen to confer with foreign governments against the interests of the United States.

The below chart from Business Insider reveals the connections that the Bilderberg group has to corporate and government entities and it is massive!

Once you understand how influences global politics, business, media and much more, you will understand just how much power some people have over the rest of the population, which is imperative in understanding how our world works.
